Continuing, Pare said "The next day I made another key, but out of a piece of brass this time. I made a better key and I again planted the keys and the impressions in the shed. That same night I again visited Ponton. He told me he had been paying out a good deal of money and that there was but $15,000 or $16,000 in the bank. He told me when they got $4,000 or $5,000 of mixed notes Mr. Baine sent them to Toronto. I suggested that he should hold the mixed notes till Mr. Baines asked for them, but he said that could not be done. He told us that Mr. Baines had been fingering at the lock and perhaps he had changed the combination. I gave him the brass key and told him to see if it fitted."

Mr Osler, the Crown prosecutor, left for Toronto on the 2.30 train yesterday afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Michael J. Healey, Inspector of Police, Manchester, N.H., was on the stand all the afternoon. He said it was through his orders that Pare was arrested. He traced the story of the arrest from the first information he received till the man was trapped. He told of 96 ten-dollar bills found in a secret part of a toolchest and 219 ten dollar bills in a cake box. He told how Pare made his confession voluntarily, and stated that what he said in Manchester tallied with what was said at the trial here. Pare's confession was not written down. No one suggested that it should be. On July 12th Pare made his confession.

In cross-examination the witness said they needed no warrant for Pare's arrest, and that he was started on the search for Pare by the Pinkerton detective agency, through a circular issued by it. He promised to forward the circular to the court at Napanee. He then narrated the story of Pare's arrest, and the incidents which led up to it. On the Saturday before Pare's arrest he was brought to witness' office to see what he had to say about the bills they had traced. He was warned before making any statement.

Mr. Porter: "What did he say?"

"When the proper time came he would talk," said the witness, repeating Pare's own words. "He asked to have Mr. O'Connor, a lawyer, sent for. This was done. On Monday, at the request of Lawyer O'Connor, I did not take Pare before the court. Officer O'Connor and Mr. Thornhill searched the house and found 96 $10 notes in a second compartment of the tool chest. Mr. Thornhill took charge of the bills. At the request of Mr. O'Connor, and in the presence of Inspector O'Dowd, Lawyer O'Connor, Mr. Thornhill, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Davidson, Detective Dougherty and myself, Pare made a statement of how the robbery occurred, substantially as Pare has told here. All the money I got was 'bad' money.

"On July 12 Pare made his confession."

Then the witness detailed his trip from Manchester to Napanee. On the following Sunday I visited him at the jail in Napanee and asked the jailer if somebody could not furnish him meals. The jailer said: "Try the turnkey." The turnkey said he would.

"Did you pay for these meals?" asked Mr. Porter.

"Yes," said the witness.

"Not with any of the bad money?" interrogated the lawyer.

"No, I had $90 of Pare's money that was good. I don't know who turned the money over to me. I gave $10 of it to the jailer; $20 I had given to the turnkey; $60 I have now."

Continuing, the witness said: I had the circular and knowledge of the rewards before Pare gave his confession. I knew it meant money to the person who got evidence in accord with the circular. The question of reward was not mentioned till Tuesday. Mr. Davidson asked me: "What part of the reward do you claim?" I replied: "Later on we will talk this over." I have talked to Mr. Davidson and notified Mr. Gamble that I will claim my share of the rewards for making the arrest, for the recovery of unsigned bills, and for the recovery of about $2,200 of the good money. I understand the Pinkerton people are not allowed to take a reward. I have not discussed the question of rewards.

The court adjourned at 3.45 till 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The Prince of Wales.

London, Aug. 6.—There is some talk here of a proposal which finds favor in influential circles of an endeavor to induce the Prince of Wales to visit the United States next summer. The project arises from a desire to use this exceptional means of illustrating and strengthening the Anglo-American good-feeling. If the proposal should take practical shape, the Prince would visit Canada en route.

The Earl and Countess of Minto will spend part of the autumn at Minto House, Roxburghshire, and will not leave for Canada till November.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Address Still Under Debate by Members.

MINISTERS WITHOUT SEATS.

Col. Matheson Charges That Constituencies Were Bribed—Mr. Garrow Discusses the Legal and Constitutional Aspect of the Holding of a Portfolio Without a Seat —Dr. Barr.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—The House sat for three hours yesterday and adjourned until Monday at 4 o'clock. The Attorney-General suggested this late hour of meeting in order to suit the convenience of members who desire to go home to spend Sunday. Beyond the appointment of a Committee on Privileges and Elections, the entire session was occupied by the debate upon the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. Mr. Matheson took the floor and made a fierce attack upon the Government, accusing the Ministry of having bought their way back to power by bribing constituencies and wasting the funds of the Province. He was followed by Mr. J. T. Garrow, who offered a temperate, logical and clear argument upon the legal aspects of the questions of the rights of constables to vote, and upon the action of the Government regarding the vacant portfolios. Mr. Barr of Dufferin followed, taking the line that it was improper to discuss the questions on the floor of the House. Mr. Stratton moved the adjournment of the debate.

Privileges and Elections.

Upon motion of the Attorney General the following members were appointed on the Committee on Privileges and Elections: Hon. Mr. Ross, Messrs. Ferguson, Garrow, Stratton, Charlton, Whitney, Marter, Matheson, Miscampbell and the mover.

Col. Matheson was the first speaker. He congratulated Mr. Speaker, and then paid his compliments to the mover and seconder of the address. Notwithstanding the disclaimer of the member for East Lambton he had no doubt that he (Mr. Pettypiece) would have been defeated without the constable vote. He enumerated public bribes which had had much to do with securing the seats of hon. gentlemen opposite, and he charged that in addition to these the manipulation of the elections accounted for many returns of Liberal members. Nipissing, Russell, South Perth, were notable in this category, and, said the speaker, "It seems almost a wonder that we on this side occupy half of the seats in this House. It is for reasons like this that the Ministry is discredited."

One member of the late Government, without portfolio, had actually not gone to the polls at all. He was still, however, a Minister. His retirement had not yet been gazetted. The defeated, Messrs. Dryden and Gibson, still held their seats. Four others of the Ministry had protests against their election. The Provincial Secretary was the only man among them who represented his constituency in the House. Where, oh where, was the array of talent which the Government had boasted about having behind it all these years? If they had it, why did they not replace the two Ministers? What was the reason for calling the House together? There were rumors that it was done by reason of mutiny in the Government ranks. The Premier dare not appoint any new Ministers without offending a dozen others. That was one reason why Mr. Hardy had called the House. He wanted to make his followers face the music, to make them vote for or against the Ministry. But were these appointments secretly promised now? After dealing with the precedent side of the question, Mr. Matheson said: Yes these two men were appointing a host of officials every day without themselves representing anybody. It was laying down a dangerous precedent, one which would be quoted for years to come.

Mr. Matheson did not propose, after the signal back-down of the Government on the question of constables' votes, to discuss the question. But the back-down showed that the Government were aware that the people were not supporting them in the course they were about to pursue.

Mr. Garrow.

Mr. Garrow reprimanded the members preceding on the other side for forgetting that they were not in the backwoods, that they were now addressing a solemn body, people who could understand language and had intelligence. "If you go on using strong language," he said to the Opposition, "then people won't know when you are serious." As to the talk of a corrupt league with the lumbermen or with the liquor men, it was unfair to make them without formulating them into specific charges and trying to prove them.

Then, as to the reason for calling the House. It was called at a period which would not seriously inconvenience either lawyers or farmers. The speaker noticed a conspicuous absence of argument by the Opposition as to whether or not constables were entitled to votes. Mr. Whitney, as a lawyer, had never ventured an opinion. Had any reputable lawyer offered one?

Mr. Whitney: It is rumored the Attorney-General has.

Mr. Hardy—Well, the rumor is entirely wrong.

Mr. Garrow said a constable had as much right to vote as a constable as though he were not. "You talk about an appeal to the courts," he went on. "This is the highest court in the country. Parliament is supreme in jurisdiction."

"I am one of the constable-elected members. I am proud of the distinction

"I was all run down with complaints peculiar to my sex, and I broke out in sores on my body, head, limbs and hands, and my hair all came out. TEXTS FOR SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

As there may be a possibility that Sir Charles Tupper may change his mind again and give us the benefit of a series of mid-summer addresses, the Montreal Herald ventures to offer for his consideration, a few extracts which may be used as texts, or heads of discourse, which it has culled from various sources. For example:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier is certainly among the most successful of living statesmen."—British Weekly.

"Canada, after years of stagnation, has in the hands of a progressive and most enlightened statesmanship, sprung forward in the path of progress."—London Chronicle.

"The Canadian Government has recognized its duty to the farmer by helping him to turn his attention to those classes of products which he can exchange to the best advantage and by introducing Canadian products to new markets."—London Daily News.

"The tone of Canadian public life has greatly risen with the beating down of at least the worst fallacies of protection."—London Chronicle.

"Canada met the Mother Country in a spirit of liberality which the Dominion had recently shown in a remarkable degree regarding Imperial matters."—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain.

The increase in Canadian trade in the last fiscal year was forty-four millions, the increase and the aggregate being the greatest in the history of the country. The customs receipts for July were $2,600,000 as compared with $1,336,167 last year, or nearly double.—Official reports.

A SENSIBLE VIEW.

The New York Evening Post, which never lost its head at any stage of the war, and is, therefore, to be credited with a degree of discernment rather out of the common with the American press, had, in a recent number, some exceedingly sensible comments on the possibilities of the approaching conference at Quebec.

"The attention of our people," it says, "is so much absorbed by the war that the importance of the negotiations that are about beginning between this country and Canada is quite disregarded. Yet when we consider that Canada is among nations our third largest customer, the value of the goods that we sell to her being greater than that of our exports to nearly all the other states of North and South America, the indifference of our merchants to this trade is astonishing. Their imaginations seem to be so affected with dreams of the wealth of China and the islands of the South Sea, that the possibilities of a great commerce close at hand are totally ignored. Here is a country whose trade is worth more to us than the trade of all the rest of the continent, more than all the foreign trade of the Pacific Coast, and we can increase it enormously by a simple measure of rational legislation. We do not need to increase our army or enlarge our navy in order to secure this profitable commerce, on the contrary the greater this commerce the more superfluous will such armaments be. The most crack-brained military or naval "expert" would not think of frightening Congress into increasing our military expenditure by warnings of a Canadian invasion, and the most bloodthirsty patroit would find it hard to maintain that we ought to force annexation on the Canadians at the point of the sword. The notion that in some magical way we shall derive enormous wealth from selling our wares to the half-naked inhabitants of the Philippines, whose wants are few, and whose productive powess are not great, appears unreasonable enough when contrasted with our attitude towards Canada. Every inhabitant of the Dominion, on an average, buys twelve dollars' worth of American goods annually, and if our tariff were abolished, the trade would probably double in a short time. Let people who want to find an outlet for our manufactures open their eyes to what lies right before them, instead of gazing off over the Pacific Ocean."

That President McKinley and his advisers are well informed as to the mutual advantage to be derived from a better arrangement in matters of trade, between Canada and the United States, their action in promoting the conference is sufficient evidence, and that the Canadian commissioners will be prepared to go so far as the interests of Canada will warrant, for the sake of opening up freer communication between the two countries is amply indicated by the personnel of the Canadian delegation. Sir Wilfred Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Louis Davies and Mr. Charlton have all given years of sympathetic study to this problem, and are all of them convinced of the great advantage to be derived from the greatest practicable removal of barriers to trade and commerce on this continent. Peace has its victories no less than war, and it may even be that this conference, promoted in the friendliest spirit, will have far greater and more important results than the war which is just over.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

BRITISH experts have come to the conclusion that the late war proves the man behind the gun to be of more importance than the gun itself.

THE British Weekly (London) is moved to remark, apropos of the penny postage decision, that "Sir Wilfrid Laurier is certainly among the most successful of living statesmen."

A great English statesman when he found that there was a popular demand for the repeal of the corn laws, remarked that the "will of the people should be the law of the land." This was many years ago, but our town councillors have found a better way and changed the expression to something like this—"The will of the people doesn't amount to a row of pins."

According to Mr. Hardy the Legislature is summoned to do those things which may "by the favour of God be ordained." This is an "evidence of Christianity" on the Premier's part which Sir Oliver should take notice of in the speech from the throne.—Mail and Empire.

The organ is hyper-critical. The language used is the set and regular form which has been in use from the beginning of parliamentary institutions, and Hon. Mr. Hardy is no more responsible for it than he is for a crier's formula at the opening of a court of law. The Mail is hysterical. Lack of office is driving the organ into dementia.

THE London Advertiser objects to the variation, by a lecturer, of the old saying, "God made the country, man made the town," so as to further read, "but the devil made the little country town." The Advertiser, the Ottawa Journal remarks, is correct, but it certainly does seem that the devil at times possesses the inhabitants of small country towns. Or is the unpleasant social condition which is so often found the natural result of the rule that small communities beget small minds?' We wonder if the Journal had in mind the members of our town council who set their opinions against the will of the people.

IF hard words would break bones, the leader of the Opposition, Mr. Whitney, and his organs would soon have the Ontario Government hors du combat. In his speech in the House night before last, Mr. Whitney described the government as "bleeding, bruised and battered," and now an organ says the government is "gasping." So long as it isn't the last gasp the country won't suffer. Mr. Whitney objects strongly to the House sitting in the dog-days, complaining bitterly of the heat. Then why doesn't he take it coolly and not lash himself into a fever of perspiration. The government side promises to make it hotter than the weather for Mr. Whitney and his followers in their race for office.

BUSINESS WORRIES

Break Down the Nervous Systems of the Strongest Men.

And Nervous Break-Down Often Precedes Insanity—Just Here Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are of Vital Use to Restore and Tone the Nerves.

A day's work at the "office" is enough to upset the nerves of any man.

The cares and worries, the anxieties and uncertainties of business keep his nerves continually "on edge," and, when the day's work is done, they are "used up."

It is on occasions like this that the little ones speak of papa as being "cross."

The wife and mother dreads her husband's home coming, though she knows well the cause of his irritability.

Such women would give much to know how to prevent these disagreeable occurrences.

They know that this never-ending strain on the nerves, is shortening the lives of breadwinners, and that it will soon end in death.

But all this suffering, this unceasing drain on the stream of life, can be ended easily and quickly.

A short treatment with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will end it quickly, and permanently.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Nervousness by removing its cause—weakness of the stomach.

They digest the food without assistance from the stomach.

While the stomach is enjoying the rest, the tablets tone and strengthen it, so that it can do its own work thoroughly.

Thus perfect digestion being absolutely assured, pure blood is a certainty, and the nerves are properly nourished, and enabled to hold out under the strain of work.

Only Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets can effect this. They only can digest the food and strengthen the stomach.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 50 cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz.:

1st, to take the value of the Policy in Cash..... $5,008 00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for..... 3,220 00
3rd or take the profits in cash 2,080 25
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

THE LEGISLATURE.

of having the smallest majority of any represented in the House. West Huron had a fit, but you must remember that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. West Huron is all right."

Mr. Whitney: "You mean the returning officer is all right." (Laughter.)

Mr. Garrow then argued out the broad proposition that the constable has a right to vote.

Turning to the question of the defeated Ministers, Mr. Garrow stated that the Ministry should keep the portfolios filled, but argued that time should be allowed to fill them. Had the Government had what is known in law as a reasonable time to fill them? If both Ministers had not appealed their elections it would have been different. They should hvae stepped down and out. Both, however, were old and respected members of the House, men whose ability was acknowledged on both sides. They were defeated, but had protested, and no court had thrown out their protests. Until these protests had been passed upon they should not be excluded from the House.

Mr. Garrow concluded by an appeal to the Opposition not to keep up the fight too long. Then he entered his protest against ex-post facto legislation. It would have been an outrage to which he could not have committed himself. But if it could be proved that the law had always been what it was proposed to make it, it was not retrospective. He thought it was a good bill in its amended shape, however, and thought it would work justice. It should be unanimously supported.

Dr. Barr.

Dr. Barr (Dufferin) rose on the Opposition side of the House and followed Mr. Garrow. He said it was not the intention of the Conservatives to take away the legal vote of any man in the Province of Ontario. He was a believer with his late leader, Wm. R. Meredith, in the utmost possible extension of the franchise. He contended that it was wrong to discuss the question of the right of constables to vote on the floor of the House at a time when it was to come before the courts. He hoped the House would not go into the matter further at any length, but permit the courts to decide. After asserting that the Government had lost the confidence of the country Dr. Barr proceeded to deal with the "bill of fare," as he called the Speech from the Throne. He passed from clause to clause, commenting adversely upon their necessity or usefulness. He criticized the Agricultural School at Guelph, where, he said, farmers were taught a style of farming which was too expensive for practical purposes. Under proper management, however, the college could be made a splendid institution for the training of young farmers. Dr. Barr reserved his remarks upon the fisheries question and concluded shortly before 6 o'clock.

The House then adjourned until 4 p.m. on Monday.

Aunt Mary's Timely Visit.

The other evening Aunt Mary took the electric cars and rode eastward to the house of her niece who a few weeks previously had just commenced housekeeping. Without ceremony the old lady entered the house and found her neice in the kitchen looking very dejected. Aunt Mary soon discovered that her niece had tried to dye an old cream opera shawl a cardinal red with some poor, cheap dye. The result was certainly enough to test the patience and goodness of an angel. A miserable mixed colour, half red and brown, was the result of labour. Aunt Mary deeply sympathized with her horror-stricken niece, and advised her in future to use nothing but the Diamond Dyes that had given her such satisfaction and profit for over twenty years. The unsightly, variegated shawl was then washed in several waters in order to get rid of the horrid colours, and was then put into a bath of Diamond Dye Fast Cardinal Red for Wool. It is now a thing of joy and beauty.

Moral: To achieve success in home dyeing be sure you use the Diamond Dyes.

FLYING FROM FEVER.

Shafter's Army to Leave Cuba at Once.

AN IMMEDIATE EMBARKATION.

Some Regiments Will Board the Transports To-Day—Eighteen Ships Will Carry Them Northward—Peace Endangered—Aguinaldo Nobody's Fool—He Writes a Very Clever Letter.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 6.—Major-General Shafter has received orders to move his entire army north at once. The six transports here will take the first shipments, and the embarkation will begin to-day. There is great rejoicing among the troops. From the moment Secretary Alger's cable message was received yesterday morning, ordering the instant removal of the army north, everything has been bustle and activity at headquarters. The transports here, six in number, have been ordered to discharge their cargoes and to get ready, without loss of time, to take on board the first shipments for home. Other transports are expected here shortly. It is expected that eighteen transports will soon be conveying our soldiers back to the United States. The Yale and Harvard, among others, are understood to be on their way here. These vessels will carry from twelve to fifteen thousand men.

The Sick List.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The following reports of the sanitary condition of the American camp at Santiago was made public at the War Department yesterday morning:

Sanitary report for Aug. 3: Total sick, 3,778; total fever, 2,696; new cases fever, 449; cases of fever returned to duty, 585.

THE PEACE THREATENED.

The Political Leaders' Conference at Madrid at Loggerheads.

Madrid, Aug. 6.—The result of the conference has not benefited the Government and has endangered the negotiations. Sagasta's early resignation is mooted.

The conference referred to in the despatch are the consultations which have been progressing for the past 36 hours between Prime Minister Sagasta and the leaders of the other parties and groups, including Senor Robledo, who vehemently denounces the American terms. Inasmuch as the above message was sent by the consent and probably at the desire of the Spanish Government, it may, perhaps, be surmised that the underlying motive of the Spanish Cabinet is to induce the American Government to modify some of its demands by indicating that the domestic situation in Spain renders it impossible for Senor Sagasta to yield to the present terms. There is no question that the Sagasta Government is anxious to conclude an immediate peace, but it is not yet clear whether it has the power to do so.

AGUINALDO IS NO FOOL.

Significant Letter From the Philippine Insurgent Chief.

Hong-Kong, Aug. 6.—The following has been received by United States Consul-General Wildman from Cavite, Philippine Islands: "I have read that I am getting the big head, and not behaving as I promised you. In reply I ask you, why should America expect me to outline my policy, present and future, and fight blindly for her interests, when America will not be frank with me? Tell me this, am I fighting for annexation, protection or independence? It is for America to say, not me. I can take Manila, as I have defeated the Spanish everywhere, but what would be the use? If America takes Manila, I can save my men and arms for what the future has in store for me. Now, good friend, believe me, I am not both fool and rogue. The interests of my people are sacred to me as are the interests of your people to you. (Signed) Aguinaldo."

WENT DOWN OFF BELLE ISLE.

The Story That a Vessel Collided With an Iceberg Corroborated.

St. Johns, Nfld., Aug. 6.—The mail steamer Virginia Lake arrived at Tilt Cove, on West Bay, 230 miles from here, at daylight yesterday morning, bringing certain corroboration of the reported loss of an ocean liner in the Straits of Belle Isle. A fisherman at Nobby Bay reported to her that he saw a steamer collide with an iceberg and sink soon afterwards. The report is generally believed, but nothing reliable is obtained. The fisherman said that the steamer looked like a passenger ship, and he could see the people trying to launch boats, but she sank before they could do anything.

A [illegible] WHEAT.

Demand for [illegible] and for Immediate Delivery Good Ontario [illegible]

Friday Evening, Aug. 5.

The speculative wheat market at Chicago was very strong to-day. Cable advice of advances on transatlantic boards was the chief bullish factor, but other important influences were the large clearances, the small primary receipts, the good cash demand and the apparent reluctance of the West to sell. This month's delivery touched 70c, and all options showed a gain of about a cent at the close.

On the Liverpool Board to-day, wheat manifested strength. The spot article rose ½d per cental, the September delivery 2d and the December option 1½d per cental. Paris wheat rose 20 centimes at to-day's session.

Trade in Ontario wheat continues dull, but the situation was stronger to-day, with new red and white quoted around 63c and 64c at north and west points.

The Logs in the River.

Navigation was rendered increasingly difficult last night for the steamers coming up the river. The City of Peterborough ran her Hastings trip and on her return encountered the worst jam of the season; but reached her wharf safely. The North Star had on a party of about seventy, and suffered severely by the logs. On her arrival at the wharf, at 10 o'clock, it was found that only one flange was left on her screw.

McDONALD'S NEW MILL.

A Magnificent Business Built up by an Energetic Business Man.

On the night of Wednesday, June 29th, Mr. Alf. McDonald's saw mill at Point St. Charles was burned to the ground, and by Wednesday, August 10th, a new structure will have risen Phœnix like from its ashes, and be running double time under a full head of steam.

As soon as he could arrange to have the ruins of the old mill cleared away, Mr. McDonald, with his characteristic energy, began to cast about him to ascertain how how quickly he could replace the mill and commence work. Within a few days he had made a deal for the saw mill on the east side of the river at Nassau, and had an army of men at work moving it to the site formerly occupied by the one that was burnt. This morning's sun saw the removal complete, and the Nassau mill now stands complete on Point St. Charles, ready to begin work as soon as the remainder of the shafting has been placed in position, which Mr. McDonald states will be on Wednesday morning.

The mill, which is built of splendid timber, is one of the largest and most complete in the Midland District. It is 40 x 160 feet in size, and three full stories in height, and entirely covered with fire proof sheeting. An engine house has been erected adjacent thereto, but not structurally connected with the mill. It is 32x25 feet in size, and in it are two boilers and an engine capable of furnishing 250 horse power.

The upper flat in the mill is to be reserved for the present, as Mr. McDonald intends as soon as he gets time to fit it up as a box and heading factory and for this purpose it is finely lighted. An extensive business will be done in this line.

In the second story are the shingle machines and the circular saw, which will buzz merrily at night and day until the frost checks its progress. Timber of any size or description can be easily handled, as a clear space 40x65 feet has been left behind the saw.

On the first floor is the shafting and planers, the latter of which will have such a capacity as to be able to supply the whole country side whith dressed lumber of every description.

The mill is floored throughout with cement and as the sawdust and shavings are picked up by fans and carried off by a patent device there will be no dirt of any kind lying around.

The machinery was placed in position under the supervision of Mr. Denis McMartin and Mr. Thos. Rutherford had the erection of the building in charge.

In the course of a few days over a hundred men will be employed on the premises and as Mr. McDonald has never asked any favours of the town in the way of exemption or a bonus, the least the council can do is to grant him a little more fire protection in order that the fate of the old mill, may not occur to the new one. The nearest hydrant to the mill at present, and the only one at all available, is 800 feet distant. Mr. McDonald, it is understood is willing to meet the council half way in the matter and defray a portion of the cost of putting in another hydrant in a spot more accessible than the present one. Such an industry as Mr. McDonald has built up is one to be fostered. He has a million and a half feet of timber to be cut this fall, and 20,000 ties to be shaped up. This means the employment of a large number of men and the turn over of a big sum of money, the greatest portion of which is paid out in wages and benefits the town directly. Mr. McDonald is to be heartily congratulated upon the enterprise which he has shown in surmounting so many difficulties and building up a business of such magnitude which is a credit to the town.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP.

How the Boys are Getting Along up at Sandy Point, Clear Lake.

PLEO CAMP, SANDY POINT, Aug. 5.

The Y.M.C.A. boys, of Peterborough, arrived safely in camp yesterday. The personnel is as follows:—Messrs. G. H. Williamson, general secretary, and W. J. Stubbs, leaders; A. Froude, J. Laing, A. N. Cameron, Geo. Perks, Hy. Cleeves, A. Chalmers, Innes Hamilton, H. Ames, B. Boomer, H. Sackville, P. Dobbin, E. Daly, H. Daly, R. Armstrong, H. Wood and E. Gibson.

At 7 30 the boys left the building and had a jolly ride to Young's Point, where Mr. Stubbs had gone with the yacht and the luggage with the advance guard.

It was an imposing sight to see the Y. M.C.A. fleet leaving the Point for their destination, propelled by a gentle breeze. The yacht had in tow skiffs, with luggage, and in the rear the "punt," kindly loaned by Mr. Kearney, of Lakeview House. When Clear Lake was reached the wind was all that could be desired and the camp was reached about 1 30 p.m.

There was an amusing incident en route. The line holding the punt to the yacht broke, and the wind was so strong that it was some time before it was recaptured. The funny part of it was that two of the boys were in the punt, and as they were left behind, they looked like Crusoe and Friday looking for port.

The boys are all delighted with the camp ground. The spring within a few yards of the camp scullery is appreciated by all. The arrangements are excellent, with three tents—one for grub. Nothing has been left at home that would add to the comfort of the boys.

Yesterday was a free and easy day as far as camp government was concerned, but a system of constitutional monarchy was successfully launched this morning. Each boy has a number and every four numbers forms a section. The duties of each section are stipulated at the morning meal, and the sections are each day in turn responsible for the domestic duties of the camp.

Each morning devotional exercises are conducted by the secretary immediately before breakfast.

The boys have followed the injunctions of the leader, and have not neglected to bring their Bibles along and to use them as well.

Last night the boys were tired and after a good sleep, feel in fine condition this morning.

We go to Juniper to post this letter to you to-day. More anon.

PETERBOROUGH WON FROM BEAVERTON.

ON THE CHECKERS' OWN GROUNDS YESTERDAY.

The Score was Six to One and the Local Enthusiasts are Jubilant Over the Fine Game Which the Boys put up Away From Home.

The lacrosse match in Beaverton yesterday, which was won by the Peterboroughs by a score of six goals to one, proves conclusively that the local team can play as good a game away from home as on their own grounds, if an impartial referee is officiating. Mr. Wm. Hall, of Markham, officiated in that capacity yesterday, and saw that Beaverton did not derive an unfair advantage, from the fact that they were playing on their own grounds and had a big crowd of backers behind them.

The field in Beaverton is a poor one, being shorter than the P.A.A.A. grounds and narrower. The ground, too, is rough and the presence of a growth of long grass does not add to its advantages. The size of the field compelled the home men to bunch when running in on their opponents' goal, and in consequence the combination work was not as pretty as when Beaverton played here. Being brought so close together gave the men more of a chance at one another and the body checking was very stiff. The Peterboroughs, however, can take as much of that as any opposing team can give them, provided that there is no rough stick work, and to give the Checkers all due credit, it must be said that in this respect they played a very clean game, although a much heavier team than the Peterboroughs.

The only "dirt" which the local boys had to take was that proceeding from the mouths and instigated by a crowd of Orillia hoodlums who were present to see the game. They used their tongues very freely and in a manner which has keyed the Peterboroughs up to such a pitch, that they are determined to win from Orillia in the play off or die in the attempt.

The two teams lined up yesterday as follows:

Beaverton.		Peterborough.
H McKinnon	goal	F C Dobbin
Rainey	point	F Lynch
T Graham	cover point	J Brown
A Hamilton	1st defence	J Mein
P McMillan	2nd "	R M Glover
Talbot	3rd "	M McDonough
H Cameron	centre	L King
A Cameron	3rd home	D Hogarth
West	2nd home	Jack McCabe
M Cameron	1st home	Walter Phelan
Cameron	outside home	G Lipsett
C McInnis	inside home	J Mooney
G Burchard	field captain	B Dolan

The games were scored as follows:

Team.	Scored by.	Time.
Peterborough	Mooney	4 min
Beaverton	H Cameron	12 min
Peterborough	Mooney	12 min
"	McCabe	4 min
"	Lipsett	8 min
"	Mooney	10 min
"	Mooney	13 min

was taken in short order by the Peterboroughs, but although Dobbin stopped a shot on his goal in the next game he was unable to clear before the ball was batted through tieing the score. At this the Beaverton men turned cartwheels on the field and held a general rejoicing but it was all that was needed to steady the Peterborough defense down and as a result not a Beaverton man ever got far enough in again to shoot on the goal during the entire match. As a matter of fact Dobbin did not have to stop another shot, and the score was steadily rolled up in favour of Peterborough until time was called, when the victory was awarded them by six goals to one.

Peterborough now leads the league in this district, but as Beaverton has to play in Orillia on Thursday next, and will assuredly be beaten, it will leave Peterborough and Orillia a tie, each having won the same number of matches. One game will be played on neutral ground to decide which is the better team, and on a fair field with no favour, the Peterboroughs should be able to put Orillia out of the business. The game will probably be played in Toronto.

Jack McCabe let out a few links yesterday and played like a whirlwind. Every man on the Beaverton defense was LAYING FOR HIM.

Mooney scored four goals and Lipsett and McCabe each one.

The Beaverton men are great runners, but they ran themselves to death in the first half hour. A defense man would carry the ball right down into the home and in consequence the ball was often in his own flags before he could get back.

That one game which Beaverton scored early in the match put the Peterborough's on their mettle. After that the Checkers had to do all their combination out in the field, for as soon as they got anywhere near they either had to lose the ball or pass it back in to their own defense, which latter happened quite frequently.

Beaverton thought "Scuddy" Phelan a pretty mean kind of a player when he interfered with their combination by shouting to them to pass the ball to him, which they did several times to the amusement of the spectators.

Yesterday's game has put the finishing touches on the team for Monday's great game on the P.A.A.A. grounds with the Tecumsehs. None of the local men were hurt in Beaverton so that the full team will be out. The game starts at 4 p.m., sharp.

KICKED IN THE FACE.

Fred. Eano's Lower Jaw was Broken Yesterday.

Yesterday morning Fred. Eano, who drives Mr. J. C. Sullivan's delivery wagon, in Ashburnham, received a bad kick in the face from the horse.

The animal was standing in the yard and young Eano in passing took it by the tail, when the horse lashed out with its heels, striking him full in the face and knocking him insensible. Dr. Moher was summoned and found that besides being badly cut, the lad's lower jaw had been broken by the force of the kick.

IDYL WYLD CHANGED HANDS.

Mr. H. Calcutt is Again the Proprietor —The Popular Summer Resort Reopens on Monday.

Considerable regret has been felt by many of our townspeople during the past month when it was learned that Idyl Wyld had been closed down on account of some financial difficulty between the lessee and the American owners of the island. This has been a favourite resort with quite a number of our citizens; and for the two previous seasons, while under the management of Mr. A. Spellman, of the Clarendon House, Hastings, had become even more popular than ever before. It will be pleasant news for these and the general public to know that Mr. H. Calcutt, who was the original owner of the island, and who did so much to boom this breezy spot years ago, when it was first opened, has purchased the island back again, including the hotel and other buildings, the steam yacht "Outlet Queen," and all other property appertaining thereto. The purchase was completed on the 1st of August and since that time Mr. Calcutt has had a staff of carpenters and workmen actively engaged in getting the premises overhauled and the rooms refurnished for the accommodation of guests during the remainder of the present season. These preparations have been pushed forward with Mr. Calcutt's usual promptitude, so that he will be able to open Idyl Wyld on Monday, 8th instant, when the boats will commence to make regular trips thereto. It is also learned that Mr. Calcutt proposes to enlarge and improve the present hotel building during the coming fall, so as to increase the accommodation and otherwise improve the interior and exterior of the building. Mr. Sid Beckett has been installed as manager for this season and his experience entitles him to the confidence of all who may favour Idyl Wyld with a visit for a day or a week.

STONY LAKE NOTES.

What is Going on Amongst the Cottagers and Campers.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Lech closed up "Kenmore" for the season yesterday, and returned to town after spending a month at their delightful summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Gibson and party, Peterborough, are at the lake, where they will spend the month of August in "Englewood," Mr. Connal's cottage, at Boschink.

A merry party left to-day for Stony Lake consisting of Messrs. Jack Gemmell, Billy Bletcher, Herb. Clegg, Billy Ackerman, George Armstrong and Roly Grover. The boys will occupy Mr. Gemmell's cottage and take their meals at the Victoria House, McCracken's Landing.

Mrs. H. LeBrun entertained a party of campers from the vicinity of Boschink and the head of the lake on Friday evening of last week at "Bellechasse." Mrs. LeBrun is an ideal hostess and those who were present thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. Brock gave another pleasant dance Friday evening at her beautiful summer cottage. A large number spent a pleasant evening as her guests.

Mr. A. F. Hoover, Peterborough, has opened his cottage for the season.

The American camp at Boschink has been opened. Col. Sloan and party having arrived last week. Their island is one of the most luxuriously fitted up on the lakes.

Dr. Stern, of Cleveland, Ohio, was a guest at "Englewood" for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Tanner, of Toronto, spent a few days at the lake this week.

Mrs. Millons, of Toronto, was a guest at "Tak-It Asy" this week.

Miss Eva Wagner is spending a few days at "Tak-It-Asy."

Last Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Albree, at Ballyraggit, entertained the boys of St. John's choir, Peterborough. During the evening refreshments were served and a very pleasant time was spent.

Mr. Levi Payne, at "Paynesboro," is an inveterate fisherman and has made some phenomenal catches this season. Last week he succeeded in landing a bass which weighed over six pounds. Mr. Payne's luck was envied by many fishermen.

A few days ago while a young lady was in bathing at Grassy Island a monster black snake started in pursuit of her. The young maiden started for shore screaming for help, which fortunately arrived in the nick of time and she was rescued from the jaws of the avaricious monster. The snake was about two feet long.

On Monday last Misses Ada Cox, Lily Montgomery, Cora McGibbon, Lou Limbert and Carrie Payne were the guests of Miss Cora McDonald at "Shadyside." The party had a pleasant sail on the trim little yacht "Libbie" and enjoyed themselves immensely.

Mr. Fredy Reynolds and Miss M. Reynolds, Bethany, are at Black Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Green spent a few days this week at Mr. Gemmel's cottage near McCracken's Landing.

THE PROTECTION OF DEER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR, The Chief Game Warden of Ontario has issued a circular propounding the following questions:—Do you approve of the hounding of deer? Do you think the abolition of hounding would conduce to the increased protection of deer? Do you approve of the killing of deer in the water or just leaving the water? The one and only object distinctly stated is "the protection of deer," and the replies to the above questions are requested, with "this object in view."

This circular is worded with the evident intention not to procure the unbiased opinion of sportsmen as to the question of deer-hunting generally, but for the purpose of getting a negative reply to these questions, and to use these replies in influencing future legislation.

If the one and only thing aimed at is "the protection of deer" it would, of course, be advisable not only to stop the hounding of deer, but to prevent the killing of deer altogether under any circumstances, and in order that this might be effectually done it would be better to order the extermination of deer hounds, and the imposition of a sufficient penalty to prevent any persons carying firearms in the woods where deer are likely to be found.

The present prohibition of killing deer in the water or "just coming out of the water" is practically a dead letter, and will continue to be so. It is better to have no restriction in this respect than one which cannot be properly enforced. To insist that deer shall be shot only on runways results in three-fourths, if not a still larger proportion, so shot being only wounded, and escaping from the hunters, to die lingering deaths in the swamps. A friend of mine, who is a woodranger, informed one of my last year's guides that he had during the previous season found no less than fourteen dead deer in the woods that had been wounded, but not so disabled as to prevent their escaping from the hunters. Not one in a dozen of ordinary sportsmen can shoot accurately enough at a running deer in the woods to kill on the spot. The "cruelty" urged against the killing of deer in the water is more properly applicable to the shooting of deer on runways.

The only method of properly hunting deer, except by hounding is by "still hunting." I was in the woods last year during the greater part of the season, and there was not a single still-hunting day, and the year before in the locality I visited there was only one still hunting day, and that was on Sunday. Weather suitable for still-hunting comes later in the season, and when the venison is growing less fit for food. Deer are in the best condition for food early in the open season.

The present open season of fifteen days is too short. It simply has the effect to send deer hunters all into the woods together, which is most objectionable. The open season in New York State is three months—from August 15 to November 15. The open season in the State of Maine is two months and a half, from October 1 to December 1.

The Government must, independently of the Game Warden, have in view not simply the "protection of deer," but allowing deer-hunting under proper and reasonable restrictions. I should suggest:

(1) That the open season, instead of being, as now, from November 1 to 15, should be from October 15 to November 15. License and coupon system now in force, strictly limiting the number of deer to be killed, to be continued, and the restrictions as to how and where deer may be killed to be entirely removed.

I believe these conditions would be entirely satisfactory to the great majority of those who are practically conversant with the matter. Yours truly, D. W.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

Perth is very anxious for a return game with the Peterboroughs and invites them down for the eleventh, but the home team has as many games on its hands as it knows what to do with at present. Perth will have to wait for a while.

The Toronto News says:—"Lipsett is the star of the Peterborough home. He is a good stick handler and a splendid shot. Walter Phelan is playing again and is fast rounding to his old form.

A despatch from Beaverton to the Globe says:—"The sixth match in the Northeastern District, C.L.A., was played here today between the Peterborough Lacrosse Club and the Checkers, resulting in a win for Peterborough by six goals to one. The score was not by any means a criterion of the play, both teams playing fast, clean lacrosse. The combination work of the Checkers was beautiful, but they were unable to beat down the stone wall defence of Lynch at point and Dobbin in goal.

THE WHEEL.

Eddie Bald and Tommy Cooper are at their old tricks again. Cooper expressed a desire for a match race. Bald accommodated him and put up his famous $100 bill. Cooper then stipulated that the finish should be roped off so that Bald couldn't jockey him, and the Buffalonian refused to ride on a roped-off track, claiming that his consent to do so would be tantamount to a confession that he was a foul rider. Bald is certainly justified in his refusal, but their is a general suspicion that the readiness of both of these top-notchers to back out of a match is much greater than their eagerness to meet in a matched race. Cooper and his trainer, Mother Webb, are both accused of proposing wholly unacceptable stipulations.

Maj. Taylor, the negro, feels that he is being slighted in the hunt for a match race. Billy Brady posted $1,000 in behalf of the black for a match race with any man in the world, third of a mile to 30 miles, but no one has noticed it and Taylor thinks his colour is proving an unjust bar.

On Saturday, July 30th, at Philadelphia, the world's triplet record of 1 46 2-5, for one mile, was lowered to 1 40 2-5, by Johnson, Monroe and Farnwalt on the Woodside Park board track.

Jimmy Michael has some strong views on the subject of training. Especially is he true on the matter of drinking water. A majority of athletes labour under the impression that pure water is very much better than either malt or liquor of any kind. The little Welchman thinks differently. He recently gave vent to the following "things": "I have not taken a drop of pure water since I have been in the business, and would advise all men training for wheeling to avoid it at all times. More disaster to the system comes from drinking water while out on a run than from anything else. It chills the blood, stiffens the muscles and operates against perfect digestion when taken under these conditions. If a man is inclined to temperance, tea will be a good substitute and will do more good than anything else to build on. There is one thing that I would warn riders against, and that is coffee and game of all kinds. Even chicken is bad, but wild game is really destructive. As to oysters and clams, there is little or no nutriment in them, and they only overload the stomach without doing any good.

"One thing that concerns every cyclist in the country is the question of bathing and rubbing down. In training it amounts to a science, and should have the closest attention. If you are doing much work in the morning go immediately to your room upon returning from a run and get your clothing off before the perspiration cools and you get stiff. Begin rubbing with the liniments at once and keep your legs well limbered up, working from the side down. Above all things, never let an exhausted man rub you. The rubber should be strong, fresh and in good physical condition himself, so as to impart his vitality to the man requiring his services. The practice of having your pacers and road runners rub you down is never productive of good results. Vitality is a queer force and is stored up by rest passing from one man to another under friction. Rubbing one's self is like trying to pull yourself over the fence by the boot tops. As a bit of parting advice, I would suggest that aspirants for honours keep sober and avoid tobacco in all forms."

AN IRISH CHALLENGER.

The most interesting bit of yachting news of the year is the report that the Royal Ulster Yacht Club—the representative aquatic association of the North of Ireland—is likely to challenge for the America's cup. The cabled announcement from London says that the honorary secretary of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, Mr. Kelly, has telegraphed to the London office of the Associated Press, saying that the challenger for the America's cup is Sir Thomas Lipton, the well-known merchant of London, New York, Chicago and Ceylon. Sir Thomas Lipton is a newcomer in yachting circles. His yacht is named the Shamrock. Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge will be dispatched in a few days. Mr. Chas. Russell is going to New York in order to hand the challenge to the New York Yacht Club. The challenger is the sole owner of the Shamrock, whose dimensions he declines to make public at present. She will be built under lock and key and elsewhere than on the Clyde. It is said the place and plans selected by Messrs. Lipton and Russell, who have cherished the project for years, will create a sensation when known. The approaching termination of the war clears the way for an intense popular interest in such a contest, and as it could not take place until next year it would encounter the most favourable conditions, resulting from a general revival of business and a more free circulation of money. The New York Yacht Club will promptly accept the challenge if properly presented in accordance with the deed of gift.

PISCATORIAL.

There must be great fascination in hooking, playing and landing a mighty fish. Tarpon in the South and the tuna, or horse mackerel, on the Pacific Coast, have long vied with each other for first place in the affections of anglers who prefer to fight and overcome one big fish a day rather than land two or three dozen of 15 or 20-pounders in the same space of time. It is only a few years since tarpon fishing was practically unknown, but it has grown in popularity to an amazing extent; all the more remarkable from the fact that the fish is no good when once it has been caught and reduced to possession. The tuna on the other hand is a marketable fish, a valuable commodity, and the man who is playing a tuna can rest assured (if the fish allows him any time for such reflection, which is extremely doubtful), that once his prey is in the boat, so many pounds of good meat have been taken from the ocean. Quite recently Prof. C. F. Holder hooked and played for 4 hours a tuna weighing 183 pounds, using a 20-ounce rod, a Vom Hofe reel and 900 feet of cuttyhunk line to which was attached a 6-foot leader of piano wire. The bait used was a twelve inch flying fish, the natural food and prey of the tuna. The catch was made in Avalon Bay, Santa Catalina Island, Southern California. The above is a feat to be proud of, and one not likely to be duplicated for some time to come. The rush of the tuna when hooked, and the leaps from the water, are exaggerated reproductions of the same efforts to escape that are displayed by the tarpon. It would seem then that the palm due to the king of sea belongs very properly to the tuna, whose vocation does not cease merely when it has been reduced to possession.

LEARNING TO SWIM.

Now that the summer season is here with all its heat, many persons, who at the close of last summer were able to swim a few strokes, will again somewhat timorously enter water. The majority will find this self-imposed task far more difficult than is anticipated. It is necessary to remind those that indulge in short, quick strokes that one of the golden rules of swimming is to move slowly and deliberately. Those who wish to become good swimmers must cultivate self-reliance, and they should always bear in mind that water itself has a sustaining power far greater than that of most other liquids. The slow stroke is the very essence of good swimming. It enables the bather to inflate the lungs and thus unconsciously turn them temporarily into life preservers. To move slowly is to get plenty of breathing time, and to get plenty of breathing time is to get plenty of strength to repeat the movements which propel the body through the water. The second golden rule which the beginner should school himself to remember is that the living human body is specifically lighter than the water and does not necessarily sink therein. Confidence in the sustaining power of water is the only secret in swimming. The best way to convince the novice of the buoyancy of water is to let her wade out until the water comes up to her breast; but before doing this she should take care, when in shallow water, to immerse her whole body, so as to avoid the rush of blood to the head, from which many bathers suffer through neglecting to do this. With the water once on a level with the breast the bather should lie on her back and extend her arms out beyond her head, but not raised out of the water. This position makes breathing easy and counterbalances the weight of the legs. The bather should lie restfully and avoid stiffening the nether limbs. The hips should be rigid, the feet close together but not out of the water, for if they were they would overbalance the weight of the head and carry it beneath the surface.

YOUNG ROBINSON DROWNED.

A Sailboat Sprung a Leak in Lake Couchiching.

Rama, Ont., Aug. 6.—A sad drowning accident occurred here about 6.30 yesterday afternoon. A party of excursionists sailed on an outing, in the direction of Geneva Park, Lake Couchiching, about seven miles from Orillia. The party divided, eight of them going in an old sailboat and the remainder in a steam yacht. When about half way across the lake the sailboat started to leak, and the men tried to bail her out as fast as the water came in, but could not keep her afloat, and she went to the bottom in a few seconds, throwing the whole party into the water. All but one could swim, and when the boat came up they hung on.

Young Robinson, a son of Neil Robinson, farmer, said he would swim to the shore, and one of the men asked him if he could help him. He said, "No, I am all right." The man, who was swimming at the time, turned to see how young Robinson was getting along, but he saw him just as he was going down. He was about 22 years old, and a good swimmer.

The steam yacht was too far ahead to hear the calls of the men clinging to the partly sunken craft, but a rowboat, manned by a party of campers from the park, put out and gallantly rescued the seven men, bringing them to shore.

A brother and sister of young Robinson, it is said, were in the steam yacht. The spot where the young man went down was about half way across the lake, and it is very deep—about 40 feet.

Several young men from the camp went out to try and get the body, but they were unsuccessful, and arrangements are being made to grapple for it.

ARCHBISHOP WALSH WAS SLATED.

Would Have Been the Canadian Cardinal Had He Lived.

London, Aug. 6.—A high Catholic authority informs the Associated Press that the Vatican had decided to make Archbishop Walsh of Toronto a cardinal. His death leaves the question of the succession to Cardinal Taschereau open. The Catholic weeklies, the Tablet and the Register, confirm the report that Archbishop Walsh was the Vatican's choice for the Canadian cardinalate.

The feeling of buoyancy produced by the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills is remarkable. One feels bright and active, energetic and full of snap and vim. Rich red blood fills the veins, and the nerves tingle with the sensation of youthful life and vigor.

TREMBLING HANDS AND SHAKY MEMORY.
A HAMILTON MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH A NEW MEDICINE.

DEAR SIRS,—
I have spent half a fortune in doctors' bills, all to no avail. These Pills seemed to reach the seat of disease at once, and they also seemed to possess a remarkable influence over me. The violent palpitation of the heart, the trembling of the hands, the loss of masculine vigor, the frightful dreams, the loss of memory and general collapse of the entire system, have yielded to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Great were the results from the use of four boxes of these Pills. I am enjoying the very best of health. I fully believe they are able to do for others as much as they have done for me. Before using them I was a miserable wreck. To-day I am a well man.

Yours truly,
THOS. FLYNN, 51 Elgin St., Hamilton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

TWO LITTLE REPUBLICS.

One Is the Oldest, the Other the Smallest in Existence.

Goust is the smallest republic as to area, but Tavolara is the smallest republic as to population. Goust is only one mile in area. It is located on the flat top of a mountain in the Pyrenees, between France and Spain, and is recognised by both of those countries. It is governed by a President and a Council of 12. It was established in 1648 and has 180 inhabitants. The President is Tax Collector, Assessor and Judge. Goust has no church, clergyman or cemetery. The people worship in a church outside of their own territory, and the dead bodies are slid down to a cemetery in the valley below. In that valley all the baptisms and marriages are performed. Tavolara is twelve miles northeast of Sardinia. It is an island five miles long by a half mile wide. Its total population consists of 55 men, women and children. The women go to the polls with the men and elect every year a President and Council of six, all serving without pay. The inhabitants support themselves by fishing and raising fruit and vegetables. The republic has no army and no navy.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes and a sallow complexion will defy the best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

The Nerves Never Grow Old.

Commenting on the common causes of nervous disorders, Professor W. H. Thompson says: The message of modern science about the nervous system is more hopeful than ever. It tells us that the nervous system has a greater store of reserve vitality than all the other bodily systems put together. It is the only texture that is found not to have lost weight after death by starvation, as well as after death by any cause. It is the last to grow old; and as to the mind, it need not grow old at all, provided it be steadily applied with that mighty spiritual element in us which we call interest. Even the muscular system can be wonderfully sustained by interest; for should a man attempt the same muscular work on a treadmill which he lightly endures along the mountain brook after a trout, he would faint dead away. But the mind will by interest grow steadily, even while bone and sinew are wasting through age.

Dodd's Kidney Pills the Only Cure on Earth for Bright's Disease.

Toronto, July 25.—Bright's Disease has once again been conquered in Toronto.

And in this case, as in every other that has been cured, Dodd's Kidney Pills effected the cure.

Here is what the person most deeply concerned says about the matter:

"I suffered with Bright's Disease and impure blood for some time, and all my efforts to find relief or cure were fruitless.

"I was persuaded to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I had only used two boxes when my cure was complete." Fred Borland, 977 Markham street, Toronto.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured every case of Bright's Disease for which they have been used. They never fail.

A VERY UNIQUE IDEA.

SHADOW ORNAMENTATION FOR THE DECORATION OF HOMES.

A Method That Needs No Training and But Very Little Expense—A Pot of Paint, a Darkened Room and a Light to Throw the Shadow Is All You Require.

They call it shadow ornamentation. It is an entirely new way of decorating the home artistically, it requires no training, and when done you will feel proud of calling in your friends and neighbors to criticise. The outfit is inexpensive. If you want to ornament your walls with frescoes in red, get a pot of red paint and a paint brush. If you prefer black or green or blue or yellow, take your choice and purchase paint of your favorite color. Then darken the room to be decorated, light a lamp and study out the general outlines of the fresco work that you propose to try and paint on the wall.

To get the outline of the ornamentation, place a plant in front of the light so that a shadow is thrown on the wall. Study the shadow until you have an outline that suits your artistic fancy. If one plant does not throw a pretty shadow try another. Or, if your plants do not throw shadows that meet with your approval, discard the plants and try the effect of some cut flowers or tree branches. If both have pretty features and you can't choose between them, try the effect of a combination of both, if you have sufficient wall space. The most interesting part of the new idea in ornamentation is the scope it gives for exercising natural taste in the arrangement of the outline.

It is necessary to use for "shadowing" those plants that throw a large and many branched outline, as otherwise the prettiest effect will not be obtained when the filling in is done. The more delicate the tracery work the better and it is therefore well to select flowers like begonias, ferns or branches like those of the horse chestnut tree.

However, the selection of the plant to be used to throw the shadows can be left to the taste of the artist. It is impossible to advise, as so many plants are equally good for this purpose. Having decided on the groundwork, the next thing to do is to paint the outline of the shadows very methodically. This is the most important part of the work, and great care should be taken over it, as upon the outlining depends the success of the fresco. The filling in is comparatively easy. Go very carefully around the outlines of the leaves and branches, following veins and tracing the outlines of the leaves and blossoms carefully.

When you have done this the rest of the work can be finished in the day time when the light will enable you to work with less strain on the eyesight. Having the outlines before you, you will be able to judge of the appearance of the work when completed. You will be surprised and delighted at the result even at this stage. It is not all plain sailing. Some necessary part of the plant will fail to show in the shadow in spite of the most painstaking care to have the light just right. This leaves room for artistic effort on the part of the one doing the decorating, and this to many will prove the most fascinating feature of the whole undertaking. To merely daub in an outline in a perfunctory way will not suit the individual with an artistic soul. It is the finding out that what has all the appearance of the finest art work when completed can be accomplished with so little training that proves the chief charm to the one who tries the effect of this frescoing by shadow.

The Two Rivieras.

The warmest parts of Italy visited by the ordinary tourist are two rivieras (shores), one commonly called the Riviera, running from Nice to Genoa, where lie Mentone, Monte Carlo, San Remo, etc.; the other a still more beautiful coast, on the sunny side of the rocky promontory that bounds the bay of Napleson the south, of which Amalfi is the gem. The Riviera from Nice to Genoa is sheltered from cold north winds by the barrier of the Alps, is full in the face of the sun and often does not see a snowstorm for years. Semi-tropical plants grow freely, and the temperature is so mild that many victims of lung troubles are sent there to convalesce or die. It has hotels innumerable, which are for the most part well filled during the first four months of the year. Queen Victoria usually goes there for some weeks in the early spring, and it abounds with royalty and nobility.—Robert Luce in "Going Abroad."

If you suffer from sores, boils, pimples, or if your nerves are weak and your system run down, you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A CARPENTER'S STORY.

STRICKEN WITH LA GRIPPE, FOLLOWED BY RHEUMATISM.

Suffered a Great Deal and For Two Months Was Unable to Work—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored His Health.

From the Reporter, Palmerston, Ont.

There is not a better known man in Palmerston than Mr. Jas. Skea, who for the past twenty-four years has followed the trade of carpentery in the town. Mr. Skea, who is a native of Orkney Islands, is now sixty-six years of age and is hale and hearty. A few years ago he was attacked with grip, which left in its wake acute rheumatism. For two months he was unable to work and suffered a great deal from this dread disease. He used several kinds of liniments, but to no avail. Having read in the papers of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People he decided to try them. He took one box and was surprised at the effect. He took a second and finally a third when he found that his old enemy was about routed. To a Reporter representative who called upon him at his residence to find out if the reported cure was correct, Mr. Skea said: I was greatly surprised at the result of taking a couple of boxes. I suffered fearfully, but they made a new man of me, and fixed me right up. I now take them every spring and fall to guard against colds and grip. They are the only thing that does me any good. Mr. Campbell or Mr. Thom will tell you that I wouldn't be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anything. They are the best medicine in the world. Though I am up in years, my health is good, and I am right as a dollar. I attribute it to the use of these Pills. I recommend them to Mr. William Beattie, carpenter foreman on the G.N.W., who has also been troubled with rheumatism and they speedily effected a cure in his case."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapping bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Greek and Latin.

M. Jules Lemaitre condemned the study of Greek and Latin the other day at the Paris Sorbonne. He declared that the national mind had been formed not by the literature of the Greeks and Romans, except in an indirect way, but by the Scriptures first and afterward by the great French writers. M. Lemaitre further declared that he regretted having studied Greek and Latin 12 years, whereas he is ignorant of English, which is spoken by half the world, and only knows German in a pitiful manner.

A Pauper Princess.

The Infanta Isabella Ferdinanda Francoise Josephine, aunt of the king of Spain and sister of the ex-King Francis d'Assisi, who died the other day in poverty in a wretched inn in Paris, was the most beautiful princess in the Spanish court 50 years ago. Her marriage in 1841 to Count Ignatius Gurowski, a Pole, caused a rupture between her and her family. He died in 1887, leaving her penniless, and she has been living from hand to mouth ever since.

Shelling the Tortoise.

The humanitarians of England say that the method of taking the shell from the tortoise is cruel. On being caught the tortoise is semi-broiled over a fire of red embers until the flesh that retains the coveted shell to its body is softened. The animal is then shelled clean, and, though the suffering must be intense, it rarely dies, but in a few months grows another shell, of which it is deprived in the same manner.

No man has a right to marry a woman and make her his nurse during long years of continued ill-health. A sick man cannot be a good husband, a good provider, a successful business man or a useful citizen; a man had better be dead and done with it than to be a life-long invalid, a nuisance to everybody and especially to the woman whom he has vowed to love, honor and protect.

The trouble with the average man is that he has not the least conception of the causes of ill-health or the right way to go about remedying them. A little indigestion or biliousness in themselves are not serious complaints, but if neglected they may develop into almost any disease in the medical books. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures many serious diseases by promptly removing the causes. It braces up the weak and impaired stomach and restores the appetite. It invigorates the liver and all the secretory glands. It facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It makes the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food absolutely perfect, and thus enriches the blood. Disease germs are scavengers, and will not enter healthy blood or tissue. They must have the inert tissues of disease upon which to feed. The "Golden Medical Discovery," by enriching the blood, tears down old and inert tissues and builds up new and healthy ones. It wards off consumption and cures bronchial and throat affections which, if neglected, lead up to consumption. All medicine dealers sell the "Discovery."

"Eight years ago my husband coughed all the time," writes Mrs. M. J. Tedder, of Ellington, Reynolds Co., Mo. "Just as soon as he had finished a meal he would throw up. He was getting very weak. He took half a dozen bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and says he feels better and stronger than ever before and weighs more. Everyone said he had consumption."

A TRYING NAVAL JOB.

WHAT IT MEANS TO PUT A WARSHIP IN COMMISSION.

The Enormous Amount of Work That Must Be Performed and the Ceremonies That Are Observed Before the Pennant and the Stars and Stripes Are Hoisted.

In times of peace as well as when war's dark clouds gloom the nation you are liable to read in the newspapers an announcement to the effect that one of the vessels of the navy is going "into commission." It is not a very impressive phrase, but the full meaning of the term is something of which few have any adequate conception. To put a modern warship into commission involves an enormous amount of work, which can be fully appreciated only by one who has observed the process from beginning to end.

When a vessel of the navy is laid up in reserve, "in ordinary," as it is called, it is far from an attractive object and could hardly be recognized as the same ship when in thorough trim, with crew aboard. The ship is anchored at a convenient navy yard; the stores are sent ashore, her engines and guns covered with oil and an antirust paint; her decks are allowed to become dirty, her sides dull and stained from rusty chains. Thus she lies perhaps for months, and then an order comes from the secretary of the navy, through the chief of the bureau of navigation, directing the commanding officer of the yard to get her ready for sea.

The first thing to be done is to bring as many men as possible from the receiving ship, which lies hard by, and these, with the force of the yard, under the direction of whatever officers are available, begin at once to put things to rights and remove the accumulated dust and dirt from the different parts of the equipment; the engineer's force goes at once to the engines and boiler rooms; the antirust paint is removed from the engines; new packing is put in the valves and joints; the pumps are tested, the rust and dirt knocked from interiors of fire boxes, and boiler tubes and grate bars renewed.

Outwardly everything is now in fair condition, but this is only the beginning. It remains to get up steam in some of the boilers, turn over the engines to see if they are in proper trim, start the dynamos, test the electric lights and the pilothouse, signals, turn on the searchlights, start the fans, work the steering gear and steering engines, set the hoisting machinery in motion and put the boat cranes in operation. Every engine, boiler, pipe, wire, tube, rivet, bolt, nut and plate is carefully inspected, and if found unserviceable from any cause repaired.

Next the equipment storehouse is visited, and a full allowance of beef, pork, beans, potatoes, coffee, sugar, salt, flour, meal, clothing, shoes, hammocks, blankets, paint, tobacco—in short, the whole miscellaneous assortment of the commissary department, is placed on board. The paymaster of the ship is responsible for every article received, and a strict account is kept of each. Then the galley, or cooking stove, has to be examined to see whether it is complete in all its findings. The outfit of a galley usually consists of two copper kettles of 80 gallons each, a 50 gallon kettle, with cast iron jacket and copper hinged covers, two steamers for vegetables, each with a capacity of 32 gallons; two sets of saucepans, a fine set of tools for lifting and firing and the ordinary cooking implements.

The line officers look after the condition of the guns, the rigging, the boats, the cables, the anchors, the flags and signals, the charts, the nautical instruments and other parts of the ship's equipment. What this means can only be appreciated by one who has actually undertaken the task. A volume might be written in regard to the signals alone.

When all this work has been done, the ship is ready to go into commission, and up to this time everything has been under control of the commandant of the yard, so that when the captain of the ship arrives and reports himself to the yard commander little remains for him to attend to. In the meantime men have been brought together to constitute the crew.

Sometimes they are enlisted particularly for the ship which is about to go into service, at other times they are withdrawn from other ships which have just been put out of commission. The crew and marines report aboard with bags and hammocks; the captain orders the crew to be drawn up on the spar deck promptly at noon upon the day on which the ship is to be put formally in commission, reads to them his orders from the secretary of the navy detailing him to the command, hoists the commission pennant to the main truck and the stars and stripes to the gaff or staff at the stern, and all is ready.

The ship is now in commission.—San Francisco Call.

A GALLANT FIREMAN

Attacked by a Fierce and Persistent Foe, But he Conquered it.

Lumbago Tortured Capt. Mangen for Years — His Doctor Recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills—Three Boxes Effected a Complete Cure.

POINT ST. CHARLES, P. Q., Aug. 5 — We owe a great deal to our gallant firemen.

Their work obliges them to risk and often to sacrifice their lives in the most unselfish way.

And the hardships to which they are continually subjected soon tell on them.

The frequent drenchings they undergo at big fires bring on Rheumatism, Lumbago and other Kidney troubles.

Lumbago is a common enemy of the firemen.

That is why so many gallant fire-laddies are compelled to retire while still young men.

Lumbago cripples them, weakens them, and unfits them for hard work.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a specific for the positive and absolute cure of Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills drive Lumbago out of the system entirely, by strengthening and stimulating the kidneys. Then the kidneys provide pure, rich blood for the nourishment of the body.

Dodd's Kidney Pills make the Kidneys filter Lumbago out of the blood. That is how and why they cure the disease so completely.

Capt. T. Mangen, of No. 9 Fire Station, this town, says: "I suffered horrible torture from Lumbago and Kidney trouble, till my doctor advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have been a member of the fire brigade for 28 years, and never could get relief from these diseases till Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me it. Three boxes cured me totally.'

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

Mr. M. T. Wigle

Of Kingsville, Essex Co.

CURED OF ITCHING PILES OF 23 YEARS STANDING

M. T. Wigle, better known to every one in the vicinity as "Uncle Mike," was troubled for over 23 years with itching piles. At times he was so bad he would have to quit work. The irritation became so intense with constant rubbing that they became ulcerated and would bleed. He had been treated by many physicians, but found nothing that gave him relief. Reading in the paper the cure of a friend who had suffered in a like manner, and been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, he procured a box. After the third application he got such relief that he had the first comfortable night's sleep he had enjoyed in years. The one box made a complete cure, and he says he would not be without it for $50 a box if it could not be replaced. Mr. Wigle is a wealthy farmer, well known in the community in which he resides. It is over two years since he was afflicted, and he has never been troubled since.

Physicians fail to make a cure when Dr. Chase's Ointment gave Immediate Relief. . . .

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

THE MARKS OF RANK.

INSIGNIA OF POSITION AND HONOR IN ARMY AND NAVY.

How to Read the Shoulder Strap or Collar Decorations Worn by Uncle Sam's Officers on Land or Aboard Ship—Grant's Joke on His Buttons.

In military service throughout the world, both upon land and water, there is a wide distinction between the different ranks held by the officers. Usually the rank of a military or naval man is obtained by long service or by appointment by congress or the president. Sometimes, however, rank is given to an officer because he has done something which attracts the attention of his superiors.

In order to distinguish an officer from a common soldier, the government has adopted various marks of rank, which are worn by the officers, both in time of war and peace. During the former these signs are less conspicuous, for during a battle the sharpshooters always try to pick off the officers, so that the soldiers will have no one to command them.

If any one who reads this article should in time of peace go aboard a man-of-war or in a gathering of naval officers, he would notice a great amount of gold lace upon their uniforms and see the insignia of rank upon their shoulders. But in wartime each officer puts away his gaudy uniform. Instead of the shoulder straps the mark of rank is worn upon the collar of the coat. An admiral, the highest officer in the navy, wears four silver stars and two anchors upon his shoulder straps or collar; a vice admiral, three stars and one anchor; a rear admiral, an anchor with a star on either side; a commodore, a star with an anchor on either side; a captain, a silver eagle and two anchors, and a lieutenant an anchor with two silver bars on each side. There are also many petty and noncommissioned officers who wear the insignia of their rank on their sleeves above the elbow. The higher officers also wear gold bands upon their sleeves, running about the wrists. The shoulder straps are 4½ inches long and 1½ inches wide. They are made of dark blue cloth, with a border of dead gold a quarter of an inch wide, the device being embroidered inside the border.

The lowest commissioned officer in the navy is an ensign. He wears a single silver anchor on his shoulder strap. It is the ambition of each ensign to change his stripes for those of a lieutenant. There are many cases on record where an ensign showed great bravery during a battle, and his name was sent to Washington with a recommendation from his commander that he be promoted. Often an ensign was sent on a dangerous mission and got his lieutenant's stripes that way. Usually, however, he has to wait till some officer above him is promoted or dies or retires, and then he moves up in rank.

Every sailor and soldier knows that in time of war his superiors are watching him and that if he shows himself a brave man he stands a good chance of being promoted. It is a matter of great pride to add an extra bar to his shoulder straps or to have one of the many insignias of rank put on his uniform. There are, besides the honor of being an officer, better pay with each additional rise in rank, more comfortable quarters and more personal liberty. All these things make the soldiers more ambitious to gain promotion.

In the army the insignia of rank is somewhat similar to that of the navy, but even in active service an army officer still wears his shoulder straps. The general is the highest officer of the army. His rank is shown by an eagle with a star on each side. A lieutenant general wears three stars on his shoulder straps, a major general two, a brigadier general one, a colonel a silver eagle, a lieutenant colonel two silver leaves, a major two gold leaves, a captain four silver bars and a lieutenant two bars. The noncommissioned officers wear their devices of rank upon their sleeves. A general may also be distinguished by the arrangement of the buttons on his coat. One of the jokes credited to General Grant was one about the buttons on his coat. A major general wears two rows of buttons, nine in each row and each row divided into groups of three. One day Grant was clad in a military coat much the worse for wear and from which all but three buttons had been torn. An officer brought him word that he had just been promoted to the rank of major general.

"Well," said Grant, pointing to the group of three buttons, "you see, I have anticipated the order and have my general's uniform."

Besides the chance which a soldier or sailor has of becoming an officer and wearing an insignia of rank there is another thing which he works for during wartime, but this is confined principally to the navy. It is the matter of prize money. It is the rule of the United States navy that when the crew of a vessel captures another ship the prize is to be sold and a part of the proceeds divided among the officers and sailors. If the captured ship was equal in fighting strength to the captor, all the prize money goes to the victors, but if the prize was weaker half goes to the government, and the remaining half is divided among the crew and officers.

In such a division the commissioned officers come in for a larger share, so it is well to be as nigh an officer as possible. The commander of a fleet receives one-twentieth of all the prize money awarded to any ship in his command. The captain of a single vessel receives one-tenth of the money awarded to his vessel, but gets nothing from the prizes of any of the other ships of the fleet to which he belongs. The remaining officers and members of the crew of the vessel which has made the capture receive prize money in accordance with their rank and pay. The lower a man is in the navy the less prize money he gets. A common sailor may get $200 as his share where if he were a lieutenant he might receive twice that sum.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

FALLING HAIR RESTORED

Soon after I was taken ill my hair commenced to fall, so that each day more came out than I thought I had in my head. I was turning gray rapidly. Finally I became afraid to have it combed, but the nurse said that wouldn't do, and used vaseline to keep it in, then used beef's marrow, then quinine tonic, and finally (CUTICURA ointment), which helped it immediately. The nurse said she rubbed up a fine white dust from the scalp where she could see nothing before commencing, and the scalp looked healthier and more natural every day. Now I haven't as many gray hairs as when I commenced using CUTICURA, and I have a crop of fine brown hair all over my head about an inch and a half in length. I only lose a few hairs when combing every day, and always more gray than brown. My nurse is delighted because the new hairs are brown. I never had very luxuriant hair, even in my youth. It is as thick on my head today as it ever was, and CUTICURA did it. Mrs. J. M. LAWSON, March 5, 1898. 368 Hamilton St., Albany, N. Y.

FALSIFIED HER AGE.

A Court Trial That Disclosed a Queer Phase of Russian Society.

Even in Russia, it seems, despotism does not go the length of forcing a woman to tell her age or of punishing her for stating it inaccurately. A certain Princess Eugalytcheff was recently tried at Moscow and sentenced to life-long internment in the province of Olonets for embezzling 140,000 rubles. After the proceeding in court had come to an end and after the noble lady had retired to the country for her somewhat prolonged rest from urban gayeties and temptations a too careful official discovered that among the papers in the case was the princess' certificate of baptism, and that she had changed the date of it from 1847 to 1867. Instantly this grave crime was brought to the notice of the authorities, and the convicted embezzler was summoned to meet the charge of falsifying an official document. Then a curious fact was disclosed, and a surprising amount of light was thrown on Russian society.

The Prince Eugalytcheff, who was cited as a witness by the prosecutor, said that whether his bride was 20 years older or younger than her certified age was a matter of absolute indifference to him. All he could say was that he received the sum of 3,000 rubles for giving the lady his name, that immediately after the marriage ceremony he procured for her a separate passport, and that since then he has known nothing more of his wife or her private affairs. The jury gallantly declined to convict the accused princess on the "trivial charge about a woman's age," and she was sent back to her provincial exile.

Princes evidently come cheap in Russia, and this is perhaps the most interesting bit of news in the whole story. —New York Times.

AGGRESSIVE RUSSIA.

Said to Be Scheming to Secure a Persian Gulf Port.

London, Aug. 6.—There is great uneasiness on all sides here in view of the Chinese situation, which is regarded as bringing an open conflict between Great Britain and Russia within measurable distance, and it is universally felt that the Marquis of Salisbury is invertebracy in yielding to Russia's aggressiveness is responsible for the dangerous complication, which can only be overcome by the most prompt and most firm intimation that Russia's open opposition to British commercial concessions must cease.

In connection with this, a curious story is current. It is now said that the Princess of Wales' hurried departure from England was in response to a despatch from her sister, the Dowager Empress of Russia, bearing upon the Anglo-Russian relations. It is well known that the Dowager Empress is strenuously working to conclude a definite understanding regarding Anglo-Russian interests in the Far East, and it is said great importance attaches to the meeting of the sisters at Copenhagen.

Mr. Curzon Talks About It.

London, Aug. 6.—Replying to a question yesterday in the House of Commons, the Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. George N. Curzon, said Her Majesty's Government had heard that a great power was endeavoring to obtain a port on the Persian Gulf. Two-thirds of the trade of the gulf was British. Mr. Curzon added, wherefore the Government was specially interested in the matter.

The power mentioned, it is said, is Russia.

Another despatch says: The Anglo-Russian war scare is spreading. It is reported that Russia is making extensive preparations and trying to force an issue in the East.

STARVATION IN LABRADOR.

Capt. Clay Found 400 People in That State There.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 6.—The schooner Cambridge, which sailed from this port June 6, to explore the coast of Labrador, returned yesterday. The expedition was fitted out by Capt. F. M. Clay and Dr. Morris, whose object was to explore the Newfoundland Labrador coast in search of gold and lumber. The schooner went as far as Hamilton Inlet, but at Louis Inlet the party divided. Their mission was unsuccessful. Capt. Clay reports that from the Straits of Belle Isle, as far north as Hamilton Inlet, there is no gold, nothing but a granite streak and very little timber. Capt. Marvin's expedition, which left here on the schooner A. Hardy, Capt. Clay said was equally unsuccessful. When Capt. Clay reached Lewis Inlet he found 400 people there in a state of starvation. They had no flour for five weeks, and were so weak through lack of food they could not leave their crude beds, even the dogs were so emaciated that they could hardly crawl around. The people are suffering tremendously on account of the excessive duties levied by the Newfoundland Government on food stuffs. Dr. Morris did good work in alleviating the suffering of the people, attending to the sick night and day. The Labrador fishery is this year a complete failure.

THANKS TO MR. MULOCK

For His Assistance to the Cause of Penny Postage.

London, Aug. 6.—At a meeting of the British Empire League a resolution was passed thanking Hon. William Mulock, Postmaster-General of Canada, for his assistance in the promotion of penny postage.

Sir James Winter, Premier of Newfoundland, had a short interview with Hon. Joseph Chamberlain yesterday, in which the Secretary of State for the Colonies suggested that Newfoundland would gain much advantage by becoming a province in the Dominion Confederation.

In reply to a question put by Mr. McCarthur in the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Chamberlain replied that the reduced tariff offered by Canada to importations of sugar applied only to raw sugar produced in Great Britain and her colonies. Mr. Chamberlain further said that he was aware of no endeavor to neutralize this concession.

WOMEN OFTEN OBJECT

When the husband or son joins a Court is a Society because it takes up one or two nights a month, but when they are bereaved of their helpmeet and receive the Insurance so long worked and planned for by the loved one who has been called hence, opinion changes quickly. There are no stronger friends of the Canadian Order of Foresters than the 3,500 widows and orphans who have been kept from possible want and poverty by the Insurance and Sick Benefit moneys paid by the Society. This is not a charity, the money is fairly earned, and not the least part of the consideration is the self-sacrificing work of the Brethren who attend lodge and conduct the business of the society without fee or price for their services. It is for the benefit of wives, sons and daughters, fathers and mothers, that the C.O.F. carries on its great work, and its noble principles have been amply sustained by Canadian womanhood.

Benefits. Each Court may provide for the attendance of a skilled physician during illness.

The High Court gives a weekly allowance of from $3 to $5 during illness or disability as provided in the Sick and Funeral Benefit Law, and on the death of a member contributes $30 towards his funeral expenses.

After satisfactory proof of the death of a member in good standing, the wife, children, or designated payees of deceased, receive from the Order the amount of insurance provided for, as named in their Insurance Certificate or Certificates, which may be $500, $1,000, $1,500 or $2,000.

Often a cheap price means a cheaper suit. But not so during this Great Summer Sale. In this busy time, we put our best foot forward to give Men and Boys the BEST that can be got in Suits. The name of the firm who made our goods is known from Halifax to Vancouver as manufacturers of as fine a grade of Clothing as the trade can produce. It may seem bad policy to sell at the prices marked. Some people say that our methods tend to over-trading—that selling at a reckless regard of ordinary values is bad for business in general. In this case, however, it is not our loss, but it certainly will be our customer's gain.

Thursday will be a red letter day with us, marking the beginning of the Great August Sale of Summer Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes.

Cost of Elephants.

It is somewhat interesting to compare the weights carried by elephants in the tin producing districts of the Malay peninsula with those used in the long journeys and mountainous country of the Lao states. In the peninsula the distances are seldom more than at most three or four days' march, and the elephant is expected to carry as much as 900 or 1,000 pounds, besides his mahout and howdah. The latter is often a mere brace of panniers slung together so as to rest one on each side of the backbone and covered sometimes with a light barrel roof of bark. A good tusker carrying 9¼ hundredweight will fetch about £56, and a female which can bear eight hundredweight is worth about £45.

In the Lao states, where journeys of ten days or three weeks are frequent, the average weight hardly exceeds 300 pounds, or one-third of what is usual in the peninsula. The prices in various parts of the country vary considerably. When we were on the Me Kawng and in Muang Nan in 1898, a good tusker could be had for £32 and a female for £24. At Chieng Mai, where good teak hauling elephants are in great demand, a tusker may fetch £150 and a female anything from £30 to £100, according to her strength and ability.—Geographical Journal.

BOWS TO FORCE OF CIRCUMSTANCES

Spain Accepts the United States' Terms of Peace.

THE DON'S DIGNIFIED REPLY.

It Is Expected Spain's Answer Will Reach Washington on Tuesday—An Inkling Into How the Different Questions Are Viewed — Ravages of Yellow Fever—Porto Rico Campaign.

Madrid, Aug. 8.—According to the most reliable sources of information, the Spanish note is couched in dignified language. It asserts that Spain bows to the force of circumstances, having done nothing to provoke the war into which she has been unwillingly led in the defence of her rights and territories.

The answer of the Spanish Government declares that Spain cannot discuss the American proposals, but only accepts them because they are imposed on her by force. Only a few unessential changes in the American demands were asked for, and it is not expected that President McKinley will refuse them.

The treaty will be signed subject to approval by the Cortes.

Complete Approval.

Madrid, Aug. 8.—The Cabinet Council terminated after having completely approved the reply to the United States, which, it is said, accepts the American conditions.

The reply was telegraphed to Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish Ambassador to France, last night, so that M. Cambon, the French Ambassador at Washington, will receive it to-day. The Government is fully convinced that the note will be satisfactory to the Washington Government and that a suspension of hostilities will be its imminent consequence.

The Queen Regent Approves.

Madrid, Aug. 8.—Senor Sagasta, the Premier, has just concluded his conference with the Queen Regent. Her Majesty approves the general line of the reply of Spain to America's peace terms, which Senor Sagasta explained to her. The reason for postponing the Cabinet Council until 6 o'clock last evening is that the note is not yet fully drawn up.

The Government believes that the United States will accept Spain's arrangement, which will certainly reach the White House by Tuesday. As a consequence of the United States accepting the reply hostilities will immediately be suspended.

An official despatch from Porto Rico says the Americans Friday seized the customs house in the village of Fajardo, which place was without a garrison.

An American column, the despatch also says, supported by artillery, advanced on Guayama. The Spaniards made a brave defence, but were forced to withdraw to Alturas. Seventeen of the Spaniards were killed.

Points Still in Dispute.

London, Aug. 8.—The Madrid correspondent of the Sunday Times says:

Spain's arrangement will accept all the American terms except that regarding the Cuban debt. The Government will fight this point on the ground that in all other cessions of territory by one nation to another the ceded territory has carried with it its own debt, or the proportion belonging to the nation by which it was ceded.

President McKinley will approve the arrangement on Monday, or latest on Tuesday.

Senor Sagasta, in conferring with politicians and generals, follows the example of Senor Castelar in 1873. His objects are twofold—to divide the responsibility for the decision and to avoid the convocation of the Cortes.

The news from Porto Rico is received with great disappointment. The Spaniards are disgusted with the welcome the natives have given the Americans, and the news that the volunteers have thrown down their arms. The general opinion is that it is not worth while to risk lives and spend millions for the sake of territories which are worse than disloyal to the Mother Country. It is assumed that there will be no internal troubles over the evacuation of the West Indies. The war has cost $350,000,000.

Where French Interests Come In.

New York, Aug. 8.—Discussing the interests of France in the peace negotiations between Spain and the United States, Harold Frederic, in his London letter to the Times, says:

Spain is being financed from Paris, which was already her principal creditor, and when the war is over she can repay her debt by lapsing into a state of vassalage to the French Republic. Heretofore both England and Germany have enjoyed diplomatic influence at Madrid and commercial facilities in Spain quite balancing those of France. That will be the case no longer. France's greatest direct gain, of course, will be the release of the best part of three army corps stationed along the line of Pyrenees, and if her way were quite clear to realize it, she might count as even more valuable her reversion of Ceuta. Unhappily, however, there is a large British fleet sauntering up and down along the Morocco coast, somehow never getting very far away from Ceuta, and this complicates everything.

WOOD REGULATING PROVISIONS.

The General Interfering in Commercial Matters at Ponce.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 8.—General Leonard Wood, the Military Governor of Santiago, called a meeting of the butchers and retail provision dealers of the city Saturday, with the object of formulating a tariff for the sale of the necessaries of life, for which the dealers have lately been charging high rates. All the dealers were highly indignant at the interferance of the military authority in commercial matters, but General Wood gave them until yesterday to agree upon moderate prices, under a penalty of a revocation of their licenses and the closing of their shops.

A permanent scale of prices will be fixed to-morrow.

Nipe a Useful Port.

The capture of the harbor of Nipe has given the Americans a useful port in Northeastern Cuba. Nipe lies nearly north of Santiago, about 30 miles east of Holguin, a dozen miles west of the boundary of the region surrendered to General Shafter. It was not taken, however, without the usual incident of the sinking of one or more Spanish warships, the chief victim in this instance being the gunboat Jorge Juan, a vessel of 960 tons, carrying three 4-inch guns, two 8-inch and two machine guns.

Brooke Enters Guayama.

Ponce, Aug. 8.—General Brooke's advance guard entered Guayama Friday afternoon. A sharp skirmish ensued. Many were wounded. The general advance was delayed by the grounding of the transport Massachusetts, with General Brooke's headquarters aboard. The cavalry troops will go overland if peace is declared. The plans of the army are to cross the island, and they will probably be unmolested.

The Spanish force at Guayama, numbering 500, were driven back toward Cayey, with the loss of one killed and two wounded.

Shafter's Health Report.

Washington, D C., Aug. 8.—The following is General Shafter's sanitary report for Aug. 5, made public Saturday night by the War Department: "Santiago, Aug. 6.—Total sick 2,367, total fever 2,532, new cases fever 434, cases fever returned to duty 601, deaths Aug 5 and 6, 15."

Shafter's Troubles.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Secretary Alger is apprehensive that the small wharfage resources of Santiago will seriously retard the execution of the department's orders for the speedy return to the United States of Shafter's army corps. General Shafter has been called upon by cable to describe the state of affairs, and he will be given all the help in the power of the department, but still it is believed that the whole of Shafter's soldiers cannot be embarked before the first of September. Meanwhile the big hospital and camp at Montauk Point is being rapidly put in readiness for their reception.

General Advance Begun.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 7, via St. Thomas, D.W.I.—A general advance of the American force began this morning. The remainder of General Ernst's brigade, constituting the advance centre, supported by two batteries, moved out at 6 o'clock, and a part of the 11th Infantry of General Henry's division started to the left toward Adjuntas.

Wire communication with General Brooke on the right has not yet been established.

A Farmer Severely Injured.

Brampton, Aug. 7.—Mr. John Snell, living about two miles north of Brampton, met with a serious accident about 11.30 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Snell was in the act of descending a ladder from the mow of the barn when he missed his footing and fell a distance of 28 feet. He was picked up unconscious and medical assistance was at once obtained. His injuries consist of a fractured skull and internal injuries. The unfortunate young man belongs to the Snell family of Peel County, celebrated throughout America as raisers of thoroughbred sheep and pigs, and he himself is a large and successful breeder of Berkshire swine and Cotswold sheep.

SEARCH FOR BODIES

Of La Bourgogne's Victims Results in Finding 31.

SIX OF THEM WERE IDENTIFIED.

A Gruesome Voyage on Board the Hiawatha, Fitted Out to Search for and Find Certain Bodies That Went Down in the Ocean Wreck—The Horror Recalled.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 8.—The steamer Hiawatha returned to Halifax last night, after a search occupying ten days for the remains of Mrs. John F. Dillon and Mrs. Oliver Dillon of New York and Mrs. John Perry, the three Misses Perry and Master Perry of Kansas City, who were among the victims of the Bourgogne-Cromartyshire tragedy. The Hiawatha party, which was in charge of George S. Clay of New York, with Dr. H. S. Jacques of this city as medical assistant, failed to accomplish its first object, though it succeeded in finding a large number of bodies, some being identified, and all given burial at sea after the clothing on them had been closely examined and marks of identification removed.

The Hiawatha returned with many gruesome relics of the Bourgogne horror, including several dozen life belts taken from the bodies found floating, pieces of broken spars, oars and other wreckage, and a collection of written and printed documents of various kinds, such as letters and passports, to the examination of which Dr. Jacques devoted much of his time during the expedition, when the inspection of bodies did not occupy his attention.

Six bodies of those found by the Hiawatha were identified by letters and other papers taken from clothing on them, which documents are now in possession of George S. Clay, manager of the expedition for ex-Judge Dillon and John Perry. These six bodies were those of Eugene Dubost, E. E. Rundell, Pedro J. Sosa, Marcell Gilliatt, Peter Barratt and Joannis Lados.

The first three names are to be found in the list of saloon passengers of La Bourgogne, published after the disaster. The other three names are not in the list, and they were either unregistered passengers or employes on the steamer.

Pedro J. Sosa, who was accompanied on the voyage by his 12-year-old son, also a victim, was a civil engineer from Panama, who had been closely associated with De Lesseps in Panama Canal affairs. He was journeying to Paris on La Bourgogne as a member of the commission appointed by the French Government to decide on what measures should be adopted for the completion of the Panama waterway.

E. E. Rundell, according to the Bourgogne's passengur list, was accompanied by his wife.

Eugene Dubost belonged to Montreal, having a quantity of cards in his pockets bearing that name, and other evidence of his identity were recovered.

The Hiawatha found altogether 81 bodies, but not one answered to the description of the men, women and young people to find which was the primary object of the expedition.

Mr. Clay said he started on the steamer Hiawatha, Capt. Tenwick Hatle, on Thursday evening, July 28.

Between 7 and 8 o'clock Saturday morning we picked up two pieces of wreckage and at 11 a.m. were in the latitude in which bodies were last reported. There we lay to for a short time. Nothing was to be seen and at 11.15 o'clock we started off in a northeasterly direction, and at 2.30 p.m. we recovered the first life jacket found, and at 4.15 found a portion of another. At 5.10 we came across a part of the ship's rail. All these pieces of wreckage were taken on board

At 8 o'clock Sunday morning we found ourselves among a number of bodies. A boat containing Dr. Jacques and Undertaker Snow put off to examine the bodies. Those found that day, with the exception of one, were in a fair state of preservation. The first corpse picked up was found, on examination of the clothing and contents of the pockets, to be that of Eugene Dubost of Montreal. It was fully dressed, with shoes laced, and was supported in the water by a life buoy. The name was learned from a number of cards, a bank book of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank and bills of exchange. Everything found in the pockets was removed before the body was weighted and put back into the water; but there was nothing of value.

The next body picked up was that of a man and had two life preservers on it. Tangled in one the life belts was a woman's cloak, and we concluded that the man had made an effort to save a woman, but that the female had slipped out of the cloak and probably gone to the bottom. The woman was probably clinging to him and lost her hold or sank from exhaustion. This man was Peter Barrett of Philadelphia, who was bound for Ireland on a Cook tourist ticket.

We lay to all Sunday night, owing to the fog, as we could not see at all. All the bodies, with the exception of the second found on the first day, were in a fair state and could undoubtedly have been recognized if prompt measures had been taken by the French Line as soon as the Ollifelds made her report.

The bodies and wreckage were picked up from 40 to 50 miles apart, and had been driven apart by the Gulf Stream.

Of the entire number of English peerages only five go back as far as the thirteenth century. Of the 583 temporal peers 350 have been created during the present century, 126 during the past century, and only 62 trace their titles beyond the year 1700.

The People's Faith

Firmly Grounded Upon Real Merit —They Knew Hood's Sarsaparilla Absolutely and Permanently Cures When All Others Fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is not merely a simple preparation of Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and a little Iodide of Potassium.

Besides these excellent alteratives, it also contains those great anti-bilious and liver remedies, Mandrake and Dandelion. It also contains those great kidney remedies, Uva Ursi, Juniper Berries, and Pipsissewa.

Nor are these all. Other very valuable curative agents are harmoniously combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla and it is carefully prepared under the personal supervision of a regularly educated pharmacist.

Knowing these facts, is the abiding faith the people have in Hood's Sarsaparilla a matter of surprise? You can see why Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, when other medicines totally, absolutely fail.

MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1898.

THIS IS THE WOOL SEASON.

It would not be at all surprising to learn of large transactions in Canadian wool by United States parties this year, and at the same time read in the Government records very little evidence of a trade between the two countries in this commodity. Smuggling wool has been made profitable occupation by the high duties of the Dingley Act, and it will require all the proverbial cunning of the American customs official to prevent it. Reputable merchants of Eastern Canada, who, in the natural order of things, would be the exporters of this wool, cannot compete for it on the smuggling basis and have everything to lose by the practice. It is difficult to prevent the operations of Eastern wool smugglers and absolutely impossible to detect their Western confreres. Considerable wool is grown in Manitoba and the North West Territories, and much of this will no doubt pss across the border line at points where there are no customs officials. In British Columbia the innocent-looking small boats which lie along the shores of the Straits of Juan de Fuca are nine times out of ten used in bringing supplies of fruits and farm produce to Canada and returning with wool, and yet the custom house contains no record of the thriving trade. The Government officials complain that in the absence of an international understanding as to the compulory attendance of witnesses from the United States in Canada, and vice versa, they are powerless to secure the conviction of the smugglers.

The current series of London wool sales closed last week. Those who were expecting the staple to maintain its prices during this series were not disappointed, and they point out cheerfully that another auction will not be held until September, so that during the interval between sales, values should steadily rise. American buyers were not a factor in the market. The withdrawals amounted to 39,000 bales which may be taken as indicating that holders look for higher rates next autumn. The aggregate offerings were 265,000 bales.

The statisticians of the Ontario Government attempt to keep track of the provincial wool trade. Their estimate of its volume is said by merchants to be under the real mark. By their showing the clip of fleece in 1896 amounted to 5,581,387 pounds as compared with 6,204,811 pounds in 1895 and 5,606,607 pounds for the yearly average between 1882-96. The yield per fleece is shown to be growing heavier. In 1896 it was 5.63 pounds and in the previous year 5.60, while for the fifteen years period it averaged 5.57 pounds. Accurate prices are difficult to obtain. But if we are to believe the Government figures, the highest prices were paid for wool during the years 1896, 1895 and 1894 in the month of December. Neither growers nor merchants would be likely to accept this statement as an indication of the best time in which to sell their holdings. When the expenses of storage and the shrinkage from holding wool are taken into account December would probably make a poor showing as compared with the summer months. The offerings from first hands are, it must be remembered, for the most part made in June, July and August, and quotations of later months include a merchant's margin for services and profit.—Monetary Times.

A TOKEN OF PROSPERITY.

"Now prosperity begins to mellow."
—Shakespere.

It is pleasing to note such a carefully edited paper as the Financial News (Eng.), in its issue of the 21st ult., referring to the figures of the farm land sales of the Canadian North West Land Company as "not the least among the recent tokens of Canadian prosperity," and also publishing the figures of the June return of the company as evidence of an improvement at the rate of 140 per cent. in area and value. As we have already stated, the number of acres sold in June last was 10,798 against 4,449 in the corresponding month of the previous year, 1897. The total figures for the half year ending June 30th, show an increase in acres sold of 22,858, and an increment in cash of $122,362.

The Financial News is quite right in regarding such facts and figures as betokening Canadian prosperity, and, if this prosperity begins to mellow, and assume permanence, it is largely owing to the magnificent farm lands of the Dominion, which must always prove a source of contentment and prosperity to her people so long as there is a happy union between the fertility of nature and the industry of man.

It is to be hoped that, at the approaching Paris Exhibition, a strong effort will be made by our rulers to show to the wide, wide world the tokens of what this English financial paper is pleased to call Canadian prosperity.—Insurance and Finance Chronicle.

It may not be the province of this journal to refer to the circumstances which contribute to the increased settlement of our Northwestern lands, but it cannot be doubted that in conjunction with an improvement in the general tone of commercial prosperity, and excellent harvests, the action of the Government in bringing about a reduction of freight rates, in a fair administration of the territory, and in equitable treatment of the settlers, has had an immense effect on popularizing our Northwest lands.

Banffy and Thun.

London, Aug. 8.—The Vienna correspondent of the Observer says that Count Thun, President of the Austrian delegation, and Baron Banffy, the Hungarian Premier, had a conference yesterday regarding Austro-Hungarian affairs. Baron Banffy delivered an ultimatum to Count Thun, threatening to introduce a protective tariff against Austrian goods unless Count Thun shall induce Parliament to enact the Ausleisch bill.

Brighton, Aug. 8.—William Church, a gang boss working on the Gilbert section of the new Galops Canal, met almost instant death on Saturday. Just after he had risen to the surface the falling timber again struck him and death was almost instantaneous.

NOTES FROM NAPANEE.

The Magistrate Is Not Trying the Case—The Plan of Defence.

Napanee, Aug. 8.—To-morrow the trial will again go on in earnest. It is understood that Magistrate Daly does not intend to try the case, but will if the evidence is conclusive send the prisoners up to be tried in the fall. Justice Ferguson will then be the judge.

The plan of the defence is to stretch out Pare's tale in minute detail, and then to expose a concocted scheme put up by persons who know Napanee better than their prayers.

The detectives delare that they have a witness whom they will produce tomorrow who will corroborate Pare's tale in all its salient points. There is great speculation here as to who this witness is. It is known that about two weeks ago an arrest was made of a man upon another charge. This man is supposed to be squint-eyed Jack Roach. If he is put upon the stand a startling tale will be unrolled.

Another fact has just recently been divulged. That is that on Wednesday a woman got off the train at Napanee, was met by Detective Dougherty and driven out into the country. This woman is supposed to be one Rosa Carr, a well-known character in town. Her evidence and that of Mrs. Greer the Crown depends upon to identify Pare as the man who was seen by them in and around Ponton's rooms. Against this the defence claim to have discovered a man and a woman who declare they were in the passageway at the head of the stairs leading to Ponton's rooms till 8 a.m., at the time of the robbery.

GORED BY AN INFURIATED BULL.

John Hall, a Dover Township Farmer, Receives Fatal Injuries.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 8.—On Friday John Hall, a wealthy and popular farmer of Dover Township, was horribly mutilated by an infuriated bull. His injuries were of such a serious nature that Saturday night he succumbed and passed quietly away. The animal, a prize beast, has for some time shown a bad disposition. On Friday Mr. Hall went into the large box stall where the bull was kept to place some feed in the manger and while bending over the feed box the bull rushed at deceased and knocked him down, goring him fully 20 times. Cries of help brought the son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daucey, to the scene, and while her husband pounded the infuriated animal off with a club, Mrs. Daucey rescued her father. The injured man was carried into the house and surgical aid summoned from Chatham. It was found that Mr. Hall's body had been terribly torn and bruised, and, besides other fractures, three ribs were broken, which pierced his lung and pressed heavily on his heart. The injuries were pronounced fatal and the surgeons' prognostication proved only too true. John Hall was born in Scotland in 1828 and came to this country about 30 years ago, settling in Kent County.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz.:

1st, to take the value of the Policy in Cash $5,003 00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for 3,250 00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,050 25
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

With Full War Complement of Officers and Men

SHOULD RUSSIA NOT BACK DOWN

The Crucial Point of the Success or Failure of Great Britain's Policy of the "Open Door" is China at Hand—One or the Other Must Now Retreat.

London, Aug. 8.—That extreme diplomatic tension exists between St. Petersburg and London is generally admitted to-day, though the officials deprecate the alarmist reports which were current yesterday. It is hoped that the firm stand adopted by the Marquis of Salisbury during the last few days, which seems to have already created some misgivings at St. Petersburg, will have the desired effect of arresting Russian aggressiveness. It is felt both here and on the continent that the outcome of the dispute in regard to the new Chwang railroad extension is the crucial point of the success or failure of Great Britain's policy of the "open door."

As evidence of the fact that Great Britain appreciates the gravity of the situation, the Associated Press learns that the Admiralty is preparing for all emergencies, and that it will soon be ready to mobilize the entire fleet at the shortest notice. Every officer and man on furlough or on half pay has been assigned to a ship and instructed to be in readiness to join at the earliest moment possible after being notified to do so. Therefore, practically every ship in the British navy, whether in or out of commission at the present moment, has its full complement of officers and men ready to take her out to sea when the time arrives.

According to Paris advices, Admiral Bedolliere, commanding the French China squadron, has cabled a demand for reinforcements and for a large credit to be applied to erecting fortifications. The reason given for these demands is that the natives of the Kwang-Chou-Wang region are showing signs of hostility. But there is some suspicion here that the action of the French admiral may be connected with a desire to back up Russian designs.

RELATIONS DECIDEDLY STRAINED.

Russia Has Clearly Interfered With Great Britain's Rights.

New York, Aug. 8.—Regarding the Anglo-Russian question, the London correspondent of the Evening Post cables:

To say that the relations between England and Russia are strained is only to say that they still are as they have been any time these two years past, but to-day the situation is so grave that the only pacific solution is for one or the other power to climb down publicly. The trouble is about the contract which the Chinese Government was about to sign with the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank for a loan to extend the railway to New-Chwang, secured on the railway itself.

"M. Pavloff, having peremptorily forbidden the hypothecation of the railway, and thus made the loan impossible, the British Minister, Sir Claude Macdonald, under instructions cabled by Lord Salisbury on July 29, informed the Yamen that England would "not tolerate any interference of another power as between Her Majesty's subjects and the Chinese Government contracts, freely entered into with them by the latter, and would support the Chinese Government in resisting such aggression."

Next day the Russian Minister repeated, with added emphasis, his demands and so the matter stands, pending the decision of China as to which power she will cast in her lot with. Anyway, the momentous fact stands out beyond reach of opinion or recall, that in the sight of the whole world, Lord Salisbury has at last thrown down his glove to Russia, on behalf of the policy of the "open door."

It so happens that the bulk of the trade at stake at New-Chwang is American.

To this piece of news should be added two others, and the gravity of the situation will be understood: First, that Russia has forbidden the Shah of Persia to accept a loan from a British bank, which he was on the point of signing a contract with. The second, that Russia has assumed the protectorate of Raheita, which will enable her to divide with England the control of the southern entrance to the Red Sea.

Upon this subject the London correspondent of the Tribune says: There has been considerable discussion in Parliament over the new situation in China, similar to that which arose when Russia vetoed the loan from the British Government. This time the complications are caused by the contract for the loan which the Hong-Kong and Shanghai Bank wishes to make to the Chinese Government for a railway between Tien-Tsin and New-Chwang, both treaty ports. The Russian Minister has been objecting strenuously for six weeks, and Lord Salisbury has explained in Parliament that England has offered China a guarantee against Russia. It seems entirely clear that Russia is interfering with British rights, secured by the treaty of Tien-Tsin. The obvious criticism on Lord Salisbury's method is that the offer of guarantee to Pekin, which China does not like accept, is a less direct remedy than a determined remonstrance through the British Ambassador at St. Petersburg would be. The wires between London and St. Petersburg may, however, have been hotter than Lord Salisbury's critics suppose.

WHEAT FOR SEVEN DAYS PAST.

Owing to Certain Bullish Factors, Has Risen in Speculative Value—The Latest Quotations.

Saturday Evening, Aug. 6.

The speculative wheat markets have been bullish in tone the past few days, and futures have almost regained this week what they lost in value last week. On the Chicago board the August delivery has advanced over 3 cents per bushel, the September delivery over 4 cents, and the December option has risen 2 cents. At Liverpool the September delivery has gained 3d per cental since last Saturday and the December option over 2d. The cause for the marked appreciation of the near-by deliveries is to be found in the depletion of reserve stocks in the west, in the consequent demand for cash stuff and in the seeming reluctance of farmers to market the new crop at all freely. The advance has also been helped by the practical cessation of shipments from Argentina and Russia. The former country's stocks are about exhausted, while those of the latter are so short that they will, it is said, hardly suffice for domestic requirements until the new Russian crop comes in next month.

Mr. M. Donovan, of Cassopolis, the the county town of Cass county, Michigan, who paid a visit to his numerous friends in Peterborough, Young's Point, Hastings Campbellford, left for his home a few days ago. Mr. Donovan is an old Peterborough boy, and as commercial traveller for an American firm passed through several of the Western States, but is now settled down in Cassopolis. Mr. Donovan expressed himself as both surprised and delighted with the appearance and progress of the old town and said that in his journeyings he had seen few towns to surpass, if indeed to equal, it. He felt highly delighted with the appearance of our beautiful parks and expressed surprise that none had been located in the southern end, and that this struck him more particularly when he noticed the boys in that end playing lacrosse and other games on the public streets at a good deal of risk to themselves and danger to the public, more particularly to people having occasion to drive over those streets. It is whispered (by a little bird, we presume,) that Mr. Donovan will shortly annex one of Peterborough's fair and popular daughters to Uncle Sam's domain. If this sort of thing is the outcome of the new entente between Father John Bull and Uncle Samuel, Canadians will feel inclined to enter a protest. We might regard with comparative indifference the loss of a slice of our three or four millions of square miles, but when it comes to surrendering our fair daughters, that is too much of a concession to the new spirit of amity that has sprung up between us and our neighbours. The loss of a Canadian daughter of Eve suggests the loss of a corner of Eden.

STONY LAKE NOTES.

The morning services in the Stony Lake pavilion, Juniper Island, were very largely attended yesterday. Those assembled were addressed by Mr. Geo. Williamson, General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Peterborough.

A meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association is being held this morning at the pavilion to discuss the details of the annual regatta.

The biggest crowd of the season was taken to the lake in the night steamer on Saturday.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

BROKE HIS COLLAR BONE.

Bruce Ferguson Meets with a Wheeling Accident.

On Saturday night whilst wheeling out to McCracken's Landing with Llewellyn Hall, Bruce Ferguson met with a nasty accident through a fall from his wheel whereby his collar bone was broken.

At the time of the accident both bicyclists were wheeling along the cinder path just on the other side of Lakefield, when Ferguson's wheel struck a stone resulting in his being thrown heavily to the ground. Young Hall wheeled back into Lakefield and returned with Dr. Fraser, who ascertained that Ferguson's collar bone was broken. He was driven home and though rather sore this morning was able to resume his duties in the bank.

WEST END EXCITEMENT.

A Little Child Thought to Have Been Drowned in Whyte's Pond.

A great deal of excitement was occasioned in the neighbourhood of the West Ward school, yesterday, when a rumour gained ground to the effect that a little three-year old child of Mr. Donald Wise had fallen into Whyte's pond and been drowned.

The stop-logs were raised and the water lowered in the presence of a big crowd. Before all the water was run off, however, the youngster was found wandering around near the Central School, having walked all the way there from the corner of London and Park streets.

CRICKET.

The weekly cricket match was played on Saturday last on the Nicholls Park oval. The Bankers vs town was to have played, but on account of other attractions some of the bankers did not put in an appearance. However, Mr. Parker and Mr. Hamilton chose sides and there was a very interesting game. Mr. Hamilton's side retired after making a total of 196 for three wickets. Cumberland's 132 was a fine display of free batting. Mr. Parker's side was all out for 47. S. Ray's 18 was the highest score.

ASTHMA PERMANENTLY CURED.

A Well-Known Canadian Notary Public Suffered for 35 Years—Permanently Cured by Clarke's Kola Compound.

E. D. Pitt, Esq., Kamloops, writes: "I had suffered for at least 35 years from the great oppressiveness of asthma and shortness of breath. I had during these years consulted many physicians and tried all the remedies until the doctor told me I might get temporary relief, but would always be troubled. I tried Dr. Clarke's Kola Compound, and after using the first bottle became greatly relieved, and three bottles have completely cured cured me. I can now breathe as naturally as ever, and asthma does not trouble me in the least. I feel it my duty to bear testimony to the marvellous effect this remedy has had in my case, and would urge all sufferers from this disease to try Clarke's Kola Compound, as only those who have suffered all these years as I have, can appreciate what a blessing this remedy must prove to sufferers from Asthma." Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are guaranteed to cure any case of Asthma. A free sample will be sent to any person troubled with Asthma. Address the Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, and Vancouver, B.C., sole Canadian importers. Sold by all druggists. When writing for sample, mention this paper. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

WOLFE STREET BURGLARY ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS' RESIDENCE WAS ENTERED.

Entrance Obtained by Forcing a Rear Window—Partial List of the Articles Taken—The Police in Possession of the Facts.

For the third time in the last five years Mr. T. F. Matthews' residence was burglarized on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews are summering at Chemong Park, from which Mr. Matthews comes in to business every day, returning again in the evening. On Saturday afternoon shortly before six o'clock, he went to his residence on Wolfe street, and putting on his bicycle suit, left for Chemong. On his return to town this morning, on opening up the house at a quarter past six, he was astonished to find that a window in the rear had been opened and the place burglarized. Downstairs everything was turned out of the sideboards, cupboards, etc., whilst in the bedrooms the contents of the bureau drawers were scattered over the floor in the search of the thieves for loot.

The exact time the house was entered cannot, of course, be ascertained, but that it was at night is proven by the fact that a number of ornamental candles had been taken from the drawing room and lighted. Even the interior of the clock was examined. The key was left sticking out in such a manner as to stop the hands at 7.15.

The theives evidently went prepared to force an entrance, as the slats in the shutters were broken in order that the catch on the latter might be unfastened. The window, although nailed down was prised up by means of a couple of small iron bars bent at the ends in such a manner as to catch under the sash and afford a leverage to the persons using them.

The following partial list of the stolen articles has been furnished the police: Fish knife and fork, 11 forks with initials F. & E. M., 2 table spoons, 6 desert spoons, half dozen coffee spoons—three with twisted and three with flat handles; half dozen dinner knives, Rogers, with ivory handles; 1 sterling baby's push spoon; 9 fruit knives, half dozen silver teaspoons; 1 revolver, 1 pair tanned boots, laced, size, No. 8, 1 salad spoon and one salad fork with large Doulton handles; 1 pair light brown kid gloves, size 7½, one silver nut cracker.

The revolver is a Remington, smooth pattern, 38 calibre, rim fire, short.

Fortunately whilst his family was away for the summer, Mr. Matthews had taken the precaution to remove the more valuable articles of silverware to a safe place, the previous burglaries of his residence having made him cautious in this respect.

STOLE THE TOOLS

From a Bicycle Which had Been Left on the Wharf.

While away in the North Star the other day Mr. Geo. McWilliams left his bicycle on the Wolfe street wharf and on his return was surprised to find that the tool bag had been tampered with and its contents removed.

He was informed who had taken the tools and intends waiting a few days before informing the police, as he is not anxious to get the lads into trouble who are implicated.

THE LATE JOSEPH REDMOND.

One of the Foremost Farmers of the County Passes Away.

On Sunday afternoon, August 7th, one of the foremost of the agriculturists of the county passed away, in the person of Mr. Joseph Redmond, of "Elm Grove," stock farm, Otonabee, but more recently a resident of the town. Mr. Redmond's last illness was of about six weeks' duration, and was an affection of the stomach. Mr. Redmond was a native Canadian, born in Cavan in 1828. At the age of about 28 he removed to Otonabee, where he carried on farming with unusual success, and accumulated a large amount of property, consisting of several fine farms, especially the homestead farm, "Elm Grove," which was equipped with a fine residence and splendid barns and stables, the latter at the time of their construction being models of the kind and in line with the best constructed at that period. Mr. Redmond was a pioneer in this district in the breeding of high class stock, his fancy running to Shorthorns. He had for years one of the finest herds in the province, and was a successful exhibitor at provincial and riding exhibitions. He was very successful in this line of business and public spirited as well and the agricultural community in this district is under a debt of gratitude to Mr. Redmond for the good and large work he did in improving the horned stock of the district and in contributing in a very large degree to the prominence this county has assumed in the dairying industry. Mr. Redmond was successful and amassed a fine property, which was somewhat impaired by an act of kindness represented by his becoming surety for contractor. Several years ago he became a great sufferer from rheumatism, and the persistence of this malady led him to seek retirment and a few years ago he removed to town. He had lost his first wife several years ago and about a couple of years since he married Miss Johanna Foley, who still survives him, as well as a family of four sons, one daughter, Mrs. M. Galvin, having died some years ago. In politics Mr. Redmond was a staunch Liberal and was in all respects a substantial and highly esteemed citizen. The funeral takes place on Tuesday morning, August 9th, at 9 o'clock, to St. Peter's Cathedral, thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

DEATH OF SAMUEL DEYELL.

The Funeral Took Place Yesterday from his Late Residence in Smith.

The death of Mr. Samuel Deyell, aged 81, took place on Friday last at the family residence, lot 1, concession 3, Smith township, from where the funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

The deceased has been a resident of the county for over forty years, and was born in Cavan. He was married in 1858 to Sarah Burgess, who survives him, together with nine children, viz., Robert John, of Smith; William, of Emily; Mrs. Arthur Franke, of Emily; George, Samuel, Eliza, Fred, Minnie and Willie, of the homestead.

The deceased had never fully recovered from the effects of a runaway accident, in which his thigh was broken, four years ago, but the direct cause of death is attributed to a stroke of paralysis, which he received on Sunday, since which he was in an unconscious state until his death.

Mr. Deyell was a staunch Liberal in politics and one of the most highly respected residents of the county.

St. John's Church Notes.

At last night's service in St. John's, Rev. J. C. Davidson referred in appropriate terms to the loss the congregation had sustained in the tragic death of Mr. Fred Foote, and expressed his warm appreciation of his faithfulness and devotion to the Church. Appropriate hymns were sung during the service. At the offertory Mrs. Seward sang, "O Rest in the Lord."

Rev. B. C. H. Andrews took the service at Chemong Park.

St. Andrew's Church Notes.

The Rev. David, Tully, D.D., of Media, Pa., assisted in the service at St. Andrew's yesterday morning, preaching a most eloquent and interesting discourse from Songs of Solomon, 5:13:—"His lips are like lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh." The reference was that the teaching and sayings of Christ from His early childhood were full of blessing and promise to all people in their varied conditions and needs. This was very carefully and beautifully illustrated from incidents in the life of Christ. Mr. Tully, who is a brother of Mr. Robt. Tully, of Stewart street, is an octogenarian, and with his years retains great force and vigour. At the evening service Miss Falconer sang with much power and pathos, "Come ye Disconsolate."

IS THIS JUSTICE?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I had a dog for some years past, and have always paid my dog tax. I have no dog now, he died last winter. I did not get a tag this May last, as I had no dog to wear it. And yet, to my surprise, when I went to pay my yearly taxes on August 1st I was obliged to pay a dollar for a dog, although I have none. I would have refused but they would not accept my other taxes without it, and as I wished to save interest I paid my dollar under protest, and was told it would be refunded to me by the town clerk. I have seen that gentleman, and he says I must apply to the council in writing. Now I ask is this just? I hold my last year's dog license which is surely a good receipt, and it says: "Received one dollar, being license fee for one dog to April 30th, 1898." As I read English, this means a receipt for my dog fee up to that time. I had no dog then, and why should the town make me pay for a dog up till May 1899 when I have none? It seems to me very unjust, and since the town has unjustly taken that money from me, is it right that I should run from tax collector to town clerk and from town clerk to town council and back over the same course to the collector to have it refunded? Or must I write a long declaration, swear to it before a justice of the peace, produce witnesses and go with them before that great body of bright minds, "our Peterborough town council," and prove that I have no dog before I get my money back? Or, Mr. Editor, can you tell me am I not likely to be taxed again for this same dead animal in 1900? It is not for the value of the tax I write so long a letter, but for the injustice of the system our town council has of doing things, for I suppose I am not the only one who has no dog. But how can a poor woman expect attention to her appeal from a council that defies the whole people?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for so much space, I am, etc.,

ROYAL HUMANE MEDALS.

Have Arrived for Messrs. B. McAllister and J. Waddell.

(Havelock Standard.)

Two medals of the Royal Humane Society have been received from England by Mr. Henry Miles, treasurer of the Montreal Board of Trade, for presentation to Bernard McAllister, of Havelock, and John Waddell, conductor and brakesman in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The medals are in recognition of the bravery of McAllister and Waddell in saving the life of O. S. Perreault, on Nov. 17th, 1897. Lord Aberdeen has been asked and has consented to make the presentation when His Excellency is in Montreal early in August on his return from the North-west.

The two medals are of the usual form granted by the Royal Humane Society for the saving of life. They are handsome in design and happy in conception. Flame having been used by the ancients and moderns as an emblem of life, and its extinction as a symbol of death, the front of the medal represents a boy blowing an extinguished torch, in the hope, as expressed by the motto

"LATEAT SCINTILLULA FORSAN,"—

"peradventure a little spark may yet lie hid." Under the device is the following inscription, abbreviated: "Societas Londini in Reanaciatione Intermortuorum, Instituta MDCCLXXIV"—"The Royal Humane Society, established in London for the recovery of persons in a state of suspended animation, 1774."

The reverse of the medal exhibits a civic wreath, which was the Roman reward for saving life; the inscription round it expresses the merit which obtains this honour from the society, "Hoc Pretium Clve Servato Tulit"—"He obtained this reward for having saved the life of a citizen." Within the wreath is the following inscription, abbreviated: "Vitam ob Servatam Donum Dedit Societas Regia Humana."—"The Royal Humane Society presented this gift for saving life."

There is a second reverse to the society's medal, with the civic wreath only, which is used when the medal is presented to save the lives of others at the risk of their own, but without success. The inscription reads: "Vita Periculo Exposita Dono Dedit Societas Regia Humana"—The Royal Humane Society presented this to ——, his life having been exposed to danger.

Accompanying the two medals are parchments with the following inscription:

Often a cheap price means a cheaper suit. But not so during this Great Summer Sale. In this busy time, we put our best foot forward to give Men and Boys the BEST that can be got in Suits. The name of the firm who made our goods is known from Halifax to Vancouver as manufacturers of as fine a grade of Clothing as the trade can produce. It may seem bad policy to sell at the prices marked. Some people say that our methods tend to over-trading—that selling at a reckless regard of ordinary values is bad for business in general. In this case, however, it is not our loss, but it certainly will be our customer's gain.

Thursday will be a red letter day with us, marking the beginning of the Great August Sale of Summer Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes.

A Dangerous Spot.

Drumbo, Aug. 8.—Just as the men were completing the task of lining up a portion of the track on the C.P.R. east of this village, about 6 o'clock Saturday night, upon which trains have been unloading gravel all week, about 180 feet of the roadbed spread at the bottom, causing the rails on one side to sink about three feet. The spot where the break occurred is rather swampy, and the weight of the new gravel caused the sinking and spreading of the bed underneath. The evening trains had to transfer mails, passengers and baggage, and were delayed four hours there by the night trains, and Sunday trains had to do the same, as it is not expected the track will be in shape to cross with safety until sometime to-day.

We offer a reward of $1,000, to be devoted to any charitable institution if any druggist or doctor can find the least trace of that deadly drug Cocaine contained in Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." CAN'T EAT.

FOOD is the fuel that feeds the fires of life. Digestion is the process that turns the fuel into energy. Few possess perfect digestion. If your digestion is imperfect, if you cannot eat what you like without discomfort, if you cannot eat when you ought to eat, the time has come when you should take Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Hunger is the best sauce. Take these Pills and get hungry. You may eat what you want if you take Dr. Ward's Pills.

WHAT THEIR MERITS ARE:

My system was entirely rejuvenated by the use of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I consider them a marvellous strength and nerve builder for dyspepsia. I was so sick and miserable that I seemed to have no life or energy left in me. I suffered so at times that I thought death would be better for me. I had tried Doctors and different kinds of medicines, but all failed to do me any good. I am in every way now a well woman, and have been for months. Before using these Pills I was so sick that I could not keep anything in my stomach. I was under the opinion that dyspepsia could not be cured, but now I am satisfied it can be cured, for I am able to eat like any healthy woman and feel better in every way. They have built me up also,—I now weigh several pounds more than I ever did before. In conclusion, I would advise every woman afflicted with poor digestion to give Dr. Ward's Pills a trial.

MRS. L. E. WATSON, Port Colborne, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

THE WAR STRATEGIST.

How the Boys Cured Him of His Prevailing Weakness.

In a certain down town office there is an employee who takes the liveliest possible interest in the conduct of the war. He fancies he knows that affairs are not going just as they should go, and he doesn't hesitate to say so. He condemns most of the movements already made by the army, and he isn't half satisfied with the conduct of the navy. In fact, so ready is he with comment and criticism that his associates call him the "senior strategy board."

Well, not long ago an itinerant photographer came into the office, and the boys decided to pose for him in a group. They were all preparing for the ordeal when one of the number stepped aside and hastily lettered a placard, which he cautiously stuck up just above the head of the strategist.

The photographer flashed his little flash, and the deed was done. The next day he came into the office with his proofs. The strategist was there, and he eagerly looked them over. Poising one before him, he said:

"Say, Bigsby is mighty good, and so is Tatters, but mine—well"—

For this is the signboard, right above his head, that boldly confronted him:

"Behold the war god! The only man who knows just how the war should be conducted."

The strategist let the proof flutter to the floor. He looked around at the grinning jokers.

"By thunder," he said, "you can run your old war now to suit yourselves! I wash my hands of it. Go ahead and ruin the country as fast as you can."

And he has scrupulously kept his promise.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes and a sallow complexion will defy the best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

MYSTERIES OF CAKE BAKING.

Sallie Joy White Explains Every Step in the Process.

In making cake, if you wish to insure its being good you must use only the best ingredients, be accurate in your measurements and follow the rule implicitly. Use a wooden spoon for mixing, and always mix the batter in an earthen dish. Metal, either in mixing bowl or spoon, is apt to destroy the delicacy of the cake. Butter that has the least unpleasant taste will develop greater unpleasantness when cooked and spoil the article of food into which it has been put. Baking powder, cream of tartar and soda should be added to the sifted flour and the whole passed again through the sieve. Flour should be sifted before it is measured. Unless contrary directions are given in the rule which you are using, the whites and yolks of the eggs should be beaten separately. The best sugar to use in cakemaking is the fine granulated. The coarser sugar makes the cake coarse also, and with a tendency to heaviness.

So much for the ingredients. Now for the way in which they are put together. Cream the butter first of all; have the mixing bowl warm, as that will help soften the butter and get it in a condition to beat. When it is light and creamy, add the sugar, beating it thoroughly in. Then put in the flavoring or spices, then beat in the yolks of the eggs, which you have whisked well, so that they are light and smooth; next add the milk, then the flour and last of all the well beaten whites of the eggs. Beat vigorously for half a minute.

When you start to make cake, you want to make sure that your oven is right for the baking and that there is sufficient coal in the fire to last through. Butter your cake pans and line them with thin paper. The heat should be moderate, and care should be taken to keep the cake from being jarred, else it will be heavy. After the cake is baked it is better to let it partially cool in the pans, especially if it is a very delicate cake.—Woman's Home Companion.

WHAT MAKES A GENTLEMAN.

The Young Man Should Be Guided by His Own Best Instincts.

"Common sense rules in dress and manners the same as in any phase of our lives, and this our young men should learn and understand," writes Edward Bok of "What Makes a Gentleman" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "A man's manners are not exterior; they emanate from within, from himself. Experience and observation are the only teachers he can seek and use. Etiquette books are useless to him. A young man's progress and favor in the eyes of others does not depend upon his being ostentatiously 'correct' in manner, movement and speech. His strongest and most lasting hold upon the respect and confidence of people comes from something deeper. He must not be boorish nor slovenly nor heedless of the feelings of others. It is his duty to carry himself well according to his best instincts and not by rule as laid down in etiquette books.

"So with a young man's dress. At 20 we do not expect our young men to devote so much time to their clothes that they shall be correctly dressed upon every occasion. Such useless knowledge is at that time of life acquired at the expense of far more important matters. The taste for good dressing and its knowledge so far as it is necessary comes to all of us as we progress. The right sort of a young man dresses in the neatest and best manner he can and as well as his income permits. That is always good dressing.

"To overdress one's station in the world is always poor taste and invariably makes a bad impression. I never yet saw a young man who either hired or borrowed an evening suit for a special occasion who did not loudly proclaim the self evident fact. When a young man wears clothes beyond his means, he invariably shows it, and he never fails to make a fool of himself. This rule is invariable. It is not what a man wears, but how he wears it, that tells the story."

Arab Funerals.

"One of the strangest and most affecting sights in an Arab town," says a Tunis correspondent of London Sketch, "is that of the funerals, which may be met at any street corner. The corpse is merely wrapped in a mat of esparto grass and carried either on a bier or on men's shoulders. The mourners lounge along, some in front and some behind, crooning verses of the Koran in melancholy tones, which haunt one for days afterward.

"This wailing is, however, nothing to that which goes on in the house of the deceased. When I was staying in the country near Tunis, I heard it kept up during a whole night in a neighboring village, and I can conceive nothing more desperately depressing than these strains of lamentation wafted through the darkness by the breeze. My dog stood it even less well than I did and felt constrained to join in the doleful chorus until I was half tempted to put a bullet through his head. Perhaps the strangest of all the funerals I saw was at Bizerta. It was that of a baby, which was being carried to its grave in an esparto basket."

Mixed His Directions.

Editors have their troubles like less distinguished folk. One of these gentlemen who presides over the destinies of a western newspaper is mourning the loss of two subscribers. No. 1 wrote asking how to raise his twins safely, while the other wanted to know how he might rid his orchard of grasshoppers. The answers went forward by mail, but by accident he put them into the wrong envelopes, so that the man with the twins received this answer:

"Cover them carefully with straw and set fire to it, and then the little pests, after jumping in the flames for a few minutes, will be speedily settled."

And the man with the grasshoppers was told to "give castor oil and rub their gums with a bone."—Christian Work.

"Old General Martinet is a crank on military clothes, isn't he?"

"Yes. The surgeon told me that the old man came to him not long ago for a little medical advice. The surgeon looked at his tongue. 'Badly coated,' he said. 'What a disgrace!' whined the old man. 'How so?' quoth the surgeon. 'Why,' said the old man, 'it's the first coat I ever had that wasn't of the extreme regulation cut!'"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HEART DISEASE.

Weak, Palpitating, Fluttering, Throbbing Hearts can be Cured.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS THE REMEDY.

HEART disease has of late years become frightfully prevalent. Day after day the papers record sudden deaths of those who might have lived for years to fill their places in the world if they had only heeded the first signs and warnings of heart trouble and had their heart strengthened by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Dizzy spells, skip beats, palpitation, fluttering of the heart, choking and smothering sensation, getting out of breath easily, especially on going upstairs, pain in the left side of the breast, are all indications that the heart requires help.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a normal and healthy condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Jane Alcorn, Woodstock, N. B., says: "For many years I have been afflicted with palpitation of the heart, pain in the breast and dizzy sensation on rising quickly. My appetite was poor and I was completely run down. I could not sleep at night and the nervous, weakness and general debility from which I suffered intensified my misery. My attention was called to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I started to use them. They have made a wonderful change in my condition, my appetite has been restored and I now get refreshing sleep. My heart troubles have all disappeared and I conconsider the results in my case most gratifying."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold by all druggists at 50c. a box or 3 boxes for $1.25. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

"A Ten Pound Boy."

Many women seem to have been denied the precious gift of motherhood because of some weakened condition of the special organism which makes motherhood possible; but in the great majority of cases such a difficulty is not by any means incurable. In thousands of instances Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, by restoring the natural, healthy condition of the organs distinctly feminine has been the means of conferring upon childless women the one inestimable blessing.

A Georgia clergyman, Rev. G. H. Akridge, of Pelham, Mitchell Co., Ga., in a letter written to Dr. Pierce, says: "We had been married six years without offspring, when my wife commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I then wrote to you for advice, and your instructions were to give 'Golden Medical Discovery' alternately with the 'Favorite Prescription.' This we did. The result is restoration of my wife to good health and a ten pound boy. In honor of the world-famed Dr. Pierce, I have named him Pierce. 'Favorite Prescription' is certainly the medicine for invalid women."

The vast experience and skill which Dr. Pierce has acquired during his thirty years' practice as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y., has made his name known and his medicines recognized as standard remedies in every civilized country on the globe. His great thousand-page illustrated book, the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" has had the greatest sale of any medical work in any language. A free edition has been published and a paper-bound copy will be sent to any family absolutely without charge except the mere cost of customs and mailing which is 21 one-cent stamps. DISGUSTED FISHERMEN.

It Made Them Ill to See an Old Time Angler Catch Trout.

One day a Boston party, on a fishing trip to Moosehead, came across one of the old school fishermen. He was up off the mouth of Tomhegan stream and was fishing out of a lumberman's batteau. It developed later that he was the cook for a crew of river drivers. On the bank near at hand stood the cookee, or his helper. The cook had thrown about a pack of table refuse into the lake in order to "tole" the fish, and over that lure he was having great luck. His pole was of the jib boom variety, and when a fish bit he would derrick it over his head into the bushes where the cookee was stationed.

The Boston men from their canoes watched operations with all the disgust of the true sportsmen.

"Got enough for supper yet?" shouted the fisherman over his shoulder as he set another great trout flamping into the bushes.

"No; better catch six or eight more," shrilled back the cookee.

"Say, how many fish do you two fellows usually eat for supper?" shouted a Boston man who didn't understand the situation.

"When you've cooked for 22 river drivers as long as I have," yelled the cook, derricking another fish, "you'll know more about empty nail kegs."

Hardly was this enigmatic utterance out when there came a tug at his line that was nothing short of tremendous. He twitched. The fish didn't come. He braced, set his jaws and pried. His line only sawed the hissing water.

"Play him! Play him!" screamed the excited sportsmen from the city.

"Play your grandmother!" bellowed the cook. "I ain't here to play. I'm here to fish." And as he spoke he boosted over his head a 15 pound laker. Any man in the Boston crowd would have given $10 to have played him an hour at the end of an eight ounce rod. 'Twas too much for their nerves. They came away.—Lewiston Journal.

VOLUNTEERS OF HAVANA.

How They Were Won With a Pocket Handkerchief Promise.

In 1868, when the revolution of ten years in Cuba began, no volunteers existed in Havana worthy of being called such. There was only one old regiment, and when Governor General Lersundi, then of the island, tried to complete this regiment he found the task difficult of accomplishment on account of the prevailing unwillingness to enlist. But just at this time, most providentially for the relief of the dilemma, some unknown hand covered the walls of Matanzas, near Havana, with huge posters promising each Spaniard his passage home and the privilege of carrying away with him whatever his pocket handkerchief could contain in the event of his enlistment.

The effect of this stimulus to the flagging pulse of the public was electrical, and the enrollment of 50,000 men followed within 48 hours. The volunteers thus came into existence with their chiefs in the majority. But the ruined merchants of the city of Havana soon found out and objected to the newly risen power. This opposition increased upon the arrival in Cuba of the new governor general, Dulce, who came in 1869 as representative of the revolutionary government in Spain. He was a man of good faith, empowered by the government to grant Cuba all the reform she coveted and that had lately been offered. He would undoubtedly have put a term to the revolution, averting all the ruin and devastation which followed. But such an easy and magnanimous course did not suit that class which faced inevitable financial ruin as a consequence of such a policy.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THE AID OF

Catarrh Sufferers

SUCCESS in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from Catarrh; sometimes from Catarrh of the Stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from Catarrh somewhere, and Catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore Catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it.

There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure Catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing Catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have taken off the grasp of this insidious disease.

"See a Pin and Pick It Up."

It may be before long that our pins will have to be dipped in carbolic acid before being put on our bureaus. For pins have been proved to be a prolific source of danger in spreading contagious diseases. All kinds of germs, it is said, can be collected under the heads, and nurses who indulge the feminine habit of holding pins in their mouths lay themselves open to serious attack. The doctors who have warned the public say that many of the so called new pins are not new at all, but have been picked up in the streets and laid side by side with the others. The idea is not an altogether pleasant one, and is, moreover, one likely to increase the uneasiness of the overfastidious.

There are some women now who are so afraid of germs that they wash all their gold and silver pieces before handling them and who never allow a bank bill to go into their purses until it has been wrapped in some kind of disinfecting paper. They even require the shopgirls who hand them their change to wrap in paper first. What is to be done, if all this is so, with the popular superstitions about picking up all the pins that one sees and never passing a penny in the street?—Harper's Bazar.

A HAMILTON EPISODE.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure a Popular Hotel Clerk, of Bright's Disease.

Hamilton, Aug. 1.—Every Hamiltonian, and thousands of persons who travel to and from this city, knows Mr. C. E. Aikins, clerk at one of our principal hotels.

Mr. Aikins is deservedly popular, and is eminently fitted for the position he holds.

His hundreds of friends are rejoicing over the fact that he has fully recovered from the attack of Bright's Disease, that for two years past made his life miserable.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Aikins says: "I have tried many remedies, but they all failed utterly, except Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of Dodd's made me a new man."

Every person who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills for any form of Kidney Disease, has the same to say; "They cured me."

A Disastrous Ending.

Two Detroit merchants were sitting on adjacent stools and taking a 15 cent lunch, when one asked the other if he consulted his wife in his business affairs.

"Can't do it," was the response. "I've tried it a dozen times a month for years, but it always winds up just about as it did yesterday. I asked her if she thought she could discuss a little matter of business calmly and dispassionately. She said she could, but had never known me to be able to do so. I complimented her sarcastically on her 'angelic' temper, and she at once accused me of being angry. I told her that I was regarded among men as having a very equable disposition and that my employees called me Old Suavity. She called attention to the fact that her pet dog, that weighs about a pound, was called Danger. Then I told her straight from the shoulder that I declined to be made angry by her taunts and odious comparisons, but served pointed notice that I was going to have the respect due the head of the house. She laughed cheerily and declared that I was entirely too touchy."

"But what about the business conference?"

"Oh, I slammed the door and left."—Detroit Free Press.

Ice Broke the Spell.

There is a curious little tale about Captain Bagot, M. P. for South Westmoreland, which cannot fail to interest those superstitionsly inclined. It is said that, some generations ago, a witch cursed Levens Hall, the seat of Captain Bagot, and said that there would be no direct male heir to the estate as long as the Kent—the river which runs through the grounds—flowed. Such has indeed been the case, until in 1895, when, owing to the severe frost, the Kent was, for a time, entirely frozen up, and a few months afterward Mrs. Bagot presented her husband with a little boy.—London Graphic.

How a Bashful Man Got a Wife.

Blusher is the most bashful man I ever knew."

"How on earth then did he come to get married?"

"He was too bashful to refuse."—Boston Traveler.

Five is the sacred number of the Chinese, who have five planets, five cardinal points, five tastes, five virtues, five musical tones, five ranks of nobility and five colors.

The psaltery of Spain is supposed to have been introduced into that country by the Moors. It is still in common use among the peasants.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

ROSARY BEADS.

They Were In Use Among the Hindoos Before the Era of Buddha.

The prevailing idea in regard to a rosary is that it belongs solely to followers of the Catholic religion. But take away the cross that is hanging to the beads and we find that one must turn to the dim, mysterious east for the origin of the rosary, for it is among the temples of India, China and Japan that the first sign of the practice is to be found. Ancient pictures of the Hindoo gods depict them with chaplets of beads in their hands, and it is believed that this method of keeping count of their many prayers was in use among the Hindoos before the era of Buddha, or at least B. C. 500.

The use of the rosary seems especially suited to an eastern clime and to the repose of an oriental mind. The Buddhists are fond of using very smooth beads of glass, polished jade or coral, and it has been thought that the smooth, cool beads gliding through their fingers as they murmur the holy name for thousands of times help them to arrive at that state of holy abstraction from earthly things which is so much prized among the followers of Buddha.

The favorite Japanese rosaries are made of polished wood, crystal, onyx and chased silver, and the Japanese Buddhists repeat in endless devotion "Namu Amida Butzu" ("Save us, Buddha"), while their Chinese brothers have the blessed name "O-Mi-to-fu" forever on their lips. A rosary of very great size was recently brought from a temple in Kioto, Japan. The largest bead is about six inches in diameter, and the rosary entire is about 24 feet long. The huge beads are of dark brown polished wood. They are hollow and have each a figure of a god inside the little shrine, which can be seen through a lattice of brass work.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Diarrhœa and Dysentery are too Dangerous to Experiment with untried Remedies.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has over 40 years of cures to its credit and never fails in the severest cases.

Diseases, such as Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Inflammation of the Bowels, Cramps, Colic and Summer Complaint, are recognized by everyone as exceedingly dangerous.

When you or any member of your family is attacked, you want a remedy you are positive will cure. These diseases are too serious, too rapidly fatal, if neglected, for experimenting with cheap and dangerous imitations of the genuine Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. You want something that will, without fail, touch the spot and check the advance of the disease promptly.

Mrs. Middleton Wray writes from Schomberg, Ont., as follows: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best remedy I know of for Summer Complaint and Bowel Diseases of children. I have used it in our family for the past seventeen years and never had occasion to call in the doctor for these troubles, as the Fowler's Extract always worked like a charm."

THERE HAS BEEN A DISASTER.

That Is the Belief of the Captain of the Virginia Lake—Wreckage Seen.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 8.—Capt. Major of the mail steamer Virginia Lake, from Labrador, which arrived yesterday, expresses the belief that some ship has certainly been sunk in the Straits of Belle Isle. Reports to that effect, he says, are current along the whole northern coast of the island, besides which a quantity of deals, cheese boxes and other wreckage have drifted ashore at Flower's Cove, near the scene of the reported disaster.

Captain Major is surprised that more wrecks are not reported, because the fog in that region has been the heaviest known for 80 years, continuing 14 days, during which time not a sight of the sun has been obtained. On Saturday, July 30, a large Allan Line steamer, with 500 passengers aboard, was almost ashore at Battle Harbor, and on Tuesday last two other liners were in great danger off Chateau.

The steamer Ipsdem is a total wreck at Port Arthur, owing to the same cause.

Captain Major expects further news regarding the reported disaster when the steamer Leopard, from Northern Labrador, due on Tuesday, shall arrive.

It is also provided that all travelers, miners when engaged in prospecting and holding free miners' certificates and persons engaged in merely scientific pursuits or exploration shall enjoy like privileges.

CONCERNING CLOCKS.

Repeating clocks were invented by Barlow about 1676.

There was a striking clock in Westminster abbey in 1688.

The invention of the escapement is ascribed to Gerbert in 1000 A. D.

The magnetic clock was invented by Dr. Locke of Cincinnati in 1847-8.

Toothed wheels were first applied to clocks by Ctesibius about 140 B. C.

It is said that Richard Harris and the younger Galilei constructed the first pendulum.

Pendulums are affected by variations of density of the air, as well as by changing temperature.

The largest clock in the world is that in Westminster abbey. It was set up on May 30, 1859.

The first portable clock was made in 1530. Originally clock wheels were three feet in diameter.

America practically supplies the whole world with clocks, nearly every civilized country importing them.

Railroad clocks are usually provided with a compensating arrangement of the jar to which they are exposed.

Previous to the setting up of a clock at Hampton court, England, in 1540, no English clock went accurately.

The earliest complete clock of which an accurate record exists was made in the thirteenth century by a Saxon mechanic.

The first stroke of the hour in a striking clock is supposed to take place at exactly the sixtieth second of the sixtieth minute.

The Westminster clock has kept so remarkably uniform that for years the error has only reached three seconds on 3 per cent of the days of the year.

Most of the internal part of watches and clocks, except the pinions and sections, is usually made of brass, because of its docility at ordinary temperatures.

The original intention in constructing clocks that would run eight days without winding was to give the forgetful or absentminded one day's grace beyond the week.

The first clock on the stage that kept time was in the Westminster hall scene in the second act of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe" at the Bijou theater in Boston in 1886.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Debate on the Address in Reply Resumed.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT MOVED.

A New Members' Day—Four of Them Make Maiden Efforts—Opposition Wants the Defeated Ministers to Resign—Mr. Stratton Shows the Government Had a Majority of Popular Vote.

Toronto, Aug. 9.—The session of the Legislature yesterday afternoon and evening was essentially a new members' session. The debate on the address in reply was resumed by Mr. J. R. Stratton, who was followed by Messrs. Hoyle, North Ontario; Lumsden, Ottawa; McLaughlin, Stormont, and S. Russell, East Hastings, all new members, who made their maiden efforts amid encouraging cheers from their fellow-members.

The Fisheries Bill.

The bill, introduced by the Attorney-General, is intended to put into effect the decision of the Privy Council, which, in adjudicating upon the fisheries, declared the property therein to be under the control of the provinces, the general legislation effecting the fisheries to be under Federal jurisdiction. The bill is entitled, "An Act Relating to Provincial Fisheries," and is the first of the session.

It consists of but four sections, the first conferring upon the Government the right to issue fishery leases, licenses and permits subject to such terms, conditions and limitations as may be prescribed by order-in-Council or by statute. If the lessee, or licensor, contravenes the terms of the license, he is to be deemed guilty of a violation of the act.

The second section provides that the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may make provision for taking over archives, files, orders-in-Council, regulations, etc., of the Dominion Fisheries Department, so far as they relate to the fisheries of Ontario.

The third section provides for the appointment of a deputy commissioner and proper officers to administer the law.

Section four repeals the regulations passed in 1892, these having been decided by Privy Council to be ultra vires of the powers of the Ontario Legislature.

Before permitting the resumption of the debate on the address, the Attorney-General offered a little explanation with reference to Mr. Bronson. Col. Matheson had stated last week that the late Minister without portfolio, while having not offered himself as a candidate for re-election in Ottawa, had retained, with Messrs. Gibson and Dryden, his position in the Cabinet. The Premier took this occasion to inform the House, however, that Mr. Bronson's resignation had been accepted as far back as December last.

The Debate Resumed.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, West Peterboro, resumed the debate on the amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. After referring to the clauses of the address relating to the Governors-General, he congratulated the Premier upon the result of his appeal to the people, and incidentally the Premier himself. He gave emphatic answers to several of the "silly" cries of the Opposition, and dealt exhaustively with the excellence of the work done at the Guelph Agricultural College, which had been visited by 30,000 farmers this year. He gave many practical instances of its value as an educational institution of untold value to the agriculturists of the Province. He then showed conclusively, from his own riding as well as by resolutions from other places and boards of trade, the excellent and good results which had followed the appointment of a Road Commissioner.

The Popular Vote.

Dr. Barr had said that if Mr. Hardy had had the conscience of Sir Oliver Mowat the Attorney-General would have resigned. He could tell his hon. friend that if he would take the statistics he would find that not only had the Government a clear majority in the House, but they had a clear majority of the popular vote, and that they had a clear majority without the constable vote. Mr. Stratton read the following figures in support of his contention:

Liberal	215,644
Conservative	208,436
Independent	9,955

The reading of the figures and the division of the vote led to some cross-firing between the parties.

"What did you call Haycock?" asked Dr. Barr.

"Grit!" replied Mr. Whitney, in a much disgusted tone.

"If, as suggested, my hon. friend says Mr. Haycock is Liberal," said Mr. Stratton a moment later—

"I did not say that," interrupted Mr. Whitney.

"What?" asked Mr. Stratton in surprise.

"I said he was a Grit," replied Mr. Whitney, emphasizing the word "Grit," while his supporters applauded.

Mr. Stratton said the Conservatives were particularly fortunate in their having the number of supporters that they had on their side of the House. If they would take the proportionate vote that they polled they would find they had more members sitting on the opposite side of the House for the votes polled than the Liberals had on their side of the House for the votes polled.

"Where do you put Beatty?" asked Dr. Barr.

"On the side of the Liberal votes polled," replied Mr. Stratton.

"He did not run as a Liberal," said Mr. Whitney.

"He did not run as a Conservative," replied Mr. Stratton. "However, he is present to speak for himself."

The Opposition said the Province was opposed to the present Administration and that the time for a change had come. Yet the Liberals had on their side of the House 51 members in support of the Government, while hon. gentlemen opposite had 48, a clear majority of eight, or seven after electing the Speaker, and yet they expected the Government to resign. Even in Toronto, "where all the learning and intelligence and business prudence and judgment of the whole Province is supposed to exist"—(hear, hear)—they had reduced the Conservative majority from 6,059 to 2,837. And the Liberals carried nearly all the important towns in the Province—Peterboro, Brockville, Woodstock, Windsor, Guelph, Brantford, Stratford, London—

Dr. Barr—The Normal School carried London.

Mr. Stratton failed to catch the remark, and went on to compare Mr. Hardy's majority of eight with Sir Oliver Mowat's majority of one or two. He felt that the people of the Province would have greater confidence in Mr. Hardy's capacity and ability to manage the affairs of the Province as time went on. The speaker defended the construction of the address from the throne. He claimed that it being a special session for a special purpose, the address contained all that was required. The address outlined also the fisheries legislation. Mr. Hardy did right in submitting the proposition at once to adequately protect the fish in the waters of the Province and regulate all matters in connection therewith. He hoped the bill would be a practical one and an improvement upon the Dominion law. Incidentally, he claimed that the Ontario game law was not "exactly right" and hoped for an improvement in it also.

Regarding the constable vote, Mr. Stratton said it seemed strange that the Court of Appeal could not take a little time to consider the matter when it was referred to them by the Government instead of taking refuge in their holidays. With all due respect to the judicial impregnability of the judiciary, he could not see why they could not take a few days to consider the question which was of such paramount public interest. The judges of the land and the officials existed in the public interests, and they should have decided the question one way or the other. If that had been done it might not have been necessary to hold this special session. But the learned judges took a lofty stand; they say they have no regard to the expense this Province might be put to, and they must have a few days' fishing. Nero fiddled while Rome burnt, and the judges go fishing while the Opposition is trying to rob a great many of the electors of the Province of their franchise The law was not intended to deprive constables of their votes. The Liberal party for a hundred years had fought for the extension of the franchise. Dr. Barr said it made a very great difference whose ox was gored. Mr. Stratton would like to ask Mr. Whitney if the constable vote would deprive him of eight seats would he and his followers have been raising the row they have been endeavoring to raise in the Province of Ontario? He thought not.

After showing that the Independent press supported the Government, Mr. Stratton, in conclusion, dealt with the question of Cabinet Ministers retaining their portfolios after their defeat at the polls He strongly supported the view expressed by the hon. member for West Huron, that reasonable time should be allowed these hon. gentlemen to wrest their seats from those they believe to have secured them by illegal means. He had listened with a good deal of pleasure to the precedents quoted by the leader of the Opposition and by the Attorney-General, but he did not attach such very great importance to precedents, as he believed each case should be considered in connection with the circumstances which exist. It is only fair that reasonable time should be given to these hon. gentlemen to secure seats if the leader of the Government desires to retain them in the Cabinet. The elections only took place in March, the trials of the protests come off in September and Octobr, and he thought that a reasonable time would not have expired until the time of the trial of the election protests had passed. (Applause.)

Good Maiden Speech.

Next in the seemingly endless alternation arose Mr. Hoyle, the new Conservative member for North Ontario.

"If," said he, "it were in the palmy days of the Roman Empire, you, sir, would be introduced to the Temple of Virtue, and through it to the inner Temple of Fame." Mr. Hoyle does not think that abuse of opposing leaders during their active life has come all from the Conservative side and he reminded the Liberals of the way they had vilified the great Sir John while he had lived and helped sanctify him when dead. The Liberals complained of injuries received at the hands of the alleged senseless cry "it is time for a change." He recalled how the Provincial Secretary had ventured into his riding during the campaign and amidst other things had asked if it would be necessary for a man who had lived with his wife for 25 years to get up some fine morning and say "it is time for a change." Had the Liberal party, asked Mr. Hoyle amid laughter, come to think that they were wedded to the Province of Ontario? He could not but feel that it was this allusion that had come so near giving them a licking March 1 last. (Laughter.) He ridiculed Mr. Stratton's 30,000 farmer visitors to the Agriculture College. They had been lunched by the Government, but one stout vigorous farmer had boasted on returning that he could farm better than anything he had seen there.

Mr. Hoyle did not bother himself much about Mr. Stratton's figures as to the Government's majority. He moved it aside with the comment that they were not calculated on a fair basis, in that the votes of Conservatives and all Independents were not added together as unitedly cast in condemnation of the Government. He regretted that Mr. Stratton had seen fit to cast reflections on the judiciary.

Evening Session.

Mr. Hoyle, continuing after dinner, said that in the matter of the constables' vote, it was to the legislative glory of the Province to stay by the decision of the courts. The speaker's quotation from the "Citizen and Country," that, if defeated, a Minister should resign at once and leave his office to be conducted by his deputy, was received with loud applause. He then moved the following amendment:

That the following words be added to the amendment: "And to respectfully express its hope and desire that Your Honor will, without delay, take steps to put an end to such an unusual and undesirable state of affairs."

Mr. Lumsden of Ottawa, after touching upon the general topics of the debate on the address said he represented the lumber interests and insisted that Ontario lumbermen asked favors from no Government, but they asked and demanded even-handed, reasonable justice. They demanded that the laws of the country should protect them in their industry. That was all the lumbermen of the Province asked. (Hear, hear.) And so long as justice was meted out to them they would continue to support the Liberal policy. He did not think that a reasonable time had elapsed in which to fill the vacant portfolios. To fill the positions while the cases were pending in the courts would redound to the lasting discredit of the Government, whose cause the two Ministers had so long espoused.

J. McLaughlin, Stormont, asked what the Hardy Government had done in the way of aiding the farmers in the province. Every dollar they had voted had gone to provide jobs for its friends. He declared that the students turned out annually from the Guelph Agricultural College were not what the country expected. The farmers were bitterly disappointed in the neglect of the Government to reduce the price of binding twine. The man chiefly responsible for all the agricultural mismanagement of the Province was Hon. Mr. Dryden, and a true estimate had been made of him by his constituents

Mr. Russell, as the first pronounced Reformer who had ever represented East Hastings in the House, received a warm reception. His address showed him to be a thoughtful public man, capable of giving good reasons for the faith that is in him. A point that the House regarded as particularly pertinent was his criticism of the amendment to the amendment, which, he said, should be ruled out of order, as it reflected on His Honor for his choice of advisers.

At a few minutes after 10 p.m. Mr. Crawford moved and carried an adjournments.

Soldiers' Monument Unveiled.

Hamilton, Aug. 9.—Rain being copious yesterday, the speeches in connection with the unveiling of the soldiers' monument, under the auspices of the 10-years Veterans Association, were made in the Armory. Mrs. Colquhoun, wife of the Mayor, formally unveiled the monument, having been driven to the City Cemetery, accompanied by the officers, for that purpose. Chapin Post, G.A.R., Buffalo, 300 strong, was present, and U.S. Vice-Consul Butler made an Anglo-Canadian-American speech that elicited applause.

Plebiscite Vote September 29.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—The announcement sent out from Ottawa that the writs for the prohibition plebiscite were issued Saturday and fix November 8 as the day of voting, is incorrect. The date of voting has not been changed from that originally fixed by council, namely, the 29th of September. The writs, however, are returnable on the 3rd of November.

WELL KNOWN VIOLINIST

Traveled Extensively Throughout the Provinces—Interesting Statements Concerning His Experience.

STELLARTON, N.S.—James R. Murray, a well known violinist, of this place, who has traveled extensively throughout the Provinces, makes this statement:

"I was running down in health and my weight fell off from 175 to 150 pounds. Prescriptions did me but little good. My trouble was called nervous dyspepsia. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking five bottles I was greatly benefited. I feel as well now as ever in my life, and have increased in flesh so that I now weigh 177 pounds. I am well known in this part of the country, having followed my profession, that of a violin musician for the last 26 years. I gladly tell my friends what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. Before I began taking the medicine I did not have any ambition, but now all is changed and my dyspeptic trouble perfectly cured." JAMES R. MURRAY.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

A Racy Resume of Current, Capital and Other Events.

Ottawa, Aug. 6th—If the Imperial Ministers and Old Country people generally could only find time to observe all that the Opposition are, directly or by inference, saying about them how flattered they would be! The manner in which the members of the Canadian Federal Government have apparently succeeded in pulling the wool over their eyes and generally making fools of them is enough to take one's breath away. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for instance, during his memorable Jubilee visit to England "spoke and worked against Preferential Trade," and yet, admittedly at his instigation, the Imperial Government abrogated the German and Belgium treaties, and accorded an enthusiastic approval and practical support to the trade policy ennunciated by him.

Moreover the Premier "disgraced Canada by his cowardly and unconstitutional action" in insisting upon the prompt departure of the Spanish emissaries from Montreal, but Mr. Chamberlain stated from his place in the Imperial House of Commons that this was done at the direction of the Imperial Government.

The substantial step just taken towards Imperial Penny Postage was we are told entirely the work of Mr. Henniker Heaton and his associates, but the Home Government are so dense that they have actually given the lion's share of the credit to the Canadian Postmaster General.

The Minister of Militia is "incapable" and "out of sympathy with the officers and the men of the Canadian corps," but the contingent he sent to the Jubilee made so favourable an appearance that the Home authorities were at once impressed with the importance of Canada in the general scheme of Imperial defence, and are now in active consultation with Dr. Borden, the "incapable" Minister of Militia, in reference to that vital question.

FURTHER EVIDENCE.

The Finance Minister by his "mismanagement of the Treasury" has proved "entirely unworthy of the people's confidence," and "everything he does goes askew," but the British money market readily took up his recent loan on far better terms than were ever accorded a Canadian loan before.

The Government and the party generally "have always been traitors to the best interests of Canada" and "anxious to play into the hands of the cute Yankee" in every commercial negotiation that has taken place between the two countries, and yet the warmest support is being accorded by the Imperial Government to the approaching Conference at Quebec and one of the foremost British statesmen has come out to assist in this latest attempt "to give away our birthright."

"The country is rapidly going to pieces under Grit maladministration," but the Imperial Government has got the idea that Canada was never so prosperous and British capitalists are paying more attention and investing more money here to day than ever before.

The list might be considerably lengthened, but this is sufficient to show how recklessly the ultra-partizan Conservative press and speakers will talk. Does it not occur to them that it is an insult to the intelligence of their readers to expect them to swallow such childish nonsense.

HIGH PRESSURE EDUCATION.

The question of the utility of public school leaving examinations is being discussed just now at some length in the press. It is about time that public interest was aroused in this matter. How it is that parents have so long been indifferent upon a question which affects them all so closely is a mystery hard to explain. The danger to the public school boy or girl, of over education is much more real than imaginary and the undue mental strain, accompanied as it necessarily is in nine cases out of ten by abnormal physical strain also, has in the majority of cases an effect upon the child which is never entirely eradicated. It is seldom that the average citizen requires the scholastic "cramming" which is administered in the higher classes of our public school to fit him or her for the battle of life, and those few to whom advanced educational attainments are requisite, are in a better position to pursue their post-collegiate studies when the preliminary years have not been overcrowded by undue mental exercise. Of course it is easy to lay the blame upon the Department, but the fault is with the public; the authorities have simply provided what the people have demanded, and so long as the parents, who should have been far better judges of what is good for their children than even the most careful and experienced Minister could be, demand the high pressure now in vogue so long, we suppose, will the curriculum be arranged to satisfy that demand.

ARCHBISHOP WALSH.

The sudden and altogether unexpected death of Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto, has removed one of the brightest ornaments of the Roman Catholic church in Canada, and one of the most liberal-minded theologians of the day. Without parade or ostentation he was instant, in season and out of season, in the duties of his pastoral office, while as a ruler and administrator, his caution and finesse smoothed over many a rough place and removed not a few difficulties. More than one threatening trouble was averted or modified by his wise counsels, and when the history of the past decade comes to be compiled, the name of Archbishop Walsh will find an honoured place therein.

ON THE PRINCE'S BIRTHDAY.

The importance which the Imperial authorities attach to the readjusted postal rates and the wide spread interest which has been aroused by the successful diplomacy of Postmaster-General Mulock and the Canadian Government is well shown by the fact that the birthday of the heir apparent has been chosen as the auspicious occasion upon which the new rate will come into force. On the same day the general rate for the Dominion and the United States will be reduced to two cents. What sad croakers our Conservative friends are—what terrible deficits this reform will create and what objectionable deficits this reform will create and what objectionable additional taxes will have to be levied to pay for this "glorification of the Postmaster-General," who has been "going about London with his head too big for his hat," etc. When will those who talk and write such nonsense realize how very small and picayune they appear in the eyes of all decent men? And if there should be a temporary deficit, as very probably there will be, it will be well to remember that it is not caused through the reckless awarding of extortionate contracts, and general mismanagement of the Department, which was the cause of the ever-present deficits in the old days.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A private excursion party, composed of Rev. W. C. Allen and Mrs. Allen, Miss Mildred Allen, Mrs. E. S. Carry, Mrs. Brown, Miss Miller, Mr. Walker and Master Morgan Carry, went to Hastings on Friday per City of Peterborough. This trip is becoming quite popular with Millbrook people, who drive to Hale's bridge and embark from that point.

Mr. George Fitzgerald, an old Millbrook boy, and son of James Fitzgerald, formerly of this place, is visiting friends in town.

The excursion to Belleville on Wednesday under the auspices of the Methodist Sunday school was a most decided success. Many availed themselves of the opportunity to remain over and spend Thursday in the picturesque city on the Bay of Quinte.

Mrs. Richard Howell and Miss Eva Peterson, of Toronto, are visiting friends in and around Millbrook.

Miss Noble, of Port Hope, and Mrs. Roland Foster, of Toronto, are visiting at Mr. Thomas Grandy's.

Miss Smith, of Peterborough, is in town visiting her aunt.

Messrs. Walter and Fred Coombe are gone on a visit to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner, of Toronto, are visiting friends in Millbrook.

The practice that some of local bicyclists have of fast riding on the streets, resulted in a most unfortunate accident to a boy named Homan on Friday last. Young Homan, who is employed in the bicycle repair shop of Geo. A. Duncan, was scorching up King street at a terrific rate of speed and having his head turned towards the ground, did not see a vehicle coming in the opposite direction. Without a moment's warning he smashed into the rig and in an instant lay unconscious on the ground. He was quickly picked up, when it was found that the point of the shaft of the rig had torn his scalp for a length of six or seven inches. Dr. Turner dressed the wound and the unfortunate fellow is doing very nicely under the circumstances. The wheel is a total wreck, the handlebars and forks being twisted into various shapes, while the wheels are a mass of tangled wires.

Mr. Wesley Walsh and family are camping at Boyce's Landing at the river.

Miss Kate Carveth and Miss Mary Needham are with the Peterborough party at Oak Orchard.

Mr. Sam Wallace, of Toronto, is visiting Reeve Pickup.

Mr. W. S. Given and wife are away on an extended visit in Western Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are visiting at the latter's father, Postmaster Vance.

W. J. E. Gilliott, who has been in Toronto for some time, has returned home on a short visit.

L. F. Clarry, of Hastings, was in town over Sunday.

Dr. Martin, of Toronto, who has been in town on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. John Allen, returned home on Monday morning.

M. Cambon Receives the Message at Washington.

IT CAME IN SHORT SECTIONS.

The Work of Translation in Progress—Very Painful and Solemn Feeling in Official Circles at Madrid—The American Demands Are in the Main Points Conceded.

Washington, Aug. 9.—M. Cambon, the French Ambassador here, received Spain's reply to the United States peace conditions yesterday. The reply came in sections, and the concluding paragraphs were received so late that nothing definite could be announced last night. Nothing was given out officially, but it was said the terms of the United States have been accepted. The only matter of importance to be considered by the commission to be appointed was in regard to ratification by the Cortes of Spain and the Congress of the United States. A peace treaty will, it is said, have to be ratified by these bodies, and it is feared that some delay may be caused by a discussion on the points named.

U.S. Troops for Home.

Three transports loaded with United States troops sailed yesterday from Santiago for the United States and more will follow to-day.

The Spanish Sick.

One thousand Spanish, sick and wounded, will be embarked from Santiago to day.

IMPOSED BY NECESSITY.

Queen Regent and Ministers Approve of the United States' Terms of Peace.

Madrid, Aug. 9.—Spain's reply submitting to America's terms received its finishing touches last night. In its final form, as carefully revised by the foreign Minister and re-approved by the Queen and Cabinet, it accepts without discussing the four preliminary conditions of peace imposed by the United States.

But care is taken to explain that Spain gives way to the force of events, again asserting that she had neither sought nor done anything to provoke the war into which she was driven by the conduct of America.

Nothing is said about a Cuban debt.

The note suggests a suspension of hostilities in order to facilitate the subsequent negotiations, and offers to appoint commissioners to act with the American commissioners to determine what shall be done with reference to the Philippine Islands.

The Spanish peace commissioners, it is generally believed, will be the Duke of Almodovar, the Minister of Foreign Affairs; Mgr. Merry del Val, the Spanish Ambassador to the Vatican, and Leon y Castillo, the Spanish Ambassador at Paris.

The Duke of Almodovar placed before the Queen Regent the momentous document which gives official assent of Spain to the loss of the last remnant of her empire in the new world. Both the Queen and the Minister were deeply moved. Then the Duke conveyed the document to the council, at which the Ministers also showed their sense of the painful, mournful solemnity of the occasion imposed by necessity upon the rulers of Spain.

Veritable Act of Friendship.

Paris, Aug. 9.—The Times says: "It is to be hoped the noble resignation of Spain will touch the heart of President McKinley and that he will consider it honorable to show the United States is strong, great and magnanimous enough to spare the vanquished enemy, not to abuse the victory and to desire, by the generosity of its acts, to make the treaty with the people they have learned to respect on the battlefield a veritable pact of friendship. It is certain Spain will be rewarded for her wisdom. Freed from the Cuban incubus, she will regain energy and vitality and march with joyful steps toward a calm and prosperous future."

Everlasting Gratitude to Bismarck.

Berlin, Aug. 9.—The Federal Council has sent Prince Bismarck an address of condolence. It refers to the deceased as "the great, heroic, First Chancellor of the United Fatherland," and continues: "The two decades during which he worked at our head have become imperishable landmarks of Germany's greatness and welfare, and his spirit was so powerful that it will continue to make itself felt for centuries to come. His name will always be honored as the supreme essence of true patriotism and nation-leading statecraft. To him is assured the everlasting gratitude of the Federal Council and of the whole German nation."

The Department of Postmaster-General Mulock.

THE DEFICIT REDUCED $627,000.

The Service Likewise Improved—Some Interesting Figures From the Record—Mismanagement and Waste of the Conservative Administration Remedied—The End Aimed at Practically Attained.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—One of the things that the Postmaster-General set out to do upon assuming office in 1896 was to reduce the deficit, which year by year had been growing larger, and finally to produce a state of equilibrium between the revenue and expenditure of his department. It was scarcely reasonable then to suppose that this herculean tas could be accomplished in two years, but the accounts of the department for 1897-98, which are now being closed, show that while the deficit has not been entirely wiped out it has been whittled down to such insignificant proportions compared with its original magnitude that it has practically ceased to exist. When Mr. Mulock took charge of the department there was a deficit of 700,997, that was reduced during the fiscal year of 1896-97 to $580,539, which was a remarkably good showing, in view of the fact that many of the reforms effected by the new departmental head had not had sufficient time to make an impression upon the finances of the service. The actual deficit for 1897-98 cannot yet be stated, but a careful and conservative estimate puts it at $74,033. The figures are available for all parts of the year excepting the last quarter, so that it may be taken for granted that the approximation is fairly correct. The reduction of the deficit by $627,000 is an achievement with which the Postmaster-General has reason to be satisfied, and one that must give the public confidence in his capability as an administrator.

Revenue and Expenditure Accounts.

The following statement will show in brief the condition of the revenue and expenditure accounts during the last three fiscal years:

1895-96.
Paid by check from Parliamentary appropriation.....	$3,665,011 30
Net revenue	2,964,014 23
Deficit	700,997 07
1896-97.
Paid by check from Parliamentary appropriation.....	$3,789,478 34
Net revenue.....	3,208,938 42
Deficit.....	580,539 92
1897-98.
Paid by check from Parliamentary appropriation.....	$3,575,458 98
Net revenue (estimated).....	3,501,422 68
Deficit (estimated).....	74,033 90

The Service Improved.

It might have been possible to present a favorable financial showing by starving the service for the sake of cutting down expense, but a policy the very opposite to this has been pursued. In all directions the service has been extended and made more useful to the public. New offices have been opened, many of them in the most remote parts of the country; more frequent service has been given and a reorganization of the railway mail service and dead letter office has taken place. The reconstruction of the railway mail service, and the placing of it under the direction of a controller is an improvement the advantages of which are admitted by all who have any knowledge of postal systems. Money has been saved and the service improved by the abolition of many useless inspectorates. By the decentralization of the dead letter office the staff of clerks has been reduced by fourteen and a concession has been made to public convenience. Another direction in which the department have shown their solicitude for the public convenience is in the establishment of the postal note system, which has recently gone into operation. These few instances show how the Postmaster-General has increased the efficiency of his department and saved the money of the people, but many others could be given. The adoption of business methods in the awarding of mail contracts and contracts for supplies has been an important factor in reducing the deficit to the point at which it now happily is. During the year ending June 30, 1897, mail contracts which had been costing $381,237 were put up to tender, and new contracts were obtained for the performance of the same service for a period of four years at an annual cost of $277,300, being an annual saving of $103,936, or a total saving of $415,747 for the full period of four years. Inasmuch as several months were required to make these new contracts, they only went into effect from time to time during that fiscal year, so that the financial effect of the changes was only partially felt upon the finances of the department for that year. Their influence has been fully felt during the year just closed, and it has contributed largely to the satisfactory result which the figures quoted above disclose. As an example of the way in which the preceding Government wasted public money for the benefit of partisan favorites, it may be stated that while the number of miles of daily travel in June, 1897, was 312 greater than in the corresponding quarter of June, 1896, before Mr. Mulock took office, the cost of the service for the quarter of 1897 was $22,000 less. The records of the department afford almost numberless examples of the application of sound business principles to the administration, the satisfactory results of which are reflected in the finances. If the adoption of a two-cent domestic postage rate depends upon the wiping out of the postoffice deficit it looks as if the people would not have to wait long for that boon. It is estimated that a reduction of the rate would involve a loss of revenue on the basis of the present volume of business of about $600,000, but with the inevitable increase in the number of letters carried and a continuation of the wise, economical administrative policy of the Postmaster-General there would seem to be no danger of long-continued shortage from the experiment.

THE WOMAN WITNESS.

Miss French, a Cousin of Mackie, Secured by Detective Dougherty.

Napanee, Aug. 9.—One of the trump witnesses that the Crown intends to produce in the bank robbery case is Miss French, who is at present living in retirement at the house of a well-known citizen of this town. She came here early on Tuesday morning last from Detroit, accompanied by Detective Dougherty. Arriving at Toronto she took a sleeping car on the 9.30 express for the east, and according to arrangements previously made by Detective Dougherty they quietly got off at Deseronto, whence they were immediately driven to Napanee, where they arrived shortly after midnight.

Miss French is a cousin of the prisoner Mackie, and resided at his house in Belleville for seven months preceding the robbery, and during one month following it. It is claimed that her evidence will be of the greatest importance in proving the case against the prisoners.

Montreal, Aug. 9.—Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, the flour king, was seriously injured at 9.30 yesterday morning. He was crossing the G.T.R. shunting tracks on St. Etienne street, near Wellington street. When in the middle of the track his horse, a spirited one, got restive and before he could make it go on, a coal train was upon him. Mr. Ogilvie was thrown fifteen feet and so badly bruised that he had to go home in a carriage. The buggy was reduced to match wood, but the horse escaped. The watchman at the crossing blames Mr. Ogilvie's horse for the accident.

The company claims to have one of the best properties in Rossland. The assayer's certificate shows very large value. The names of the officers and of the stockholders are good. There are no salaried officers. The C. P. Railway runs through the property, which is 265 acres, 5 mines. Magnificent Water Colours.

There is now on exhibition in Clegg's art furniture warerooms a splendid collection of water colour pictures from the brush of Mr. J. S. Levvy, the celebrated water colour artist of New York. The castes are all original paintings from the artist's own sketches from nature. The artistic instinct is revealed in the treatment, a circumstance to be expected from Mr. Levvy's position in the artistic world. The natural artistic instinct, or genius, has been guided by the best instruction supplied by industrious experience. He studied for several years under Messonnier, the celebrated French artist, Hans Markard, a most exacting master, and Bougereau. He takes high rank as a an artist, and his pictures command high prices, a former citizen of Peterborough, now resident in Toronto, having given, it is said, $5,000 for a single picture. Any person desirous of acquiring or admiring beautiful water colours, should not miss the opportunity of seeing the splendid collection at Clegg's.

THE PETERBOROUGHS AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

THE TECUMSEHS BEATEN BY TEN GOALS.

The Home Team's Brilliant Combination Played Circles Around the Visitors. Whilst the Local Defence was Almost Impregnable.

Although eleven to one was a big score to run up against an opposing team, those who witnessed yesterday's game between the Tecumsehs and the Peterboroughs were well satisfied with the fine exhibition of the national game which was given. The visitors were not by any means weak and can play a hard game, as evidenced by their overwhelming defeat of St. Catharines by eight goals to none a few weeks ago. For the first few minutes yesterday the result was in doubt, but once Peterborough's combination started to work the visitors "weren't in it for a minute," and it is doubtful if a team in the province could have stood before them yesterday and escaped a Waterloo.

The Tecumsehs were strong around the centre of the field and on many occasions brought the ball in dangerously close to the Peterborough flags, but it was seldom indeed that they were given a chance for a clear shot on the goals, as the local defence knew their business too well to be drawn out. Again and again when the visitors were confident of scoring, a combination would be at point and pass down the entire length of the field without one of the opposing team being able to get a piece of the play and a goal would be scored by the Peterboroughs so quickly that the Toronto defense were given no opportunity to cover up or even to block their flags. It was such brilliant pieces of play as this which held the interest of the spectators up to the last minute, although the score was one-sided. The defence work of the Peterboroughs was one of the noticeable features of the day. Although the Tecumsehs claim to have one of the fastest home fields in the senior series they could not get in close enough to the Peterborough flags to score, so well did the local men handle themselves. Combination after combination would come up the field but every man was so closely watched that he never got a chance to shoot at the goal, and was forced to get rid of the ball so quickly that the combination soon stranded.

It is not a question of bringing a poor team to Peterborough. No one can say that the Tecumsehs are a second-rate aggregation. They have proven their worth, and their hard, close play yesterday spoke for itself, as do also the victories they have already won this season. The public must therefore awaken to the fact that they have in the town a team which ranks second to none in Ontario, and as such reflects credit on Peterborough.

The teams yesterday lined up as appended:

Tecumsehs.		Peterborough.
Hallet	goal	F C Dobbin
Paterson	point	F Lynch
Reid	cover point	J Brown
Angus	1st defence	J Mein
Kyle	2nd "	R M Glover

Lennox	2nd home	Jack McCabe
Burns	1st home	Walter Phelan

Referee—Dickson Davidson.

The ball was faced at 4.10 and was immediately rushed in on the Peterborough flags, but did not go far before it went out to centre field. Once more it came in and Kelly tried a shot but was wild. Lynch relieved from behind the flags with one of his long throws and Lipsett came out and secured the ball, drew the defense well out to one side and quickly passed across to Phelan who secured first blood. Time, 2½ minutes.

The next game opened with an attack on the visitors flags, but the Peterboroughs had hardly settled down yet and the passing was too hurried. A fumble or two resulted in their losing the ball. The next rush on the Tecumseh goal, however, resulted in a beautiful piece of work being seen, the ball was passed from King to Jack McCabe, to Lipsett, to Hogarth and to McCabe again, the latter scoring. Time, 5 minutes. Score 2—0.

Phelan and Lipsett assisted King in scoring the next goal in exactly half a minute.

In another minute and a half another game had been scored for Peterborough, Jack McCabe, Lipsett and Phelan figuring in a neat combination and the latter scoring. Score 4—0.

The visitors now woke up and did some fine work, carrying the ball in on the Peterborough flags with such a rush, that when Kelly scored, he carried Dobbin into the net, which was upset. Time, 2 minutes. Score, 4—1.

After six and a half minutes' sharp play King secured the ball and passed to Phelan, who ran in on the flags, and dodging a couple of men, scored from the side by a most remarkable shot, which did not have a margin of half an inch to work on. Score, 5—1.

Two minutes later Mooney passed the ball over the net from behind to Jack McCabe, who promptly raised the score another notch in Peterborough's favour.

The next game was the longest of the afternoon, lasting eleven minutes. The play and the checking hard and close, although not at all vicious. After some nice combination play, in which Hogath, Phelan and Lipsett figured, the latter tallied. Score, 7—1.

WAS VERY EVEN

The cleanest work of the afternoon was seen when Jim McCabe secured the ball from the face off. Like lightning it passed to Hogath to Phelan to Lipsett and then to Jack McCabe, who scored whilst Mooney held down the goalminder's stick and made him harmless. Time, ¼ minute; score, 8—1.

King started the next combination going and the ball was carried into Lipsett, who did the necessary in three minutes. Score, 9—1.

Three-quarters of a minute later Phelan scored by a long shot from the field. Score, 10—1.

The visitors made a hot rally on the Peterborough flags at the opening of the next game, but the defence held them off, although Dobbin had a couple to stop. Jack McCabe finally came in with the ball and passed to Lipsett, who shot straight on goal, but the ball was blocked. Before the goal keeper had an opportunity of relieving Mooney was on him, and scooped the ball through, scoring the eleventh and final game for Peterborough. Time was called shortly afterwards.

NOTES.

The visitors' defence was very much puzzled to know whom to watch. Generally a team has a special man to do the shooting, but when the shots kept coming in straight on goal from anyone who had the chance to score, the Tecumsehs didn't know which way to turn. They took turns in watching the different men on Peterborough's home and it kept them busy, but they couldn't watch all.

From being a light and somewhat too easy a player Jack McCabe is blossoming out into a man who uses his body fearlessly and with great effect. He never played so well since being on the senior team as he has done in the last two games.

The visitors were far faster runners than the Peterboroughs, but the home boys evidently knew a trick worth two of that.

Big Bill Patterson, whom the Tecumsehs decoyed away from the Capitals last season, can't understand yet how his team was beaten. Probably that combination play was to fast for him to watch.

There did not appear to be a weak spot on the Peterborough team yesterday.

Jack Mein strained his ankle and had to go off towards the last, but he will be all right befor the next game.

If it was not for the patronage of the ladies the Peterboroughs would certainly have to disband, as the majority of the masculine portion of the population prefer viewing the game from the fence or neighbouring house tops, many business men being observed in this position yesterday. Fully three fourths of those who witnessed the game did not pay a cent for the privilege. As a natural consequence of this, the lacrosse club is losing money on almost every game. The receipts yesterday were barely sufficient to pay the visiting team, thus leaving all incidental expenses such as printing, constables, etc., as a liability. Peterborough has now a team of which every citizen should be proud, but it can not be kept up without money and if the tin-horn sports who adorn the fences on the occasion of every match cannot be induced to pay to see a game of which they must evidently be fond, a direct appeal will have to be made to the citizens in general to subscribe towards defraying the expenses of the club.

A NEW CHURCH.

Springville Presbyterians to be Congratulated.

The Springville Presbyterian church was re-opened last Sabbath and the event celebrated by special services, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Campbell, of Erskine church, Ottawa. The services were well attended and the highest appreciation was expressed regarding the sermons delivered on that occasion.

Monday night tea was served by the ladies after which a programme, consisting of solos, readings and addresses, was given. Among those taking part were Miss Falconer, as soloist, and Miss Jessie McKenzie, as reader. The Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, in his address congratulated the congregation on the beauty and comfort of the renovated church, and certainly great credit is due the committee and contractors for the very beneficial, artistic and in every way satisfactory work. The Rev. A. J. McMullen, who is pastor, is also to be congratulated upon the success of the work.

A NEW PRINCIPAL.

The Separate School Board Selects Mr. A. E. Jones, of Mattawa.

The Separate School Board has secured the services of Mr. Edward Jones as principal of the Murray street school and by the excellent recommendations which he possesses the Board is evidently to be congratulated on its choice.

Mr. Jones holds a first-class professional certificate and also a High School interim certificate obtained from the Ontario Normal College in 1898. He has had fourteen years' experience in teaching, ten of which have been spent in Mattawa, where he now holds the position of principal of the Separate School, which employs five teachers and has been successfully doing High School work as far as the primary examinations.

Mr. Jones will arrive in Peterborough on the first of September.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1898.

THE WARD SYSTEM NOW ABOLISHED.

The Bylaw Passed By the Council Last Night.

SOME UNCOMPLIMENTARY REMARKS

Objection Taken to the Method Adopted in Calling Those Members Down Who Voted Against the Third Reading.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last evening for the purpose of reconsidering the disposition made of the "popular vote" bylaw on Monday last, when it was defeated on the third reading after being sanctioned by the ratepayers.

There were present Mayor Davis and Councillors Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Denne, Allen, Hamilton, Dawson, McWilliams, Meldrum, Langford and J. M. White.

After it had been decided to dispense with the reading of the minutes, Councillor Dawson inquired of the Mayor the reason for calling the members together.

The Mayor stated that he had been informed that the councillors had acted illegally in the action they had taken in defeating the bylaw on its third reading after it had received the approval of the people. He was at the Lakes when he received this information and had gone to Burleigh and telephoned to the town clerk to get Mr. Edwards' legal opinion on the information he had received, as he understood that the matter had to be dealt with inside of six weeks, and as the time would expire on Tuesday, he had summoned the council in order that the misstep of last Monday night as would be necessary, according to Mr. Edwards' opinion, which was read as follows:

A. L. Davis, Esq., Mayor of Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—As instructed by you I have considered the question connected with the third reading of the Bylaw to fix the number of councillors and to provide for election by general vote.

The bylaw was passed under the Municipal Amendment Act, 1896, which introduced a new section into the Municipal Act as Section 71a This section provides that the bylaw shall not come into force unless and until it has first been submitted to a vote of the electors according to the provisions in this Act in regard to bylaws requiring the assent of the electors. Section 338 of the Municipal Act provides that "in case a bylaw requires the assent of the electors before the final passing thereof the following proceedings shall, except in cases otherwise provided for, be taken for date mining such assent." The various provisions as to voting by the electors then follow and are included in Division III of the Act. Section 379 is part of this division and provides "that a bylaw which has been duly carried by a vote of the qualified electors shall within six weeks thereafter be passed by the council."

The bylaw having been submitted to the electors, and having been approved by them, must be passed by the council. Under Section 374, if a scrutiny of the votes takes place before the Judge, the time for such scrutiny is not to be included in such six weeks. Notwithstanding the vote of the council declining to give the bylaw its third reading, the council has the power to pass the bylaw as directed by the Act. A motion for reconsideration under the rules of the council requires to be carried by a majority of the whole council, but this rule could not possibly stand in the way of a direct statutary enactment requiring the council to pass the bylaw.

The provisions of the original Section 71, of the Municipal Act, by which, upon petition of 100 electors, the council may pass a bylaw reducing the number of councillors for each ward to two, and requiring the assent of the electors to such bylaw, are quite separate and distinct from the provisions introduced by the Act of 1896. If it had been intended to submit to the electors a bylaw for the reduction of the number of councillors for each ward, a separate and distinct bylaw would have been necessary.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

As the council had acted illegally, the Mayor said, he no doubt that the members would in the matter.

Mr. Langford thought that the majority of the council was now willing to pass the bylaw. One of the members was absent on the occasion of the previous vote being taken on account of the illness of his mother, and as he was present now, those in favour of the bylaw would be in the majority. The passage of the bylaw could therefore have been easily secured without the means resorted to by a certain member of the council. He felt that it was wrong that this member should use the press to try and coerce those who had voted against the bylaw by saying that he was employing a solicitor to proceed against them. It was not necessary to take such a high-handed proceeding. It simply would have the effect of making those members stick to what they had done even if they knew it was wrong. They would not be men if they did not stick to it under the circumstances. The remarks in the press had been most insulting and besides this created the impression that the councillor in question had been instrumental in bringing in the bylaw. The speaker himself had introduced that bylaw. It was a good thing and he was proud of it. He thought it was a step in the right direction and was anxious to see it put before the council. He had brought in the bylaw and for its first and second readings. At first it had been voted down, but he had tried again and was successful in getting it before the people. They had sanctioned it but the bylaw was defeated on its third reading. That was the history of it. He had no seat or society to please in bringing the bylaw forward, but did it wholly for the good of the town and tried to put it through as a good thing. On the occasion of there being a tie vote he had told Mr. McWilliams that when Mr. Allen was present the bylaw could be carried. He also thought he could influence one or two of the other councillors to vote for instead of against the bylaw. Even after he had explained to Mr. McWilliams how the bylaw could thus be carried he (Mr. McWilliams) had seen fit to go so far as to insert such scurrilous things in the papers as had led one councillor, whom he had hoped to win over, to say that he would go to the devil before he would vote for the bylaw. In making these statements Mr. Langford said he was not trying to serve political or other ends, but he was simply trying to carry a bylaw which would be for the good of the town. He moved the third reading of the bylaw and stated that he did so, not expecting the support of councillors who had voted against it before, as he would do the same if placed in their position.

COUNCILLOR M'WILLIAMS,

in replying to Councillor Langford, stated that he did not intend to attempt to follow the latter in his remarks, which he believed to be actuated more by jealousy than anything else, as Mr. Langford wished it thoroughly understood apparently that he and no one else was the father of the bylaw. If it was glory Mr. Langford was after, he was welcome to it. As for himself, the speaker thought he had taken the proper course. He had gone to the expense of having his solicitor look up the law on the point, as his memory had recalled a somewhat similar case in the country when a mandamus had been issued in the case. Mr. Langford had not been the first man to speak of bringing in a bylaw to this effect. It was he (Mr. McWilliams) who had broached the subject, but if Mr. Langford wanted to have the honour, as his childish speech indicated, he could have it.

Councillor Langford stated that the vote which was about to be taken would show that the bylaw would have been passed anyway without coercive measures being adopted.

Councillor Best asked Councillor McWilliams

IN WHOSE BEHALF

he was acting in taking the stand which he assumed.

Councillor McWilliams in replying stated that he was acting in his own behalf. The bylaw should have been passed. It had been sanctioned by the people. Before sitting down he wished to refer to another matter. Despite the efforts of all the combinations against him he had been elected at the head of the poll in number 3 Ward for the last two years, and those who had been working against him would have cause to rue it on the first of January next. It had been urged against him that he was in favour of the bylaw because it would promote Roman Catholic representation in the council, and for that reason councillors had canvassed against the bylaw. Such was not the case. It was a disgrace that of the thirteen members of the council the Roman Catholics had no representative. If they stood no chance by the ward system, on the new plan their chances would not be improved. He was a strong Protestant, but still could say that it was no credit to the council that not a Roman Catholic could be found around the board. The only mistake in the bylaw was that it did not call for the election of only five members, instead of nine. He would be prepared to support such a reduction. Although an Orangeman he stood for no class or creed, and could say that he ever did him a wrong. He was willing to give his Roman Catholic fellowmen the same privileges he enjoyed himself.

Councillor Meldrum in seconding the third reading of the bylaw, expressed his sorrow that the creed question had been raised in the council. The whole affair was unfortunate. He was in favour of a reduction of the council and thought that five councillors or commissioners, with no disparagement to the present members, could manage far better than was done today. He had no fault to find with those who voted against the passage of the bylaw in council, as all had a perfect right to vote according to their convictions. In his opinion it would have been much better if no letters had appeared in the papers and the matter had been quietly settled in the council.

Councillor J. M. White thought that as Councillor Cobb was not able to be present on account of illness it would be better not to take the vote, but wait until he could be present.

Councillor Dawson stated that he did not think he had been reported correctly regarding his objections to the bylaw. He thought it was of voting for the councillors. There was no fairer way than the ward system. If a councillor did not suit his ward it was easy to put him out, whereas by the proposed system if a councillor was a jolly good fellow he would probably be returned no matter what his short comings were. Then again, men who were not at all qualified for the council could be elected by the different organizations of the town. The Ontario Government when it passed such an enactment might just as well have commenced the reform at home and had all its members elected by a popular vote instead of from constituencies. The Government should begin its reforms by cutting off the high paid officials who were eating the vitals out of the people. The reduction in the county representatives had not proved satisfactory. Some of the townships in Peterborough county had been left without representatives. It would be the same in the town, and it was not fair. He had changed his mind about the bylaw and would not have voted against it only on account of the letters written to the papers by Mr. McWilliams. If Mr. McWilliams was as good a man to lead as he was to drive, he would be at the head of affairs in the town.

THE MAYOR SAID

that the council was there to do its duty, irrespective of any articles in the papers, which might have hurt the feelings of the members. They had heard the letter of the solicitor on the matter, and should carry out the wishes of the people.

Councillor Dawson said that the desired end could have been reached quietly without rushing into print.

The Mayor wanted to know if Councillor Dawson meant that he was at the bottom of any of the letters in the papers.

Councillor Dawson promptly disclaimed any such intention.

Councillor Best stated that Mr. McWilliams' opinion in the matter did not change his views in the least. He did not think that the bylaw had been submitted to the people properly. They should have been allowed to vote on the reduction of ward representation at the same time. The bylaw has been sprung too suddenly. More than 90 per cent. of the ratepayers did not understand it. An expression of opinion should have been called for and the opinion asked at the general elections in January.

OF THE RATEPAYERS

The vote was then called for, resulting as follows:

Yeas—Councillors Denne, Allen, Hamilton, McWilliams, Meldrum and Langford—6.

Nays—Councillors Best, W. H. White, Robertson, Dawson and J. M. White—5.

The bylaw was declared passed, and was signed and sealed.

On motion of Councillors Meldrum and J. M. White, the town clerk was authorized to advertise in the Montreal and Toronto papers for tenders for a fifteen ton roller, for delivery on Sept. 1st.

Councillor Langford urged the council to go slowly in the purchase of a roller. A number of excellent English machines were in the market which had yet to be heard from. The single cylinder roller had given great satisfaction in Hamilton, but he had seen a double cylinder one in London which was greatly liked. He had heard of another make which was declared to be worth two of any other grade.

On motion of Councillors Denne and Hamilton, the clerk will ascertain the price paid for a roller which was purchased by Galt.

Councillor J. M. White asked what had been done in reference to the Auburn Mills fire protection.

The special committee which was entrusted with the matter will make an early report to the council.

Messrs. Griffiths & MacPherson Co.

Gentlemen,—"My son, Samuel Bennie, got his leg crushed and bruised in the mines seven weeks ago. The swelling never fully left it until we tried your Menthol Liniment. On the first application the swelling disappeared and the muscles began to loosen up, so much so that the same evening he was able to use his foot freely for the first time. I consider it the best liniment known."

DUNCAN BENNIE.

The Best Remedy for Coughs and Colds.

Mr. Chas. Bennett, Cambrie St., Vancouver, writes: "I do not believe Griffiths' Menthol Liniment has an equal for Coughs and Colds. My two children, aged 3 and 5 years, had a severe cough for some days, and coughed nearly all night. After using other remedies without success, we tried Griffiths' Menthol Liniment. We gave each 5 and 7 drops when going to bed; and rubbed their chests well with it; they did not cough during that night and in less than two days with continued treatment they were altogether better. My wife says she would not be without it in the home under any circumstances."

A LETTER FROM ALASKA.

Mr. George Stethem has received the following letter from a former resident of Peterborough, Mr. W. M. Donnelly, uncle of Mr. Harry Donnelly, who, with his partner, Mr. Shaw, a Rochester gentleman, went up to Alaska to seek fortune and gold—with what results the following letter to Mr. Geo. Stethem will show:

Copper River, Alaska, June 7, 1898.

I have been expecting some word from you before this, but up to date none. I wrote you from Orca and again from Alegauck, and not receiving any letter from you, came to the conclusion that nothing of any importance had transpired, so did not fret about it. * * * I have written to several parties, but up to date have not had the first scratch of a pen from anyone. Well, it is probably just as well, as every letter means $1—that is the regular price. Mosquitos are the only things free here. They are fearful, and are just as plentiful on the snow as in the flats—and that awful.

Well, George, let me assure you that this has been a pretty tough proposition getting up this river. She is a son of a gun there are about 3,500 people in this district. Some have gone crazy, some committed suicide, others killed, some hung, and some died My poor partner died on the morning of the 1st. Poor fellow; he came a long way to find a lonely grave. We should not come in on this route—it is a tough one. There has not been any strikes of any note as yet. Kindly remember me to all enquiring friends, not forgetting Archie, and believe me,

Yours sincerely,
W. M. DONNELLY.

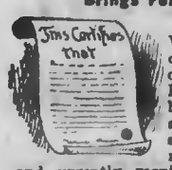
THIS CERTIFICATE

Brings Forth a Story.



BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

We, the undersigned, certify that the health of the Rev. R. A. Bilkey has for months been deteriorating, and that he is now suffering from severe nervous prostration, and urgently requires immediate and prolonged rest. J. W. McLaughlin, M.D., A. Beith, M.D., L. Holland Reid, M.R.C.S., etc.

THIS INTERVIEW TELLS IT.

A reporter called on the Rev. R. A. Bilkey, rector St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, during a church function, and on congratulating him on the great change for the better in his appearance, the reverend gentleman said, "It is due entirely to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

"I suffered for over three years from extreme nervousness, weakness and prostration, and could not obtain relief. A few months ago it became only too apparent that extreme nervous prostration had set in, as I lost flesh and appetite rapidly. Three of our four medical men pronounced me in urgent need of immediate and prolonged rest in order to build up my nervous system, giving me a certificate to that effect. About this time, by pure accident, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills were brought to my notice. I decided to try them, and on doing so a decided change for the better took place at once. I have since continued taking the pills, with continued and marked benefit and improvement. My appetite has returned. I am gaining in flesh steadily, and my general health is now good. Further, I am sure that these results are due to the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I have every confidence that they will do for others all that they have done for me."

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 6 boxes for $2, at Druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by the Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

THE HEADACHE HABIT.

Some Excellent Advice About Periodic Headaches in Childhood.

The headache habit rarely becomes established before the age of seven years, and not often earlier than fourteen. Prior to the latter age headaches are usually of irregular occurrence, and directly traceable to fatigue, nervous excitement or overeating.

Periodic headaches, occurring at somewhat regular intervals of from two to six weeks, have characteristics of their own. The pain is located at a particular point, often just over one eye. At the beginning of the attack the child is frequently pale and the expression worried, while later the face is flushed. The eyes are extremely sensitive to light. Before and during the attacks the whole nature of the child is changed. He is dull, drowsy, listless or irritable. Vision is frequently double or otherwise disordered. Often after sleep the child will waken with all the symptoms gone. Days of wholesome, pleasurable excitement are marred by the occurrence of a prostrating attack of recurring headache.

The above description will create a mental picture of a disorder which has proved the bugbear of the whole childhood of many a reader.

The best treatment for the periodic headaches of childhood is preventive. It is noticed that in nearly every case one parent or the other has suffered in like manner. This fact should put parents on their guard when a child has headache from slight provocation. The younger the child is when such headaches begin, the more painstaking and persistent should be the care taken to prevent the establishment of a headache habit.

Care in the quality and quantity of food is of vital importance, in every case. The child needs plenty of wholesome food, and is often benefited by some light nourishment between meals. He will then be less apt to overload the stomach, or to eat too quickly at meal hours. The supper should always be a light meal. Butter and cream are articles of food at once nourishing and digestible, and a craving for them is not to be discouraged.

The hours of sleep should be long; ten hours are not too much for any child.

Periodic headaches are most common to children who are much with their elders, and with books, and who are led to grasp at mental problems suitable only for older persons. At the beginning of school life the child is placed under an unusual strain, mental and physical. To offset this he should be encouraged to take part in outdoor sports and games. If a tendency to headache is developed, he should be directed to outdoor life and play and away from too much reading and school work.

It is presumed that every modern schoolhouse is thoroughly ventilated. It is to the credit of nearly all teachers that they are alive to the importance of fresh air.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes and a sallow complexion will defy the best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

ADJUSTABLE COW STALLS.

An Excellent Device For Keeping Cows Clean and Comfortable.

A system of cow fastening that is regarded by those who have tried it as superior to the stanchion in every way is shown in the accompanying illustration. Professor Henry of the Wisconsin experiment station recommends it in the highest terms. It is so simple that it can be understood by a little study of the illustration.

Professor Henry writes of this stall: Sufficient time has now elapsed to permit of a correct opinion, I think, and I wish to say to you at this time that we are more than pleased with this method of fastening cows, or rather confining them, for there is no fastening about it. The strong points in this stall as we see it are:

It is perfectly adjustable. Half a minute suffices to fit it to any cow or even to a 10 months calf.

In this stall the cows can lick themselves, swing their heads to one side when lying down, stretch out their legs and be perfectly comfortable standing or lying.

The fastening is such as to keep the cows even cleaner than they are when confined in a rigid stanchion. We have not spent two hours currying our cows this winter, and yet their flanks are as clean as any other part of the body.

Each cow being entirely separate from her neighbor, there is no danger of one stepping on the udder or teats of the other.

For milking it is a very convenient system. Our men report very favorably in this particular.

Cows take up no more space than when in stanchions.

Let me say in one sentence that we are entirely satisfied with this method of fastening, and I believe the system will come into general adoption by dairymen who are willing to incur a little expense to provide comfort for their cows and desire to keep them entirely clean.

Silage and Cheese.

So far as cheese is concerned there was a pretty fair test of the effects of silage in the World's fair cheese contest between the breeds. Silage, and of a confessedly inferior quality, was fed to the cows a part of the time, and the herd that ate the most silage scored highest in flavor, and the herd that ate least silage scored lowest in flavor.

We do not by any means attribute this difference in the flavor of the cheese to the larger quantity of silage eaten by the Shorthorns. Just what did produce it may never be known, and we are not prepared to hazard even a guess. If we ever have a full analysis of the different milks and of the cheese, there may be some light to guide. For the present all that can be safely said is that this experience may be accepted as confirming what other trials have shown as to the absence of injurious effects by silage upon the milk for cheesemaking purposes, and inferentially for all other purposes.—Exchange.

A Lump In a Teat.

A fresh cow of mine has a lump in her teat the size of a small bean, and it stops the flow of milk. Is there any remedy? Would a milking tube be of any account?—J. L. R.

The lump should be broken or cut off with a teat slitter, a long, narrow bladed, concealed knife, which can be pressed into the teat and then the blade pressed out to cut to any desired depth. In the absence of the teat slitter or of a veterinary surgeon to operate on the teat for you the lump could probably be broken off with a milking tube, or, still better, by a probe of the size and once or twice the length of a milking tube, with one end sharpened to a flattened point. Carefully insert the probe or tube in the teat until the lump is reached; then by manipulation force the probe through the lump until it is broken down sufficiently to allow a free passage of the milk. After the operation it may be desirable to leave a milking tube in the teat for a few days to prevent the opening from closing in healing.—F. L. Kilborne in Rural New Yorker.

This Creamery Paid.

Having just closed a year's work in the creamery business, I will give you a few figures showing what can be done in a small way. In a volume of business amounting to less than $14,000, after paying all expenses, improvements, repairs, etc., and dividends amounting to 14 per cent, we have some $300 remaining in the sinking fund. With reference to the benefits derived by patrons, we have paid them an average of 22½ cents per pound for butter fat, besides the skimmilk, which they were allowed gratis. Out of 1,178,099 pounds milk, we manufactured 55,000 pounds butter, an average of 4.58 pounds per 100 pounds milk. Cost to manufacture, 3.894 cents per pound; sold butter at an average of 26.469 cents per pound. The demand for fancy goods is growing, and with the exception of 10 days in May last, have not been able to meet the demand at home. —Cor. Hoard's Dairyman.

To make fine butter in winter begin to feed your cows with ensilage as soon as practicable. Do not forget to add bran, oilmeal, cottonseed meal or gluten meal.

AN APARTMENT HOTEL.

One Designed That Is Causing Talk Even Among Architects.

The latest house idea in Chicago is an apartment hotel of unique plan that will soon grace the intersection of Belleview Place with North State and Rush streets. The picture shows the exterior design, which is calculated to get all the light available for the occupants. It will have a ground area of 200x270 feet, and will be twelve stories high. The cost is estimated at $1,000,000. One of the especially fine features of the building will be the absence of all machinery from the building, an adjacent lot having been secured for the location of all such. It will have a large natatorium, bachelors' clubrooms, and a large part will be devoted to clubmen, as well as to first-class families. It will have the handsomest and best equipped ballroom in the United States, excepting that of the Waldorf-Astoria of New York, which will be devoted to no other purpose. The kitchen and dining rooms will be on the top floor, in order that the scents from cooking may not annoy the guests. The hotel is to be erected by a stock company.

Set a Good Example.

Children early catch the tone of their surroundings and become harsh or tender, indifferent or solicitous, sympathetic or selfish, courteous or rude, as those around them. By a loving example and persuasive influence they can be accustomed from the first to take pleasure in each other's joy, and to be sorry for each other's pain—to try to promote the one and assuage the other, to be kind and courteous, generous and self-sacrificing, until such feelings and conduct grow to be the habit of their lives.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

Death Sometimes Spares.

A pathetic story of fact is told by an ex-Confederate soldier of one dark night on the skirmish line during the war. When on the instant that his musket was aimed to kill a Union picket the latter, suddenly inspired with a sense of his own defenceless condition, began to sing those beautiful words: "Cover my defenceless head with the shadow of thy wing." The Confederate withheld his hand. He could not fire. The picket's life was saved.

Death sometimes spares the one who seems marked to be his victim. Let no one despair, even in the darkest hour. Many a man who seemed picked out for death by consumption has found respite and safety through the use of that wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery," which Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., invented thirty years ago, and which has brought new life and hope to almost countless thousands of men and women.

Every day brings a multitude of letters to Dr. Pierce, telling gratefully what his medicines and his advice have done to restore health and happiness to homes where hitherto sickness and misery had reigned supreme.

A gentleman living in Stillwater, Washington County, Minnesota, Mr. C. J. McNaney, writes: "In the spring of 1884, I was taken ill with consumption, and after trying everything I could hear of and doctoring all summer my physician said I had consumption, and that my left lung was nearly gone, and that I could live but a short time. About twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery brought me out all right, and I cured myself of two more attacks of the same trouble. I am satisfied that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' will cure consumption if taken in time. I consider it the best medicine in the world for the diseases for which it is recommended."

LESSONS IN FEEDING.

A Bill of Fare For Young Chicks In Hot Weather.

If you have been feeding the chicks wet, sloppy, raw feed, you have been making a mistake, and if you continue to so feed during the warm weather you will certainly lose a great many chicks, and those you do succeed in raising will not be right. Discard the sloppy, raw feed right now. I believe that this kind of feed is the cause of the death, during the summer months, of more chicks than is anything else except lice. The food is allowed to sour and at once the chicks become affected with bowel complaint. Nothing will so reduce the vitality of a chick as will bowel trouble, and with the attendant effects it soon greatly reduces the number of chicks. The fact is that one feed a day of soft stuff is sufficient. Not only is it sufficient, but more is absolutely injurious. Let this be fed in the morning. If the feed consists of any part of cornmeal, let it be moistened with scalding water. It will then swell before it is consumed instead of after if fed raw. As to the other feeds, I have found nothing so good as millet seed. It is rich in oil and other desired properties and is greatly relished by the chicks. Do not feed it exclusively, for a mixed and varied feed is essential to growth. Remember this. This season I am feeding as follows:

Morning feed, mixture of cornmeal, ground oats, barley and rye, moistened with scalding water, with a little milk added.

Noon, millet seed one day, wheat the next.

Night, cracked corn one day, a mixture of wheat and millet the next.

Twice a week a feed of whole barley, soaked in boiling water for about 12 hours, is given.

An occasional feed of raw cut bone is also given, not more often than twice a week. Let this take the place of the noon feed.

Upon this bill of fare the chicks will grow and thrive wonderfully. Some trouble, you say. Yes. But I have learned that in this world it pays when we are doing a thing to do it. It is the man who makes the most out of his opportunities who succeeds, and the fellow who is not willing to do this don't cut much of a figure in this busy, practical world, especially in the poultry yard.—Cor. American Poultry Journal.

Practical Breeding.

When we have said that we believed that the bird for the farmer or the village poultry keeper to have is a standard bred bird, we have known that many who have good flocks of fowl would feel that they could not afford to dispose of their entire flocks of hens and pullets to begin anew upon some that would be all of one breed. Whether it would be profitable for them to accomplish this by selling their own eggs in the market and paying more for eggs to hatch from well bred birds we will not discuss now, because if we were able to prove to our own satisfaction that it would be for their advantage to do so they would not all be convinced, or, convinced against their will, "they would be of the same opinion still." For such we have another suggestion to offer. Select next season some of the best fowl in the flock, healthy, active and good layers, and mate them with a male of some good breed to obtain eggs for hatching, allowing all other hens to run without any male. It is not necessary to obtain a prize bird nor a 95 point bird, but get as good a one as the means will allow, or such as you will feel a little proud of, and from those matings raise chickens. Raise enough of them to allow of the pullets being carefully culled, and the best selected for next year's breeding to the same male or another of the same breed. We are not so much afraid of inbreeding as some, and less so when grading up from a mixed flock than we would be if cock and hen were of the same breed. But do not use one of the grade males for breeding purposes.—American Cultivator.

Cocks as Breeders.

It is not an unusual thing for a cock turkey to take charge of a brood of young ones, and go about with them and hover them as the hen would and we have even heard that if one were shut up for awhile with a clutch of eggs he would proceed to sit on them and hatch them out, but we never tested the truth of this. Yet it would not be strange if true, as we know that in some wild birds the male has to do his share of the incubation of the eggs and with many kinds the father feeds the young quite as frequently and faithfully as the mother. Capons also are said to be ready upon a little persuasion to take charge of a brood of chickens, but now we have a story in an exchange of a Brahma rooster that took charge of a lot of chickens after the hen had left them and brooded them faithfully.

Large Eggs Not Best For Hatching.

A poultry breeder says that extra large sized eggs seldom hatch well, and he prefers the medium sized eggs from the same flock. It is doubtful if a chicken was hatched from a very large egg whether it would grow to make any larger fowl or one that would be more likely to lay large eggs than the chicken from an egg of medium size. Possibly by such selections for several generations the trait might become fixed, but usually the very large egg is an unnatural production or an accidental one and is by the condition of the fowl before laying.

This Looks Like Good Business.

A poultry keeper in Maine wintered 1,000 hens, and a late report says he sold from 2,400 hens and chickens and 600 dozen eggs, from which he hoped to obtain 1,000 more chickens. His choice table eggs are sold in Boston, and it is to be presumed that he finds it profitable business, as he is careful to raise the best layers and only those that lay brown eggs, as they sell in this city 2 or 3 cents a dozen higher than the smaller eggs or mixed lots.

WRITES A LETTER ON DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

He says: My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of ours recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a complete cure. We were so pleased with the ointment that I tried it myself, as I have been troubled with an unsightly skin affliction which covered the lower part of my face.

For 25 years I suffered untold agony, and was treated by the best medical skill in the United States. I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment worth its weight in gold for piles and skin disease.

Sufferers are at liberty to correspond with the above address and will obtain full particulars regarding the great cure.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

GUSSIE'S WOOING.

Or the Ardent Youth, the Haughty Maiden and the Deceased Uncle.

Augustus de Stayer pulled out his watch and looked nervously at it. Would he propose now, at a quarter to 12, or wait till half past 1? was the great question that was agitating the place where his mind ought to be.

"Must you go?" inquired the proud beauty thoughtfully, half rising.

"Oh, no," stammered Augustus, "that is, I don't know. It—or—it depends, you know." This with a tender glance at the afore mentioned proud beauty, who was rapidly assuming an expression of countenance by no means tending to enhance her loveliness.

"I can get you the exact time if you desire," she rejoined calmly.

"It is not time I want," murmured the impassioned lover, with a terrific accent on the word "time."

"No," remarked his companion, temporarily disappearing behind a delicate yawn, "I notice that that is a commodity you seem to place very little value upon."

"When I am with you, I forget all else."

"The cool night air will soon recall the number of your boarding house to you."

"No, no; you misunderstand me. Little do you dream"—

"I have so little time to," interrupted she apologetically.

"You talk of time," cried Augustus.

"It is better than to talk against it," observed the lady.

"Time!" ejaculated Augustus, with sudden scorn.

"High time," agreed she, with touching sympathy.

"Henrietta, Henrietta," suddenly entreated Augustus de Stayer, falling ecstatically on his knees before the cruel custodian of his heart, "why—why—why are the hours when I am with you like the second hand of a watch?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," responded Henrietta coldly, "but I know why you are like a clock with a broken main spring."

Then did Augustus de Stayer gather himself up and take his departure, forgetting his silver headed umbrella, and abandon forever all hope of the proud and haughty beauty that had thus scorned his tender love?

Not much. He told her how an old uncle had just died unexpectedly in India and left him $10,000 a year, to say nothing of all sorts of sage advice and a most excellent recipe for making curry.

FASHION AND FABRIC.

The trimmed skirt appears to advance more rapidly and more generally in favor than the draped or overskirted styles.

All the round hats this season which tilt over the face, almost concealing the eyes, have very wide, low set, flaring trimmings on the front and sides.

Tinted horse chestnut blossoms are very prettily worn on beige colored beach hats of milan braid trimmed with ficelle lace and brown satin ribbon.

Many of the black and white silk mulls, silk dotted batistes and figured organdie muslins, are made with a circular skirt and trimmed with countless narrow ruches made of black mousseline de soie or black satin ribbon.

For the early autumn there are shown some pretty Paquin coat models in silk or satin, slightly longer than the spring and summer shapes, cut either in continuous lengths from neck to hem or finished with applied basques.

Some of the most stylish summer tailor costumes worn at Newport this season for morning drives, beach walks, etc., are made of smooth, fine Irish linen trimmed with rows of white braid or linen lace insertions and edgings.

Satin striped zephyr goods are very dainty and attractive this season, with plain white or neutral stripes in satin finish and woven about an inch and a half apart and filled in with little checks or lines of pink, violet, ciel blue, mauve, yellow or gray.

Many really beautiful dresses for the summer have been formed by using the partly worn silk gowns of past seasons for the foundation for new outer dresses of muslin, net, grenadine, etamine and other transparent or semidiaphanous textiles.—New York Post.

LIFE IN CAMP.

Scenes and Incidents in the Tented Summer Home Life of the Y.M.C.A.

PLEO CAMP, Y.M.C.A.,
Aug. 8th, 1898.

"Rumble, Rumble, Hullo, Bullo—Whistle, Thistle, Boo-ka-zoo—Hallo!"

This is our hallo. We are bent on a jolly good time, and are having it without a doubt.

We are faring well for grub; getting everything that's good, and lots of it. Mr. Robinson's store is close, and we are his best customers.

Five o'clock a.m. sees everybody up and ready for the day.

Several of us boys go a mile or two to the farm every morning before breakfast to get our supply of milk, eggs, butter, etc.

Pancakes were introduced as a side dish this morning, and the pile soon disappeared.

Yesterday all hands except section 4 (which was on duty) went to the pavilion to church. Our camp was honoured by having Mr. Williamson, our leader, take the service. The pavilion was full; all enjoyed the meeting.

On the way home the water was very rough, but the sail was grand. It took us two hours to go three miles. Of course we tacked.

Mr. Stubbs is an expert sailor and knows how to handle boys as well as his craft, "Pleo." The boys all appreciate the sacrifice he has made this year in spending his holidays in making a good time for them.

There is not a disloyal boy in camp. Everybody undertakes the work allotted to him. The spirit of helpfulness prevails.

Yesterday afternoon the Secretary conducted Sunday school in tent No. 1. Everybody was present and not a few took part. The religious element is not lacking in the camp. The morning Psalm and prayers are conducted amid profound silence.

Baseball commences to-day. The Y. M. C. A. nine will play Harvey Sunday school team to-morrow. They exourt here.

Some excitement was caused the other day when a group came to land after a long row with a report that a colony of mosquitos had been discovered. All these individuals, it will be remembered, had died with July and the newcomers were quite unwelcome. It is stated they are "Americans." The camp is well prepared for an attack in the open, but the mosquitos prefer fighting in ambush, or under cover of darkness.

A "shin beat" is a camp fire. One is held every evening before bed time.

The boys have a great time settling down for the night. Tents No. 1 and 2 have a pitched battle every night—boots, pillows, fish poles, pine cones, in fact anything loose, are used as weapons. The camp name for a missle is "quay."

Some of the boys have had attacks of nightmare, and the one who the other night got up and made a long speech and closed by saying "The man in the moon said so," has failed to give an explanation of the cause.

Mr. Williamson is the camp doctor and is a good one. He has three or four bottles of drugs which will cure anything, also court plaster and sponge for applying witch hazel. Sunburn is the only disease in camp, and it is very prevalent.

Fishing has been good, and three of the boys came in with a string of twenty or more on Friday night.

I must close now. More anon.

THE SCRIBE.

STONY LAKE NOTES.

The Regatta to be Held on August 18th—Concerts on August 15th and 22nd—Other Interesting News.

The Cottagers' Association met at the Stony Lake pavilion yesterday. A number of matters of interest to the cottagers were considered. It was decided to hold the piano under rental and not to purchase one until next season. It was also decided to hold concerts at the pavilion on the evenings of Monday, August 15th, and Monday, August 22nd, with the usual hops afterwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Massey, of Toronto, who sang so delightfully last year, Mrs. Boggs and others of marked ability on the lake, have kindly offered their assistance and the two concerts promise to be of high character.

The young people are anticipating much pleasure at the hops.

At the request of the cottagers the Postmaster General has changed the name of the post office in Dummer from that of Stony Lake to Clarina, so that letters now addressed to Stony Lake will go to Juniper Island.

It was resolved to petition the Ontario Government to establish a hatchery for the propagation of bass and lunge at Burleigh, and to petition the Dominion Government to prohibit totally the commercial export of fish from the back lakes, and also to make the close season for lunge from Feb. 1st to June 15th.

Attention was drawn to the action of the Provincial Board of Health prohibiting the placing of closets overhanging the water. All cottagers will be compelled to observe this very proper regulation.

The annual regatta will take place on the Civic Holiday, August 18th. The matter of prizes is in the hands of the committee.

The renown of Stony Lake for its splendid fishing seems to be spreading far and wide and more Americans yearly come to it. Last night another batch of fishermen from across the border arrived to try their luck.

The Lakes are at present pretty well crowded, amongst them being a large number of Americans.

The pavilion was crowded beyond its capacity at the service last Sunday morning. Provisions will be made to accommodate the overflow next Sunday.

A son of the late Dr. Hutchinson, of Peterborough, whose name will be familiar to the older residents of the town, came down from the Lakes last evening. It is is over forty years since he has visited the waters of old Stony, having camped at Boschink away back in the fifties. Needless to say the change from the solitude of those days to the Stony Lake of to-day is a revelation to Mr. Hutchinson, as is the development and growth of Peterborough, with which he is delighted. Naturally, forty years has also made a great change in Mr. Hutchinson, and he is now a venerable, gray-haired old gentleman.

THE WHEEL—CANADIAN BICYCLES.

In this country the silent revolution wrought by the bicycle has been attended by the evolution, almost equally rapid, of a bicycle industry. A labour-saving, time-saving machine, meeting a want felt by everybody, the wheel has made an important place for itself in our economy, and is used to expedite the business or otherwise promote the happiness of hundreds of thousands of Canadians every day. Most of these wheels, practically all of the best of them, bear the stamp of a Canadian workshop. They are the product of our own industry. Though from the nature of its usefulness the demand for the bicycle sprang up and expanded very rapidly, it was not allowed to get a long start on our manufacturing enterprise. Works were promptly established at various points, large numbers of skilled men were employed, and Canadian bicycles were put on the market. In the meantime, and until the excellence of our own high-grade wheels became popularly recognized, European manufacturers had all our bicycle trade to themselves. But in the year 1896 the trade turned. The splendid work of our own factories then began to tell upon the sales of their foreign competitors, and, as a result, hundreds of thousands of dollars were saved for Canada every year to the benefit of Canadian enterprise and Canadian labour. Not only did the Canadian manufacturers almost completely displace their trans Atlantic rivals, but they have followed up these rivals, and are competing against them in most of the large cities of the United Kingdom and in some of the continental countries. Though Canadian manufacturers have thus demonstrated their ability to sell both at home and abroad against the best makes of other countries, they are by no means rid of foreign competition in our own market. They have still to cope with United States manufacturers. The bicycles which these latter send into Canada are as a class not of a kind to be encountered by high-grade wheels. If they were wheels of a superior quality there is little doubt that Canadian makers would be able to hold their own against them. But the majority of the bicycles exported hither from the United States are of a second grade, or are even lower in the scale of quality, many of them being the cheap, trashy products of factories where female and other low-priced labour is employed. Such wheels are made almost exclusively for export.—Mail and Empire.

BURGLAR PARE AGAIN

He Tells of Two Keys Hidden in His Cell.

DISCREPANCIES ARE APPARENT.

The Expert Safe Combination Worker Describes in Detail His Preliminary and Final Visits to the Bank—His Arrest as a Suspicious Character — Message-Bearer Mackie.

Napanee, Aug. 10.—Three days' rest made George Pare's voice, that had become almost inaudible by Friday afternoon, so resonant yesterday that even the women sitting at the back of the court room could hear every word he said.

W. S. Herrington referred to the published statements that Detective Dougherty and others had been drilling Prisoner Pare in his story. The lawyer said: There is not a particle of truth in the statement. No one except myself has interviewed Prisoner Pare. There was no ground whatever for the complaints. I can assure you that nothing improper has taken place.

Mr. Porter said he was glad to have the Crown speak in this way, for it cleared up a serious charge.

Taking up Pare's cross-examination, Mr. Porter pursued his wonted course of going deeply into details, referring to the night when Pare said that Ponton had told him Manager Baines was fingering with the combination. Pare said on that night: I gave Ponton the brass key. The night after he had said both the safe and the vault were on the day lock. "We went in a barn and slept for that night."

The witness' memory seemed under a cloud, for he was not dead sure whether Mackie came or not the next day. That night the witness said he went to Ponton's room. He asked Ponton what success he had had. He said he had tried the key a couple of times, but that it would not work. "If you had the numbers would you have a chance to try it?" he asked. "Yes," Ponton said.

Here the witness again went into a long lecture upon how the combination is worked.

Picking up the thread of the story, Pare reiterated his evidence of last week concerning the instructions he had given Ponton. He said Ponton had told him that nothing could be done for two weeks. During this time Ponton was seen almost nightly by Pare. After he had been given the combination Ponton reported that he had tried all the numbers, but could not open the safe. Two days after he gave Ponton the combination he went to the park and watched a baseball match. When he and Holden left the grounds the county constable got into his buggy. He watched them closely, as if he thought they were suspicious characters. They were accosted by the constable with, "Where are you going." "We are going home," he said.

"Well, I guess you will come along with us first," said the constable as he arrested them. Witness continuing, said: "I had three keys; one opened the door going into the bank, the second opened Mr. Baines' compartment, another I had up my sleeve. I kept the first one; I buried the last two in the station house. I was arrested about 6 o'clock at night and was put in the station house over night."

"What did you do next morning?" asked Mr. Porter.

"I'm a day ahead," said the witness. "Before I was arrested I had been in the bank. The night after I gave Ponton the correct combination. I went to Ponton's rooms. He told me he had tried the combination in vain."

He then re-detailed his visit to the bank while Holden watched.

"On the morning following the baseball match we were brought before the beak and were given an hour to leave the town," he continued. "There was found in my possession a piece of wire which I had found in the park, and it was bent crooked, but I could not say that it was filed. I thought it was a bicycle tool and put it in my pocket."

"What did Holden have on him?" was asked.

"I think there was a piece of broom wire found on him," said Pare. "I had some coppers and some silver coins on my person. I had not any of the cartridges with me. Holden did not have any of them. Holden had no money. Everything found on us when we were searched was given back to us. That night we met Mackie on the bridge and we told him what had happened. I told him, 'I have the combination. We have got to put this game through as soon as possible.'"

"When I was in the safe there was $70,000 or $75,000. I had a good chance to take it all if I had wanted to. I didn't take it, because we could not carry it all off and do what was to be done with it. We had to have time to count out the money, divide it, and catch the 1.40 train, but we couldn't do it that night."

The witness got quite annoyed when the lawyer pressed him to give a reason why he did not take this large amount of money which was in the safe the second night before the robbery.

"When I went in I knew my work was already cut out. I was not prepared to take the money out. I could not count the money between 12 o'clock and 1.30, because it was impossible to do it the right way in that time.

"The next night Holden and I went to Belleville to the Dominion House to our old room. On Tuesday night Mackie came down again to see Ponton. He reported that we could go and get our money on Tuesday. On Wednesday Mackie went down again. He reported that there was over $83,000 in the bank. On Thursday afternoon Holder, Mackie and I came down to Napanee. We got off the train near the Belleville road and remained there till dark.

"A few minutes after 9 o'clock Mackie went over to Ponton's rooms to tell him we were coming to his rooms between 10 and 11, and to be sure and leave his door unlocked. Mackie came back in half an hour. After that we went up to Ponton's rooms. We pulled down the curtain in the middle room and sat down near the window. We looked the door and waited till 1 o'clock. Ponton came in then, and we sent him for a pitcher of water. He got it by going down the stairs. He was gone 10 or 15 minutes. When he came in I told him to go to bed, and that we would wake him up when the safe was cracked and have him split the money. I asked him, 'How much is there in the safe?'

"'About $19,000—between $18,000 and $19,000 in good money.'

"We did not crack the safe that night, because there was not enough good money in it. Besides, Ponton said there was a chance of having more money the next night. We three went by the back way to a rendezvous near the tracks. We had spent about an hour and a half in Ponton's room. We never had a light in Ponton's room at any time.

"Did you make any noise?"

"We kept just as quiet as we could. We sat there like 'Injuns.'"

In reply to Mr. Porter, Pare said: "If I said Ponton was asleep before I left the room, it is true. If I said so, it is true, certainly, but I don't think I said so."

According to the witness' evidence of last week, he said that Ponton was asleep before they left the room.

"When Perry passed we all took off our shoes and put on the shoes that were in the corner. I put on moccasins. We did this so as not to make any noise. We went out a few minutes after 11—five or ten minutes—and left the door unlocked."

The trip down the back stairs to the bank was recounted in marvellous detail, as was the robbery already luminously told itself.

Just as court was rising Mr. Osler asked, "Where did you put the keys?"

The witness then described their hiding place to Chief Adams and High Constable Sills. Under the foot of the bench I put the big key, between the floor and wood part; the little brass key in the end cell from the door.

Mr. Osler ordered the Chief to make a search at 9 o'clock this morning and invited the defence to be on hand.

Court adjourned till 9.30 to-day.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Debate on the Address Was Continued.

THE QUESTION OF INDEMNITY.

The Attorney-General Expresses Confidence in the Judiciary Opposition Challenged to Get Down to Facts—New Members Again Prominent The Various Questions at Issue Ably Discussed.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—The Attorney-General took advantage of the opportunity immediately upon the House assembling yesterday afternoon to make it clear that the Government and its supporters entertained no intention of casting reflection upon the judiciary of the Province. He was prompted to make this emphatic declaration by reason of the misconception of the intention of the hon. member for West Peterboro and the real import of his utterances on the previous day in reference to the action of the judges upon the proposition to refer to them for an opinion the question of the right of constables to vote. The Attorney-General made it quite clear that the judges had acted perfectly within their right and were free from blame, and paid a high tribute to the occupants of the bench.

Mr. Hardy also explained the statute concerning members' indemnity for a short session. Each member was entitled for each day's attendance to $6 and mileage, up to 30 days. If the session extended beyond that a special allowance could be appropriated and the members draw their balances at its close.

Mr. Crawford, West Toronto, after a pleasant remark concerning the payment of members, said that notwithstanding the Attorney-General's apology for Mr. Stratton's strictures on the judiciary he felt that that fluent gentleman had said something he should regret and that he did regret. He considered that the Legislature should make the laws, but the interpretation of them should be left to the judges. Respecting the early calling of the House together, the speaker said the Government had done it because they were in a hole and they wanted the party to help them out of it. They had been driven into this uncomfortable position largely by the legislation of last session, notably by the two backdowns, once to the liquor vote on the promised prohibitory law, and again in the case of the proposed amendments to the Lord's Day Act. He considered Mr. Hardy's criticisms of defeated Conservative candidates unkind, and said they were not on a parity with the defeated Ministers, inasmuch as the latter held office and drew salaries. He considered, too, that the claim for a reasonable time in which to fill the seats had been granted in the time which had elapsed since the elections. The fact is, as Mr. Hardy had admitted, said the speaker, the Premier had no talent on his side of the House to fill the portfolios held by Messrs. Dryden and Gibson. In discussing the constable vote Mr. Crawford said the early calling of the House together was sufficient justification for thinking that the Government feared the justice meted out by the courts. In closing he reminded the Government of the babe they had cradled and nursed, "the numbered ballot," and which had now like a wayward child turned upon and rended them.

Mr. Pattullo, South Oxford, said Mr. Whitney's following was not unanimous in disapproving of the calling of a summer session, for many of them after the protests were tried would never have the opportunity to meet in a session of the House. He did not believe, as many Oppositionists he quoted professed to do, in a government resigning because it had a reduced majority, and he said he felt that the charge that the Government was scared could hardly be seriously made in the face of the fact that it had called its opponents to meet it face to face at such an early date. He thought the Government was sure of another four years' lease of power. He then challenged the Opposition to specify instead of making general charges against alleged partizan officials, and then in speaking of Mr. Stratton's remarks on the judges, he said that although the courts had perhaps shown some favor in their decisions in some election cases, he and his party proposed to accept the decision of the courts on the constable vote as well as on any other question. He considered it strange that Mr. Hoyle had not noticed in his reading of the Farmer's Sun that it had been as strong for the retention of the defeated Ministers as it was against the Government's contention respecting the constable vote. He dealt with the good roads question and challenged Mr. Whitney to say what he would do with the office or its incumbent if he got into power. The Agricultural College and the traveling dairy, both of which had been very prosperous under Hon. Mr. Dryden, were eulogized. He ridiculed the suggestion of hon. gentlemen opposite that the affairs of the departments should, pending the re-election of the Ministers or the appointment of their successors, be administered by deputies who have no seats in the House, and in order that hon. gentlemen opposite might not be so much at sea as to what course the Government really ought to pursue, suggested that a party caucus be called to reconcile their different opinions. In concluding an exceedingly able speech Mr. Pattullo assured hon. gentlemen opposite that the Attorney-General and his colleagues possessed the entire confidence of the party, which is a united band, looking serenely into the future and believing that their already substantial majority will grow much larger during the next four years.

WELL KNOWN VIOLINIST

Traveled Extensively Throughout the Provinces—Interesting Statements Concerning His Experience.

STELLARTON, N. S.—James R. Murray, a well known violinist, of this place, who has traveled extensively throughout the Provinces, makes this statement:

"I was running down in health and my weight fell off from 175 to 150 pounds. Prescriptions did me but little good. My trouble was called nervous dyspepsia. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking five bottles I was greatly benefited. I feel as well now as ever in my life, and have increased in flesh so that I now weigh 177 pounds. I am well known in this part of the country, having followed my profession, that of a violin musician for the last 26 years. I gladly tell my friends what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. Before I began taking the medicine I did not have any ambition, but now all is changed and my dyspeptic trouble perfectly cured." JAMES R. MURRAY.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute. Be sure to get Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

AGAIN EVANGELISTS.

The British Weekly, in a recent issue, publishes the first series of answers to a set of questions on the effect of evangelistic missions, in bringing accessions to the churches, and their influence on the spiritual life of the congregations.

A glance over the answers referred to shows the complexity of the question, and the varied points of view from which it can be viewed. The strongest statement of the favourable answers comes from Edinburgh and is given in this qualified form: "There are missions and missions. missionaries and missionaries, but given the right man and the right time, evangelistic campaigns, even although they are not conducted under the ægis of any particular church, invariably do the churches good." This is a statement of faith by one speaking from large experience, but at the same time there is much stress to be laid on "the right man and the right time." Another tells us: "These gigantic missions have indeed acted as a stimulant upon the spiritual life of the churches, but stimulants in overstrong doses are rather dangerous. Many ministers have suffered many things at the hands of many professional evangelists, who have displayed a tendency to disparage any kind of spirituality which was revivalistic in its manifestations." We are told that at one mission nearly 100 names were taken down of people who professed "conversion," and that a year after "nearly all the leaders were present, but not one could tell of a member gained or retained."

But, on the other hand, a church visited by the same missioner seven years ago, still retains lively memories of the blessings received. As to injury received by the churches through such special services, the testimony is also various. Where it is claimed that the results were wholly beneficial, it is stated that special care was exercised in the conduct of the services. In some cases serious harm is reported through spurious excitement and artificial rapture, while one writer concludes his report with the words:—"As to injurious effect on the life of the church, I have never experienced any, unless the tendency to depreciate the ordinary pastorate be an injury, and perhaps it is." The word "perhaps" here weakens the statement, and suggests weakness on the part of the witness.

We have, however, given sufficient of this review to show the complexity of the subject. No brief formula can sum up the matter, so much depends upon men and moods, places and circumstances. In free lands there must be liberty for the preaching of the Gospel, and occasional rudeness or fanaticism is, after all, a small price to pay for such a blessing. Even the highest work has its limitations and dangers, and the minister must be a wise man who can avoid vulgar sensationalism and feeble fastidiousness, or stiff, narrow officialism, and a weak pandering to every novelty. It is a responsible thing to undertake such services, and it is also responsible to oppose them. Each case must settled on its own merits in the spirit of Christian charity. Special services must grow out of the real life of a congregation, and not be a mere attempt to organize it from the outside. The delusion is that such services can be a device for avoiding work and achieving high results by short and easy methods. They call for more work before and after, and only on that understanding can they bring real advantage. But all reasonable men will admit that a loss of faith in the quiet regular ministrations of the church is too high a price to pay for even a time of great excitement. Wholesome excitement must then be defined as that quickening of emotion which braces men for common duties, and quickens in them a keener perception of the Presence which gives real meaning and sacredness to daily life.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

MONTREAL and Brantford cannot reasonably be expected to vote for prohibition on the plebiscite. They have too much cold water as it is. Both are wrestling with the problem of preventing floods.

BISMARK dead is a match for the young Kaiser, who is not allowed to repair the indignities put upon the late Chancellor during his life time. The Emperor has been rather masterful in his exhibition of Imperial puppyism, and it must be humiliating that even the marble heart cold in death can yet exercise its power to sting.

As one of the indications of returning prosperity to Canada the Galt Reporter says: "We do not aim at a political moral. We are simply stating a fact. With the advent of Mr. Laurier into power, came better times for local and other manufacturers. Business has steadily improved and to-day Galt manufacturers have a larger output than ever before. This is called a town of industries and the compliment was never more deserved than now, when nearly every establishment is enlarging its premises, adding to its staff and widening its commercial field. Public headway is as marked as private enterprise, and bright indeed is the future of the Manchester of Canada."

THE Canadian Grocer reports a good opening for Canadian raspberries in Great Britain. An experimental shipment of five carloads is being made, the berries being packed in 10-pound round tins. Large quantities of berries from New England are annually imported by the British, and there is no reason why Canadians should not share the market. The Grocer truly says the development of such an industry would leave thousands of dollars in the hands of the farmers and country merchants. Those who have taken up lands in new districts, where wild raspberries chiefly abound, will find them a most valuable source of income at a time when a few dollars are most needed.

THIRD parties will not down. No sooner does one bite the dust than another rises to take its place. At different times in our history we have had the clear Grits, the Grangers, the Equal Righters, the P.P.A., the Patrons of Industry and, all the time, the Prohibitionists. All excepting the last have been dissipated to their original fragments, and now from their ashes arises the Canadian Compatriots, an organization, which, according to its chief founder and friend, G. W. Wrigley, will embrace all conditions and occupations of life, and will tackle both provincial and federal politics. At present the Patrons are the leading factors in the new political party, but Socialists, labour unions, the W. C. T. U. and Prohibitionists are gradually "being absorbed by the movement." The object of it is to bring about general political reforms. Direct legislation is the most important of these. Proportional representation is another feature of the new platform. The other planks are Government control of telegraph, telephone and railway services, taxation of land values, Government issue of money, the prohibition of the liquor traffic. The promoters of the new party state that it was only when they realized the futility of inducing either of the existing parties to adopt these reforms that the organization was commenced. As it is the party would be willing to co-operate with any politicians who would actively endorse their ideas.—Ottawa Journal.

DECLINE IN WHEAT.

Liverpool Went Down and Chicago Sympathized to the Extent of One Cent—The Prices.

Tuesday Evening, Aug. 9.

On the Chicago market to-day all deliveries of wheat declined about a cent a bushel, but there was a recovery before the close and this month's article finished the day a cent above yesterday's final figures, and the later options closed with losses of only ½c to ¼c for the session. The initial weakness was due partly to the lower cables from Liverpool and partly to the increasing receipts of new wheat.

On the Liverpool board to-day September wheat declined 1½d per cental, and the December option 1½d. Paris prices are off 5 to 30 centimes.

The receipts of live stock at the Western Cattle Market were fair—71 car loads, composed of 1075 cattle, 1091 sheep and lambs, 1400 hogs and 60 calves.

The quality of the fat cattle offered was fairly good, and on account of light deliveries last week, which had the effect of cleaning up the market, trade was inclined to be active.

Prices for exporters were slightly easier, the bulk selling from $4.25 to $4.50, with one or two choice loads going at 10c more per cwt.

Loads of good butchers' and exporters, mixed, sold at $4 to $4.20 per cwt.

Butchers' cattle were also inclined to be weaker, in sympathy with the exporters, but not being as plentiful as the latter, prices remained unchanged from Friday's quotations.

Choice picked lots sold at $4.15 to $4.30, loads of good $3.90 to $4.12½, medium $3.00 to $3.80, common $3.20 to $3.40, inferior $3 to $3.25 per cwt.

There were about 18 milk cows which sold at $28 to $47 each, with one extra choice milker going at $50.

Heavy feeders were in demand, several farmers being on the market looking for some of good quality, but returned home without any, as there were few of any kind being offered. Prices remain unchanged.

There were not many Buffalo stockers offered, and although the market seemed to be firmer, prices were unchanged, selling all the way from $3 to $3.40, the bulk going at about $3.25 per cwt.

Sheep—There was a fairly large run of sheep to-day, the demand being good also and prices firmer, ewes selling at $3.40 per cwt., with 10c more for a few choice picked lots. Bucks sold at $2.75 to $3 per cwt.

Deliveries of hogs were 1400. Prices unchanged from Friday's quotations.

Best selections of choice bacon hogs, 150 to 200 lbs., unfed and unwatered, off cars, sold at $6.10 to $6.25 per cwt., light fats $5.50 to $5.60, heavy fats $5, and Essex and Kent corn fed hogs $5.25 to $5.50.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

CRISIS AT VICTORIA.

Premier Turner Dismissed by the Lieut.-Governor.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. TURNER.

The Lieutenant-Governor Gives His Reasons—He Calls Upon Hon. Robert Beaven, Defeated Leader of the Opposition, to Form a Cabinet—He Accepts the Charge.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 10.—Hon. Robert Beaven has been requested by Lieutenant-Governor McInnes to form a Government in succession to that of Hon. J. H. Turner, and has accepted the task. When interviewed last night Mr. Beaven stated that he had not yet made up his mind whether or not a dissolution will be applied for, though he considers it probable that a new election may be necessary.

Hon. Mr. Turner Surprised.

No intimation of the message to Mr. Beaven had been received by Hon. Mr. Turner at a quarter to five Monday afternoon, when he obtained it through a representative of the Colonist asking him if he had heard the news. He replied that he had not, and on being told that Hon. Mr. Beaven had been sent for expressed great surprise, particularly as he had, he said, received a communication from the Lieutenant-Governor during the morning, and had not yet replied thereto. He certainly had not expected that the Lieutenant-Governor would take any action until his reply had been delivered. His intention had been, after the returns from Cassiar came to hand, to wait upon the Lieutenant-Governor and lay all the facts of the case before him as he (Hon. Mr. Turner) understood them, and then to take such action as his Honor might deem necessary and proper under the circumstances. He could not understand the precipitate manner in which the Lieutenant-Governor had acted.

Continuing, Hon. Mr. Turner said that he had intended to send a letter to the Lieutenant-Governor, and would carry out this intention, as the points contained in the letter of his Honor were of such a nature as to require consideration and a reply at some length. He assured the reporter that he had not understood the letter as a dismissal, and felt that he had been treated with very scant courtesy in the premises.

The Lieut.-Governor Speaks.

When called upon by a member of the Colonist staff last evening, Lieut.-Governor McInnes declared the letter referred to by Hon. Mr. Turner as written and delivered to him during the morning to be plainly and unmistakably a notification of dismissal, couched in phraseology as courteous as possible, but terminating all official relations. He could not comprehend Mr. Turner's surprise, for the letter of dismissal was a natural and necessary sequence of two letters addressed to the Government as long ago as the 14th of July and of numerous interviews had with Hon. Mr. Turner since that date. As soon as the returns of the voting on the 9th ultimo, with the final results in Cariboo, came to hand he had, he said, informed Hon. Mr. Turner that, in his opinion, the country had not signified a continuance of confidence in the Government and he could not, therefore, authorize any new appointments nor any expenditures of money except in the course of official routine or matters of evident emergency. The position thus indicated had not been accepted by Hon. Mr. Turner, and much as he had respected that gentleman—and still respected him—he felt that his duty to the country left him no other course than that outlined in the letter precedent to the call to Hon. Mr. Beaven.

As to the reasons prompting him to select this honorable gentleman to assume the responsibilities of the Premiership, the Lieutenant-Governor would, of course, say nothing, but it is stated on high authority that the outcome of the past election caucus of the Opposition was to convince his Honor that neither Mr. Semlin nor Mr. Martin was acceptable to the party as a whole as leader.

Mr. Beaven ran as an Independent Oppositionist in Victoria City at the recent general election and was defeated, receiving the smallest number of votes of any of the eight candidates on the ballot paper.

At present the parties stand 19 to 19.

Hon. Robert Beaven is a son of the late Rev. James Beaven, D.D., Professor of Divinity, King's College, Toronto, and subsequently Professor of Metaphysics and Ethics in Toronto University. He was educated in Toronto. On the resignation of the Elliott Administration, in 1878, he was made Minister of Finance in the new British Columbia Government. Mr. Beaven in 1882 became Premier, President of the Executive Council and Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works. He was secretary of the Confederate League in 1868, which took the initiatory steps in British Columbia to bring the colony into the Dominion Confederation. He is a Conservative.

SEVERE FIGHTING AT MANILA.

Spaniards Attacked American Troops and a Hot Battle Followed.

London, Aug. 10.—A despatch from Hong-Kong says: The German steamer Petrarch, which left Manila on Aug. 6, has arrived here and reports that the Spanish forces attacked the American camp at Malate on the night of July 31. The Spaniards were over 3,000 strong. They charged the American lines several times. The American fire broke the Spanish centre and they retreated. The Spanish forces made a second charge on the Americans, but again retreated to the bushes, keeping up an incessant fire on the road. Eleven Americans were killed and 87 wounded. The Spanish losses are reported to be great. The rebels remain neutral.

A later account says: Ten men were killed in the trenches and picket lines and 44 wounded. The British Admiral reports the Spanish loss to be 350 killed and 900 wounded.

On the night of Aug. 1 the fighting was renewed, but the enemy had been taught a lesson, and made the attack at long range with heavy artillery. The Utah Battery replied and the artillery duel lasted an hour. One American was killed and two men were wounded.

On the night of Aug. 2 the artillery duel was renewed. Two men were badly wounded and are this morning reported dead, bringing the total dead to 14, with 10 in the hospital mortally hurt.

Manila to Be Taken.

Admiral Dewey's ships are stripping for action. Owing to the high wind and heavy seas, the troops of the third expedition have not yet landed. Two lighters were capsized in the attempt and three natives were drowned.

The situation in Manila is critical. The lights of the city are extinguished. All meats are exhausted. The defences are a cordon of trenches, two batteries of nine 6-inch guns each, the latter on the Cavite side. The big guns are directly in front.

The Spanish Reply.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Spain's acceptance of the peace conditions reached here in sections, and at a late hour last night the newspaper men were informed that nothing could be given out in reference to it. The French Ambassador presented the document and had a conference, lasting an hour and 25 minutes, with the President and Secretary of State.

The United States Secretary of War has stopped the despatch of further reinforcements to Porto Rico.

The United States has offered to parole the 1,300 Spanish naval prisoners taken at the destruction of Admiral Cervera's fleet whenever Spain is ready to repatriate them.

The United States troops now in the South are to be moved northward immediately.

SCOTSMEN IN THE VAN.

What the New Governor-General of Canada Says About His Race.

London, Aug. 10.—The Earl of Minto, speaking at a dinner of the Agricultural Society at Hawick, Saturday, said he appreciated the honor which had been bestowed upon him. He was alive to the interests of Canada, for which country there was a great future. Lord Melgund expressed his regret at leaving Scotland, yet he was a characteristic Scotsman and would not flinch from any duty he was called on to undertake, even though doing so involved the giving up of many home interests. He had traveled the world over and found Scotsmen leading the vanguard. Scotsmen would always lead. He was going to join the vanguard in Canada, and he hoped to do like other Scotsmen who had gone before him.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

Labour Day Excursion.

The members of the local tent of the Knights of Macabees are making preparations to hold a grand excursion to Jubilee on Labour Day, September 5th. The steamer City of Peterborough and Palace Scow has been secured for the day, and as this is the first time the Knights have solicited the public patronage for an excursion, they should have a good turn out. The presence of two of the distinguished officers of the Grand Lodge of Macabees at the excursion is promised, who will deliver addresses at Jubilee. An energetic committee have the excursion in hand, who will doubtless leave nothing undone for the comfort and pleasure of the public. Look out for fuller particulars in a few days.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO MISS M. E. MANN.

The Ladies of the Park Street Church Mission Circle Remember Her on the Eve of her Departure.

The routine business of the monthly meeting of the Mission Circle in connection with the Park street Baptist church was pleasantly varied last evening by the presentation of a handsome five o'clock tea set to Miss M. E. Mann, who is leaving to join her sisters in Hartney, Manitoba.

Miss Mann has been a member of the Park street Baptist church since its organization and a most active worker in the Mission Circle. Her departure, therefore, is a real loss to the church, amongst the members of which she will be indeed missed.

The presentation was made last evening by Mrs. T. G. Gilleapie and the following address was read by Mrs. M. Mowry, President of the Circle:

To Miss M. E. Mann:

DEAR SISTER,—As in the providence of God we shall soon be called upon to part with you, we feel that we cannot let you go without expressing in some tangible way our regret at your departure, and the loss we shall sustain in your removal. Ever since our organization as a Mission Circle, you have by your faithful attendance at all our meetings, liberal contributions to the mission cause and deep interest in all the work of the church made for yourself a place in our affections that will be hard to fill. Without elaborating in any degree on your merits, we ask you to accept this slight token of the love and esteem in which you are held by us, with the prayer that in your new western home you may be attended by the blessing of the Most High, and that in your fondest recollections there may be treasured the happy hours we have spent together at Park street.

Signed on behalf of the Park street Baptist church Ladies' Home and Foreign Mission Circle.

MRS. M. MOWRY, President.

The surprise to Miss Mann was a genuine one. Her remarks in thanking the ladies for their kind remembrance of her were most appropriate. Rev. O.C. Elliott, the pastor, afterwards paid a glowing tribute to Miss Mann's activity in church circles.

During the evening refreshments were served by the ladies.

SALE OF FIREARMS.

Dealers Must Conform to the Law as Affecting It.

In view of the fact that dealers in firearms and the public generally are not aware that a strict view is taken by the law in regard to the sale of pistols, air guns or ammunition to minors, or the disposal of firearms to anyone without a record being kept of the sale, the following extracts are published from the statute in that behalf:

Sec. 108.

1. Everyone is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars, who sells or gives any pistol or air gun or any ammunition therefor, to a minor under the age of sixteen years, unless he establishes, to the satisfaction of the justice before he is charged, that he used reasonable diligence in endeavouring to ascertain the age of the minor before making such sale or gift and that he had good reason to believe that such minor was not under the age of sixteen.

2. Everyone is guilty of an offense and liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding twenty five dollars, who sells any pistol or air gun without keeping a record of such sale, the date thereof and the name of the purchaser, and of the maker's name or any other mark by which such arm may be identified.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Steam Drills and Dynamite Being Used at Hastings.

Work here, says the Hastings Star, seems now settled down to telling proportions. Every department, whether cleaning out the channel or on the dam, seems to be working like clock work. A substantial coffer dam has been built from the pier at the slide to the angle in the dam, effectively cutting off the water and giving full liberty to put in the two new sluiceways. If this part of the work advances in proportion to the work already done, the two sluices will be completed at about the cost of the one now in.

Some distance above the dam may be seen the two steam drills hard at work sinking holes, while others are busy applying dynamite for blowing out the rock. Alongside or near by the steam dredge, with its great and powerful claw, is lifting the broken stone from the bottom and load it into carts, which carry it over a 300 foot floating bridge and dump it along the river shore. The few days it has been working shows how speedily the work can be carried on. Twenty-seven men are now employed, seventeen of whom are from Hastings, and this number will increase as fast at the work will permit. As we have watched the work going on from day to day we can see the wisdom of foreman Gordon in not overcrowding the space to be worked. Just enough will do more than twice the number in the same space. Some complaining may have been made while getting things in readiness as to employing outside help, but the work necessitated men that knew what was to be done, who could not be had in the village. Those wanting work have readily gotten it as soon as the work permitted.

Like every other place there are always some, who are always complaining about being unable to get work, yet praying it may not be had. If they were half as ready to work with their hands as they are with their mouths, they would never be unemployed. The systematic manner in which the work is now proceeding, indicates that foreman Gordon is the right man in the right place.

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE BOARD.

There Were 4,656 Boxes Boarded—The Price Raised After the First Selections.

An incident occurred at the meeting of the Cheese Board this morning which does not often happen i.e. the raising of the price after the first selections had been sold. Mr. Fitzgerald secured a large quantity of cheese at 7⅞c, the bidding being very slow, but after he had made his selections there was a scramble for the re-opening bid and the price was run up to 7 13 16c. The factories boarded as follows:

FACTORY.	BOXES.

Before the Board opened Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald stated that Mr. Hodgson, who had given liberally towards the prizes offered every year for cheese at the Peterborough Central Exhibition, was disinclined to continue doing so unless some of the other buyers also contributed. Mr. Fitzgerald opened a subscription list and was well rewarded.

Mr. Hodgson stated that the cheese market was over-stocked and that there were between 270,000 and 300,000 cheese being held in the cold storage in Montreal.

Mr. Fitzgerald opened the bidding at 7½ cents, which was raised by Mr. Jones to 7⅞. Mr. Fitzgerald went an eighth better and called Otonabee Union, Peterborough, Pine Grove, Myrtle, Young's Point, Lang, Central Smith, North Smith, Keene, Lakeview and Trewern, which accepted.

Lakefield, Fraserville and Missing Link refused.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Cook reopened the bidding at 7⅞ simultaneously, Mr. Whitton raised to 7⅞, but Mr. Jones came back at him with 7 13 16. There being no other raises Mr. Jones took Fraserville, Oakdale, Daisy D and Westwood.

Lakefield refused.

At 7⅞ Mr. Whitton named Fleetwood, Blackstock, Ormonde, Indian River, Melrose Abbey, Norwood, Cavanville, Warminster, Warsaw and North Dummer. All accepted.

Shearer refused.

The price went up again, Mr. Hodgson going as high as 7 13-16, and taking Lakefield.

At 7⅞ Mr. Rollins selected Cedar Dale, Stony Lake, Maple Leaf, Orono, Kendal and Missing Link.

Shearer sold to Mr. Rollins at 7 13-16.

Mr. Cook took Mt. Pleasant at 7⅞.

COMPLIMENTARY REFERENCE

To H. Rush, High Junior Warden of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Ontario.

Last Saturday's Utica Globe has a well executed cabinet size photo-engraving of our worthy townsman, Mr. H. Rush, who recently received the distinguished honour of being unanimously elected Grand Junior Warden of the Ontario Grand Lodge of Masons—the highest Masonic honour which has ever been conferred on a member of the fraternity in Peterborough. In addition to his official rank in Grand Lodge, Mr. Rush becomes an ex-officio member of the Board of General Purposes, which is the executive body of the craft in Ontario. Mr. Rush is a Freemason of the most orthodox type. He has received the hearty congratulations, not only of his Masonic brethren here, but of his many private friends in Peterborough and elsewhere. The Utica Globe in reproducing Mr. Rush's life-like photograph (by Ray) makes the following allusion to his Masonic career:

"H. Rush, the recently-elected grand junior warden A. F. & A. M., has been a prominent member of the Masonic Order for a number of years. He was initiated in Peterborough Lodge, No. 105, January 3rd, 1873, and was elected worshipful master of the same lodge in December, 1875, and was also re-elected to the same position in December, 1887. He joined Corinthian R. A. Chapter, No. 36, April 24th, 1874, and was elected first principal of the same chapter, April 30th, 1878. His recent election to the position he now holds in the Grand Lodge was by acclamation. Mr. Rush is secretary and treasurer of the Peterborough Masonic Board of Relief, A. F. & A. M., and has held the latter position for the past six years."

CERTIFICATES RENEWED

For Third Class Teachers Crowded Out from Normal Schools.

The following circular has been issued by the Education Department and sent out to all Public School Inspectors:

In framing regulation 87, as found in the revised regulations of 1896, the object was to meet the different conditions of the various parts of the Province. In a few inspectorates some difficulty was experienced in securing a sufficient number of properly qualified teachers, while in other localities the number of teachers appeared to be in excess of the demand. It is desirable that all successful teachers having junior leaving standing should be encouraged to obtain second class certificates. It is found that in many counties the supply of teachers has warranted the Board of Examiners in refusing to grant renewals of any kind, while in other places renewals have been granted only to those holding junior leaving standing, and who have proved themselves successful teachers.

As an outcome of this action, the number of applicants for admission to the Normal Schools is greater than can at present be accommodated. Under these circumstances the County Board might fairly consider the propriety of granting a renewal, under regulation 87, to teachers holding expired third class certificates, who have the necessary junior leaving standing, provided evidence is given that they were unable, on application, to gain admission into either Normal school. This would protect them against the consequences of a condition in which they may find themselves from no fault on their part. Yours truly, Geo. W. Ross, Minister of Education.

YUKON OFFICIALS.

STATEMENT REGARDING THE CHARGES WHICH HAVE BEEN BROUGHT AGAINST THEM.

Affairs at Dawson City—Sentiment Regarding the Government's Railway Policy Prospects.

A batch of stories, save an Ottawa exchange has come from the Yukon of official turpitude, rapacity and tyranny which, if true, would constitute a serious indictment against the administration of that territory. Emanating from irresponsible sources, and circulating through American channels, most Canadians have refused to accept them as authentic without confirmation, but some of the opponents of the Government have made them the basis of attacks upon the Minister of the Interior, to whom the Yukon officials are accountable. Mr. A. E. Philp of Brandon, who left Dawson City on June 25th last, in an interview with a Globe correspondent categorically denied many of the statements reflecting on Canadian officials which have been given currency by American newspapers, and furnished explanations shedding new light on circumstances which have been distorted into charges of equivocal conduct against those in authority.

MR. PHILP'S STATEMENT.

"These stories have their origin," Mr. Philp said, "with correspondents of the Post-Intelligencer of Seattle; the Examiner of San Francisco, and other United States newspapers. Nine-tenths of the large mine-owners in the Yukon Territory are Americans, who want to take as much out of the country as they can at the least expense to themselves. They take their money out of Canada to the United States, and they don't want to leave any more of it in Canada than they are obliged to. The statement is made that Mr. Fred Wade, the Crown Attorney, and Mr. J. D. McGregor, the mining inspector, secured claims by reason of their official positions. Such is not the case. The circumstances under which they staked claims are these: Three Swedes were working on the Monte Cristo Island, and upon sinking a shaft to bed rock, found gold. One of them sent word to a friend on El Dorado Creek to come on and stake a claim. The friend on the way up told another friend where he was bound for. News of the discovery was communicated through another party to McGregor, who told Wade and others at Dawson City. Immediately there was a stampede for the island. Wade and McGregor leaving with a crowd of others at midnight. They happened to get out there and staked claims, having just the same chance as all the rest, and owing nothing to their official positions. The miners at Dawson with some I spoke never suggested that they had done anything wrong. There is nothing in the regulations to prevent any man staking a claim, and the fact of a man being an official should not bar him from doing what is open to every person in the country to do. There is not a mounted policeman in the service in the Yukon who has not staked a claim. You never heard a word uttered against Capt. Constantine, yet that officer is reputed to be worth $150,000. How did he get it? Simply by staking claims like everybody else. There is also Inspector Strickland, who is at Tagish. Everybody in that country knows that Strickland is worth more than Constantine. Some of the constables are worth over $100,000, which they got by staking claims. Constantine staked on Forty Mile Creek, and his wife did like wise. I have no fault to find with this. An official cannot be expected to live in that country unless he is allowed to avail himself of the chance of making some money outside of his salary.

COST OF LIVING.

"A labouring man would not think of remaining there on an income of $1,500 or $2,000. Provisions are only obtainable at very high prices. The Government provide their officials with food, consisting of pork, beans, potatoes and evaporated fruit, but if they want anything else they have to pay dearly for it. Eggs are worth from $3 to $17 a dozen, beefsteak, $1 a pound, cigars, 50c apiece, and other things sell at prices proportionately high. I see the officials are being adversely criticised for having leased the water front of Dawson City for $1 a foot. It was not until after the thing was done that the land developed its value by reason of the sudden increase of population. Before the demand for the property was created by the incoming of the people, $1 a foot would have been considered an excessive price. If it had not been leased to Mr. Macdonald, it would simply have been squatted on by people, and no revenue would have been derived by the Government for it at all. The fact that Macdonald was enabled to sublet it for $8 or $10 a foot is another matter altogether. The charge has been made that the postoffice officials at Dawson City refused to deliver mail matter without being paid for it. Like other stories, that is not correct. The explanation is this:—Several tons of mail matter came from Lake Tagish at one time, and it was all dumped in the log building in which the postoffice was established. There is only a limited number of officials and the distribution was a slow process. The people began to line up in the morning, and throughout the day there would be from 25 to 100 waiting their turn. A man would come along who did not choose to wait his turn, and he would give the mail clerk a couple of dollars to go to the office after hours and hunt up his mail. Some of the men who came down from the creeks, and were in a hurry to get back, procured their mail in this way, but if they had waited their turn like the rest, they would have received their letters. I noticed the statement of a man who complained that he was obliged to pay a fee of $250 to get down the Mile Canyon, between Lakes Linderman and Bennett, the implication being that this was the exaction of some official. The Mile Canyon is a bad piece of water which can be avoided by portaging around it. If you wish to hire a man to take your outfit over, he will do it for half a cent a pound or $5 or $6 a load. I paid that to save myself the trouble of carrying it, but I was not obliged to pay anything. This money is not paid to officials, but to men who pack freight. Anybody can pack his own freight and save the cost of hiring a man. Then it was said that people were held up at the White Horse Rapids. There are men at this point to move your goods from one end of the rapids to the other, and pilots to steer your boat if you care to run the rapids, but you are not compelled to employ them. Another complaint is that you cannot cross the Klondike river without paying fare to the man who owns the ferry. You cannot cross the Ottawa river from this city to Hull without paying your fare to the man who owns the ferry, but it is open to anyone to cross in a boat of his own."

DAWSON CITY AND DISTRICT.

Mr. Philp gave some interesting facts about Dawson City and the surrounding country. "When I left Dawson City on June 25th," he said, "there was a population of between 15,000 and 20,000 in it. The maintenance of public order is complete. I saw more drunkenness in a northwestern Ontario town on my way here than I saw in Dawson City. I do not think I was ever in a place where there was less rowdyism. Of course the streets are crowded with people, but perfect order is maintained. If a man appears on the street under the influence of liquor he is immediately locked up by the Mounted Police. Gambling and dance halls are open night and day, except Sunday, but no disturbances occur. It is impossible to prevent gambling in a place of that character. Thieving is practically unknown there. You can carry your sack of gold from one end of the town to the other and nobody will disturb you. I have been away from my cabin for days, and I always found my provisions there when I returned. Nobody ever thinks of locking his cabin door in Dawson City. The output of gold from the work of the past season should be between seven and ten million dollars. This has been taken from Bonanza Creek, above Discovery, from Eldorado below claim No. 40, and from a few claims on Hunker Creek. None of the other creeks have been worked at all. A little prospecting has been done in Sulphur and Dominion Creeks but no gold to speak of has been taken from them. Below Discovery on Bonanza Creek, a number of claims have been worked to some extent, but the returns are inconsiderable. They cannot be worked to pay under present conditions—labour, $1.50 per hour; provisions, $1 to $1.50 a pound; lumber, $250 a thousand, and packing extra."

"How far has prospecting work been extended?"

"There are very few creeks outside of those mentioned that have been prospected at all, and it won't be until next winter, when mining work begins, that the degree of productiveness of others will be ascertained."

NOT MANY UNFORTUNATES.

"Are there many people in the Yukon who are stranded?"

"No. When I first went up there I met no miner who had been in the country any time who was hard up. Every man who would work had money, for the simple reason that there was not enough labour there to work the claims. When I was going up the creeks the party I was with were offered large pay to go to work, but they refused to hire at any wages offered. The fall of the year is the best time to go to the Yukon, and I anticipate a big rush during the coming fall if the Cuban war is terminated. A great many people will make for the McQuestion and Upper Stewart River countries. The reports of the prospectors who were there last winter have been satisfactory. They have been getting from 10 to 20 cents in the gravel on the bars. I know personally of a number of men who will continue prospecting there rivers."

THE RAILWAY POLICY.

"What view do the miners take of the Government's Yukon Railway policy?"

"From what I heard in Dawson City and on my way out down the Yukon, I believe they were almost unanimously in favour of it. I saw lots of miners in Dawson City who would be in favour of lynching that man Livernash if he ever went back there. Livernash was appointed a delegate, and his appointment was afterwards cancelled, but he got out before they could give notice of the fact. An American company is building a road from Skagway to Lake Bennett. I don't believe it will be completed this fall, and there is pretty sure to be a shortage of provisions. Nobody can get goods up the Yukon river to St. Michael's to Dawson City, but by the North American Transportation Co. and the Alaska Commercial Company, who have a monopoly in transportation and supplies, which they are determined to maintain.

None of the other steamship owners have wood cut and piled on the river bank for fuel purposes, and these two companies refuse to supply their competitors with it. The river is not difficult to navigate with properly-equipped vessels, but many of these vessels are not constructed with a view to overcoming low water on the Upper Yukon. In conversation with Charles Welsh, who has prospected the Hootalinqua, I ascertained that that river is a beautiful stream, without a rock or rapid to impede navigation. The Hootalinqua, you will remember, is right in the line of the Teslin Lake route. I did not hear any complaints against the administration of the mining laws, and if Mr. Fawcett made any errors, they were errors of judgment. Walsh, McGregor and Norwood, who came into direct contact with the miners, were popular. The large body of the miners do not object to the payment of royalty, but some of them think that the exemption should be extended so as to recoup them for the preliminary outlay to which they are put.

INFLUX CONTINUES.

"On my way out I met hundreds of people bound for Dawson City. At St. Michael's there were about twenty vessels waiting to unload. There are no docks, and the two large companies own all the land about, so that it is difficult, if not impossible, for the vessels not of their lines to discharge their cargoes."

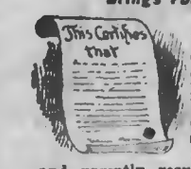
THIS CERTIFICATE

Brings Forth a Story.



BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

We, the undersigned, certify that the health of the Rev. R. A. Bilkey has for months been deteriorating, and that he is now suffering from severe nervous prostration, and urgently requires immediate and prolonged rest. J. W. McLaughlin, M.D., A. Beith, M.D., L. Holland Reid, M.R.C.S., etc.

THIS INTERVIEW TELLS IT.

A reporter called on the Rev. R. A. Bilkey, rector St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, during a church function, and on congratulating him on the great change for the better in his appearance, the reverend gentleman said, "It is due entirely to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

"I suffered for over three years from extreme nervousness, weakness and prostration, and could not obtain relief. A few months ago it became only too apparent that extreme nervous prostration had set in, as I lost flesh and appetite rapidly. Three of our four medical men pronounced me in urgent need of immediate and prolonged rest in order to build up my nervous system, giving me a certificate to that effect. About this time, by pure accident, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills were brought to my notice. I decided to try them, and on doing so a decided change for the better took place at once. I have since continued taking the pills, with continued and marked benefit and improvement. My appetite has returned. I am gaining in flesh steadily, and my general health is now good. Further, I am sure that these results are due to the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I have every confidence that they will do for others all that they have done for me."

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at Druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by the Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

WHEAT CHEAPER.

A Reaction Follows the Big Rise of Last Week—The Visible Supply—Latest Prices.

Monday Evening, Aug. 8.

This being Civic Holiday in Toronto there were no local markets.

Wheat accomplished a sharp decline on the Chicago speculative market to-day. The movement was a natural reaction from last week's steady advance, and was helped by increasing receipts. The decrease in the visible supply was of good size.

To-day's decline on August wheat was 1½c, on Sept. 2c and on Dec. 1½c per bushel. The market closed at about bottom prices.

On the Liverpool Board to-day spot red winter advanced 1d, the September delivery 1½d and the later option ½d. Paris wheat advanced 30 to 40 centimes.

Visible Supply.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has decreased 839,000 bushels, that of corn has increased 345,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 82,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 30,014,000 bushels, against 31,973,000 bushels a week ago and 24,000,000 bushels a year ago.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—There were about 375 head of butchers' cattle, 60 calves and 350 sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End abattoir to-day. The butchers were present in large numbers, and trade was good, with prices decidedly higher all round owing to the unusually small supplies.

Mr. Villeneuve, who buys the cattle for the Meat Packing Co., said that the prices of pretty good cattle were nearly half a cent per pound higher than on Thursday, and all kinds of animals were fully one quarter of a cent per pound higher than on that day. The best beeves sold at about 4¾c per pound; pretty good stock sold at from 3½c to 4¼c do., and the common beasts at from 2½c to 3¼c per pound. Calves were scarce and high-priced considering the quality. Shippers are paying from 3¾c to 3¾c per pound for good large sheep. Good lambs sold in lots at from $2.25 to $3.50 each; common lambs sold at from $2.75 to $3 each. Fat hogs sell at from 5¼c to 5½c per pound.

A LAMP EXPLOSION

Causes a Blaze at St. Catharines—Had His Legs Cut Off.

St. Catharines, Aug. 9.—A disastrous fire occurred last night at the grocery store and residence of Mrs. James Smith, on the Great Western Hill. Mrs. Smith and her daughters occupy the rooms in rear of and over the store, and had retired for the night, when a lamp exploded, causing a great burst of flame to fill the room. It was not long before the whole interior was blazing. The occupants made their escape by jumping from a window to the ground, escaping injury.

John McCann, a young man 28 years of age, had his legs cut off just below the knees last night. He was on his way to his brother's, and took a short cut, walking on the Grand Trunk Railway tracks (Welland Division), when the train going north struck him. He was removed to the City Hospital in a precarious condition. Mr. McCann is an unmarried man.

BREWSTER TOOK STRYCHNINE.

A Bookkeeper Who Had Become Tired of Life.

Orillia, Aug. 9.—Curtes E. Brewster, a bookkeeper, committed suicide at Foxmead yesterday morning by taking an overdose of strychnine. He has been for some time living at the home of Mr. Hadden, who was aroused from his slumbers by groans emanating from Brewster's room. Hadden made an investigation and found Brewster writhing in pain. He then called in Dr. Ardagh, but shortly after the physician's arrival Brewster died. Coroner Benton was notified, but did not deem an inquest necessary. The deceased has been of a despondent disposition for the past three years, the result of a sunstroke. He is a native of Niagara Falls, and before coming here worked in Toronto.

The breeze slackened about 4 o'clock and the great regatta's first day's program was almost wholly completed.

Snub to Gladstone Committee.

Dublin, Aug. 9.—The Municipal Council of Dublin has refused to comply with a request of the Gladstone Memorial Society for its co-operation in erecting in Dublin a statue commemorative of the life and services of Mr. Gladstone, similar to those which the society will erect in London and Edinburgh. Mr. Sherlock, a member of the Council, moved the following resolution negativing the request:

"Resolved, that the corporation of Dublin is strongly of opinion that no statues should be erected in Dublin in honor of any gentleman until the Irish people have erected a fitting one in memory of Charles Stewart Parnell."

The resolution was adopted unanimously, amid cheering.

Frances Graham Is Dead.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 9.—Francis Graham died after a year's illness at his home. He was born in Staffordshire, England, in 1835. For some years he managed Hon. George Brown's stock farm at Bow Park, Canada, and then went to Goderich, as an auctioneer. He came to Detroit in 1881, and was well known as an auctioneer here. He was general agent for the Guarantee Co. of North America up to about two years ago. His widow and two children—Bernard J., aged 25, and Marion, aged 26, a teacher in the Detroit Conservatory of Music—survive him.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St, East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.L.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash.....	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for.....	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, sue policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Can be found day or night at his Warerooms Hunter Street, or at his residence adjoining his Warerooms. Telephone Communication.

A daring balloonist sometimes tumbles nearly two hundred feet through the air hanging on to a parachute until it opens. "O! well," he says, "It usually opens in time." Sometimes it doesn't open and he is doomed. This seems foolhardy but no more so than the sick man who says, "O, I guess I'll get well all right!"

Disease is no guessing matter. If it isn't stopped it keeps on getting worse. Many a man begins with dyspepsia or "liver complaint," and gradually loses strength and vitality until before he knows it his lungs are attacked and he finds himself in consumption. The parachute doesn't open.

The only real safety for a man whose strength is failing from any cause whatever is to renew the sources of vitality at their fountain head. The best agency for this purpose is the wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" originated by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y. This "Discovery" goes directly to the aid of the enfeebled digestive forces and enables them to make healthy nourishing blood, thereby building up solid muscular strength and active nerve force and energy.

The absolutely marvelous things it does for sick people is shown by the experience of Mr. Frank A. Startz, of Fayetteville, Fayette Co., Texas, who writes: "It affords me pleasure to testify to the remarkable curative power of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I was severely afflicted with trouble in my lungs—spitting up blood, and was so weak I was unable to continue my work. I tried several remedies which gave me no relief, and I had commenced to think there was no hope for me. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended to me, so I tried it and began to improve at once, and was soon able to resume work. I consider it a wonderful medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser sent for 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only. Cloth binding 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BARBECUED CHICKEN.

A Southern Recipe For Preparing a Delicious Dish.

Southern people know every dish into which chicken can be made. The northern housewives unfortunately are limited to plain, boiled, broiled, roasted and fried chicken, but here is something for the northern housewives to try which may be new to her:

Take a fat, tender spring chicken of roasting size. Clean and wash well and salt inside and out. Sprinkle over with flour quite heavily. Place in a kettle with heart and liver and two cups of boiling water. Let it boil well, as you would for a pot roast, and baste often. When about half done, or so that it scarcely resists the fork, add one-half of a cup of vinegar, boil until done and take out.

Chop the liver and heart and serve in the gravy. Chicken is delicious cooked this way and served cold. The rich gravy can be used as a dressing for lettuce. All grease easily can be removed when the gravy is cold. Veal can be barbecued, and the vinegar will be found to take away the dry, insipid taste which veal has when roasted plain.

Catching Fowls.

Before one kills and dresses a fowl for market or for dinner it is important that it shall be caught, and there is a right way and a wrong way for even so simple a task as this. We will describe two different methods. Go out when the fowls are in the yard or around the buildings together, and, having decided upon the one wanted, call about a half a dozen boys and one or two dogs, if they can be found, and start after it, up and down and around, as the chase may go. Step on one or two of the others, or if they are too spry for that, throw a club among them. They will not be scared out of the week's growth—that is all nonsense—but they may be scared out of a week's production of eggs, and when the victim is caught wring its neck instead of bleeding it. This and the race will create just fever enough to make the meat real strong and hearty, too hearty for an invalid, perhaps, but there is the fun of the hunt, almost as good as a circus for everybody but the hens. Then there is another way. Go out very quietly at night and pick the bird off the roost and confine it under a box or basket until morning and wait until the crop is empty, then with a blow on the back of the neck stun it, and opening the beak with a sharp knife cut across the roof of the mouth well back, and hold wings and legs until it has bled all out, so that it will not be bruised in its death struggles, pick and dress it quickly, and when properly cooked compare it with the one killed by the other method and see which has the best flavor.—American Cultivator.

Raw from Her Toes to Her Knees

DR. CHASE MAKES A WONDERFUL CURE

Mrs. Knight, 17 Hanover Place, Toronto, makes the following statement:—

MY mother, Mrs. Wright, who lives at Norval, near Doncaster, suffered a summer and winter with Eczema in her feet. She could not walk, and very seldom got any sleep. It became so bad that she was perfectly raw from the toes to the knees. After trying every available remedy without receiving any benefit, and almost hopeless of relief, she was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. She has altogether used 8 boxes since commencing, but with the happiest results, for she is now completely cured. There is but one scar on one of her feet, a memento of her fearful suffering condition. Any person desiring further testimony in this case is at liberty to communicate with Mrs. Wright at her address, Norval P.O.

Mrs. Knight says after such a grand success, is it any wonder we recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment?

Economical Breeding.

A cockerel of almost any standard breed can be bought in the fall when the fanciers are culling their flocks for but little more than it would sell for if killed for market. It may not be quite up to the fancier's idea of a good bird to put in a pure bred flock. If a Brahma, it may not have feathers enough on the toes, or if a Rock, it may not be perfectly barred or may have a black feather somewhere. If a white breed, it may be too yellow on the back, and if of buff breed it may have too many white feathers. There may be red spots on the white ear lobes or white spots on the red, and the fancier will know why he rejects it, but if there is no cross of blood in it, it will be as good to grade up a mixed flock with as a 97 point bird and possibly better. By continuing this practice a few years one can obtain a flock of grades that will be difficult to distinguish from pure bred stock. Remember that the inferior blood which is one-half the first year becomes but one-quarter, one-eighth, one-sixteenth, one-thirty-second and in the sixth year only one-sixty-fourth part of the breed.—American Cultivator.

Quality Makes the Price.

Make it a point to have your poultry of the best quality before shipping to market. One who is not accustomed to visiting the large markets knows nothing of the enormous amount of inferior poultry that is sold, and which largely affects the prices, yet there is always a demand for that which is good, and at a price above the regular quotations. The assorting of the carcasses before shipping also leads to better prices. Old roosters (which seldom sell at more than half price) should not be in the same boxes or barrels with better stock, and to ship poultry alive and have roosters in the coop with fat hens is simply to lower the price of the hens, as the buyer will estimate the value by the presence of the inferior stock. In fact, never send any poultry to market unless in first class condition, and under no circumstances ship the inferior with that which is better.—Produce Review.

Meets Your Needs.

When you feel tired, languid, nervous and are troubled with pimples and eruptions, you will find Hood's Sarsaparilla exactly meets your needs. It purifiers and enriches the blood and imparts to it the qualities needed to tone the nerves and nourish the whole system. It cures all blood humors.

Hood's Pills cure sick headaches, nausea biliousness and all liver ills. Price 25 cents.

Valuable Guideboard.

At a crossroads in a New Hampshire township there is a sign which recalls former joys to many old inhabitants and rouses curiosity in the minds of travelers.

It points up a grass grown road and bears in faint letters the mysterious inscription, "Tolpim."

To the stranger it is inexplicable, but the boys of 50 years ago know that it still means, "To Long Pond, one mile." And because of the many fishing expeditions of their boyhood no one of the elderly farmers of that region will let the old board fall to the ground and rot away, as many such guideboards have done.

After a windstorm it often happens that a number of the fishermen of long ago take pains to drive past the old road, and on one occasion three of them, each with a provident hammer and nails, met and talked over old times, and every one of them was late for dinner.—Youth's Companion.

Screen Doors.

Screen doors, such as are used to keep out flies and other insects, are made almost wholly by machinery. They can be bought in various sizes in stores, like any other merchandise, and they are sold so cheap that they are now more commonly used than ever. Like many other articles used in summer, screen doors are made in winter in factories that may be occupied in summer in the production of snow shovels. Screen doors are shipped from the factories to large wholesale buyers in carload lots. The wholesale trade in them begins in April and ends about the 1st of July, the retail distribution continuing later. Screen doors are sold everywhere in this country and they are also exported.—New York Sun.

Above Sea Level.

The height of various cities in the United States above the sea level is as follows: New Orleans, 10 feet; New York, 23 feet; St. Louis, 450 feet; Cincinnati, 550 feet; Chicago, 591 feet; Omaha, 968 feet; Salt Lake, 4,351 feet; Denver, 5,267 feet; Virginia City, 6,505 feet.

No other preparation has ever done so many people so much good as Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

GLEANINGS.

In Europe physicians no longer prescribe medicines for their patients in the form of pills. All medicines which are not liquid are compounded into tablets or cachets. Capsules are also out of date on the continent.

The laws of Mexico provide that a Mormon who wishes to take a second wife must present a certificate signed by his first helpmate to the effect that she is willing, and he must also have the express consent of the second wife and her parents.

Can more than two Americans in a thousand name the presidents of Yale, Harvard, Columbia and Princeton? The New York Times thinks not, at which the Boston Transcript gets mad enough to remark that to justify so low an average infants, idiots and Indians must be classed as Americans.

A DRESDEN MERCHANT

Gives Evidence in Favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism.

Dresden, Aug. 8—Mr. W. G. Cragg is one of our best known merchants, and enjoys the highest respect and confidence of all who know him.

For eight or nine years past he suffered terribly from Inflammatory Rheumatism, for which there seemed to be no remedy.

The best doctors failed to relieve him. So did the medicines he used.

But to-day he is sound and well.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Cragg says: "I have used only six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but they have cured me completely. I'll never be without them."

Reader, if you have rheumatism—go and do likewise. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you too.

BABY SUPERSTITIONS.

For a baby to lie with its legs crossed is a sign of health.

When a baby tries to get its toe in its mouth, it is a sign it will be a good dancer.

When the baby rocks its own cradle, it is a sign of the advent of a new brother or sister.

Ugly in the cradle, handsome in the saddle. Homely in the cradle, lovely in the ballroom.

If a baby 8 months old cannot make its left leg and right hand meet over its back, it is a sign it will be sickly.

Twin babies should always be laid with their faces together. If they are placed back to back, they will quarrel and not love each other.

If a baby is extremely small when born and lives, it is likely to be a large person, while if extremely large it will not be very big when grown.

Rain with sunshine in the month of May will make the little ones healthy if they run around in it. Let your baby go out in such a rain. It will do it good.

If you put a pen into a baby's hand first, it will be intellectual and literary; if a brush, an artist; if a Bible, a clergyman; if money, a business man; if paper, a lawyer.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.

One of the Commonest and most Dangerous of Diseases.

Everyone should be prepared for it with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Very few people escape an attack of summer complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it.

You cannot tell when it seizes on you, how it may end.

Let it go for a day only, and see how weak and prostrated it will leave you.

Your only path of safety lies in providing yourself with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

It's the only remedy known that can be relied on to cure you.

It settles the stomach, has a soothing influence on the irritated bowels, a stimulating action on the weakened system and is a powerful disinfectant of the whole intestinal tract.

Mrs. Daniel Smith, Lunenburg, N. S., writes: "Last summer my little boy was dangerously ill with diarrhœa. He grew very weak so that he could hardly stand. I concluded to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and very soon after he began taking it he started to mend, so that in a short time he was as well as ever. I shall never be without it in my house." Price 35c., all dealers.

A Baptist Minister.

Rev. M. P. Campbell, the highly esteemed Pastor of the Baptist Church, Essex, Ont., says:—"From my personal use of Doan's Kidney Pills I can say they are an excellent remedy for all kidney troubles."

ECZEMA FROM BIRTH

Baby's Arms Neck Hands and Face Broken out with Red Pimples. Terribly Inflamed.

Had to Wear Soft Mittens to Keep Her from Scratching. Suffering Was Terrible.

2 Leading Physicians Could Not Even Help Her. Tried CUTICURA. Immediate Cure.

Our little daughter, now fifteen months old, was troubled from her birth with Eczema. Her face, arms, hands, and neck would break out with red pimples, the parts afflicted would swell and become terribly inflamed, water would ooze out like great beads of perspiration, finally this would dry up and the skin would crack and peel off. She suffered terribly. Had to wear soft mittens on her hands to keep her from scratching. We gave two of our leading physicians a good trial, but neither of them helped her in the least. I purchased CUTICURA SOAP, CUTICURA (ointment), and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and commenced using them as follows: After bathing I wiped her with a soft linen cloth, applied CUTICURA (ointment) freely, and gave her the RESOLVENT regularly. She improved at once and is now never troubled, although we have used less than one bottle of RESOLVENT, three boxes of SALVE, and of course CUTICURA SOAP. The statements I have made are absolutely true and not exaggerated in any way. Would also say you have my permission to publish this, should you wish.

March 1, 1898. ROB. A. LAPHAM,
111½ West Side Square, Springfield, Ill.

CUTICURA REMEDIES will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating of itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, pimply, and crusted skin and scalp humors, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

Lionel King seems to be gaining great favour as a referee with the clubs in the C. L. A. He goes to Georgetown to act in that capacity Friday.

THE RING.

Kid McCoy is quoted as saying: "In regard to Fitzsimmon's challenge I will say that it sounds very business-like and sensible. He is the champion and has the right to name his terms. Corbett has acted very foolishly and made many statements which are ridiculous and quite unnecessary regarding the champion and the championship. Fitz is champion, and I expect some day to fight him for the title. No one ever heard John L. Sullivan making a hollar after his defeat like Corbett has been doing for the last eighteen months. My opinion of the Carson City fight, judging from the pictures, is that Corbett quit, that his desire for another try at Bob is a bluff to deceive the public. A fellow who is strong enough to crawl to his feet after receiving a punch is strong enough to rise to his feet if his heart is in the right place. I think Jeffries and Sharkey should fight it out and the winner meet Fitz. Then the winner of our Buffalo bout should meet the winner of that fight for the championship. My only wish is that the best man may win on September 10th at Buffalo.

THE LEGISLATURE.

er and seconder of the address in reply, informed the member for East London that he went to London at the request of two of his constituents, Messrs. Campbell and Willoughby. He gave them his advice because they asked him for it, and he was not ashamed of it. Four years ago, said the speaker, a similar instance occurred on the other side of the House. The Government was alarmed at the prospect of three candidates in the field, and they sent a man up—a servant of the Government, and not one like me who paid his own expenses. Another difference between us was that this Government official said to the third candidate, "If you will withdraw from this contest we will give you a position that will be worth while." The sequel, sir, is that Mr. Armstrong did withdraw, and is now sheriff of Parry Sound. He claimed that the fact that the Opposition had an efficient policy was to be found in the fact that it had now twice the number of members it had before the last election, and he asked, "Have the Government the same strength as formerly?" He thought not. In 1887 the majority was 20, in 1891, the majority was 21, in 1895 the majority was 37, while the majority in the present House is merely 6. In the last House there were 13 Patrons; there are now 2. He then dealt with the surplus and claimed, and quoted figures in support of his contention, that the Government had gone behind $5,525,-703. The greater success of the Opposition had been hindered by the fact pointed out by the leader of the Opposition that it had never gone to the country on equal terms with the Government. Respecting the present session he said the House was not called because of the constable vote or the fisheries, but simply that there were a number of protests.

Regarding the constable vote the laws of the land should be carried out. He deprecated insinuations upon the character of the Judges and was glad that the Attorney-General had repudiated them.

Mr. Stratton rose to a point of privilege and said that if the honourable gentleman was referring to his remarks of yesterday he wished it to be distinctly understood that he did not make any attack upon the Judges. He had as high regard for the judiciary of this country as any member of the House. What he said was that the Attorney-General's proposed legislation provided that where an election is affected by the constable vote it shall not be tried until the Court of Appeal has passed on the question of the legality of their votes, and the proposed legislation would also in effect provide that the decision of a possible partisan and narrow-minded trial Judge should not become the law of the land until it could be reversed in due course by the Court of Appeal, after the usual long delay and placed right by the Court of Review.

Mr. Moscrip of South Perth quoted precedents back 50 years ago to show that the constables even back in antiquity were not included in the list of the disqualified from the privileges of the franchise. In conclusion he said it was never the intention to pass ex post facto legislation.

Mr. A. B. Thompson of Centre Simcoe is an unassuming but pointed debater. His powers must have rejoiced the heart of his leader.

Mr. Pardee of West Lambton, son of the late Hon. T. B. Pardee and one of the Government's youngest supporters, followed. He opened by challenging the Opposition to substantiate some of their charges. He did not think it was to the credit of the House or to the politics of the country to have such charges made without substantiation. There was no lack of responsibility about the administration of Messrs. Gibson and Dryden's departments, for the Government as a whole was responsible for it. It was just 11 o'clock when he sat down, urging the Government not to allow themselves to be legislated out of office by losing the constable vote.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Debate on the Address Still Continued.

LIQUOR VOTE REVELATIONS.

A Reply to Mr. Whitney—Heavy Hitting Indulged In—Instructions Issued to Hotelkeepers—Opposition Members Receive Replies to Their Enquiries—Their Animal Penchant Again.

Toronto, Aug. 11.—The chief feature of the debate in the Legislature yesterday was the revelations which the Premier promised in reference to Mr. Whitney's assertion that the liquor influence was manipulated in support of the Government candidates at the last election. The particulars will be found in the speech of Mr. Graham below.

The Provincial Secretary, for the Minister of Agriculture, said there was no record in the department of the Government having purchased a ram from T. D. Hodgins during the past five years.

Mr. Hodgins, Conservative member for East Middlesex, said he had been accused of having sold a ram to the Government at a long price during the election campaign. It was true the Government had purchased a ram he had sold, but not from him but from a middleman, and consequently as he had not got the cash he must be excused from having had any beodling transaction with the Government.

The return asked for under this head will be brought down.

In reply to Mr. Hodgins' motion for a return of all correspondence concerning the proposed normal school for London, Mr. Ross promised to have it brought down.

Mr. Douglas, E. Northumberland, resumed the debate on the address. He spoke as a farmer, and defended the curriculum of the agricultural college. The petition asking for Mr. Dryden's retention as Minister had been signed largely by Liberals and Conservatives alike in his riding. Personally he had received many valuable points from the work of the Agricultural College. After justifying the good roads appointment, he closed by saying that the rise in the price of wheat was as much to be credited to the Government as the rise in binder twine.

Mr. Foy, South Toronto, hoped that the Fisheries bill would be taken up promptly and would not be afterwards found to be ultra vires. He claimed that the Ministerialists had had the party lash raised over them and they were supporting Mr. Hardy, right or wrong. He argued the meaning of the word reasonable in the time which should elapse between the defeat of a Minister and the time he found a seat, and thought five months more than enough. He quoted precedents in support of his contentions, and claimed that the presence of Ministers in the House was absolutely necessary owing to the enquiries by members. He held that the fact that the Commissioner of Crown Lands had given an important decision since he had a seat in the House ought to suggest that a gentleman responsible to the country should be in the position. He then argued that the constable vote matter should be settled by the courts, and stated that he was pleased to have from both sides of the House an expression against ex post facto legislation. He contended in closing that the House had no right to interfere in election trials that are now pending.

Dr. McKay (South Oxford) dealt with the Liberal majority, asserting that there was not danger to the Government, nor would there be for a good many years to come. He constrasted the comfort of the present session to the discomfort of a winter meeting in an artificially-heated atmosphere. Taking up the constable question, he pointed out that if it was held that 3,000 voters in the Province of Ontario had voted illegally at the last election they would be subject to the penalties under the Election Act. It was the duty of the Legislature to say that these people, who, by the interpretation of both parties since Confederation and long before placed upon that law, had the undoubted right to that franchise, should be protected from the penalty of the Act. The Conservatives were always boasting of their loyalty to British institutions, and yet they objected to the numbered ballot, which was adopted in Great Britain in 1873 and was still in force. Reference was made to the ballot-box stuffing which had taken place in Manitoba. No doubt the Conservatives would like a similar ballot in Ontario. The growth of the appropriation for agricultural purposes to a quarter of a million per annum was referred to in refutation of the contention of the member for Stormont that the Government had neglected agricultural interests. The Agricultural College at Guelph was a grand institution, and was a tribute to the intelligent, liberal manner in which the Ontario Government dealt with the farmers' interests. Dr. McKay paid a high compliment to Hon. John Dryden, and prophesied that the House would not carry Mr. Whitney's motion of want of confidence merely because two Ministers had been defeated.

After dinner Mr. Powell, Ottawa, in the course of his address, charged the Government with intimidating the Ottawa civil service and he called attention to an article by the late Hon. W. E. Gladstone, in the North American Review, contending that Ministers should have seats in the House.

Mr. Graham, the editor of the Brockville Recorder and representative of that constituency, made a dashing speech that delighted his fellow members, with whom he has become decidedly popular. After preliminaries, he congratulated hon. gentlemen opposite upon the prominent place which animals occupied in their policy. There was the calf with the cough, which was buried in one general election; then all the appliances of science were employed to discover spots on pigs, but the disciple of pork has been left at home; and now hon. gentlemen have robbed little Mary and have a policy that might be called all wool and a yard wide. (Laughter.) He was surprised that the hon. member for East Middlesex would stand up in the House and confess that he had sent out the hired man to trade off a worthless animal upon an innocent neighbor. (Cheers.) He had been informed that the animal in question had only one eye. Here, then, was a new policy for the Opposition, a policy with a single eye, and that single eye was open to get on the Government side of the House by a technicality. (Laughter and applause.) He dealt exhaustively with the butter industry, and showed how the Government's policy had fostered it. The Good Roads policy, too, came in for praise justified by proved work. A strong point in his speech dealt with the liquor vote at the last elections. This he showed by reading a strictly confidential circular sent by the Secretary of the License-Holders' Protective Association to the local Secretary of Dundas County, Mr. Whitney's constituency, instructing them that as the present member voted in favor of the trade and against municipal control it is unnecessary to ask him the questions which are to be put to other candidates whose views are unknown, as it would be unwise to embarrass him in his campaign, and they knew his friendly attitude to the trade. The principle is also laid down in the circular that "common gratitude as well as sound policy dictates that we should stand by those that stand by us." A series of resolutions which accompanied the circular directed that where the old members of the Legislature voted against municipal control they should have the undivided support of the trade, and their opponents should not be given an opportunity of answering the test question. Mr. Graham was warmly cheered on resuming his seat.

Mr. Lucas, Conservative whip, recalled in rebuttal how the only hotelkeeper who had supported him in Centre Grey had since lost his license, and how a license inspector had stumped on the same platform with Hon. John Dryden.

Mr. Hislop, another promising young Government back-bencher, concluded, and Mr. Kribs of Waterloo moved the adjournment of the debate.

Mr. Beaven Has Failed.

Vancouver, Aug. 11.—Hon. Robert Beaven, who was sent for by Lieutenant-Governor MacInnes to form a Ministry last Monday, has failed so far and it is not believed that he will succeed in the task, as the Opposition leaders are said to have repudiated him.

The Lieutenant-Governor yesterday sent for Hon. Joseph Martin to cope with him in the political situation, and Mr. Martin is now in Victoria. It is generally believed that the announcement will be made to-day that he has been given the Beaven task and, moreover, that he will succeed. The newspapers here and in Victoria yesterday comment unfavorably on the Lieutenant-Governor's move in calling to Mr. Beaven.

Penny Postage at Christmas.

London, Aug. 11. — (Montreal Star Cable.)—I learn on unimpeachable authority that the new Imperial postal rates will come into operation on Christmas Day, the consent of the Chancellor of the Exchequer having been obtained to-day. Hon. Wm. Mulock will leave for Canada on August 20. It is definitely decided that he shall receive a Knighthood, though it will not be announced just yet.

Injuries Proved Fatal.

Brampton, Aug. 11.—Mr. Joseph G. Snell of Snelgrove, who fell a distance of 28 feet in his barn on Saturday last, died from his injuries at 5 o'clock yesterday. Dr. Sweetnam of Toronto was to have performed an operation yesterday, but death relieved him of that duty. Mr. Snell was 51 years of age.

ANY NAME WOULD FIT

As Well as Ponton in Pare's Long Story at Napanee.

SO HE SAYS IN HIS CONCLUSION.

The Remarkable Safe Combination Worker Concludes His Labors in the Interest of Saving Himself—An Indian Witness Follows the Bank Burglar—Some Very Interesting Evidence.

Napanee, Aug. 11.—At 9 o'clock yesterday High Constable Sills, Chief Adams and Detective Dougherty searched the cell occupied by Pare when in the police station as a vagrant. They found the two keys which Pare says he manufactured in the places in which Pare said yesterday that he hid them. A file about five inches long was also found. Pare never mentioned this file. The articles were taken charge of by the police.

When the keys were taken to police headquarters, ex-Manager Baines came in and said: "Ponton's key was larger than mine." Here he was interrupted by Detective Dougherty's advising him not to say anything about the keys till the originals were produced.

Mr. Porter resumed his cross-examination of Pare, who said that so far as he personally knew Ponton did not know where Holden "planted" the $5,000 in good money and $3,000 in unsigned notes which Pare says was Ponton's share. Mr. Porter got Pare to state that it was about 1.30 when he, Mackie and Holden left Ponton's room. They had "planted" Ponton's money before the train east passed. They did not board it, as it was going too fast. When he heard that Ponton was arrested he had expected "the man in the bank" to look after himself. He did not expect that Ponton would peach.

"You did not think he would do what your doing?" asked Mr. Porter.

"I thought he would give us away if there was any proof against him."

"If Ponton had not been acquitted you expected he would give the game away?"

"Yes, likely."

"Still you came to Napanee on the very day he was acquitted, where you were likely to be arrested?" continued Mr. Porter.

On the 20th or 21st of April witness and Holden met in Boston and on the Sunday morning following came on to Deseronto. After breakfast they went to Belleville and saw James "Whale" Mackie, and waited for John until the evening. Then the trip to Napanee and the getting the box of money after discussing the matter of the bundle of fifties was repeated. They put up at the Dominion House, Belleville, and after having been hunted up by James Mackie, Ponton came in about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Then Ponton was given $2,500 by Holden and $2,500 by Pare, in the presence of Jack Mackie, and he paid witness $65 for expenses and put the balance in his pocket. Then he pushed Ponton out of the room and saw the last of him. He himself bought a ticket for St. Henri and departed.

After Pare had stated that all information about the money in the bank was given orally, he continued: "I was given no figures on slips of paper. I know of no shingle in Ponton's room that had anything to do with the matter."

"What became of the impressions of the key?" asked the lawyer.

"I destroyed them. I never got an impression of a key on paper from Ponton. I don't know where they came from."

A number of minor points were reviewed by the cross-examiner and the witness and details fixed, and then Mr. Porter asked:

"Did you know Mr. Baines, and where he lived?"

"No. I knew Green, though."

"When did you get hold of the name Ponton?"

"I could not say."

"Do you know if there were other 'Willies' in the bank?"

"No."

Answering other questions, the witness said that he had made a confession that was taken down by Mr. Herrington.

Turning to Mr. Osler, Mr. Porter asked:

"Will you produce that statement?"

"Do you want our brief?" replied Mr. Osler.

Mr. Porter said it was a statement upon which his client was arrested.

Continuing, Pare said the statement was not read over to him. "I did not sign it. I told the story just as my lawyer in Manchester told me to tell it," said Pare.

The magistrate ruled that it should not be produced.

After the witness had stated that he had no conversation with the detectives since he came to Napanee, the court adjourned for lunch.

The court again opened at 2 o'clock, with Prisoner Pare in the box. Mr. Porter elicited the fact that Chief Healey had visited the witness in jail after the magistrate had ordered that no visitors should be admitted. The witness admitted that he had talked to Officer Sills while being conducted to jail after the morning session, but denied that the officer had told him that he ought not to have said this and that.

To Mr. Porter the witness said his two American comrade crooks were called Eddie Mackie and Jimmie Jones. Pare confessed that while he was in Napanee he had heard from Jimmie by letter. After again stating that he was telling the story for his own benefit, Mr. Porter's examination of this remarkable witness ended.

Lawyer Wilson, solicitor for Prisoner Mackie, then took him in charge, but his first question, "Were you ever in Port Colborne?" was not a success, though

Perfectly Cured

Weak and Low Spirited—Nervous Prostration—Appetite Poor and Could Not Rest.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla to others. It has been the means of restoring my wife to good health. She was stricken down with an attack of nervous prostration. She suffered with headaches and her nerves were under severe strain. She became very low spirited and so weak she could only do a little work without resting. Her appetite was poor, and being so weak she could not get the proper rest at night. She decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, as we had heard it highly praised, and I am glad to state that Hood's Sarsaparilla has perfectly cured all her ailments." G. THAT "ATTACK" ON THE JUDGES.

Much is made by the Conservative party politicians and party journals of Mr. Stratton's references to the judges in his speech delivered on Monday in the debate on the address in the Ontario Legislature. That is, much is sought to be made, for really there is nothing improper in the remarks applied to the judges of the Court of Appeal, or to the hypothetical reference to a "possible" judge in another part of the speech. But it serves the purpose of the Opposition orators and journals to give the references something of the character of an "outrage." They simulate a great deal of indignation they do not feel, for Mr. Whitney has not shown an excess of fondness for the judges. When Premier Hardy invited the leader of the Opposition to unite with the Government in submitting to the Court of Appeal the question raised by the Opposition of the right of constables to vote, Mr. Whitney did not show an excess of confidence in the judges, and by his course showed that either he had little faith in his contention, or had little faith in the judges of the Court of Appeal. He not only did not join with the Premier, but he even failed to reply to the letter inviting him to be represented on the occasion of the submission. Extreme partizanship might be inclined to charge Mr. Whitney with disrespect to the learned judges of the Court of Appeal, but he doubtless exercised his right to decline the good offices of these gentlemen as interpreters of the statute, preferring to entrust his part of the case to the trial judges. He had a perfect right to take this course as Mr. Stratton had a perfect right, as a representative of the people, to question the action of the judges in sheltering themselves behind the holidays in declining to consider the subject, a course which, among other causes, necessitates the present session of the legislature, with all its attendant expense.

The point Mr. Stratton plainly made, and the extent of his "attack on the judges," was implied in his questioning, from a public point of view, the justification of their course, in adhering to the routine of legal holidays, when very important interests were at stake, and when the duty of the judges, as servants of the people, paid by the money of the people, seemed to suggest that routine might have been waived in consideration of paramount public interests. In another part of his address, Mr. Stratton, in amplyfying his argument, took occasion to suggest that there might be found a possibly partisan trial judge—note not "probably," but "possibly," partisan judge—whose prejudices and political leanings might lead him to an interpretation of the law, probably honest, but influenced, perhaps unconsciously, by his political frame of mind and his political training. We are all proud of our Canadian judiciary, but the fact remains that in default of having angels to draw upon we are compelled to appoint ordinary human beings to the bench—men with their common share of human frailty and liability to err—as men—though their legal lore may be of the greatest. Mr. Stratton criticised the action of the judges as men and not in their judicial capacity, and as a representative of the people, with a due sense of his responsibility to the people. It is certainly competent to point out that the judges in taking a certain course, having regard to their personal convenience, at, what may be fairly regarded as the sacrifice of the public interest as involved in the exceptional circumstances, did not take a course which patriotic citizens might have taken; and the hypothetical suggestion of some judge being possibly liable to be warped, unconsciously, it may be, in his opinions, by political prejudices, cannot be construed into an attack upon the judiciary except by purely partizan malice, keenly anxious to bolster up an untenable position by any means, regardless of its fairness or propriety. The man who cries "stop thief!" most loudly is not always the embodiment of innocence; his zeal for the triumph of good morals is not always disassociated from personal considerations.

LIVERPOOL APPRECIATES.

Wheat Went Down a Notch at Chicago, But Spot and Sept. and Dec. Options Rose at Liverpool.

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 10.

Doubt as to the exact nature of the pending U.S. Government crop report had the effect of checking trading on the speculative wheat market at Chicago to-day, and, as a result, a strong opening was followed by a weak turn. At the close all deliveries were ⅝c to 1¼c per bushel below Tuesday's final figures. The demand for cash wheat at Chicago continues to exceed receipts, the farmers still holding back.

At the Liverpool board to-day spot wheat advanced 2d to 3d per cental; the September future appreciated to the extent of 1¼d and the December option rose ¾d. Paris wheat went 20 to 25 centimes higher.

ANY NAME WOULD FIT.

Pare had sworn that he had stayed over there two days, he could not remember ever being in the place. Nothing new was elicited.

In answer to D. H. Preston, Q.C., counsel for Holden, he said the gold was in separate parcels, and that it took him four days to decide to make a confession.

In answer to Mr. Osler, he admitted Rosch's photograph, the brass key, the bent piece of steel, and a file, but he said that the messenger between him and Ponton was John Mackie and not James as he stated in his first examination. He gave a combination demonstration as well, but could not again remember that he was ever at Port Colborne. He reiterated the division of the money story, and said he had passed 76 of the unsigned notes.

"What reason did you give for writing the letter signed, 'Old George of the Baseball Club?' "

"I thought if these men were suing the bank for $50,000 more, I wanted to be there when the cake was cuts. I wrote that letter from Manchester. It would make Old George know."

Mr. Porter asked:

"Why did you write the letter to me?"

"I saw your name in the paper, where I saw the rest of the item."

"But you did not known me?"

"We might have got acquainted later. I was just looking after nailing a piece of that $50,000," said Pare, slyly. The witness said that as a matter of fact there was a conspiracy working in Montreal against Ponton.

"Why did you mention Wilkes and Dougherty?"

"I put that in to interest you. I remember Wilkes' name was in the item in La Presse. This is my only explanation of that letter."

In answer to a series of questions from Mr. Porter, the witness said: "The same story I told you about Mr. Ponton I could have told about Mr. Baines. It is not absolutely necessary for me to use Ponton's name for me to tell the story. If I told the story with Mr. Baines's name I would have to change a few details. It was not absolutely necessary to use Ponton's name in this matter. An innocent man would have answered the purpose as well as a guilty one."

To the magistrate the witness said that he signed all the notes he passed.

At 5.15 Pare retired.

Joseph Hill, a Mohawk Indian witness, identified Holden and Mackie as having stopped at his place a year ago last February one Sunday morning between 6 and 7 o'clock. He said he was paid $1 and his father $4 to tell their story. He remembered the names of the two prisoners, told him casually nearly two years ago, but he could not remember those of Detective Wilkes and Dougherty, who had been out to see him two weeks ago.

Court adjourned at 6.

THEY AGREE TO PEACE.

Cuba and Porto Rico to Be Evacuated—The Town of Cosmo Taken—Soldiers' Perils at Sea.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Secretary Day at 1 o'clock yesterday made the following statement to the Associated Press: "We have agreed upon a protocol embodying the proposed terms for the negotiation of a treaty of peace, including the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico, and it is expected this protocol will be executed."

The preliminary negotiations looking toward the confirmation of peace advanced a long stride yesterday when the Secretary of State and the French Ambassador agreed upon the terms by which future negotiations for a treaty are to be conducted, and reduced these to the form of a protocol. This protocol, it is true, has yet to be signed, and is to be submitted to the Spanish Government before the formal signatures are affixed, but the Administration's view as to the progress made to-day was set out in Secretary Day's remark, "It is expected that this protocol will be executed."

Town of Cosmo Taken.

Cosmo, Porto Rico, Aug. 11.—Gen. Wilson took the town of Cosmo yesterday, with a loss of only seven men wounded.

The Spaniards are known to have lost their commander, Major Yellescas, Capt. Rosate, Capt. Lopez and 9 privates, all killed, and to have 25 wounded. The Americans captured 180 prisoners, practically the whole force of Spaniards, except the cavalry.

The capture of the town and garrison was neatly planned and splendidly executed.

Soldiers' Perils at Sea.

Hong-Kong, Aug. 11.—The third United States Philippine expedition, now at Manila, encountered many perils. Typhoid and meningitis played havoc on the transports. Two firemen went insane and leaped overboard. When three days out from Honolulu fire was discovered aboard the transport Morgan City, in the coal bunkers. At midnight, when all the troops were asleep, Capt. Dillon assembled the crew and told them the news. Every man was pledged to secrecy.

Silently the men coupled on the hose and the steam pipes. Then they began battling the flames in the hold. Next morning the fire was as fierce as ever. Night and day the heroic crew fought the fire, but with little success. And still the 700 troops aboard did not know that a fire was burning beneath their feet. The Morgan City fell off in speed, and the whole fleet was delayed.

Capt. Dillon asked no aid, and the fire burned until the fleet reached Manila, when for the first time the troops learned of their peril.

CURZON FOR INDIA.

Mr. Balfour Makes the Announcement in the House in the Course of a Reply to Sir Charles Dilke.

London, Aug. 11.—During the debate on the appropriation bill in the House of Commons yesterday, Sir Charles Dilke, Advanced Radical, opened an attack upon the Government's foreign policy, especially in the Far East.

The Liberal leader in the House, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, followed in the same strain.

The Government leader, Mr. Balfour, replying, said he regretted the absence of the Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. George N. Curzon, on account of indisposition, adding "especially as it would have been the last occasion for him to address the House on foreign affairs, a subject upon which he has made so great and deserved a reputation." (Cheers.)

Mr. Balfour then announced Mr. Curzon's acceptance of the Vice Royalty of India, in succession to the Earl of Elgin.

During the course of his remarks, Mr. Balfour said it would not be pretended that the British Empire alone, or in an alliance with another empire, could prevent the legitimate development of other commercial and military empires. Mr. Balfour then said:

"Though we may not anticipate maintaining our old relative superiority in China, it is expected that the volume of British trade will increase as rapidly in the future as in the past. The question of equal facilities of trade is distinct from the question of concessions."

The foreign office last evening formally announced the appointment of Mr. George N. Curzon, until now the Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, as Viceroy of India, in succession to the Earl of Elgin.

Mr. Curzon, the new Viceroy of India will probably start for Calcutta in November. The appointment excites quite unusual interest.

A Dewey Rebuke.

Many years ago the Rev. Jedediah Dewey, an ancestor of Admiral Dewey, was holding services in honor of the victory at Bennington, and, as was right and proper, was giving Providence all the credit for the triumph of the American arms. Ethan Allen, who was present, chafed under this neglect of his own part in the battle, and, rising in his pew in the very middle of the "long prayer," as it is called, said, "Parson Dewey, Parson Dewey, Parson Dewey!"

The clergyman stopped and opened his eyes. The intrepid Allen went on, "Please mention to the Lord about my being there."

Not daunted by this outrageous interruption, the holy man thundered, "Sit down, thou bold blasphemer, and listen to the word of God."—New York Tribune.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonised, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

DEATH OF "SQUIRE" LANG OF KEENE.

The Oldest Settler of the County Passes Away.

Possibly and probably the oldest living resident of the county passed away at Keene this morning at four o'clock, in the person of Mr. Wm. Lang, better known for years and years as "Squire" Lang. Mr. Lang, who has been ill for the past year, died at the residence of his only daughter, Mrs. John Londerville, Keene. He was a native of Scotland, born 93 years ago at Kiltrochan. There he was united in marriage to Jane Stewart, and shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Lang came to Canada, settling in Otonabee, where he engaged in farming. He formerly lived at what is known as Hope's mill, near Allandale, and for some time carried on the mill. Many years ago he retired from active work and came to live in Keene. Mr. Lang was a prominent and public-spirited citizen. He was for many years a member of the township council and in 1860, at the time of the visit of the Prince of Wales, Warden of the county. He was also for many years a Justice of the Peace and the popular name "Squire" Lang has long been applied to him. He enjoyed the highest degree of respect and esteem and was known far and wide in the district as a man of unusual ability and irreproachable character.

For the past ten years he has been blind but retained his mental faculties to a high degree. His memory especially was active and it was a pleasure to hear the reminiscences which Mr. Lang could recall, especially those connected with the earlier history of the township and county. In religion Mr. Lang was a Presbyterian and in politics a prominent Liberal. Twenty-one years ago on August 12th, his wife preceded Mr. Lang to the better land. He leaves behind him only two children—Mr. John Lang, Meaford, Ont., and Mrs. Laundreville of Keene with whom he spent the last years of his life. Five other children are dead, viz., Mrs. James Fife, Mrs. Richard Hope, Mr. Jas. Lang and Mr. George Lang, all of Otonabee and Dr. Lang, whose family at present resides on Gilmour St., Peterborough. In the passing away of Mr. Lang the few remaining pioneer settlers lose one of their most prominent members for more perhaps in any township or county was longer a resident or better known and more highly respected than Mr. Lang. The funeral takes place on Saturday, August 13th at 2 o'clock p.m. from the late residence to Fife's cemetery.

Mrs. Allen has been a sufferer from nervous prostration and heart trouble for some time, but when Councillor Allen left Bowmanville last week, after a short stay, her illness was not regarded as being serious at the time. A telegram received today, however, apprised him of her sudden death this morning.

OUR TOWN COUNCIL.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In common with my fellow-citizens I am pleased to see that the council at its last meeting carried out the wishes of the people by abolishing the ward system in this town. Councillors Best, W. H. White, J. M. White, Robertson and Dawson voted against the bylaw and consequently against the wishes of the people. But the most startling episode of the discussion in the council was a speech delivered by Councillor Langford. It will be remembered that at a former meeting the council had refused to carry out the bylaw, and although one member (Mr. McWilliams) warned the council that they were acting illegally, they persisted in the wrong, and there was no way left to Mr. McWilliams but to call the attention of the public, as well as the council, to the facts of the case, and this he did in a straightforward, manly way, which had a very convincing effect upon the refractory section of the council when they saw clearly that they were violating an act of Parliament, and must suffer accordingly. And for this timely warning through the press Mr. McWilliams is severely blamed by Councillor Langford. Here are Councillor Langford's own words, as reported, in speaking of Mr. McWilliam's letters in the press. Mr. Langford says it was a high-handed measure and that "it simply would have the effect of making those members stick to what they had done, even if they knew it was wrong. They would not be men if they did not stick to it under the circumstances." Now, it is needless to say, that the principles laid down here and endorsed by Mr. Langford, if carried out, would rot society to its very foundations, for, according to Mr. Langford's logic, the thief, the liar, the burglar, the murderer and the whole criminal fraternity should persevere in their criminal career, because somebody had warned them in the press against their evil ways. They would not be men if they did not stick to it.

The most charitable construction we can pass upon Mr. Langford's speech in the council is that he is either a very silly or unsafe member of society.

MR. STRATTON'S CONTRIBUTION

To the Debate on the Address in the Local Legislature.

AN EXTENDED REPORT OF HIS SPEECH.

The Ground Pretty Thoroughly Covered—The Chief Points at Issue Dealt With—The Course of the Government Vindicated—Opposition Criticisms Answered.

On Monday afternoon Mr. Stratton, the representative of West Peterborough, delivered a speech during the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. As some of his remarks have attracted considerable attention and evoked considerable criticism from Opposition sources, the means of judging of the nature of his utterances are furnished by the following extended report of his address :

MR. SPEAKER,—Before addressing myself to the subject of the few remarks I propose making this afternoon, I wish to take the liberty of most cordially congratulating yourself upon your unanimous re-election as Speaker of the most important provincial legislature of the most important colony of the Empire. Your re-election shows at once the existence of a broad and tolerant spirit on the part of the members of this House, irrespective of party, and a frank recognition of the zeal, impartiality and capability with which you have discharged the not unfrequently difficult duties of your office. (Applause.)

I would wish, sir, to join with honourable gentlemen who have previously spoken in giving expression to the common regret that the imminent departure of His Excellency, Lord Aberdeen, universally evokes. Canada has always been fortunate in the matter of the Governors-General the Mother Country sends us, Lord Aberdeen has been no exception, and his presence during his term has been attended with the most gratifying results. But as the newest baby of the family is always considered the flower of the flock, I am sure that we shall welcome his successor, Lord Minto, with open arms and the warmest approval.

I have the greatest pleasure in most heartily congratulating the Honourable the Attorney General, upon the

to the country in his capacity of Premier. He has a good majority, and I believe will, as time goes on, grow stronger in the confidence of the House and of the country, when he becomes better known as leader of the Liberal party and has opportunity to develop his capacity for directing, to its advantage, the administration of the affairs of this Province. (Applause) Although thus early in his career he has been roundly abused, I and my colleagues upon this side of the House feel inclined to pay little attention to this circumstance, for in this regard Hon. Mr. Hardy has not received, so far, so much of this delicate attention on the part of the Opposition as Sir Oliver Mowat had been favoured with, yet the late leader of the party is now regarded as an angel of light. (Hear, hear.) I rejoice that Hon. Mr. Hardy shows such gratifying evidence of being the worthy leader of a great party. For a gentleman who, in the vigorous language of the leader of the Opposition, was bruised and battered and bleeding—a mere political wreck—the Honourable the Attorney-General in his reply to that honourable gentleman's first speech of the session, showed that his intellect has lost none of its force, nor his eye none of its keenness to detect a vulnerable joint in the armour of his opponent. (Applause.)

I would also like to give my congratulations to the honourable leader of the Opposition upon

THE GOOD FIGHT HE MADE,

and upon the success that attended his energetic exertions in his first appeal to the people as represented by his increased following, whom I am glad to welcome to the House. I am sure that they are all good fellows, with nothing bad about them except their political principles. The chief ground upon which his appeal was based was that it was time for a change. This was a fortunate time for him to make an appeal to the country, for the cry that it was time for a change had seized the popular mind, and the Opposition made this a main plank in their platform. (Applause.) The confidence of the Liberal party in its record and in the fidelity of the people to good government, and the belief that they would not be carried away, did not, perhaps, impress the Liberal party with the necessity of a more vigorous fight than was put up. In view of all these circumstances, and in view of the vigorous fight made by the Opposition, the fact th at the Government was handsomely sustained, that we are here in the House, is a great tribute to the hold of the Government upon the confidence of the people; and it is a matter of congratulation that with the organization, which was not perhaps all that it should have been under the circumstances, achieved so great a measure of success. I cannot agree with statements made by honourable gentleman opposite that the Ontario Government in the recent campaign had the active co-operation and support of the Dominion Government as has been charged. If this had been the case we should not have seen so many of the honourable gentlemen returned to seats in this house (applause.)

I am sure that we all rejoice at and concur in the reference to the bountiful harvest to which reference was made in the speech from the throne, and that with this abundant product that reasonably satisfactory prices prevail. All interested in our most important industry are glad to see no abatement in the efforts of the Department of Agriculture theoretical information as well as to supplement it with practical experimental work. I regret, Mr. Speaker, that the honourable leader of the Opposition permitted himself to speak in such disparaging terms as he employed to the influx of 30,000 visitors to the Agricultural College. Here the old spirit of opposition to this institution that has for years characterized the attitude of the Opposition, seems to crop out. The honourable gentleman says, as reported in the Mail and Empire, that "he has not heard or seen a word from one of the 30,000 spoken of as to what they saw and thought of the work of the farm." Does the honourable gentleman want a statistical abstract of the opinions of the farmers in tabulated form? Does he want a plebiscite to elicit an explicit expression of opinion? Or what does he want except to cavil and find fault. If the Agricultural College was not properly conducted, if the farmers who visit it were not thoroughly satisfied, we should very soon hear of it. The fact, of which the honourable gentleman of the visit of 30,000 persons is at least an evidence of the deep interest the farmers take in the Agricultural College—the only institution in the province specially and solely maintained in the interest of the promotion of agriculture. (Applause.)

TO DISSEMINATE USEFUL

My honourable friend from Dufferin (Dr. Barr) feels called upon to say that the College "is too expensive for practical purposes." But we should bear in mind that the object of the College is to teach principles of agriculture and to teach their intelligent application to the special conditions that obtain in the several parts of the province from which students come. The honourable gentleman also charged that the graduates of the college were not setting the examples they should set to the farmers in the districts from which they came, and that less prepared to make an honest living—less prepared for agriculture." Can the honourable gentleman cite a single instance of a man attending the Agricultural College who returned home less fitted to make an honest and successful living by the pursuit of agriculture, or who was less qualified to carry on farming successfully. He cannot do so. On the contrary I can cite from personal knowledge several instances of local farmers who are a living and practical evidence of the excellence and practical benefit conferred by virtue of attendance at the College. I can mention several gentlemen in my own county who farmers, who are such by virtue of attendance at the Agricultural College. Mr. Birdsall, of Asphodel, although a staunch Conservative, is an excellent farmer and an honest one at that, for he has always a good word for the College, and that he is a leader in farming in his section and a sort of sweep-stake winner at agricultural exhibitions with his stock, is due in large part to his having been a student at the College. I could also mention Mr. J. Fred Davidson, of Smith, who was one of the best and most progressive young farmers in that township until his removal to the Northwest. He had done a good work in infusing the enthusiasm he had caught at the College among the farmers of the township and by his successful career,

EXEMPLIFYING THE BENEFITS

to be derived from a course at the College at Guelph. Mr. S. R. Payne, of Dummer, was another example. He was most enthusiastic in his intelligent devotion to the cause of introducing among his fellow farmers the improved system of dairying taught at the College and his efforts have been responsible for no small share of the forward impulse that had been given to dairying in the district. Mr. George Payne, of North Monaghan, was another example of progressive farmers, who have drawn their instruction and progressive impulses from the Agricultural College. My honourable friend opposite, the genial member for East Victoria (Mr. J. Hilliard Catnegie) at the College, and he is one of our most successful farmers, and if it is the misfortune of East Victoria to be represented by a Conservative, I do not know any gentleman whom I would rather see in the House than my honourable friend, who is carrying on most successful agricultural operations in East Victoria, and I do not think that he will say that the attendance at the Agricultural College has, in the language of the honourable gentleman from Dufferin, "unfitted him for practical purposes in the calling of agriculture." This is a case in which results cannot be reduced to statistics. We must judge from general results. His honourable friend from Dufferin had been gracious enough to concede that "under proper management the college was a splendid institution for the training of young farmers." Here again he is indefinite.

ALSO TOOK A COURSE

HE DOES NOT SPECIFY

what particular management he refers to, but I assume he means Conservative management. That would be all right on the same principle that the constable vote would have been entirely unobjectionable had it been cast, or thought to have been cast, for Conservative candidates. (Laughter.) I am warranted in asserting that no one influence has operated so powerfully as the Agricultural College and the industries that circle around it, to the placing of Ontario in the front rank, which she now occupies, in the agricultural and dairying industries. (Applause.) There is no Province of the Dominion, no State of the Union in which farming is so successfully carried on, thanks to the assistance liberally extended by the Government as in the Province of Ontario, and no one cause has contributed so much to this result as this same Agricultural College. In none of the places I have mentioned are there better or more prosperous farmers than in the Province of Ontario. (Hear, hear.) The extravagance in criticism of the honourable leader of the Opposition finds an outlet in his good roads criticism. I hope this mood does not arise from the circumstance that he has found the highway to office so generously obstructed with obstacles, making it a hard road to travel—that he has gathered the impression that the good roads crusade has not been successful. In his opening speech of the session the honourable gentleman made the extravagant statement that "there was not a being in the province capable of proving that there had been one half mile of on account of the appointment of a commissioner, or that there had been one half mile of good road made that would not have been made if the appointment had never been brought into existence." The honourable gentleman cannot say whether he is a capable man or otherwise. I can help him out of his difficulty. The good roads commissioner is a most capable and excellent official, the right man in the right place. Since his appointment he has shown such exceptional ability that he has been offered flattering inducements to go elsewhere, in the same way that the province of Ontario was deprived of Prof. Robertson. This is only another example of the excellent judgment shown by the Ontario government in the selection of its expert officials. As in the matter of the Agricultural College, I can point the honourable leader of the Opposition to

GOOD ROADS MADE

of the Good Roads Commissioner. In answer to the interest aroused by his efforts, the township of North Monaghan, in my county, has taken a long step in advance by the practical abolition of the old system of statute labour which has been commuted to a cash payment. The township has purchased a road-grading machine, and already the system has yielded satisfactory results and with the approval of the people. The township of Asphodel, has purchased and has in operation a road-grading machine and in the town of Peterborough the spirit of improvement in highways has taken practical shape. Large contracts for permanent pavements are now in course of being carried out, for the purchase of a steam roller and stone crusher and the spirit of improvement in the matter of improved highways has taken hold of the people, as a result of the good roads crusade so actively and capably pushed by the excellent commission of good roads. I do not wonder that the honourable leader of the Opposition failed in his rush about the country last year to take particular notice of the improvements in the condition of our highways. He was not looking for good features in the administration of the government of the province.

THE TOWN IS NEGOTIATING

The honourable member for Dufferin made extraordinary claims on behalf of his leader and his party for success in the province, claiming a majority of the popular vote, alleging that if the present leader of the Opposition had the conscience of Sir Oliver Mowat he would resign. I can show the honourable gentlemen where he is error. I wish to in controversion of his assertion, to show that the government has besides a clear majority in the House, a clear majority of the popular vote in the province—and a majority irrespective of the votes of the constables. I beg to submit in support of my contention the following figures. They were polled at the last general election :

Liberal votes	215,644
Conservative votes	208,436
Independent votes	9,995
Total vote	434,075

This leaves the government with a clean majority of the popular vote of 7,208. In this computation I place the following gentlemen in the list of Independents, though the larger proportion of the votes they received were those of Liberals. Haycock, 1,667; McNichol, South Grey, 792; Park, East Wellington, 1281; Kaufman, North Oxford, 1,815; Tucker, West Wellington, 1012; Bennet, Stormont, 855; , Centre Simcoe, 569, and others with smaller majorities from 50 to 150, totalling 607, in all 9,995. I have included

IN THE LIBERAL ESTIMATE,

Dynes, of Dufferin, 2091; Curry, of West Simcoe, 1599; Caven of Brince Edward, 2030; and Bonfield, who contested South Renfrew as an Independent Liberal, 1,014, altogether 6,715, and I have on the other hand given Gurd, of West Lambton (3100), and McCallum, of East Lambton, (2,321), and McDonald, of Centre Bruce (1,932), or a total of 7,353, I have included among the Conservative votes polled, and—

Dr. Barr—"What do you call Haycock?"

Mr. Stratton—"I have classed him with the Independents."

"Grit" replied Mr. Whitney.

Mr. Stratton—"Then, if a Grit, it would add to the Liberal vote polled; but Haycock than Conservative votes, and Tucker, of West Wellington, pulled more Conservatives than Liberals, which equalled the vote and therefore did not affect the result, one vote neutralizing the other.

PULLED MORE LIBERAL,

Dr. Barr—"Where do you put Beatty?"

Mr. Stratton—"On the side of the Liberal votes polled.

Mr. Whitney—"He did not run as a Liberal."

Mr. Stratton—"He did not run as a Conservative. However, he is present to speak for himself. These figures are a fair equalization of the vote, yet the Conservative press asserts that the Government met practical defeat, and the member from Dufferin says "the is opposed to the administration, that a a time for a change had come," and that "the Premier should tender his resignation." How ridiculous this talk seems when we look at this House and discover that there are 51 Liberals to 43 Conservatives. (Hear, hear."

Mr. Stratton went on to refer to the increase of the vote polled last March over those of 1894 and the increased vote polled by the Ontario Government over that polled by the Liberals in the Dominion election of 1896. He also referred to the important cities and towns carried by the Government, such as Kingston, Brockville, Peterborough, London, Brantford, Woodstock, Windsor, Guelph, Stratford and many others of minor importance which showed that the

in all these places, while in Toronto, the seat of learning, the centre of intelligence and business shrewdness, the decrease of the Conservative majority was one-third. Continuing Mr. Stratton said :

The Opposition have the assurance to claim in the face of these figures that the Conservatives have a popular majority of 2,500, and the honourable member for Dufferin says that under similar circumstances Sir Oliver Mowat would have resigned. Why Sir Oliver Mowat, according to these gentlemen, has been defeated at every election since I entered the House, and now we have in the sanguinary language of the leader of the Opposition, the Government with its represented by the defeat of two Cabinet Ministers, the Government lies prostrate, beaten, battered, and now we have the genial doctor removing their brains and the great party organ, the Mail and Empire, has the Government "gasping," and these fatuous and frantic assertions are made in the face of the fact that the Government has a clear majority of eight in the House, with a popular majority of nearly eight thousand in the country. (Applause.)

Honourable gentlemen opposite complain of the meagerness of the bill of fare. I would beg to remind them that this is a special session, called for special purposes, and it cannot be expected that the speech from the throne will call for more than is expected to be presented. If the genial medical member for Dufferin were called to write a would he think it necessary to include a remedy for gout, liver complaint, rheumatism, lung trouble, or that fashionable malady, appendicites; if he were invited to a strawberry festival would he expect the bill of fare of a Lord Mayor's banquet? The speech from the throne covers to the ground; it deals with these questions that are to come before the House, and what more can be expected? The address very properly referred to the fishery legislation to be enacted this session. The question of jurisdiction was finally settled in favour of this province, and it became the duty of the Government to provide means to protect our interests in connection with the fisheries of the province, and to regulate the industry so that this province should reap the largest practical benefit. Heretofore there has been no practical and adequate policy pursued. This is

and if the Government failed to take the proper steps looking to the province securing the greatest advantages from the undisputed possession of our fisheries, the honourable leader of the Opposition would have been the first and the loudest in complaint and condemnation. At the first session available he would have turned up the financial statement and asked with scorn in his tones, where was the return from the fisheries which had long ago been declared the property of this province, and this remissness on the part of the Government would have furnished other than a scaly argument to the honourable gentleman against the Government. I hope, and that the Attorney-General in framing his bill will meet the new conditions in the completest and most effective manner, and this legislation should involve the appointment of a competent man, who would be able, from his knowledge of the subject, to efficiently administer a law which should cover the questions associated with the various seasons and affecting the various waters to be dealt with. He should be a practical man who understands his business. The fishery interest is a most important matter, especially in view of the responsibility which the decision of the entire control of the provincial fisheries places upon the Government. It represents not only a very important source of revenue, but also the pleasure of a large class of the citizens of the province, and I hope, and feel sure, that the law will be a practical and practicable one—an IMPROVEMENT UPON THE DOMINION LAW.

I FEEL CONFIDENT,

The present condition of the game laws are also susceptible of improvement, and it is to be hoped that the desired improvement will not be found wanting.

In relation to other questions which has engaged and is engaging so much of the attention of the honourable gentlemen opposite, and also of those on this side of the House, it does not seem to me necessary to occupy much time in defending the course of the Government. After the argument advanced for and against the course of the Government upon the question of the right of constables to vote, those willing to be convinced must be convinced, but there is little hope of making any impression upon those who come to the discussion of the question with preconceived ideas and deep-seated political prejudices. The anxiety of the Opposition to cross the floor of the House explains the extraordinary course they have pursued. Defeated at the polls in the general election, they pinned their faith to protested seats, but fearing that this resort might not be successful under ordinary conditions, they took the course of challenging the right of constables employed on polling day to vote, a right which under the Confederation Act they have exercised without question or dispute for a period of over thirty years. A question was raised that had never before been thought of in connection with provincial politics. In regard to upon this point, it does seem to me as an ordinary layman that the learned judges of the Court of Appeal might have taken the time necessary to set this question at rest when it was referred to them by the Government instead of shielding themselves behind their holidays. With all due respect to the judicial impeccability of the learned judges of the Court of Appeal, I cannot understand why routine should be permitted to prevent the setting apart of a few days to consider a question of paramount political importance. The judges of the land, like other officials, exist in the public interest, and it seems to me that they might have decided the question submitted to them, and if they had done so it might not have been necessary to have held this session on this account. But the learned judges took a lofty ground—they did not seem to have any regard to the expense to which the Province would be subjected by the holding of a session; they preferred to take their vacation, they must have a few day's outing. Nero fiddled

WHILE ROME WAS BURNING,

and the judges must go fishing while the Opposition is trying to rob a portion of the electors of the right to exercise the franchise. In default of a judicial settlement of this question, the House is asked to settle it for the future. The matter resolves itself into the question whether the Legislature in passing the Election Act intended to deprive constables of their votes. This would not be in harmony with the principles of the controlling party of the Legislature. For a hundred years the Liberals have fought for the extension of the franchise, and it was the Liberals that placed the ballot in the hands of the electors. From time immemorial constables have voted and no one for a moment thought of questioning their right to do so any more than they thought of challenging the right of a farmer, a blacksmith or a carpenter, or any other class, to vote. That constables have enjoyed unquestioned the right to vote is to me prima facie evidence of the fact that they possessed that right. But the Opposition in their desperation saw what they regarded as a chance to gain a party advantage, and upon the strength of a mere technicality, challenged the right of constables to vote. Under these circumstances the Premier, in default of a decision by the Court of Appeal, thought it his duty to call a session of the Legislature

TO DEAL WITH THE QUESTION

involving a right that has always been conceded. The honourable member from Dufferin (Dr. Barr) had asked whether the House would have been called together if eight seats on the Conservative side of the House had depended upon the constable vote, and he added in the blood thirsty phraseology of his leader that "it made a great difference whose ox was gored." Of course, it made all the difference in the world, and I will now ask the honourable gentleman if the Opposition would have attacked the constable vote if such a course threatened the loss of eight of their seats. The Opposition must claim a full share of the responsibility if any existed anywhere, in regard to the question of doubt of a constable's right to vote. The Opposition has claimed loudly the glory of introducing or inspiring most of the beneficial legislation that has been placed upon the statute book. Then why have they failed in their duty to the constables? If the honourable gentleman opposite were animated by a burning desire to extend the franchise, why had they not looked after the rights of the poor constable. No body has ever doubted the rights of the constable to vote; that right has been conceded without question of any kind. Sir John Macdonald

HAD NO DOUBT.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy had no doubt, and Sir John Thompson had no doubt—

Mr. Whitney—It can't be shown that Sir John Thompson spoke on the subject at all."

Mr. Stratton—"Didn't he vote for it?"

Mr. Whitney—"He didn't approve of it."

Mr. Stratton—If a man votes for a thing he naturally expresses his approval. (Applause). The Dominion law was amended in this respect by the enactment of legislation declaratory of the right, past, present and future of constables to vote, and that while a trial of an election petition, involving the right of constables to vote, was pending against the honourable gentleman, who introduced the legislation, Although the honourable member for South Huron (Mr Garrow) has referred to this subject I may be permitted to enter into it a little, because it is desirable that the tenability of the claim of the Opposition may be as effectively discredited as possible. The section of the election law upon which I assume the contention of honourable gentleman opposite is founded, provides :

"That no person shall be entitled to vote were at or during or before an election, is or has been employed in forwarding the election of a candidate or any person whatsoever, as counsel agent, solicitor or clerk at any polling booth or in any capacity whatsoever, and who has received or expects to receive pay."

Now the word "person" in the expression "employed by any person whatsoever" does not, as has been remarked,

APPLY TO THE POWER THAT APPOINTS

a constable—the Crown—which cannot come under the description of a person employed on behalf of any candidate. I submit that "forwarding an election is used in reference to actions exercised in a strictly party sense—on behalf of a candidate" and the law prevents active partizans working for reward from exercising the franchise. It is not to be held that the law contemplates that persons employed by the Crown to promote the holding of a fair election and to see that the fullest opportunity of casting the ballots is allowed, should be disfranchised. Certainly the law which gives a vote to agents and scrutineers, persons acting in an admittedly partizan capacity, will not exclude from the polling booth persons acting on behalf of the Crown and in a perfectly non-partizan capacity. As I have hinted the words "acting in any capacity, whatever" if given the technical and literal interpretation which the Opposition desires to give them, would disfranchise a class of electors who now possess the unchallenged right to vote. Such an interpretation would disfranchise the persons leasing polling booths, persons supplying fuel, persons erecting voting compartments, bill posters, liverymen and all that class. The Opposition's contention has only to be carried out to its conclusion to and it does not seem worth while to waste further time in its discussion. Therefore in default of any explicit declaration to the contrary, we may reasonably conclude that the law gives constables the right to vote. As intimated, a similar question arose in 1887 when the seat of the leader of the government, Sir John Macdonald was under protest, and legislation was unanimously passed by the House of Commons defining what was always the intention of the section of the law under discussion. Then there was no howl of

The weary vigils of the night, anxious hours that drag like days. How often they come, and how unwelcome they are. A system robbed by sleeplessness of natural rest cannot be vigorous and strong. MISS EMMA TEMPLE.

HERE IS WHAT SHE SAYS:

At last, after eight months of physical weakness and nervous prostration, caused by over exertion and want of rest,—during which time I suffered greatly on account of the shattered condition of my nerves, and for which I was unable to find any relief. I have found a medicine (Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills) that in three months made my nerves strong, removed all nervous troubles, built up my physical system and made me strong and well. They removed despondency, and in consequence of taking your valuable Pills I look forward to the future hopefully. I have to thank your great cure for nervousness and bodily weakness for my present good health and strength.

Yours truly,

THE BEST ON RECORD

80 August Crop Bulletin Says of Fall Wheat Crop.

FRUIT AS A WHOLE NOT GOOD.

Spring Wheat Excellent—Barley and Oats About Up to the Average—Condition of Live Stock Fair—Plenty of Labor—Advance Extracts From the Coming Government Report.

Toronto, Aug. 11.—The following is from the August crop bulletin now in course of preparation by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The figures of acreage and yield will be published in a few days:

The Weather—Detailed reports from the Toronto Observatory as to the temperature and precipitation of the three months from May to July inclusive indicate that the mean temperature during May and July was above the average at every station in the province, the difference in the majority of cases being from one to four degrees. The same is true as regards June, with the exception of one station, where it was very slightly below the average. The general mean average for the whole period was 63.9, as compared with 61.7 degrees, the average for the corresponding period for the previous sixteen years. The rainfall for May was about half an inch less than the average, that for June very slightly in excess of it, while the precipitation during July was only 1.11 inches, as compared with the sixteen years' average of the month of 2.63 inches, or considerably less than one-half. The result of the high temperature of July, combined with the scanty rainfall, was to hasten the ripening of all grain crops and advance the harvesting season.

Best Crop of Fall Wheat.

Fall Wheat—The crop of fall wheat is one of the best ever harvested in the province. Both east and west the yields have been large, an occasional low yield being more than balanced by a heavy return close by. The crop was cut early, and was harvested in a good condition generally, although a few correspondents complain of "lodging" owing to the heavy straw, and of "shelling." The grain is described as being plump, and in many cases goes considerably over standard weight. Occasional reports of rust were received, but little complaint was received regarding insects except in the case of the midge, which was injurious in Welland, Haldimand and Lincoln, particularly in the last named County.

Spring Wheat—Many correspondents in the eastern portion of the province report a considerable increase in the acreage devoted to spring wheat. This crop, like other cereals, ripened early owing to the hot weather, which in some neighborhoods prevented the heads from filling well. The yield as a whole, however, will be considerably above the average, especially in eastern Ontario, where a number of correspondents speak of the crop as the best for many years. The main drawbacks experienced have been frost and drouth, and some slight injury from rust and midge is also reported.

Barley—The crop is generally good, and with a few exceptions the grain is bright and in fine condition, though in some places light in weight owing to the heat and lack of moisture. The frost in July also inflicted some damage on the crop. Slight losses from smut and rust have been observed, but there appears to have been a marked exemption from the ravages of destructive insects.

Oats—There will be about an average yield of oats as regards quantity, the crop, which promised splendidly during the earlier part of the season, having suffered considerably from the late frosts, and to a still greater degree from the hot, dry weather, which caused premature ripening. The straw is consequently short, and the grain apt to be light. The yield is better in the extreme eastern counties, both in quantity and quality, than elsewhere. In a number of localities injuries from frost and the attacks of grasshoppers are mentioned, but smut seems to have almost entirely disappeared, being mentioned by only one correspondent.

Rye—The greater part of this crop is fed green, to supplement pasture, and the results this season have been satisfactory. Where grown for the grain the yield per acre will be slightly above the average, except in the Lake Ontario counties, in some of which there was a small yield.

Beans Not Increasing in Popularity.

Beans—Judging by the remarks of correspondents beans do not appear to be increasing in popularity as a field crop. The crop was more or less affected by drouth and frost, but despite these drawbacks it will be almost up to the average for yield.

Peas—The yield of peas varies greatly, even in the same county or township. The crop got a good start, but the continued drouth checked the growth, and caused the vines to ripen too early. The frost of July 10th also did considerable injury to this crop. The straw, though short, is bright, and will make good fodder. The "bug" was frequently complained of in the Lake Erie district, but further east it did not appear to give much trouble. The yield per acre for the province will fall a little short of the average, and runs all the way from 10 to 30 bushels to the acre.

Three Tons of Hay Per Acre.

Hay and Clover—Correspondents are almost unanimous in favorable comments regarding this crop. While old meadows did not do so well, newly sown fields gave large yields. Three tons to the acre are frequently reported, and four and five tons per acre are also mentioned. The average will be about two tons, or say fifty per cent. above the average. Many farmers cannot find room in their barns for the surplus crop. In addition to the generous yield the crop generally has been saved in first-class condition, several correspondents claiming that in this respect it is the best for many years. Cutting was earlier than usual. Alsike did not do so well as red clover or timothy, and there will be a remarkable scarcity of seed in the case of this variety.

Corn—This promises to be a fair crop in the Lake Erie counties, but in the other districts much injury has been done by the frost of the second week of July. The drouth has also told against the crop in every section of the province. Several Middlesex correspondents refer to large numbers of crows and black birds having attacked the young corn.

Potatoes—The potato crop will be considerably below the average in most localities owing to the late frosts in June and July, which were very destructive in the northern counties and some low-lying lands elsewhere, and the more recent drouth, the effects of which have been generally felt throughout the province. A good yield is anticipated in the St. Lawrence counties, where the conditions have been more favorable, and timely rains may bring some improvement in the case of late-planted crops. The ravages of the potato beetle are noted by some correspondents as an additional cause of the shortage, and blight has appeared in a few sections.

Roots—The large majority of reports as to the root crops are encouraging, the only drawback being the excessive and long-continued drouth which has retarded development in many localities. With a due amount of moisture during the remainder of the season there will be a good yield, but otherwise the crop will be a light one. Little injury has been done by insects, except that two or three correspondents refer to the ravages of grasshoppers in Muskoka and Manitoulin.

Flax—The crop will be only middling in quality, frost and drouth having told upon both seed and stalk.

Tobacco—The counties of Essex and Kent have been experiencing a boom this year in the growing of tobacco. A large area has been given to the crop, and although the early part of the season was too dry for best results the plants in many cases are quite promising. While many of the growers are practically without experience, the general opinion appears to be that the crop will be a fairly successful one in that particular section. Grasshoppers and the "worms" of the sphinx moth are reported to have done injury to the plants. Correspondents also report tobacco as being grown in the county of Prescott and on St. Joseph's Island, Algoma, and other sections are also becoming interested in the crop.

Fruit a Variable Crop.

Fruit—The apple harvest will be a light one this season, the yield in most localities being considerably below the average. This is attributable among other causes to heavy rain storms occurring while the trees were in blossom, which interfered with fertilization, and to the prevalence in many neighborhoods of the tent caterpillar and other destructive insects which have wrought much damage where spraying has been neglected. Much of the fruit is small and hard, owing to the drouth. Winter apples will be particularly scarce. Plums, while yielding fairly in some parts, have sustained a good deal of injury in many places from the attacks of the curculio, and the yield as a whole will be below the average. Peaches as a rule have done but poorly, and the crop will be small. Pears have been the most successfull of the larger fruits, and are likely to be abundant. There was a good yield of cherries, although some losses from black knot are noted. Grapes will also be plentiful. The drouth proved injurious to small fruits, which promised an immense yield. Strawberries yielded fairly, but raspberries were small and dry.

Pastures and Live Stock—Pasturage was excellent during the spring and early summer, and the yield of hay was large, but the recent dry, parching weather has been severely felt, many farmers being compelled to feed hay to their stock. The condition of live stock generally is good. The prospects for fall and winter are highly encouraging, as there are ample supplies to winter the stock. The general lack of fresh pasture has resulted in a marked temporary falling off in the flow of milk, and a consequent slackening in dairy operations. Recent rains have already in some neighborhoods restored the fertility of the pastures.

The Apiary—The season has been a good one for honey, bees swarming early and in some neighborhoods excessively. The average yield will be nearly fifty pounds per hive, and there has been a good increase in colonies.

Labor and Wages—The supply of farm labor as a rule has been fully adequate to the demand. Through the greater part of the province the wages of harvest hands ran from 75 cents to $1.25 or $1.50 per day, with board. Monthly wages vary from $12 to $25 per month, with board, the larger amounts being where engagements are limited to a month or two in the harvest season. In some eastern localities men are obtainable by the day for from 50 to 75 cents and board, or $1 without. Taking the province throughout, $1 or $1.25 with board, would probably be a fair average for harvest hands engaged by the day, and $15 per month for engagements for the season.

Russia's Program Accepted.

London, Aug. 11.—The Pekin correspondent of The Times says: "The Tsung Li-Yamen (Chinese Foreign Office) has given formal assent to all the conditions imposed by the Russian Charge d'Affaires, M. Pavloff, regarding the contract for the new Chinese Railway extension loan. These conditions are in direct conflict with the terms of the signed contract, and are designed to block the completion of the final contract."

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.L.A. Co.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$3,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,050 26

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to-day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Gentlemen,—"My son, Samuel Bennie, got his leg crushed and bruised in the mines seven weeks ago. The swelling never fully left it until we tried your Menthol Liniment. On the first application the swelling disappeared and the muscles began to loosen up, so much so that the same evening he was able to use his foot freely for the first time. I consider it the best liniment known."

The Best Remedy for Coughs and Colds.

Mr. Chas. Bennett, Cambrie St., Vancouver, writes: "I do not believe Griffiths' Menthol Liniment has an equal for Coughs and Colds. My two children, aged 3 and 5 years, had a severe cough for some days, and coughed nearly all night. After using other remedies without success, we tried Griffiths' Menthol Liniment. We gave each 5 and 7 drops when going to bed; and rubbed their chests well with it; they did not cough during that night and in less than two days with continued treatment they were altogether better. My wife says she would not be without it in the house under any circumstances."

"What Headaches Mean."

The dreadful headaches which women suffer mean nineteen times out of twenty that there is more trouble than headache.

There is probably some unhealthy condition of the delicate organism of womanhood and often added to this the digestive functions are out of order; these two conditions cause nearly all the headaches from which women suffer.

There are two great remedies specially adapted to these ailments invented by the chief consulting physician of the famous Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. R. V. Pierce. His world-renowned "Favorite Prescription" is the most successful medicine ever known for the cure of distinctly feminine ailments and his "Golden Medical Discovery" is the one supremely effective cure for digestive difficulties.

Taken in conjunction they completely rejuvenate the nervous system of weak and debilitated women; giving health, strength and capacity to the nerve-centers; renewed power to the blood-making glands and energetic force to the entire body.

A lady living in Coshocton Co., Ohio, Mrs. W. T. Stanton, of Blissfield, writes: "I had female weakness very bad for nearly three years. Had dragging down pains in and above my hips and such dreadful pains in the back and top of my head (just as though someone was lifting me by the hair). Had no ambition, would try to work a few days then would have to lie in bed for a long time. No tongue can express the suffering I endured. I had much pain at monthly periods. I doctored most of the time with as good a physician as there is in the state, but had no ease only when I was quiet and off my feet and then I had more or less pain in my head. When I began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I weighed 108 pounds, and was very pale and weak. I took twelve bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and seven of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Now I feel like a different person. Have no pain in my head, can do all my work for self, husband and one child; am gaining in flesh. I feel it is through God's mercy and your wonderful medicines that I am cured."

Where constipated conditions exist Dr. Pierce's mild and agreeable "Pleasant Pellets" should be occasionally used in connection with the "Prescription."

HIGH DIVING ELK.

The Camera Catches One of Its Most Wonderful Feats.

In conversation the other day, Will J. Barnes of Sioux City, Iowa, said:

Some people have an eccentric hobby, others have a hobby that appeals to the general run of beings as sensible and proper. Whatever you may call my hobby, it is one that has taken complete possession of me, and I am proud of the sensation it causes. My hobby is my diving elks, which I claim to be the most wonderful animals in the world. But then perhaps I am prejudiced in their favor, as I educated them and taught them the tricks that are a constant source of wonder and admiration to my friends.

I was prompted to train the elk because I heard it so frequently stated that it was the dullest animal living. The fact that the undertaking seemed to be one almost impossible to carry through successfully gave additional zest to the task I set for myself, which was to train a team of elks to do the most remarkable thing I could think of that was compatible with the nature of the animal.

I procured two young elks and began experimenting with them at once. I soon discovered that the elks were smart enough to outwit me on several occasions. My first step was to break them to drive in harness. This took nearly a year to do, as I had to gain the animals' confidence and friendship before I could do anything with them.

I succeeded finally, however, in getting them thoroughly broken into a very pleasant driving team. I got my idea of teaching them to dive by their seeming utter indifference as to what height they jumped from while in training. In fact, the first dive they ever made was from a high bank into the Sioux River, on which occasion I went with them.

I fixed a short chute on the river bank at first and coaxed them to go into it up about five feet high and jump into the water from that height. After a few months of patient work I got them to run up the chute of their own free will and jump off into the water. As it was the only place from which they could get into the water they began to think it great sport to jump from that height. Then I began to raise the platform, and as the weather was getting too cold in Iowa for comfortable training in the river I took my elks south to New Orleans and kept them in constant training all winter, jumping from a higher elevation each week after I had got them to leap from a height of about twenty feet.

"Ringlette" seemed by instinct to get the true diving idea of making his plunges headfirst, with front feet extended, and now he always goes head foremost and strikes exactly in the center of the tank, which is sixteen feet square and twelve feet deep.

The buck elk "Ring" is beginning to dive almost as expertly as his brother, and I am sure before the summer is past he will dive head foremost, with feet extended, as does "Ringlette.."

Raised . . . From a Bed of Sickness . . .

SIMCOE, Jan. 18th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Gentlemen —For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, all treating me for catarrh of the stomach, but to no avail. I could not eat the most simple food without being in dreadful misery, and found no relief until same was vomited up. After spending a large sum in medical advice, I was advised to try a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I purchased a box from J. Austin and Company, Simcoe, and to my surprise found great relief. Not being able to eat I tried a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the pains left me the third day. My appetite has been fully restored. I consider myself perfectly cured, and feel as well as when a young woman, although I am 65 years old at present. I was almost a shadow, now I am as fleshy as before my sickness. Have used only three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and two boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I can do my house work as usual. I am positive that my marvellous cure (which I think it is) is due purely to Dr. Chase's remedies, which I have used. I can honestly recommend the same to any persons suffering from symptoms similar to mine. Wishing you every success,

Yours truly,

MRS. ANN CHURCHILL, Sr.

START FOR SELKIRK.

Col. Evans and 80 of the Yukon Force Leave Teslin—The Travel Is Difficult.

McDougall Camp. Teslin Trail, July 28, via Vancouver, Aug. 9, via Toronto (Globe Special), Aug. 10.—Col. Evans, with 80 of the Yukon force, including artificers, surveyors and two ladies of the Victorian Order of Nurses, left Teslin on July 21st direct for Selkirk by the steamer Anglian, Captain McDonald, owned by the Canadian Development Company. This is the first trip and the first steamer on the lake. It was expected they would reach Selkirk about the 1st of August. The steamer will continue her course to Dawson, and expects to make her return trip in from two to three weeks, when the remainder of the force will be taken forward. The Anglian is a substantially built boat, carries 100 passengers and about 30 tons of freight. Upon reaching Selkirk the advance detachment will begin immediately to build barracks and make preparations for the approaching winter. The base of my writing is 50 miles up the trail from Telegraph Creek. About 400 pack animals are now engaged in the transportation of freight. One-third of the detachment's supplies have already reached Teslin, and the remainder is at various points and over 50 miles on the way. The trail is exceedingly heavy in consequence of the recent continuous rains peculiar to late July weather in this section of the country. There are at least 200 men working on it. For a distance of 25 miles out of Glenora there is a good wagon road, and heavy traffic is being carried on along it to the point where the trail begins. The trail will be a first-class one and is being pushed on with all the vigor possible. The members of the force, so far as I know, are all well and in excellent spirits.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No class is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

Madrid and Its Climate.

Along the Mediterranean shore Spain presents a narrow ribbon of fertile, delightful country. The region is often called "the garden of Spain."

It is a great contrast to pass from these tropical shores to the wind swept plains of interior Spain. The level country inclosed by the Guadarrama and the Cantabrian mountains forms in the west an extensive wheat growing region. Toward the east as the rainfall decreases pasturage encroaches upon arable culture. In New Castile, on the south of the Guadarrama and in about the center of Spain, the political capital has been placed. The level country in which it has been dropped, as if by accident, is for the most part a waterless plain, swept in winter by the piercing winds from the naked mountains of the north, sweltering in summer under the effect of the sun's rays on bare rock and soil.

The climate of Madrid has been tersely described by its inhabitants as "three months of winter and nine of hell."—Edward D. Jones in North American Review.

Gives Evidence in Favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism.

Dresden, Aug. 8—Mr. W. G. Cragg is one of our best known merchants, and enjoys the highest respect and confidence of all who know him.

The best doctors failed to relieve him. So did the medicines he used.

But to-day he is sound and well.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Cragg says: "I have used only six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but they have cured me completely. I'll never be without them."

Reader, if you have rheumatism—go and do likewise. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you too.

MR. STRATTON'S CONTRIBUTION

simulated indignation raised; there was no "outrage" involved in the unanimous action of parliament; it was a plain, simple common-sense procedure, naturally employed to overcome a difficulty which existed. No unrighteous nor unfair legislation is being proposed. No advantage is being taken of the Opposition whose only opposition to what is to be enacted is the fact that it interferes with their schemes of scoring by a 'fluke,' represented by their having factiously and for pure party advantages, raised the question that was never raised before. They are willing to gain power by disfranchising electors. When the question of the

is definitely settled, I submit that there will be no advantage to either party. The Liberal party will have, as they have always had, no doubt in the matter, for they never had any doubt. We have no instance on record or submitted of a Conservative scrutineer having challenged the vote of a constable. They claim that only Liberal constables are appointed. If this were the case and if there were any doubt of their votes being valid, the Conservative party would have been swift to take advantage of the circumstance. If we (the Liberals) were as bad as we are represented by honourable gentlemen opposite and their organs, if we were as unscrupulous, we should have appointed Conservative constables by the hundreds and have killed their votes. While I do not wish to impute motives I cannot bring myself to believe that the Opposition are sincere in their contention. Their course in this matter is merely a bit of sharp practice that would be more worthy of shady sporting circles than a great public party. It is not the action of statesmen. The public do not sympathise with the Opposition, and while very naturally the party journals are divided is practically unanimous in its approval of the government's position. I wish to quote in support of my position a few of the opinions of a few Independent journals. I shall begin at home with the Peterborough Times which supported the Conservative candidate at the last election and opposed myself. Referring to Mr. Hardy's course, the Times among other things says:

THE INDEPENDENT PRESS

> The course which Mr. Hardy has seen fit to adopt in calling the Legislature together to discuss the question as to the right of election constables to vote in provincial elections is we think a wise one. . . . With this question unsettled, the chances of confusion in the administration of the affairs of the province would be almost infinite. The government has wisely determined to avoid this contigency. . . . . Something also might be said for the courage of the governme t in facing the legislature at the present juncture. It might have waited for the bye-elections, to increase and solidify its majority; it would certainly stand to to win more than the Opposition from the resultant state of confusion in the representation of the constituencies. But it has chosen a better part.

The Hamilton Herald is regarded as sturdily Independent but it takes a view of the action of the government that is not comforting to the contentions of the Opposition:

> It was hoped to oust the Hardy government by a stratagem which closely resembles trickery, although it may be legitimate party politics. For many years the right of election constables to vote has not been questioned. Nobody thought of questioning their right under the law until the Hardy government got into a tight place with a very small majority between it and defeat. Nobody, so far as we are aware, says that constables should not be allowed to vote. . . . Question the legal authority of the constables to vote. Why? Not because they should not, but because the law is ambiguous on the subject. The Tory politicians want the matter to go to the courts. Why? Simply because they hope that the courts will decide against the constables. . . . The objection to the constables' vote was a clever piece of party strategy on the part of the Tories. But it was trickery just the same. No question of principle was involved. It was hoped to overturn the government on a legal technicality. It was a scheme such as a sharp lawyer might have conceived to win a snap verdict for his client. Mr. Hardy has opposed sharp practice. He says to the enemy: You have raised the question as to the legal right of constables to vote. There is no question about their moral right. But in order that there shall be no doubt about the matter we shall let the legislature decide. . . .

The London Evening News is another Independent journal not swayed by party considerations, and therefore its views of the situation are those which involve a fair estimate of facts and a common-sense view of the situation:

> "There is only one objection that can be raised to the session of the Legislature, called to begin on August 3, and that is that there should be any occasion for it. That occasion arrises from the obscure wording of the election law. But as the obscurity exists, the most common-sense and direct plan is to straighten the matter out and be done with it. In the minds of all reasonable men we fancy there is no doubt that it was not at the outset intended to debar constables from voting nor can we see any reason whatever why they should be so debarred . . . No argument can be advanced why they should be denied the right of the franchise, whatever technicality a lawyer may find in the statute. We do not anticipate that anybody will object to the broad statement that a constable should no more be deprived of his franchise than should the deputy returning officer and poll clerk."

I might add that

THE POSITION OF THE GOVERNMENT is endorsed by the Toronto Telegram:—

Mr. Whitney—"Whose editor is a Conservative."

Mr. Stratton—"Then if you have not got the support of your own Conservative papers you must have a very bad cause. I might also mention that the Toronto Star, another independent journal—

Mr. Wardell—"You say the Star is Independent?"

Mr. Stratton—"Yes; the editor was a Conservative in the elections of 1890 and 1894, opposing the Government."

The bill introduced by the Attorney-General provides that when or said to be affected by the constable vote it shall not be tried until the Court of Appeal has passed upon the constable question. What is there unfair in that? In effect the Legislature in adopting the bill proposed is providing that the decision of a possibly partisan and narrow-minded trial judge shall not become the law of the land until the decision could be reversed in due course by the Court of Appeal, after the usual, long tedious legal delay, and that those who voted in the belief of their right to vote, shall be relieved of any penalty that might affect them under the election act.

With regard to the defeated Ministers holding their Cabinet positions I think that reasonable time should be allowed to permit them to obtain seats. They should have an opportunity to wrest from the Opposition seats of which they believe they have been wrongfully and corruptly deprived. This circumstance must be considered and a reasonable time allowed. The Attorney-General admits that their absence from the floor of the House is inconvenient. They are men of ability and have given the country excellent service, but in the event of their failure to secure seats after a reasonable time and opportunity have been given, they must take the consequences of such want of success. When the relations of the defeated ministers to the House have been definitely decided upon by the courts, we shall then be in a position to discuss the situation from the new aspect thus created. The elections in these cases only took place in March and the trials of the petitions will take place in September and October, and it seems that a reasonable time will have elapsed when the trial of election petitions in their cases have been concluded. (Applause.) In conclusion I would advise the Opposition to take the situation coolly, and will conclude by expressing the hope that the deliberations of this session will result in promoting the interests of justice as well as the best interests of the country. (Applause.)

CRICKET.

The match between Toronto-Rosedale and Peterborough was played on the Rosedale grounds yesterday, and resulted in a victory for the city team by 309 runs and three wickets to spare. The Peterborough's won the toss and went to bat. A bad start was made, five wickets being down for ten runs, but on Goldsmith and W. Hamilton becoming partners, they carried the score to 62, both playing excellent cricket. The innings closed for 79. The Toronto team then went to bat. Hills and Mackenzie were soon disposed of, the latter being run out. Lyon and McMurtry put on 119 before the former was clean bowled for a magnificent innings of 81, for which he was loudly applauded. Forrester joined McMurtry, and their partnership resulted in 108 runs, after which Forrester was bowled by Boucher for a well played 47. Lounsborough then came in and with McMurtry, made 120 in their partnership, when he lost the little Duke, who had played the finest innings that has been played this season. His 154 was a patient steady innings and he cut and drove beautifully. He received a great ovation on his return to the pavilion. His innings fully justified his being chosen to represent Canada against the United States at Philadelphia at the end of this month. He was at the wickets for three hours and twenty minutes. At the call of time the score was 388 for 7 wickets.

LACROSSE.

The play off with Orillia will probably take place some time next week, and the Peterboroughs should be in the pink of condition for the match, which will doubtless take place on the Toronto Island. The lacrosse club will run a cheap excursion to the city for the event if President Lennox orders the match to be played there.

Percy Rubidge, who has not figured in the last few matches, will begin practice again to-morrow evening in order to be in good shape for the Rochester and Orillia games.

Every player in the club should be out to practice to-morrow evening.

The Capitals play in Orillia on Monday next.

Campbellford wants a game with the II Peterboroughs. The local juniors are therefore asked to turn out strong for practice during the next week. Every player must be out to-morrow night.

TALE OF MISS FRENCH

What the Young Lady Learned While Staying at Mackie's.

EX-MANAGER BAINES TESTIFIES

A Startling Day for Both the Defence and the Crown Promised—The Immediate Probabilities of the Trial—An Adjournment Till Next Tuesday Likely—The Evidence.

Napanee, Aug. 12.—The evidence adduced yesterday was very interesting, but it is as yet not considered here as conclusive. To-day will be a startling day for both defence and Crown. The Crown will ask the magistrate to convict on the evidence produced, and the defence will object to a committal. If the magistrate decides to try the case, then the Crown will declare its case closed. If the magistrate decides not to try the case, then a thorough criminal investigation must go on before him. In that case an adjournment must be had till the defence can gather its witnesses together. It is understood that Magistrate Daly will try the case if the evidence is strong on either side. He will give his ultimatum this afternoon.

The Morning Session.

High Constable Sills was the first witness yesterday. He testified to having arrested Pare and Holden on August 31, 1897. He also testified to the discovery of the keys in the police station. The defence tried to adduce evidence to show that the detectives were anxious to connect Ponton, but the Magistrate ruled out all questions bearing on this point.

The Indian, J. G. Hall, took the stand and identified Holden and Mackie as the two men who were at his place in February, 1897. "I did not hear Holden's name, but I had seen him in Belleville two or three times before. Mackie told me his name," said the witness.

Nathan Mix, a farmer on the Wiggins place east of the station, testified that he had seen Mackie, Holden, Pare and Roach around his farm from June until the latter part of August. The man who came down on the train was called the "dude."

Recognized the "Dude."

"I see the 'dude' in the corner of the prisoners' box," said the witness, pointing out Mackie. "One night I saw two men on the tracks; one had a light coat on. There was a bicycle up against the fence near the track that night." This witness was not sure about Mackie, though he declared the resemblance to the dude was strong.

Mrs. Mix followed in a similar strain, but positively identified Pare, Holden and Mackie as the tramps.

Little Willie Mix made a good witness and told a story similar to his parents.

John Long testified to having seen Holden and Mackie three successive mornings last summer between 6 and 7 o'clock.

Frank Vanalstine positively identified Pare, Holden and Mackie as three tramps that summered last year on Hawley's Point about one mile east of the town.

The Afternoon Session.

The court opened sharply at 2 o'clock. Miss Margaret French took the witness stand. She told her story in a low, musical voice that awakened sympathy among the audience. To Mr. Osler she said: "My name is Margaret French. I live with my widowed mother in Toronto. I am a first cousin to prisoner Mackie. I lived eight months in the house of Mackie during the winter of 1897 and 1898. He lives at Church street, Belleville, with his wife and four children, and I worked at the house. I have had no quarrel with him. I made a statement to Detective Dougherty, and, not liking to give evidence, I went to Detroit, but was followed and brought back."

Witness saw some tools on the foot of the bed and a revolver was on the bureau one day, but did not recognize the jimmy and the brace and bit produced in court. Two days before she saw the tools Mackie came home with a cut on the side of his face. He said he had fallen out of the rig and cut his face on the ice. She had no date, but it must have been in the last of January or first of February. Continuing:

"Mackie asked me to write a letter for him. He asked me to address the letter to W. Durand, Dominion Bank. I am not sure if it was addressed to Napanee. This letter stated that there was a girl and her friend going to call on Mr. Durand and his friend. They had called, but could not go in because there was company. He cautioned Durand not to have anyone there. The girls wanted to go in by the stairs, but might get in by the back way. I wrote such a letter, and gave it to Mackie. He did not tell me what he wanted it for."

Witness then identified Jack Roach's photo as that of a man Mrs. Mackie called Jack, and once she said during the Ponton trial to Mackie that "it was too bad that Mr. Ponton should be convicted." He said nothing. Mackie slept till pretty late in the morning. Sometimes it was 12 or 1 o'clock in the day time when he would get up. She never heard Ponton's name mentioned by Mackie prior to the theft. Robert French, in Toronto, is my father's brother. He is now in Dawson City. He went seven weeks ago. He has got there. Last fall he lived at 59 Mutual street. He was there when Mackie was with them. They were often together."

To Lawyer Wilson she said: "A hammer, something to sharpen the knives and a revolver were the tools I saw. I always noticed a revolver in the bureau drawer."

Mackie Called His Lawyer.

At this stage Prisoner Mackie called his lawyer over and held an animated conversation.

Then witness went on: "There was a trunk in the other room. The upper part of the trunk may have been on the bed, and the tools in this. Mrs. Mackie and I generally went to bed between 10 and 11 o'clock. Robert was sick once while I was at his house. I left on July 6 or 7. That was before Mrs. Mackie's little girl had her teeth treated. When she spoke about the runaway he talked as he ordinarily did. I did not think it was extraordinary at that time. I would not be positive that the photo shown me was that of 'Jack.' The first time I met my cousin was 12 years ago. Then two years ago I became better acquainted with him. I heard Robert always kept late hours. It was not extraordinary that he did so last summer."

This finished Miss French's examination.

Chief Adams on the Stand.

Chief Adams testified that he came to Napanee on Oct 3, 1897, and that he is Chief of Police. He detailed the search for the keys in the police station day before yesterday, and what he found. He found an oilcloth, an old rusty, dinted tin box and the tin lid of a box in and near a hole near the railway track near the half-mile post east of the village on July 14, 12.45 noon. On Sunday morning, 17th July, in company with Detectives Wilkes, Dougherty, Thornhill, Inspector Healy and Mrs. Healy he went into the Blewett shed and dug up certain burglars' tools, which he produced.

To Mr. Porter he said the box was found away from the hole and would not go into it until the loose dirt was scraped out.

To Mr. Wilson he said Detective Dougherty was present when the oilcloth was found.

Sidney Scott identified Holden, Pare and Mackie, and Jack Roach's picture, as men who were loafing around half a mile from Hawley's Point during the rainy week in July, 1897.

Walter Coxall, a grocer, testified to having sold an empty tin biscuit box labelled Toronto Biscuit Company a year ago, but could not identify the one in court without the label.

Joseph Haycock, jr., said he slept in Napanee in Mrs. Greer's room in the Grange block on the night of Aug. 27, 1897. Ponton's room was right below where he slept. He was awakened by something heavy falling on the floor. After that he heard the moving of light feet and murmur of voices. These sounds were directly below him. They vanished towards the stairs. One night he met a man right in front of the entrance to Ponton's room. He had a black moustache.

To Mr. Northup witness said he met the man about three weeks prior to the robbery. Could not say he was one of the prisoners.

A. W. Grange said on July 1, 1897, Mr. Ponton rented these rooms. Mr. Douglas rented the rooms and paid the rent.

Manager Hill of the Dominion Bank testified that the books of the bank showed that there was, on Aug. 27, '97, $21,229 in the bank, besides $10,000 in unsigned notes. The key found by Sills fitted the combination lock perfectly.

Ex-Manager Baines on the Stand.

Ex-Manager Baines identified the key of his compartment, and said: "On Aug. 27 there was $33,140.50 in the bank." On Aug. 5 he was playing cricket against Picton. He asked Mr. Ponton to close the safe for him that night. The match was in Napanee. He was accustomed to lock the safe himself.

"Had you any assets in Government bonds?" asked Mr. Osler.

"Yes. The ten days' balance sheet shows this. This sheet of Aug. 10, third item, says: 'Government securities, $10,486.20.' That is in Mr. Ponton's writing. This book was Mr. Ponton's work. Mr. Durand might also see the entry as well as Mr. Ponton and I. Mr. Durand knew the combination of the safe, but he had no business in the safe."

"As a matter of fact had you any Government bonds in the bank?"

"No. We never had these Government bonds here. They were in Toronto. They were a ten days' asset; $2,600 was reduced every six months."

"Did you ever put any of the new $10 bills in circulation?"

"Yes. That was done on Aug. 27, the banking day of the theft, but before the robbery." He did not see any marks of violence the morning after the robbery, but afterwards found a hole on the side of the safe.

The combination lock was intact externally and internally. The iron plate between the two compartments had been raised up, an instrument put in and his compartment pried off. The oilcloth was produced. "We had such a piece around some mortgages in our safe. After the burglary it was gone," said the witness. He identified some of the coins found on a prisoner as his, but not all of them. He recognized also the bills as a portion of the stolen unsigned bills. "Letter A 46401 to 47000 inclusive are the numbers of the bills stolen," said the witness. He then explained Ponton's finances and verified prisoner's signature.

Mr. Northrup took up the cross-examination. The witness said that Mr. Green first informed him that the safe could not be opened.

"What caused you to suspect Mr. Ponton?"

"The sending up of Green, instead of receiving a telephone message, as was done on ordinary bank business. I did not speak to Mr. Ponton about that. Ponton lost five or six minutes in sending for me. He should have telephoned."

"What's the next suspicious circumstance?"

"There were no other suspicious circumstances."

Witness said he had written the combination of the safe on the back of a calendar.

Going over the list of juniors in the bank during his regime the witness said: "Jones, Barron, Ponton, Loundesborough, Tucker and Green lawfully had the vault combination, while Durand and I had lawfully one combination of the safe." On Sept. 10 he found a hole in the side of the safe.

Detective Wilkes took the stand and to Mr. Osler said: "I am a Pinkerton detective. I first arrived here last year, four days after the robbery. I searched Ponton's rooms."

"Look at this paper," said Mr. Osler, handing an impression of a key on paper.

"I found that in Mr. Ponton's room. There are three impression on that paper. I found it on the right hand side of the upper bureau drawer, under a paper lining. I found nothing else in the room. I saw Mr. Dougherty find cheques in the clothes of Mr. Ponton."

To Mr. Porter the detective witness said: "I was here before Detective Dougherty came on the scene. Mr. Green arrived a few hours after I did. The rough holes in the partition seemed to have been bored by an old bit. Mr. Green and Mr. Young discovered these holes. I found no marks of violence on the safe door. I saw some paint chipped off. I did not examine the combination inside. The combination had been changed at that time. The lock of the upper compartment had its bolt bent. The lower compartment lock was intact. My impression was that the door of the upper compartment had been forced."

At 6.30 the court adjourned till to-day at 9.30 a.m.

Putting Your Foot In It.

Mr. George Russell, in his book, "Collections and Recollections," tells the following story:

"A friend of mine in the diplomatic service, visiting Rome in the old days of the temperal power, had the honor of an interview with Pio Nono. The pope graciously offered him a cigar—'I am told you will find this very fine!' The Englishman made that stupidest of all answers, 'Thanks, your holiness, but I have no vices.' 'This isn't a vice. If it was, you would have it.'"

Playgoers will remember the following passage in Bulwer's "Lady of Lyons" and draw their own conclusions:

Claude (offering snuffbox)—M. Beausant, will you honor me?

Beausant—No, your highness; I have no small vices.

Claude—Why, if it were a vice, you'd be sure to have it, M. Beausant.

Acute Rheumatism

Pains in the Feet and Limb—A Complete Cure Accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For a number of years I was afflicted with acute rheumatism in my left side and all the way down my limb into my foot. I live five blocks from my work and had to stop and rest several times in going and coming. I could get no relief from my trouble and was on the point of giving up my job when I happened to hear of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I purchased a bottle of this medicine and a vial of Hood's Pills and began taking them. Before I had half finished them I was relieved and it was not long before I was completely cured. I never lose an opportunity to praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, for my cure meant a great deal to me, as I have a family and must always be at my post." A SAMPLE OF PATRIOTISM.

It is not to be expected that the Mail and Empire, which justified the Senate in its submission to the demands of Livernash, the Yankee adventurer, to throw out the Yukon railway bill, to show any broader or more patriotic spirit in dealing with matters relating to the Klondyke. The organ yesterday published, with flaring headlines, a mendacious article from a United States paper, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, purporting to relate the condition of things in the Klondyke. This is, of course, a strong denunciation of the Government's administration, especially condemning the 10 per cent. royalty and accusing the Government officials with favouritism and submission to bribes to betray the public interest. The absurdity of the yarn published by the Mail and Empire, and a direct condemnation of the truthfulness of the whole yarn, is to be gained from the following sentences in an interview credited to Col. Domville, M.P., now in the Klondyke:

"Capital will not come in here under the present unbalanced state. I come here for some people who have a little money to invest, and my people have written to me asking what sort of a Government we have anyway, and but for me would have withdrawn from here as others have done. This 'one man power' is killing this country. I have a steamer coming up the river with an electric light plant on board, and I am going to put it up right here without the permission of anybody. Neither Walsh nor Fawcett nor anybody else can stop me. I have twenty guns on board, and I will put up the plant. I don't care just what follows."

It does not need this new evidence to show that the chief Conservative organ is influenced by no motives of patriotism, by no disinclination to earn the proverbial title of "a foul bird," in its attempts to discredit political opponents. We do not object to the Mail and Empire assailing the Liberal Government or party with all the skill and weapons at its command, but the political spite that overrides all patriotic Consideration that joins hands with unscrupulous foreigners in discrediting the country, is to be severely deprecated.

TIME TO PROTEST.

Under this heading the Toronto Telegram (Independent Conservative) says: The Liberals have nothing to fear from a reasonable assertion of the principle that their Lordships of the High Courts of Justice are not above criticism, and the Conservatives have nothing to gain from their habit of denouncing a word of comment on the acts of the judges of the land as a sin against high heaven.

All the members of the Ontario judiciary are superior to corrupt motives, but all are not alike considerate of public rights, courteous to practitioners in their courts, or careful to act so as to establish new claims on the respect which the public is always ready enough to accord the country's judges.

In fact some quite ordinary lawyers become insufferably arrogant when they are exalted to the bench. There have been examples of absolute judicial contempt for the rights of suitors and the money of the public. The country's esteem has descended like the gentle rain from heaven upon the deserving and undeserving members of a judiciary which has become in part more anxious to receive than deserve the country's praises.

There was no need of Mr. Hardy's apologies for the words spoken by Mr. Stratton. He did not say a wore too much or speak a minute too soon, and Andrew Pattullo, M.P.P., deserves praise for manfully refusing to join the obsequious chorus of judge worshippers which Hon. A. S. Hardy attempted to lead.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE only means the envious Mail and Empire has of descrediting the praise bestowed by the great London journals upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is to assert that they don't know what they're talking about.

THE London, Eng., Canadian Gazette says: "The group of Canadian Ministers who have met in London this month is now dispersing. On Wednesday Mr. Dobell sailed for Canada and Mr. Blair left for France. Mr. Fisher, who has been giving the English public through the press some extremely interesting information as to the efforts of his Government in the interests of Canadian agriculture, will also shortly cross the channel in connection with his survey of the French illustration stations. Mr. Fitzpatrick is now paying a short visit to France. Mr. Mulock on the other hand, is still engaged here on postal and other cable matters, and does not expect to return to Canada till the middle of August. Rarely, if ever before, has it happened that five members of the Dominion Cabinet have met in London at one and the same time, and the presence of Messrs. Blair, Dobell, Fisher, Fitzpatrick and Mulock has elicited much gratifying comment. It is generally felt that nothing but good can result from the frequent visits to the old country, which are now the order of the day in Canadian Ministerial circles, and for the opportunities of personal intercourse which are thus afforded in connection with colonial and Imperial problems. One notable exception to the general rule is the case of Mr. Sifton, who as Minister of the Interior has charge of the department which controls a large share of the work done in Canada's behalf in the old country. Mr. Sifton himself, no doubt, will gladly seize the first opportunity that presents itsely of crossing the Atlantic and of studying on the spot the conditions which govern Canada's efforts here to attract to her shores settlers of the right class."

A HAMILTON EPISODE.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure a Popular Hotel Clerk, of Bright's Disease.

Hamilton, Aug. 1.—Every Hamiltonian, and thousands of persons who travel to and from this city, knows Mr. C. E. Aikins, clerk at one of our principal hotels.

Mr. Aikins is deservedly popular, and is eminently fitted for the position he holds.

His hundreds of friends are rejoicing over the fact that he has fully recovered from the attack of Bright's Disease, that for two years past made his life miserable.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Aikins says: "I have tried many remedies, but they all failed utterly, except Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of Dodd's made me a new man."

Every person who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills for any form of Kidney Disease, has the same to say; "They cured me."

WHY?

Why isn't a wigmaker a locksmith?

Why is it that a chronic kicker never kicks himself?

Why isn't a spirit lamp supplied with ghostly shades.

Why isn't the noise that rings in your ears an earring?

Why isn't riding a wheel with loose spokes rattling fun?

Why is want of principle the principal want of so many people?

Why is assistance so freely offered to people who don't need it?

Why isn't the most striking characteristic of a railway its employees?

Why is that neighborly feeling nearly always one of curiosity and envy?

Why doesn't some genius invent a scheme that will enable men successfully to dodge their creditors?

Senor Carranza Reappears.

Montreal, Aug. 11.—Lieut. Ramon De Carranza, the ex-member of Senor Polo's Washington staff, who was ordered out of the country by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the instance of the British Colonial Office, turned up in Montreal again yesterday morning. He made no attempt to conceal his presence, signing his name on the Windsor register. He was found at the house of the Spanish Consul, but refused to offer any explanation of his presence here. His lawyer says he came back to bid his friends good-bye.

THE TELEGRAM'S VIEWS

OF THE SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

It Sizes up the Situation From an Independent Standpoint.

The Toronto Telegram, owned by one of the Conservative members of the Dominion Parliament, has its own way of looking at things, and this shows how it regards the situation in part, and gives its way of summarizing the proceedings:

This special session, if it is to be the shortest, will likewise be the tamest affair ever pulled off under the Ontario Legislature. Enough was heard of the shafts to fly from the Tory benches before the trysting day. Life was to be made miserable for the Grits before the session was a week old; Hardy would be a physical wreck, and the Government side a scene of desolation in the space of a few August days. Now, when the preliminary bout is over—and it was not a wildly exciting scene—the galleries of the Legislature are no fit place for any but lovers of white-winged peace. Perhaps in the constable legislation and the seatless Ministers, Tories had the making of an assault which the province would applaud. They said so; but the disinterested onlooker, who took them at their word, has yet to witness

THE HAIR-RAISING EVENT

The Tories, if they are to put the Government in a hole, need new subjects, or else new men to handle the subjects they have. The just electorate of the province will never march on the Hardy gang over its constable legislation and seatless Ministers, unless those crimes, so-said, are to be pictured by men who have not yet addressed themselves to Mr. Speaker from the seats of the Opposition. It is not a fault of J. P. Whitney's, his failure to put up a more interesting show; but he was hardly right in announcing the affair with such blazing posters. There are several "ifs" in the way, but they are all portable, and should it be that J. M. Gibson or John Dryden fall in their quest for seats, James R. Stratton of Peterborough, will at no distant day be a member of the Hardy Government. Stratton is easily the ablest Grit in the House, outside the Cabinet, and the superior to some even there.

HE IS NOT ALONE

in the run for a Cabinet berth, but there are none near enough to be dangerous. Yesterday when the House started in to desecrate Toronto's Civic Holiday, Stratton was on hand to lay out the Opposition in general and Dr. John Barr, of Dufferin, in particular. The Tories who taunt A. S. Hardy with the sprightly remark that his is a sorry following compared with that which once O. Mowat led are not of the same mind as James R. Stratton. Stratton begs leave to say that Hardy, for a first jaunt to the country, came back remarkably well preserved. It riles Stratton to think that Oliver Mowat, whom once the Tories cussed in perfect unison, should now be an angel of light in the eyes of the Opposition. That James P. Whitney was able to make such a sturdy fight, Stratton says is explained by the strength of

THE CAMPAIGN HOWL

"It is time for a change." The cry did its deadly work in the Federal fight, and the provincial coming fairly on its heels, the same stone pelted Hon. A. S. Hardy. Stratton had figures beside him, which, with the aid of a few higher mathematics, were made to prove the Grits the choice of the Ontario electorate. In his digits or his calculations sundry Tories saw much to dislike, and for a few breezy minutes they nailed Stratton down to a generous use of addition, multiplication and long division. Tories may say that the bill of fare prepared by the Government is meagre but Stratton points out that the speech from the throne was, as a matter of fact, a remarkably fat and tasty menu card—everything that any but a gluttonous legislator would ask for. They must have wanted, says Stratton, prescriptions for gout, rheumatism and lung disease, also for that highly aristocratic ailment, appendicitis.

In the matter of the constables' legislation Stratton just skitted about the edges. Incidentally he reproved the Appeal Court judges for daring to go off on holidays when they were needed to save the liberties of the people. They went fishing, said the indignant Stratton, like Nero fiddling when the fire engines were squirting Tiber water on the blazing buildings of Rome. Stratton saw fit to name Sir John Thompson as a supporter of the legislation of constables' votes.

HE WHACKED WAITNEY.

"You can't show a single place where Sir John Thompson said a word on the subject," declared Whitney.

"I didn't say he said a word on it," returned Stratton. "I said he voted for it."

"You said he expressed approval of it."

"Well, when a man votes for anything doesn't he express approval of it," demanded Stratton. "Any other inference seems nonsense."

"Hear, hear," chuckled Hardy.

"Take it at that," snapped Whitney, and bit an inch and a half off the top of a silver mounted pencil.

All Stratton asks for the seatless Ministers is reasonable time to seat themselves, just a few weeks of grace, which same is the cry of all the Grits.

AN AMERICAN LOSS.

Schwan's Column Engaged by the Spanish Forces.

A FIGHT NEAR HERMIGUEROS.

Peace Is Settled and Spain Has Authorized M. Cambon to Sign the Protocol - Hostilities Are to Cease on the Signing of the Document—Surrendered to Garcia.

Camp near Honigueros, Aug. 10, via Bermuda, Aug. 12.—Advance guard, including cavalry of this command, while reconnoitering northwest of Rosario River, near Hermigueros, developed a strong Spanish force which lay concealed in the hills north of Mayaguez. In a general engagement that followed, Lieut. Byron, 8th Infantry, my aide-de-camp, was wounded in foot and Private Fernberger, Company D, 11th Infantry, and one other private were killed and fourteen enlisted men were wounded. It is reported that most if not the entire Spanish garrison of Mayaguez and surrounding country, consisting of 1,000 regulars and 2000 volunteers, took part in the engagement. We drove the enemy from his position and it is believed inflicted heavy loss. A wounded Spanish lieutenant was found in the field and brought in to our lines. The conduct of officers and men was beyond all praise. I propose to continue my march on Mayaguez at an early hour to-morrow. (Signed) Schwan.

FIGHT AT PORTO RICO.

Eight Hundred Spaniards Attack Lighthouse Guarded by 40 Americans.

New York, Aug. 12.—A cable from Cape San Juan, dated Aug. 9, says a two hours' fight took place before daybreak yesterday. Eight hundred Spanish attempted to retake the lighthouse guarded by 40 United States sailors, commanded by Lieut. Atwater, Assistant Engineer Jenkins, Ensign Bronson and Gunner Campbell. The Spaniards were driven back by shells from the warships Amphitrite, Cincinnati and Leyden. Refugees report that 100 Spaniards were killed.

William H. Boardman of the Amphitrite, Lawrence of the Massachusetts and a second-class man of the Naval School were seriously wounded. They were in the lighthouse when the Spanish advance began. The Spaniards had retreated after the first landing of the troops at Cape San Juan last week, and marched through Luquillo, pulling down the United States flag at Fajardo. It was subsequently replaced.

Terrified refugees warned the lighthouse force that the Spanish were coming. There were 60 women and children in the outbuildings during the fight.

M. CAMBON

Has Been Authorized to Sign the Protocol by the Spanish Cabinet and Peace Seems to Be Assured.

Madrid, Aug. 12.—The Government has received the protocol, and the Cabinet Council rose at 9.40 last night, having approved it. The Government wired M. Cambon last night, empowering him to sign the preliminaries of peace.

The day has been diplomatically one of the busiest since the outbreak of war. There have been no fewer than three Cabinet Councils, in addition to various diplomatic conferences. Though the text of the protocol was not received until the evening was well advanced, the Government had been made fully acquainted with the contents through Paris.

The matter was practically settled at the Cabinet meeting in the afternoon, and the receipt of the actual document, therefore, only required a meeting of the Cabinet for a formal acceptance.

Ministers adhere to the statement that the protocol contains no modifications of the original terms, but only new suggestions. They expect it will be signed at Washington to-day (Friday), and that a suspension of hostilities will be announced.

Duke Almodovar de Rio, Minister of Foreign Affairs, assures the correspondents of the Associated Press that the negotiations for the peace treaty will take place in Paris, but he says the commissioners have not yet been appointed.

The terms of the protocol will not be published until the instrument has been signed.

POINTS OF THE PROTOCOL.

Basis Upon Which the Spanish-American Treaty of Peace Will Be Founded.

These are existing the points covered by the protocol:

The cession of Porto Rico to the United States, together with other Spanish West Indian islands, not including Cuba.

The relinquishment of sovereignty over Cuba.

The cession of an island in the Ladrones.

Recognition that the United States shall temporarily occupy the city and harbor of Manila, until the final decision as to the disposition of the Philippines is reached.

The appointment of a commission to determine the final disposition of the Philippines.

The constitution of a peace commission to arrange the future of the Philippines, with the place and time of meeting.

The suspension of hostilities to follow the formal signing of the protocol.

The evacuation of Cuba to be arranged by a commission of capitulation.

The disposition of the Spanish warships now in blockaded Cuban ports to be settled by the commission of capitulation.

Raising of the blockade against Cuba.

Certain fortified points, such as Morro Castle and Port Cabanas, to be occupied by United States troops at the discretion of the President.

Spanish soldiers remaining in Cuba until the end of the rainy season to perform police duty and preserve order.

A special commissioner to be appointed to co-operate with Capt.-Gen. Blanco in the direction of affairs.

The Spanish municipal governments to be continued, as was done at Santiago, until such time as the evacuation shall have been completed.

Spanish officials to be permitted to collect revenues with the exception of those imposed upon the importation of food products.

Arrangements to be made for feeding, if such commensurate, such Spanish soldiers as shall be employed in police duty.

Mines in the harbor of Havana to be removed by the Spanish authorities.

All minor details regarding the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico will be left to the commission of capitulation. This is done in order that there may be no confusion in the protocol.

Carlist Agitation Suspended.

London, Aug. 12.—The Carlist agitation seems suspended for the moment, and the best authorities are convinced that there will be no rising until peace is concluded.

Will Surrender to Garcia.

New York, Aug. 12.—Santiago advices yesterday say that Gen. Luque, commanding the Spanish garrison at Holguin, has offered to surrender to Gen. Garcia. Gen. Luque had 10,000 Spanish soldiers under him at Holguin when the Santiago surrender took place.

Cubans now occupy Gibara. The Spaniards evacuated the town, leaving 1,000 sick and wounded, who are being taken care of by the Cuban commander.

Sick Soldiers to Go Home.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 12.—A general order has been issued at the Adjutant-General's office, granting one month's furlough to the sick and wounded soldiers and transportation to their homes.

British Consul Ramsden Dead.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 12.—Mr. W. Ramsden, for over 35 years British Consul here, has just died at Kingston, Jamaica, aged 58. He leaves a wife, three daughters and four sons, one of whom is British Vice-Consul at Manila.

SALUTES ON A WARSHIP.

None Is Fired Between Sunset and Sunrise, and None Exceeds Twenty-one Guns.

In St. Nicholas Lieutenant Philip Andrews, U. S. N., writes of "Ceremonies and Etiquette on a Man-of-war." Lieutenant Andrews says:

No salute exceeds 21 guns, and no salute is ever fired except between sunrise and sunset, when the national colors must be displayed, but it is also usual not to fire salutes before 8 a. m. Whenever the president is embarked in a ship of war flying his flag, all other United States ships of war and naval stations near which he passes will fire the national salute.

Side boys are detailed usually from the apprentice boys. They stand each side of the gangway in line and salute by touching their caps as visiting officials come on board or leave. Commissioned officers board and leave a ship by the starboard gangway. Warrant officers, naval cadets and enlisted men use the port gangway.

After nightfall all boats coming close to the ship are hailed by the marine sentry or by the quartermaster with the words, "Boat ahoy!" A flag officer answers, "Flag;" a commanding officer answers the name of his ship; other commissioned officers answer, "Aye, aye;" warrant officers and naval cadets answer, "No, no," while enlisted men answer, "Hello!"

Every officer and man on reaching the upper deck salutes the national flag, and this salute is returned by the officer of the watch at hand.

Flag officers are addressed by their titles of admiral or commodore, captains and commanding officers are called "Captain," all other officers are called "Mr." and not by their official titles, though in addressing them in writing these titles are always used. The surgeons, however, are usually called "Doctor" and paymasters of any grade "Paymaster."

Boat salutes are given by tossing oars, which means holding them upright in the air with the blades fore and aft, or by lying on oars, by which is meant holding the oars horizontal as they rest in the rowlocks. Cockswains of boats stand and salute when passing boats containing officers. All officers and men, whether in uniform or not, meeting a senior afloat or ashore salute by touching the cap.

When a ship of the navy enters a port of any nation where there is a fort or battery or where a ship of war of that nation may be lying, she shall fire a salute of 21 guns, provided the captain is satisfied that the salute will be returned. The flag of the nation saluted will be displayed at the main during the salute.

National airs of foreign states having war vessels in company with our own will be played by our bands as a compliment.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Butcher for Hiawatha Encampment, and John Fanning for Mount Hebron Encampment.

Grand Master J. A. Young, of Thamesford, presided and after receiving a large number of greetings from fraternal societies, submitted in printed form the reports of the officers. The Grand Master's statement showed that the membership in the Order had trebled during last year, the total membership now being, in 278 lodges, 22,983. Sick benefit payments during the year amounted to $82,618. All departments had prospered equally, the report said. Several important amendments to the constitution, principally relating to uniforming dues and benefits, and consolidating that fund, and the transfer of membership, are recommended; also a reduction in representation to Grand Lodge.

The Grand Master advocated the establishment of an official organ, which would fill a long-felt want. He also advised the appointment of a special officer for the instruction and upbuilding of the lodges, and the establishment of a home in the interests of Oddfellowship in Ontario. In fact a considerable sum of money had already been subscribed for this purpose.

THURSDAY.

The Grand Lodge session this morning opened at 9 o'clock with Grand Master Young in his customary place, and the Lodge settled down to work in earnest. The report of the Election Committee was received. It showed that no election had resulted in the subordinate lodges for the office of Grand Warden. The election was then proceeded with. There were thirteen applicants. When the first ballot was taken all retired but five. It required four additional ballots to settle the question. The fifth ballot gave O L Lewis of Chatham, the much prized honour. He is still receiving congratulations.

The Grand Lodge officers for the ensuing year are: J E Farewell, Whitby, Grand Master; Jas McClung, Woodstock, Deputy Grand Master; O L Lewis, Chatham, Grand Warden; J B King, Toronto, Grand Secretary; W J McCormick, Toronto, Grand Treasurer; Henry White, P G M, Port Hope, Grand representative; C Packert, Grand Auditor; Henry White, P G M, Director of the Oddfellows' Home for three years.

The Mileage and per Diem Committee's report was adopted, the rate accepted being $2 per diem and 5c a mile each way.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

began with the report of the special Committee on Dues and Benefits. This is one of the most important matters before the Grand Lodge. In substance it means a uniformity of dues and benefits throughout the jurisdiction. The discussion lasted the greater part of the afternoon, and the report was finally adopted after a number of amendments, by the change of the clause relating to the amount of dues and benefits to be paid. It is optional with the subordinate lodges to increase their dues and benefits, but they must be governed by the actuary's table. The lodges throughout the jurisdiction will now have a table which they must observe when paying their dues and benefits. Representative R. N. Sheppard, Albert Lodge, '94, wished to appeal from the decision of the Grand Lodge to the Sovereign Lodge. His request was granted, a motion being passed to that effect. The Finance Committee, to which were referred the litigation cases of the Forest City and Dominion Lodges of London, recommended action, which was taken, namely, that the Grand Lodge agree to pay half the costs, also the counsel fees. Other appeals were taken up by the committee and Grand Lodge. In the case of Nith Lodge, Nith Lodge is to pay the balance of the costs. The appeals of some Ottawa Lodge members against the division of the Lodge was not sustained. The appeals of W. A. Knight, of Tecumseh Lodge and Haywood v. Tecumseh Lodge were disallowed on account of irregularity of papers.

THE WORK OF THE GREAT STORM.

A Barn Burned and a Horse Killed.

MANY CELLARS WERE FLOODED.

Mr. John Guthrie and Family have a Narrow Escape from Being Struck by Lightning.

The worst storm of the summer broke over Peterborough and vicinity last night, shortly after twelve o'clock. The lightning was so vivid and was followed in such a short space of time by deafening peals, or rather crashes, of thunder, that the electric light current was switched off until the worst of the storm was over.

Many smaller casualties are reported but the most important are the burning of a house in Otonabee, and the killing of Mr. Jos. Goslin's horse by lightning.

The house which was struck was on the Burnham farm, about two or three miles from town and was occupied by Mr. John Guthrie, the tenant, and his family. It was a story and a half log structure and was entirely consumed. The lightning entering the chimney and issuing from the stove, set fire to the interior, and it was with difficulty that the inmates escaped. None of the contents were saved. Mrs Guthrie is suffering from nervous prostration as the result of the shock.

The fire occurred at about half past one.

Mr. Joseph Goselin, the George street butcher, lost a valuable horse through it being struck by lightning whilst standing in the stable at his residence, No. 41 Crescent street. The horse was found dead this morning, but as the lightning grounded through the body, probably, no fire resulted.

The heavy rain this afternoon flooded the streets to such an extent that the water overflowed into many cellars on George street.

REV. FATHER CHIDWICK.

He Gives His Opinion Upon State and to the Church.

The Montreal Herald has the following in reference to the action and sentiments of Rev. Father Chidwick, who has visited Peterborough on several occasions, and who was chaplain upon the war ship Maine, which was sunk by some sort of explosive in Havana harbour. He was visiting relatives in Ashburnham when he was called to join a ship for active service. The Herald says:

Father Chidwick, Catholic priest with the American army in Porto Rico, is evidently a man of sound sense. When two Jesuits appealed to the American general for aid toward the churches of the district they were told that the United States gave no state aid to any church. Father Chidwick remarked that it was better so, as it taught the church to be self-reliant. This is a sentiment that all ecclesiastical authorities should subscribe to. Disestablishment would invigorate the Church of England in England, and save it from such reproaches as have been cast upon it by the Hooley trial, for instance. It came out that one of Hooley's chief assets was a church living. Many of these livings are the personal property of profligates, who can over-rule bishop and people alike in determining the personnel of the clergy. The Church of England is a great church—too great to need state props. Father Chidwick hit the nail on the head.

A CLEVER YOUNG SCHOLAR.

Miss Yenney, of Town, Stands High in Her Matriculation Examinations.

Miss E. M. Yenney, daughter of Principal Yenney, of the South Central School, has taken a high stand in the Junior Matriculation Scholarship Examinations, the results of which have just been handed out by the Toronto University authorities.

In the Edward Blake General Proficiency and Prince of Wales Scholarship Miss Yenney stood third and in the Edward Blake scholarship for Moderns she ranked first.

The high standing taken by Miss Yenney, whilst reflecting credit on her abilities as a student, is also a testimony to the effectiveness of the training she has received in the local Collegiate Institute at the hands of Principal Fessenden and his able staff of assistants.

LEGAL COMMITTEE.

Quite a Budget of Business Transacted Last Evening.

At a meeting of the Legal Committee last evening a letter was considered from Kerr & Kerr, solicitors on behalf of F. W. Miller, notifying the town not to pay the Fire Brigade Band grant to any other than to their client. It was decided to let the matter stand over until a su't now pending between Mr. Miller and the Band was settled.

In the case of the accident met with by Mrs. Brough through falling on the post office pavement, a motion was passed recommending the council to pay in $15 to her solicitors, Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck & Stevenson. The Minister of Public Works will have his attention called to the dangerous condition of the pavement.

The clerk was instructed to notify the Grand Trunk Railway to fence each side of their line passing through lot 11, south of Townsend street and west of George.

Another motion instructed the town solicitor to take such steps as are necessary to protect the town's interest in the island in the river at present crossed by the C. P. R.

SPYING OUT THE LAND.

AMERICAN EDITORS VISIT THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST.

And Write Enthusiastic Letters to Their Papers Concerning the Possibilities of the Country.

Mr. Will. J. White, representing the press service of the Immigration Department, was in Toronto a few hours Wednesday on his return from a trip to the west, with two large parties of newspaper men. A year ago or more Mr. Sifton suggested that Mr. White should try to get the Press Associations of the States in which Canadian immigration agents are at work to visit the Canadian west on their annual holiday trip. Acting on this suggestion Mr. White arranged for excursions of the Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota Press Associations. He has just returned accompanying the pressmen to the west. The Minnesota editors went first to the number of 180, and the Wisconsin and Michigan party, numbering 185, followed. They covered a wide sweep of the west, going as far north as Edmonton. Everywhere they were received with the utmost warmth and cordiality by the people, and the visitors were surprised at the demonstrations of good feeling. They found the country looking at its best, and soon began writing to their papers extolling Canada to the skies, telling of its immense possibilities and comparing its crops and people with those in their own districts. The Canadian Pacific did its share to increase this good impression.

Apart from its effect on immigration work the excursion must have had a good result in inducing the visitors, many of them most influential men in their States, to think deeply on the question of closer trade relations and good-fellowship with Canada. They have acquired a knowledge of conditions in this country that will induce them when anyone writes disparagingly of Canada to take up the cudgels in its defence.

The result in relation to the immigration service must be of great importance. In the States above mentioned there is a class composed of frontiersmen and pioneers, who took up land when thinly populated. This free grant land is now valuable, and many of them, now that no more free grant land is available in the States, either for the enlargement of their own farms or for their sons, who have grown up around them, are disposed to sell their land, which they can always do, to people from Iowa, Illinois and States further south, and push into the free grant districts of Canada, where there is room to grow and room also for their children. In Michigan there is another cause for migration. Many Canadians have gone in there in past years who have done badly, and want to get away. The soil is poor in some of these settlements, and the settlers have never got a footing. It never occurred to them that in Canada itself there was rich soil and free farms waiting them. The letters of the editors circulating among these two classes of people cannot fail to have a great effect in deciding people looking out for new homes. The work of the department in the States is bearing fruit as it never did before, very largely because of the judicious publicity attending it and the facilities offered to delegates and leaders of colonies to see the land.

IT BEATS THEM ALL.

They can all talk about their Civic Holiday trips, but there is not one that compares with the Oddfellows' excursion to Rochester on the 18th. There you have the sights of one of the most beautiful cities of the United States, combined with a delightful sail across the lake. The excursionists travel by special train to Port Hope. This will be the best trip of Civic Holiday. Get ready to go. The return fare is only $2.

THE BOYS' CAMP OUT AT STONY LAKE.

YOUNG MEMBERS OF THE Y.M.C.A. ENJOYING THEMSELVES.

The Pleasant Holidays Will be Over on Monday, When the Camp Breaks up for the Season.

Pleasant Camp, Sandy Point,
August 11th, 1898,

DEAR EDITOR,—Before we write again the camp will be well nigh over. The days of the boys' Y.M.C.A. camp are numbered. Evidences are not lacking to indicate that four more days will witness the end of a splendid two weeks' outing. The boys look for this not without regret. Some already question if the life of the camp cannot be prolonged.

Wash day at camp presents a scene which a pen like mine would fail to portray. It would be a subject worthy of a great painter. The clothes are left for 24 in the "drink," otherwise known as the lake. On the day following they are given a scouring of sand, followed by the liberal use of a bar of soap. The washed article is by no means clean, but "campably" passable.

We have been favoured with ideal weather thus far. No rain to speak of. Fine, warm days, tempered by gentle breezes.

Serenades are now one of the new orders of the day, or rather the evening. On Tuesday night a cry of distress disturbed the quiet of the twilight. The Government steamer Empire was on a rock east of the Headlands. A board of strategy was quickly organized in camp and despatched to the scene of the disaster. On the way they caught sight of an American flag on one of the cottages and questioned its presence there, especially as it was on a higher point than that of the British on the same island. The Americans with kindness and used them so well with refreshments that their loyalty melted, and as for the primary object of their mission—the stranded Empire—it was quite forgotten.

RECEIVED THE VISITORS

Charlie Ackerman is the latest arrival in camp and is very popular with the boys.

Judge Weller and Mr. W. H. Rackham take supper with us this evening, when the boys promise to be on their best behaviour.

Yesterday a section of the camp took in a trip on the yacht to Eagle Mount. The scramble up the rugged crags, following the guide of our Admiral, was made with difficulty. The fine view of the lakes from the summit amply repaid us, however, for the roughness of the journey. On the one side overlooking the cottages and the store was Burleigh and its locks; on the other, as far as the eye could reach, towered the mountains tinged with blue, from which they receive their name. Nearer by was Boschink, with the Stars and Stripes prominent in the breeze.

An unfavourable wind delayed the return of the exploration party until after 7 o'clock, and the leader, Mr. Williamson, anxious for the welfare of the sections in camp, expressed regret at their inability to get supper.

ALL PARTOOK HEARTILY

of the belated evening meal, but it afterwards leaked out that the boys who did not go to Eagle Mount had partaken of supper No. 1 at 5.30 p.m. as usual, destroying every evidence of such having occurred. Some who partook of two suppers required the attention of the camp physician.

A mammoth shin beat was held in the evening, and an upset near the shore rendered the fire very useful. It was an amusing sight to see "Choppie" bending at an angle of 45 degrees drying his clothes.

To morrow will be the fete day of the camp, and a general invitation has been extended to all the cottagers to witness the proceedings. Great preparations are being made, the programme being in the hands of a special committee. Sports of all kinds on land and water will take place, including a game of baseball, running, jumping, boat races, swimming, etc., etc.

To add to the interest the leader is presenting a solid sterling cup (made of tin) to the winner of the highest aggregate number of points in all the events.

Everybody is now known by a camp name, of which the following are samples, Doctor, Admiral, Dennis, Stiff, Gaspipe, Toronto, Diver, Texas and Night Horse."

I close by giving you our latest camp cry, "Hobble-gobble, Hobble-gobble, sis boom bah, Y-camp, Y-camp, rat, rat, rat.

My next letter will be the last of the series.

Yours, etc.,
THE SCRIBE.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

CRICKET.

The touring team of the Peterborough Cricket Club returned to town last night. They were severely beaten at Toronto, but at Hamilton by the narrow margin of one run on the first innings. The team think they have nothing to learn of the game from their opponents, but lack of match-practice has told against them. The tour was an attempt to revive the game in Peterborough and as a consequence Toronto will play here shortly for sure. The Wanderers, of Chicago, will also in all probability visit Peterborough. They have been guaranteed their expenses. W. Hamilton and Dr. Goldsmith batted very well in Toronto and the veteran, Sam Ray, played at Hamilton the best cricket ever seen in the town. One man disappointed at Hamilton and left the team with a fourteen year old boy as a substitute, hence the loss by one run. The Peterborough "uro." did not come off. The team was exceedingly well entertained in both Toronto and Hamilton. In the latter city the ladies gave a tea in the log cabin pavilion in honour of the touring Peterborough cricketers.

In a cricket match at Brighton yesterday Campbellford defeated the home team by 1 innings and 30 runs. Campbellford won the toss and went to bat, making a total of 109 runs. LACROSSE.

The Toronto News contains the following: "The Torontos have secured an exceedingly promising defence player in Nattrass of Millbrook. He will be tried out this week, and may be placed on the team against the Capitals." Nattrass is well known to Peterborough lacrosse and hockey players, always showing up as the star on the Millbrook aggregation. He is a fast runner, a neat stick handler, and will no doubt make a name for himself on the Toronto team.

The senior team may have to stand the strain of two matches next week, as there is a probability of the play off with Orillia being set for Wednesday, and the Rochester match is being arranged for Friday. Every man must be in shape to stand the strain of two matches following each other closely, and a practice is therefore called for Saturday evening as well as to-night. The Juniors should also turn out in force, as besides their game in Campbellford a number of them will be required to go to Rochester.

Orillia won from Beaverton by nine straights yesterday in Orillia. Beaverton was without the services of either Joe O'Meara or Gaffey, who played here when Peterborough defeated the same team by 11 goals to 2. Peterborough and Orillia meet next week.

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club Executive will be held in the EXAMINER office at 9 o'clock to-night.

THE WHEEL.

At a meeting held last evening of the promoters of the team road race, it was decided to take no action until next week.

Not the greatest weight for that is not the proper way to estimate its value, it is the strength and flavor that determine it. What is called tea can be bought for a few cents per pound and yet it is expensive.

Ram Lal's Pure Indian Tea

has never been known as a "cheap" tea, yet it is economical because of its purity, flavor, and great strength. It will brew nearly double the number of good cups of tea that any other brand will. Cheap bulk teas not only lose their strength but the fine flavor is altogether wanting.

Ram Lal's Tea is a pure Indian Blend put up in sealed packets which retain all the strength, original delicate aroma and delicious flavor.

CAN'T ENJOY LIFE

Because of nervousness, dyspepsia, heart trouble, etc. Lots of people just have to sit and look on while their healthy, vigorous friends have all the enjoyment of a strong and robust body. Dr. Ward's Pills will bring back health, strength, snap, vim and energy to even the weakest and weariest of suffering humankind.

A BAD INVESTMENT MADE GOOD.

I have half a gross of empty bottles upon my shelves. Everything my neighbors and friends would tell me to try I would go straight away to the drug store and purchase. I was in a terrible condition from dyspepsia and liver troubles and was getting worse all the time. I was so discouraged trying one medicine and the other and receiving no benefit that I was about giving up all hope of ever getting better, when my husband brought me home a box of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, which he said had been highly recommended to him. I began using them at once, when, to my great surprise, I felt better in a very short time and continued them for about two weeks more which cured me entirely. I have not the least sign of dyspepsia or liver troubles now, and have also gained several pounds in weight.

Signed, ANNIE B. GAUNTLEY,
King Street, Berlin, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

WHEN OLD AGE COMES

IT DEPENDS NOT UPON YEARS, BUT UPON VITAL FORCE.

The Greatest Enemy to Long Life Is Self Indulgence — Why People of Advanced Age Should Eat Sparingly and Drink More Freely.

Some men are 20 years younger physically and mentally than others are at the same age. It is self evident that old age does not begin at any set time, so far as the divisions of time divide the periods of life, but that it has to do with that subtle agent known as the vital force, an acquaintance with which enables the analytical mind to become proficient in prognosis by weighing in the balance the vitality on the one side with the pathology on the other.

The indication of old age may be noticed by ocular inspection. The figure stoops, the walk is less elastic, the rounded figure gives place to the spare habit of body, the wrinkle of time mounts the cheek, while the frost of many winters mantles the brow. The typical healthy person who attains old age is spare of body, and old age emphasizes this fact by causing a paucity of adipose tissue. So the wrinkle of time, after all, is kindly in nature.

Physiologically we notice that a diminution of the physical energy is accompanied by a corresponding diminution of the power to eliminate waste material from the body. Elasticity and strength give place to hardness and brittleness of nearly all the tissues of the body. The general health may be good, because there is a harmonious balance between the action of the nervous system and the circulatory system.

However, the former is less responsive to external stimulation, and the latter is less vigorous in old age. The vital processes conducted by the circulation, respiration and metabolic changes in the tissues are less active. There are diminished adaptability of the whole system to changes in the environment and less ability to meet the requirements of emergencies, such as sudden demands of muscular and mental strain.

The senile conditions and diseases are numerous and obvious—in the first place, weakened digestion and assimilation. The weakened vigor of the circulation and glandular system necessarily weakens the power of eliminating the excrementitious substances, which gives rise to pernicious nutrition, and that in turn is the cause of the tendency to develop malignant or benign growths in different parts of the body in old age.

The strong tendency to overeat and underdrink, together with the natural decline of functional power, gives rise to a condition of lithemia, which is the prime cause of the majority of deaths in old age. In the healthy state that great glandular furnace and chemical laboratory, the liver, is capable of transforming an excess of nitrogenous matter, which may result from metabolism of tissue or exist in the food consumed, into the highly soluble excrementitious substance known as urea. This excrement is eliminated from the blood mainly by the kidneys and to a much less extent by the skin.

Now, in old age, with the functional power and natural vitality on the wane, together with the strong tendency to overtap this function of the liver, we find this waste is not converted into urea, but into uric or lithic acid, a comparatively insoluble excrementitious and toxic substance, which if it appears in the blood in sufficient quantity and is long enough continued in circulation through the urinary tubules sets up irritation and inflammation, which inevitably impair the function of the renal epithelium, and we find this poisonous substance is not eliminated from the system, but accumulates in the blood.

This explains why old people are almost universally troubled with disease of the liver, kidneys, bladder and prostate gland. The unstable circulation, atheromatous changes and brittleness of the walls of the blood vessels, with the tendency to overtax the digestive apparatus, are the cause of many old people going to "that bourn from which no traveler returns" by the apoplectic route.

Hereditary diseases naturally manifest themselves when the vitality is below a certain level, so we are not surprised to find certain dyscrasic and latent tendencies manifesting themselves at this period of life, when the natural vitality is waning. The diseases most frequently found to be the cause of dissolution among the aged are pneumonia, diseases of the liver and urinary organs, consumption, cancer, apoplexy and gangrene.

The enemy to longevity, the author continues, is self indulgence. People who have reached an advanced age may prolong their lives and greatly add to the comfort of their declining years by diminishing the quantity of food ingested, thereby avoiding too large a residue of waste matter either in the intestinal canal or in the form of excrementitious matter in the blood.—Journal of American Medical Association.

HIS GREAT STAND BY.

One Precious Volume Treasured by the Great Literary Man.

'Twas but a little torn volume, but the great literary man prized it more than words can tell.

He had come across it many days agone at a secondhand bookstall, and when he saw the price mark, 5 cents, above the box where it lay with many others in scattered confusion his eye lit up with a deep and holy joy. Seizing it in his grasp, he hurried with it into the store, deposited a nickel upon the counter and, without waiting for the shopman to wrap it up, he placed it in an inside pocket and walked home, his head high in the air.

What dreams, what anticipations, what exultations, had not that little tome called up in his fevered brain that day!

Then he was a poor student, waiting for a chance to please the public with his writings. His success had been small, if any, and sometimes he was half inclined to give up the struggle. Indeed, such were his straits that more than once he allowed his eyes to roam over the "Help Wanted, Males" column in the voluminous Sunday papers. But then immediately there would come renewed determination and fresh resolve, and he would conquer the temptation to apply for work.

Work? No, a thousand times no! He would be a literary man in spite of everything!

Then it happened that he came across this little book that had proved of such incalculable value to him in his vocation, for he was now one of the literary giants of the day—nay, of the age—and could command really royal royalties.

Yes, he was rich, indeed, beyond the dreams of avarice.

For the piles of cash that he had accumulated had grown from his wonderfully complicated Scotch dialect stories, and the source of his inspiration was no other than the old secondhand, 5 cent copy of "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," from which he was wont to select his Scotch words at haphazard.—Vim.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

Some Theatrical Jokes.

In a performance of "The Lady of the Lake" the actor who took the part of Roderick Dhu was known to be in pecuniary difficulties. When Roderick gave the line, "I am Roderick Dhu," Fitzjames responded, "Yes, and your rent's due too." On the production of a piece called "The Spy" the early acts showed that it was going to prove a failure. So when at a certain point a character had to rush on and shout, "Five hundred pounds for the spy!" the author-actor, who was concealed behind a rock, arose and cried, "It's yours—copyright, manuscript and parts!" That was the end of the performance.

When eating takes place on the stage, the temptations to play tricks with the food are naturally great. In "Henry V" the leek which that inimitable braggart Pistol has to eat is usually made from an apple. But on one occasion at Sadler's Wells the Fluellen of the evening gave him a real onion, and he had no choice but to struggle through it, though the tears coursed down his fat cheeks.—Cornhill Magazine.

STEADY QUOTATIONS.

Although the Crop Report Was Bearish the Wheat Demand Was Good and Receipts Light.

Thursday Evening, Aug. 11.

The United States Government report issued last night making the condition of spring wheat 90.5 had a bearish effect on speculative prices this morning at Chicago and the September and December options opened nearly a cent below Wednesday's close.

The demand for cash wheat, however, kept the price of this month's delivery up, and the light day's receipts caused a late sympathetic recovery in futures, which closed ¼ to ⅝c higher than yesterday. The evident reluctance of farmers to market their new wheat is one thing that keeps the price of the cereal up.

On the Liverpool board to-day September wheat declined ¼d per cental and the December option 1¼d. Paris market unchanged to 10 centimes higher.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, Aug. 11.—There were about 700 head of butchers' cattle, 150 calves and 500 sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The butchers were out in full force, and trade was good, with a slight reduction in the prices of the best cattle, while the leaner beasts were fully ¼c per pound lower than on Monday. There were a large number of thin, young stock among the offerings, and small, slabsided bulls, whose services are no longer needed in the reproduction of scrub cattle, were more plentiful than usual. Prime beeves sold at from 4½c to 4¾c per lb., but such cattle would scarcely be considered prime two or three months ago.

Pretty good stock sold at from 3¾c to 4¼c, and the common animals at from 2¾c to 3¼c per lb., while some of the leaner kind and hard-looking bulls would not bring over 2¼c per lb. Good calves sold at from $5 to $8 each, common veals at from $2.50 to $4.50 each and some of the bobs at about $1.50 each. Shippers are paying from 3¾c to 3¾c per lb for good large sheep. Lambs continue to bring pretty high prices, or from $3.25 to $4 for good lots and from $2.50 to $3 for common ones. Fat hogs sell at from $5.25 to $5.60 per 100 lbs.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,260.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Motherhood is a woman's brightest crown.

It is a woman's glory to be strong and capable in a feminine way. Her worst misfortune is to have any physical weakness affecting the delicate, special organism which is involved in motherhood. To insure the complete health and normal capability of this most important structure, is the purpose of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives tone and vitality to the entire nervous system; and strength and vigor to the organism of maternity. It makes motherhood possible, safe and comparatively easy and painless.

Its wonder working capacity is exemplified in the trying experience of Mrs. A. Block, No. 221 Jackson St., Trenton, N. J., who writes: "I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription shortly before confinement with my sixth child, as I felt miserable, and it helped me so much that I had an easy time and felt well soon after. Four years ago, on the 17th of January, when the mercury was five below zero my seventh child was born, after I had been waiting on my sick husband for nine weeks. With the help of your medicine I stood it all. For the last year I have been doing nearly all my work including the care of eight children. I think I am doing well, thank God, and hope I will be able to continue. I owe my health to God and your medicine."

One of the greatest helps a mother can have in nursing and rearing her children and carrying them safely through all the little sicknesses and ailments to which children are subject is Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated book, the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." A paper-bound copy will be sent free for 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only, or in cloth covers for 50 stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. This book should be owned by every mother. It is like a family doctor always at hand.

PECULIAR MONSTERS.

THE FIERCE, MAN EATING CROCODILES OF AUSTRALIA.

These Powerful and Cunning Brutes Grow to Twenty-seven Feet In Length and Will Tackle Anything From a Sheep to a Thousand Pound Bullock.

The crocodile of the Nile differs very little from that of our own northern rivers, which is generally termed "alligator," though in reality a true crocodile. The head of a true alligator is broader and shorter than that of the crocodile. There is also considerable difference in the teeth and their disposition in the jaws. The teeth of the alligator are unequal, and the larger of the lower canine enters a cavity in the upper jaw, while that of a crocodile simply fits into a groove on the outside of the upper jaw, leaving the tooth clearly visible when the mouth of the monster is closed. There are also differences in the webbing of the toes and the form of the legs, though to the general observer there is little or no difference. Crocodiles seem equally at home in salt or fresh water, while alligators don't appear to relish and rarely visit salt waters.

The crocodiles no doubt feed largely upon fish, but as they grow older and stronger and require great quantities of food they will when hungry attack anything from a sheep or kangaroo to a bullock, a big crocodile making short work of a bullock weighing over half a ton. Some of these monsters measure as much as 27 feet in length and possess immense strength besides wonderful cunning and patience. It will lie in wait at any watering place frequented by animals, hardly distinguishable from a log of wood, so still and impassive it has become. The animal coming down to drink is suddenly seized in the crocodile's huge jaws and drawn into the water and drowned.

At other times the tail is used to sweep the animal into deep water, where, even though its prey may be a heavy bullock, it has little or no chance against its enemy, which is specially provided by nature with an arrangement that prevents the water rushing down its huge throat, even though its jaws are fully distended through holding its prey. Thus after a few brief seconds the unequal struggle is over, and the saurian takes the carcass in tow to some favored locality, where he can enjoy it at his leisure.

In the early days at Port Darwin, N. Z., bathing in the open sea was forbidden, owing to the danger from crocodiles, there and nearly everywhere else in Australia called alligators, though in reality no true alligators exist in Australia. A young trooper named Davis, a fine swimmer, disregarded the general order and one morning early went for a swim. Far out in the harbor he noticed what he and others took to be a floating log. Many of the northern trees float and are washed down in the wet season to the open sea. Out went the strong swimmer, nearer and nearer to the supposed log, until too late he recognised his mistake and that he was approaching instead of a log a huge and apparently listless crocodile.

But the knowledge came too late to be of any service to poor Davis, though some men called out to him from a small craft close by to "Go back!" "Go back!" and Davis did make an attempt to retreat and was swimming manfully shoreward when the huge brute flashed down upon him at a terrific speed, and, opening his great jaws to their utmost capacity, came down with a smack that was heard even to the shore, and inside their cruel grasp was Trooper Davis' head. Then, with the quickness common to the saurian, it had disappeared with its victim.

Every possible attempt was made to recover the body, but without success, though the harbor was soon alive with boats and the water thrashed around for a considerable time. Though this means failed, the body was soon afterward found lying on a rock, or rather a reef, some little distance from the scene of the accident. The lowering of the boats and the noise of the beaten water had no doubt caused the monster to let go his prey.

Crocodiles at nighttime low and bellow just like cattle, especially like bulls, and I have spent some nights in an open boat in Cambridge gulf, northwestern Australia, where the whole place seemed to be alive with them, and what with their splashes and cries, the weirdness of the whole scene and their close proximity as they at times rocked the boat, sleep was impossible, for there are several instances on record where crocodiles have taken or have attempted to take men from out of camps and boats.

A poor fellow named Reed, the mate or second mate of the Gulnan, had gone in his vessel to some river in Carpentaria gulf—I believe the Roper. The vessel was at anchor near the mouth of the river. The mate, Reed, had been dispatched in charge of a watering party and was some distance up the river in a large open boat. Water had been obtained, and they were all ready for a return to the ship. All being made snug, the tired fellows turned in, having made their camp in the boat. The night was a very fine one, the moon shining brightly, when toward midnight the sleeping camp was aroused by some terrific shrieks. These were the cries of poor Reed, who, enveloped in his bedding and mosquito curtains, was being borne off by a crocodile.

It is said by those who knew him well and accompanied him on this and other previous trips that he had the habit of sleeping with his foot on the gunwale of the boat, and no doubt this afforded the crocodile an easier opportunity of seizing him. All night and a great part of next day were spent in searching for the missing man's body, but without success.

The crocodile has a remarkable eye. It can arrange the pupil to a vertical or horizontal position at will to suit its requirement by day or night. It has a special natural protection to the eye, and through a "duct" escapes the fluid when the "monster weeps." In fact, he is a peculiar brute altogether, with many special gifts besides his huge jaws that help to make of him the terror he is.—Sydney Mail.

Raised . . . From a Bed of Sickness . . .

SIMCOE, Jan. 18th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Gentlemen—For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, all treating me for catarrh of the stomach, but to no avail. I could not eat the most simple food without being in dreadful misery, and found no relief until same was vomited up. After spending a large sum in medical advice, I was advised to try a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I purchased a box from J. Austin and Company, Simcoe, and to my surprise found great relief. Not being able to eat I tried a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the pains left me the third day. My appetite has been fully restored. I consider myself perfectly cured, and feel as well as when a young woman, although I am 65 years old at present. I was almost a shadow, now I am as fleshy as before my sickness. Have used only three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and two boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I can do my house work as usual. I am positive that my marvellous cure (which I think it is) is due purely to Dr. Chase's remedies, which I have used. I can honestly recommend the same to any persons suffering from symptoms similar to mine. Wishing you every success,

Yours truly,

MRS. ANN CHURCHILL, Sr.

A DRESDEN MERCHANT

Gives Evidence in Favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism.

Dresden, Aug. 8—Mr. W. G. Cragg is one of our best known merchants, and enjoys the highest respect and confidence of all who know him.

For eight or nine years past he suffered terribly from Inflammatory Rheumatism, for which there seemed to be no remedy.

The best doctors failed to relieve him. So did the medicines he used.

But to-day he is sound and well.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Cragg says: "I have used only six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but they have cured me completely. I'll never be without them."

Reader, if you have rheumatism—go and do likewise. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you too.

HIS COFFIN A BOAT.

An Iceland Fisherman Who Was Buried In His Little Dory.

Herbert D. Ward writes in The Century of the "Heroes of the Deep," one of the series of articles on "Heroes of Peace." Mr. Ward says:

On April 25, 1895, a fishing vessel came out from the harbor of Dyre Fiord, Iceland, to bait up and set its trawls. It became calm at night, but in the morning, when the dories went out to haul, it began to breeze up. The gale came up so rapidly that the head dories, in order to save themselves at all, cut their gear and made for the vessel, which was drifting astern, so that the men could get aboard. Soon all the dories were in but one, and the skipper was in the rigging, looking for it anxiously. It was not long before he discovered it to windward, bottom up, with the two men on top.

Volunteers offered instantly. By this time the gale was a hurricane and the sea had made rapidly. The great danger was apparent. One of the men who went to the rescue as a matter of course at the peril of his life was Carl Eckhoff, an indomitable Swede. I have been unable to discover the names of the other two.

The wind as well as the tide was against the rescuers. Again and again they were almost swamped; but rapid bailing and skillful handling carried them on in the white hell. At last, well nigh spent, they reached the dory just in time to save one man alive. But the other was dead. His head was fouled in the gear where he had fallen over, benumbed by the icy water. They carried him back to the vessel and worked three hours in vain trying to resuscitate him. Then they made for the harbor.

On the following day a procession of the crews of three vessels wended its way to the churchyard. Uplifted upon the stalwart arms of mourning mates, the dory led the way. It was the assassin dory, and in it in simple state lay the man it had killed.

Up through the churchyard into the plain church the man was carried in this strange bier. There he was laid before the pulpit while the minister said over him the prayer for the dead. The freezing grave was ready. In it John Jacobsen was buried. No longer will he risk the gale or the ice. The dory that had slain him was his coffin, and the cold earth of warm hearted Iceland has covered both man and boat in an eternal peace.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

THE MAN IN HIS HOME.

The Husband and Father Strikes the Keynote For Right or Wrong Living.

"The seclusion of a home gives to a man a certain freedom and attendant privileges which no other place in the world affords, and it is right that it should," writes Edward Bok of "The Man In His Home" in The Ladies Home Journal. "But it is not right that this freedom and those privileges should be abused to the disadvantage of the wife. Too many men seem to have the idea that they can drop into constant disconsolate and churlish moods at home with their wives which in any other place and by any other person would not be tolerated. It is when a man is within the walls of his home that he is himself. Then it is that he should be at his best. When a man gives the best that is within him to those closest to him, his home will be the ideal place that he wishes it to be.

"No man has a right to expect from his wife what he on his part does not give her. If he wants her sympathy, he must give her his consideration. If a man lacks the element of consideration, he should cultivate it, and cultivate it not for the benefit of his friends, but for those in and of his home. Consideration should begin at home, not in the homes of friends, as it so often does, and ends there too. The atmosphere which a man creates in his home by example becomes the rule by which his children live. The husband and father strikes the keynote for right or wrong living."

The Spanish Royal Standard.

The Spanish royal standard is most complicated. The red and yellow of the Spanish flag is said to be derived from this occurrence: In 1378 Charles the Bold dipped his fingers in the blood of Geoffrey, count of Barcelona, and drew them down the count's golden shield in token of his appreciation of the latter's bravery. The shield, so marked, became the arms of Barcelona, which became part of Aragon, and its arms were taken by that kingdom.

Now to the royal standard: In the first quarter or upper left hand part of the flag are the arms of Leon and Castile, the lion and the castle. The second quarter is taken up, one-half by the arms of Arragon, one-half by the arms of Sicily. The upper third of the third quarter—directly under the first—shows the Austrian colors. The lower two-thirds is divided between the flag of Burgundy and the black lion of Flanders. The upper third of the fourth quarter shows the checkers, another Burgundian device, while the lower two-thirds is shared by the red eagle of Antwerp and the golden lion of Brabant, and on the top of all this are two shields, one showing the Portuguese arms, the other the French fleur-de-lis. Considerable of a flag that.—Philadelphia Times.

Taking No Chances.

"Isn't there something in my policy," asked a caller at a La Salle street insurance office the other day, "about my having to 'report any change of residence?'" "Yes, sir," said the man at the nearest desk, picking up a pen. "Where have you moved to?" "I haven't moved anywhere," rejoined the caller. "I have made a change in my residence by painting it a light straw color and putting a jack on the kitchen chimney. I think that's all. Good day."—Chicago Tribune.

Alnwick castle, according to the observations of a learned antiquary, owes its origin to the Romans. It is one of the largest Gothic buildings in Britain, containing about five acres of ground within its outer walls, flanked with 16 towers and turrets.

WELSH POETRY.

Some Specimens of the Ballads Written by Dafydd ap Gwilym.

A glimpse of one form of Welsh verse, Triban, may be found in a translation of some stanzas from Mr. Rhys' book of "Welsh Ballads." These stanzas are from "The Song of the Graves," written by Dafydd ap Gwilym:

In graves where drips the winter rain
Lie those that loved me most of men—
Cerwyd, Cywrid, Caw, lie slain.

In graves where the grass grows rank and tall
Lie, well avenged ere they did fall—
Gwrien, Morien, Morial.

In graves where drips the rain the dead
Lie, that not lightly bowed the head—
Gwrien, Gwen and Gwried.

Seithenin's lost mind sleeps by the shore
'Twixt Cinran and the gray sea's roar,
Where Caer Cenedir starts up before.

In Abererch lies Rhythor' Hael,
Beneath the earth of Llan Morvael,
But Owain ab Urien in lonelier soil.

Mid the dreary moor by the one oak tree,
The grave of stately Siawn may be—
Stately, treacherous and bitter was he.

Mid the salt sea marsh where the tides have been Lie the sweet maid Sanaw, the warrior Rhys
And Hennin's daughter, the pale Earwyn.

And this may the grave of Gwythur be.
But who the world's great mystery,
The grave of Arthur, shall ever see?

The translation lacks, however, the chief feature of the original composition, for it was written by Dafydd ap Gwilym in fettered verse, called in the vernacular "cynghanedd," an ingenious form of consonancy peculiar to the four and twenty meters of Welsh prosody—a feature that the translator found unconvertible even if he understands the secret of such intricate metrical construction. Dafydd ap Gwilym's best productions were his couplets—cywyddau—and his lyrics and love songs, which are standards of excellence in Welsh poetry to this day.—New York Tribune.

Wealth has not come, swift winged, to greet

You at the door—loath to retreat!
What care? Your troubles might be worse,

"OPEN DOOR" POLICY

In China by Britain Appears to Have Failed.

RUSSIA SUPREME IN THE EAST.

China Grants All Her Demands in New-Chwang—Mr. Balfour's Admission—The Government Is Considering the Matter—English Press Comments—Salisbury Commended by the Novoe Vremya.

London, Aug. 12.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: The Tsung-Li-Yamen professes amazement that the terms of the Pekin-Hankow Railway contract should have been published in Shanghai. It tries to cast the responsibility therefor on Li Hung Chang, who conducted the negotiations and whose Russian sympathies are known.

The Chinese admit the importance of the separate agreement appointing as arbitrator in any disputed question the Minister of that country, whose financial interests in the question are the largest.

They recognize that it gives Russia absolute power in all disputes. It is officially announced, however, that the contract is still unratified. The Belgian Minister is pressing for its ratification.

It is an obvious fact that the railroad is a political, not a commercial, undertaking. It is designedly anti-British. Great Britain might at least endeavor to delay the ratification until the objectionable clauses are revised.

Britain's Position Is Lost.

London, Aug. 12.—The Daily Mail says that the Pekin-Hankow Railway contract has already been ratified by the Tsung-Li-Yamen. It declares that the general feeling is that Great Britain's political position in the Yang-Tse valley is lost.

The Times, in an editorial, says that M. Pavloff has knocked the bottom out of the British New-Chwang concession. The decision, if it remains unchallenged, will make short work of all demonstrations in reference to the "open door." It adds that the news regarding the Pekin Hankow Railway is not a whit less important.

It hopes that the Foreign Office will now awaken and bring influence vigorously to bear to delay that ratification of the concession and secure a revision.

CESSION OF PORT ARTHUR.

According to the Novoe Vremya the Result Will Not Show for Some Time.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—Following in the footsteps of the Novosti, the Novoe Vremya eulogizes the Marquis of Salisbury for the wisdom with which he keeps in check the Russophobe outburst of members of his party and the prudence with which he endeavors to obviate all pretext for misunderstanding between Great Britain and Russia.

The paper says it observes that "unfortunately more than half the British public share Mr. Chamberlain's views," but cannot understand "why the Russophobes are apprehensive of the Russians at Port Arthur."

The Novoe Vremya then says: "The result of the cession to Russia of Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan will not show themselves for some time to come. A considerable period must elapse before these ports can serve the purpose for which they were intended by the Russian foreign policy, that of providing a permanent outlet in the Pacific Ocean. Quite otherwise is Russia's position on the Indian frontier, where everything has been long organized for military action if some extreme excess of ill-will upon the part of Great Britain should drive Russia to such action."

CHINA'S FORMAL ASSENT

Has Been Given to the Contract for the New-Chwang Railroad Loan.

London, Aug. 12.—The Hong-Kong & Shanghai Bank will make a claim for heavy indemnity in case the contract for the New-Chwang Railway is nullified.

The correspondent of the Times cabled that the Tsung-Li-Yamen had given formal assent to all the conditions proposed by the Russian Charge d'Affaires regarding the contract for the New-Chwang Railroad extension loan, these conditions being in direct conflict with the terms of the signed contract, and designed to block the completion of the contract, the whole movement being designed as a blow at British concessions.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. A. J. Balfour, the First Lord of the Treasury and Government leader, admitted that the facts set forth in the Pekin despatch to the London Times yesterday were substantially as therein set forth.

After making the admission referred to yesterday, Mr. Balfour added that the matter was "engaging the serious attention of the Government."

This statement was received with cheers.

Will Remain at Gibraltar.

A despatch received here yesterday from Gibraltar says the departure from that place of the British Military squadron, which was fixed for yesterday, has been countermanded and the squadron has been ordered to remain at Gibraltar while awaiting further orders.

It is not known whether this change in the Admiralty's plans has any connection with the situation in the far East.

Has the Contract Been Signed?

London, Aug. 12.—The Daily Mail says yesterday: "We understand that the Franco-Belgian contract for the construction of the Pekin-Han-Kow Railway has been ratified by the Tsung-Li-Yamen, and actually signed."

On the contrary, the Pekin correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Wednesday, says the contract is still unratified.

Denmark Is Preparing.

Copenhagen, Aug. 12.—A sensation has been caused by the sudden measures that are being taken to place the sea forts of Copenhagen in a state of military efficiency. It is supposed that these measures are due to fears of a conflict between Great Britain and Russia. The official organ announces that the Government of Denmark has expended 500,000 kroners in ammunition, and awaits an

The Government Allowed the Opposition to Have Its Own Way With the Oratory Yesterday.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—This has been an Opposition day in the Legislature. For eight hours the flood of eloquence poured from the Opposition benches without eliciting any reply from the Government side of the House. At the evening session all the galleries were crowded by an expectant throng in anticipation of the division, which was not taken. The speeches delivered were vigorous in tone, and confirmed the impression that the Opposition has improved materially in debating strength.

Routine Proceedings.

Mr. Hodgins, East Middlesex, presented the following petition: "The undersigned Aldermen of the City of London hereby request you to procure a site for the new Normal School in the centre of the city instead of London South. (Signed) John D. Wilson (Mayor), Neil Cooper, Charles Graham, Patrick McPhillips, Hugh Douglas, James Winnett, Stephen O'Meara, Robert Carrothers, James Jolly, John Wilkie."

It will be observed that only one-half of the City Council of London have signed this petition, and only one Liberal name appears in the list, that of Ald. O'Meara.

At Mr. Whitney's request one of the petitions praying that no retroactive legislation be introduced pending the settlement of certain election trials was read, Mr. Hardy insisting that it be either one signed by the defeated candidate himself or the actual petitioner in the protest affected. That of Mr. McNabb in the West York case was read.

Before resuming the debate Hon. Mr. Davis, acting for the Minister of Agriculture, asked the member for East Middlesex if he would kindly favor him with some additional information in reference to the Middlesex ram, such as the year the ram was sold, the breed of the ram, to whom sold, and any other particulars that would enable the department to identify it and furnish the information the member desires. They had not been able to find the name of Glennie on the records.

Mr. Hodgins agreed to furnish the information, and Mr. Hardy suggested that they should search under the name of "Dan."

The Debate Resumed.

Mr. W. A. Kribs of South Waterloo talked on the address for over an hour, assailing the Government on every point, from present issues to the surplus. He made a comprehensive assault on the Liberal policy.

Dr. Elisha Jessop of Lincoln was the next speaker. He insisted that Mr. Hardy was in full retreat, and refused to accept the Attorney-General's version of his alleged statement about not having men capable of filling the position of Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. H. G. Lackner, Conservative, had been the first of his party to represent North Waterloo in the Legislature since Confederation, and he so told the House. He made another attack, reviewing the failures of the Government, and badgered them with calling off their dogs and stopping the debate. He touched legally upon the constable question.

The Evening Session.

Mr. Beatty of Leeds started the discussion in the evening. It was supreme folly, he said, to suppose that in the case of Mr. Gibson the decision of Hamilton would be reversed in the event of another election. The strongest Liberal riding in the province has said they do not want the Minister of Agriculture, in that or any capacity. They approve neither his policy nor his methods. The Government had violated the spirit, if not the letter, of the law by calling the House without a full Cabinet. He suggested that the Government seek to interest British capitalists in our iron ores, and closed by saying the Government should not endeavor to change the rules of the game after the game had been begun.

Dr. Pyne, East Toronto, said that with two portfolios vacant the Government had not offered him one. "It is evident, Mr. Speaker, that you have gone as far as you can go; in future you will have to look to us for advancement." He, too, urged an iron ore policy. After denying the analogy of the Macdonald precedent, Dr. Pyne said the unblemished reputation of the judiciary of Canada had never been questioned for thirty years.

The debate was continued by Mr. Kidd of Carleton and Mr. Hodgins of Middlesex.

It was 12.15 o'clock when Mr. Hodgins had finished.

The Mayor of Hamilton having spoken, Mr. Little of Cardwell held the floor until 1 o'clock, after which Mr. Carscallen of Hamilton moved the adjournment of the debate.

To Postpone Election Trials.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—Motions to postpone election trials in Halton and South Perth were heard at Osgoode Hall yesterday. Both trials are at present fixed for September 1. The motions were enlarged till Saturday.

GENERAL HOSPITAL,
Fort Monroe, Va.,
July 25th, 1898.

Dear Father and Mother,—I received your kind and welcome letter and was glad to hear from you, and that you had received my letter. I mailed you one the other day, and told you all the particulars about being shot in the leg, but I will write it over again. I was shot about the centre of the thigh, the bullet entering the front of the leg and going through, shattering the bone, and making an ugly wound. I lost a lot of blood, and am very weak, and am not able to stand on my feet without the aid of crutches, but I am gaining every day. My diet consists of a bowl of milk, two fried eggs and toast three times a day. We have a fine doctor and he understands his business pretty well.

The doctor told us that as soon as we were able to leave his care they were going to send us on furlough. I think the war is very near its end, and will only be of short duration. We lost a lot of men in the battle so far. I was wounded on San Juan Hill, the 2nd of July at about 12 o'clock, and I lay out all night in a pouring rain until the next day between nine and ten o'clock. I was unconscious when they found me and while lying on the field I was robbed of everything I had—a gold watch, $20 in greenbacks, and a great many other things, by the Cuban insurgents.

I killed the Spaniard that shot me. If I had not he would have shot me again as he was reloading his rifle to fire. My rifle was unloaded so I struck him with the butt of it and knocked him over

I am getting along as well as could be expected and will soon be all right again.

THE MAJORITY IS SIX.

Debate on the Address in Reply Concluded at Last.

VOTE REACHED AT NEARLY 3 A.M.

A Straight Party Vote With Only One Member Absent From the House—Mr. Craig Too Ill to Attend—A Very Heavy Day's Debate Prelude to the Division.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—At 2.45 this morning a vote was reached in the Legislature on the amendment to the amendment moved by Mr. Hoyle concerning the defeated Ministers, and it was defeated by 49 to 43; Mr. Whitney's amendment shared the same fate, and the address was carried on the same division, thus giving the Government a majority of six.

The Debate Resumed.

Mr. Carscallen, Hamilton, resumed the debate on the address. To the people in the galleries, who had heard the Government members speak, it must have appeared, he said, that the Ministry was composed

Of little gods, in number seven,
Too good for earth, not ripe for Heaven.

He deprecated this man-worship on the part of Government supporters, and advised them to assert their manhood and bolster up their self-respect by stopping it. A wrong previously committed according to the Attorney-General's memorandum calling the House together was justification for committing another. If Mr. Hardy really believed constables had a legal right to vote, why had he called the House? It could not have been to pass fisheries legislation, because a modus vivendi must have existed between the Governments interested for the regulation of this department. The truth was that members had been called to pass retroactive legislation to get the Government out of a hole. To quote Sir John Macdonald's Act of 1887 as a precedent was the height of absurdity, as it did not affect the seat of any member of the House. Every man should have the privileges of the franchise, but thousands of citizens did not enjoy that right on March 1. Why was not the bill brought in to enfranchise all of them? The laws of March 1 should govern the elections.

Mr. Conmee was the next speaker. He denied that the constables' bill was ex post facto legislation; it was a question of votes—votes questioned by the Opposition. If members were re-elected their seats might be again attacked as now. That was the need of settling the question by legislation. The fisheries question alone was of sufficient importance to have the House called together. The only liquor dealer who supported him in Port Arthur lost his license, so he was on a parity with Mr. Lucas, the Conservative whip, but touching the latter's case he had a letter from a Clarksboro banker stating that Mr. Lucas' man had voluntarily given up his license and quit the business. He quoted from Mr. Carscallen's old-time speeches when he was a Liberal, in opposition to what he had said tonight, and he asked which Carscallen they ought to believe.

It being 6 o'clock the Speaker left the chair.

The Evening Session.

Mr. Conmee resumed at the evening session, defending the Government.

Mr. Wardell, North Wentworth, said the Attorney-General was not to be congratulated on calling the House together. He refused to believe in the celestial birth of the Minister of Agriculture. The fact is the two Ministers were hanging on with a death grip to their seats.

Hon. Mr. Ross' Reply.

Hon. Geo. W. Ross was greeted with Government cheers when he rose to reply. He pointed out that it would be impossible for the Government to call Parliament at any time that it would not be inconvenient for some members of the House. But if it was inconvenient for hon. members of the House, it does not seem to be inconvenient for hon. gentlemen opposite to persist in continuing the session and remaining with them so long a time. (Government cheers.) It had been said that the House had not met for public business at all; that it was purely a session for party purposes. He thought there was business of vast public concern before this Parliament; in fact, hon. gentlemen seemed to greatly concern themselves about the business they are offered, that there will be too much business to suit them. He thought it an important session. What is the business? he asked. Was it not to protect the franchise, the sacred trust committed to the Legislature by the people of the country? Could there be any more important matter for the House to have under consideration? The greatest battles in the British House of Commons had been those waged for the extension of the franchise rights of the people, and perhaps one of the most splendid contests within his memory in the House of Commons—in connection with the franchise bill of 1885, which was happily repealed last year—(cheers)—and the only time when the House had sat for about twenty-four hours, was when a matter affecting the franchise of the people was under discussion. Over 300,000 people on the first of March last declared their wills in the ballot box. (Government cheers.) The crowning act, the kingliest act of freedom, is the freeman's vote. Three hundred thousand of them performed the kingly act, and by 7,000 they had expressed their confidence in the Government, and they were there to see that the will of the people is carried out, and he thought hon. gentlemen opposite would agree that Parliament had been convened for one of the most important duties committed to it. Then they had to deal with that most important industry, the fisheries, amounting to about $9,000,000 in value, and employing two thousand men. Surely these were matters of sufficient importance to engage the attention for a few weeks at least of the Legislature. (Cheers.)

The conclusion he reached on the constable vote was that the policy should be to broaden and extend the franchise rights of the people, and that the full, free and sovereign will of the people as expressed at the poll should prevail. (Cheers.) They believed that the people of the country will sustain them in carrying out this policy.

On the question of the defeated Ministers he said the hon. gentleman opposite had not the vestige of a precedent at his back; they were all against him, and he know it. The position of the Government was invulnerable and invincible. They proposed that the hon. gentlemen should get seats at the earliest possible moment or their places would be filled. (Liberal applause.)

Mr. Whitney spoke for over two hours. Replying to Mr. Ross, he took no back water regarding any statement about officials. He and Mr. Ross had a heated debate re the statement that the right of constables to vote had never been disputed.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Boyd of North Bay, White of Renfrew, Miscampbell of East Simcoe, Fox of West Victoria, Morrison of West Hastings and Carnegie of East Victoria.

Government Majority of Six.

A vote was reached at 3.45 o'clock this morning on Mr. Hoyle's amendent to the amendment condemning the Government on the question of the defeated Ministers and calling upon His Honor to terminate such a state of affairs.

The vote was 49 to 43, on a straight party vote, giving the Government a majority of 6.

Mr. Beatty of Parry Sound voted with the Government, and Mr. Tucker, the Patron, with the Opposition. Mr. Craig, Government, was the only absentee.

The result was hailed with prolonged applause and counter applause from the two sides of the Chamber.

The amendment was lost and the address carried on the same division.

The House adjourned at 3 o'clock.

Government business will have precedence during the month of August.

ACCIDENT AT CROW'S NEST.

A Boy Dragged to Death and a 3-Year-Old Girl Drowned.

Winnipeg, Aug. 13.—A Warder, B.C., despatch says a serious accident occurred to a gang of McBurney's Crow's Nest workmen. While the men were repairing a bridge at the bottom of the loop, the upper timbers gave way, resulting in the instant death of two men and seriously injuring several others.

W. Mills of this city, who went to the Klondike last spring with cattle, returned yesterday. He reached Dawson City safely, and sold his 15 head of cattle for $12,000.

John A. Trayner, the 12-year-old son of the late Adam Trayner of North Regina District, on Tuesday morning started on horseback after the cows. His body has been picked up on the prairie, shockingly bruised. He had been dragged and kicked to death. It is supposed that his foot slipped through the stirrup, causing the lad to lose his balance.

The 3-year-old daughter of Euclid Desautels, proprietor of the cheese factory at St. Jean, was drowned in an old cellar yesterday.

A Day's Accidents in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—Yesterday was a busy day among the hospitals and medical men, there being a large number of accidents. The injuries in most cases were not serious, but very painful. Samuel Tiller fell a distance of 30 feet on a narrow platform at the new Court House. He got off with a cut face and a few other bruises. Daniel Hartley had a foot terribly smashed by coming into contact with the bumper of a freight car. William Bailey severed an artery in his wrist. Julius Nisser had a box fall on his back. His back was sprained.

DEFENCE ON TUESDAY

Napanee Bank Robbery Adjourned Till That Day.

MAGISTRATE DALY'S DECISION.

For the Reasons He Gives He Thinks He Should Not Try the Cases—Addresses by Mr. Osler, Q.C., and Mr. Porter—Last Evidence Given by the Prosecution.

Napanee, Aug. 13.—The court opened at 20 minutes to 10 yesterday. There was a slim attendance.

Detective Wilkes again took the stand, and his cross-examination was continued. Mr. Porter told the magistrate that, by agreement, Wilkes' evidence, given at last year's trial, would be taken as read.

Clarence Bogart said he was manager of the Dominion Bank at Montreal. When the robbery took place he was assistant manager at Toronto. The evidence of Mr. Bogart at last year's trial was agreed to be taken as read.

William J. Normiles' evidence was also taken as read. He had testified at last year's trial concerning a bicycle that Ponton had bought from him.

As to the Trial of the Case.

Mr. Osler here asked the magistrate to decide whether he proposed to try the case or treat it as a preliminary investigation. "If you treat it as a preliminary investigation I think I would rest the case here. I would not be justified in duplicating evidence if this is to be but a preliminary enquiry. If your Worship should decide to try it, the Crown has further evidence to produce."

As to whether the magistrate should try it or not, Mr. Osler said: "That all the prisoners did not elect is a reasonable ground for your Worship's refusing to try." Mr. Osler reasoned by analogy that the rule concerning the County Court judges' course applied to the magistrate.

Mr. Porter's Argument.

Mr. Porter, in answer, said it was necessary that the defence should have the magistrate's opinion upon this matter. "The law," he continued, "gives your Worship the right to try this case. Under this law my client has seen right to elect to be tried by your Worship. There are no circumstances that have arisen that would warrant your Worship to refuse to try. The discretion of the magistrate must be exercised before the prisoner makes his election. This is a case that your Worship should try and not treat as a preliminary investigation. There is no evidence produced that would justify my client's being even committed for trial. If my client is not tried by your Worship it would be a great injustice to say to him, 'You must be in jail till next November to allow the Crown to hunt up further evidence against you.' This would be contrary to all principles of British justice. The prisoner should be allowed the earliest opportunity to answer any evidence brought forward in this investigation. The Crown should put in all evidence it has against the prisoners, and should close the case before asking the court for a decision. The Crown says if you decide not to commit the prisoner but to try the case, then they will put in further evidence. The Crown is putting the court in an awkward position. All the evidence should be put in before your Worship is asked to decide."

The Point at Issue.

Mr. Osler—"The whole point is whether your Worship is going to try the case or not. If you try it, I have evidence I wish to give. If you do not try it I will close my case." The Crown counsel again went over the criminal code. The making of the defence is not pleading, but takes place after the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution.

Mr. Porter took issue with Mr. Osler upon this point, and reasoned by analogy with a civil action. "The defence of my client is not guilty," Mr. Porter concluded.

Will Not Try It.

"It was my opinion," said the magistrate, "and my intention at the commencement of this case, unless the whole elected to be tried by me, not to try any of them. I remarked that at the time. I am now thrown upon the question of when I should decide what has always been a question in doubt in my mind, and I am only too glad to hear the opinion of so able an advocate as Mr. Osler on the subject. He says that the time for me to decide whether I shall try the case or not is after the evidence has been heard. He is properly the Queen's adviser in this case. He is my counsel by law, I suppose. The County Crown Attorney is my legal adviser, and when Mr. Osler comes he takes his place, I suppose, as my adviser. I think, therefore, he will have to take the responsibility of my action in this matter. I am going to act as he thinks is the proper legal course in the case. And I think it would be hardly right, in view of the importance of the case, that only some of them elect to be tried. It might prejudice the case for the Crown for me to try a part and then leave the other part. There is no economy in doing so. The same time will have to be occupied in going over one trial as in trying the whole. The same witnesses will be examined. In taking this view I think Mr. Osler is only taking a merciful view of the poor police magistrate, who does not get one cent for his services. I have spent now seventeen days in this case and I don't expect to get one-hundredth part of a cent for my services. The result is I think I ought not to spend any more time than is absolutely necessary. I have so good an excuse to avoid it. All circumstances considered, I think I should decide not to try the case. I am prepared to give the defence a chance to put in any evidence they desire."

FRIENDS PREVAILED

A Nervous Toronto Woman Walked the Floor During the Night for Hours at a Time—She Makes a Statement.

TORONTO, ONT.—"I was troubled with nervousness. It was impossible for me to keep still and if the spells came over me during the night I had to get up and walk the floor for hours at a time. My blood was very poor and I was subject to bilious attacks. My feet would swell and I was not able to do my own housework. I treated with two of the best physicians here but only received relief for a time. I became discouraged. One day a friend called and advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I laughed at the advice but I was prevailed upon and procured one bottle. Before I used it all I began to feel better. I took several bottles and also several boxes of Hood's Pills. Now I can eat and drink heartily and sleep soundly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has entirely cured me and also strengthened me so that I now do all my own work. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all sufferers from nervousness, weakness or general debility." MRS. H. F. PARM, Degrassi Street.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Ottawa Journal (Independent) says that Ontario politics is a great stock-raiser. In the past few years it has raised the Protestant horse, the tuberculous cattle, the calf with a cough, the Mimico hog, and now it rejoices in the possession of a ram.

WHAT about the big sounding Monroe Doctrine of our Southern neighbours? This modest doctrine forbids any European power to establish herself in the western hemisphere. Does Uncle Sam suppose that in face of this the European powers are going to permit him to establish his striped trousers in the Philippines? It's a poor rule that don't work both ways.

THE naval officers who have inspected the fortifications of Santiago assert that the guns of the United States fleet did very little injury—except to themselves—and yet over two million dollars worth of ammunition was expended. These officers say that they knew all along that the bombardment would be useless. It was thus just a big but expensive Fourth of July celebration.

DURING July Scotch shipbuilders launched 22 vessels of 17,341 tons—12 steamers of 14,756 tons, 5 trawlers of 830 tons, 3 dredges of 1050 tons, 1 steam yacht of 635 tons, and 1 stern wheel steamer of 70 tons—as compared with 48 vessels of 51,072 tons last month, and 18 vessels of 17,080 tons in July, 1897. To the total the Clyde contributed 13,220 tons, the Forth 2,035 tons, the Tay 1,766 tons, and the Dee 330 tons.

THE Mail and Empire still seems to enjoy confidential relations with the Laurier Cabinet. It announces as the result of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visit to the Northwest that Mr. Greenway is to resign the premiership of Manitoba, to enter the Senate and be succeeded by Hon. Mr. Sifton, and if the Quebec conference comes out all right that it will be followed by a general Dominion election. All the same we would advise investors to be careful before "banking" on the Mail's information and to ask Sir Wilfrid Laurier whether the organ has got the "straight tip." The Mail and Empire has discovered a great many mare's nests.

THE Tory papers are, says the Ottawa Free Press, not unnaturally endeavouring to make a mountain out of the mole hill which the remarks of Mr. Stratton concerning the judges has raised for them. The incident is to be regretted as it appears to have arisen out of a misinterpretation of Mr. Stratton's words as he showed later on. But the unfortunate episode brings into prominence the evil which has been deplored in these columns more than once. The ladder which leads to the high is as a rule branded "politics," and this "lays the judiciary open to such criticism as has been indulged in. And who can wonder?

THE following from the Farmers' Sun, not excessively partial to the Government, bears upon the only amendment Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, has ventured to offer to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne: "With regard to the retention of Mr. Dryden and Mr. Gibson in their offices, notwithstanding their being for the time without seats in the Legislature, Mr. Hardy has made good his case by British precedent; nor does there seem to be any practical objection to his decision, provided, of course, that the retention does not exceed the allowance to the two ministers of a reasonable time for finding seats. In the present case, as we said before, it can hardly be said positively that the two ministers were rejected at the polls, since each of them has protested the election of his opponent, and the trials are still pending."

THE ST. LAWRENCE CANALS.

The Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, who recently inspected the construction work upon the St. Lawrence canals, reports that operations are progressing rapidly. The contractors for the deepening of the channel below Prescott are taking out 500 cubic yards of earth and 500 yards of rock per day, and the output will shortly be doubled. At the increased rate of progress the channel will be ready for 14-ft navigation next spring. On the contract for the Cardinal section of the Galops Canal, 8,000 cubic yards of earth are being taken out each day. On the Larkin & Sangster contract the rock and earth work are advancing towads completion. The masonry work on the lock is in progress and a large quantity of cut stone has been deposited on the ground. The work of the Canadian Construction Co. at Farran's Point is being energetically pushed forward. Two steam shovels and three dredges are constantly in operation, and the equipment will be increased by two more dredges in a few days. The masonry is well under way and cut stone is arriving from the quarries daily. Everything possible is being done to expedite the construction work on the Soulanges Canal.—Railway and Shipping World.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mrs. Andrew Wilson is visiting friends in Lakefield.

The Crandella, of Bobcaygeon, brought an excursion to the Point Monday. When coming near the locks at Burleigh, the boat came in contact with a rock, the water being low at this point, and made a break in the bottom. The managed to repair the damage and arrived home safely with the party.

Capt. Reynolds, of the Golden City, came up Tuesday evening to place a new wheel on his boat, as the locks here are more convenient for repairs than at Lakefield.

DYSPEPTIC'S HOPE

Is Founded on Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, Which Never Fail Him.

They are the Only Medicine on Earth that can Remove the Cause of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, etc.—They are Sure.

If a mad dog were chasing you, and if escape seemed impossible, you would be deeply grateful to anyone who showed you a secure hiding place.

It would be easy to guage the value of the good turn he has done you.

He saved your life.

When the Demon of Indigestion is in pursuit of a man there is only one way of escaping.

These paragraphs point out clearly that way. There can be no other way of getting clear.

Take Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and you will soon be free from indigestion and its evil effects.

This result is accomplished in the only way possible. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets remove the cause of the trouble.

They act on the food in the stomach immediately, reducing it to liquid form, digesting it, and thus banish that distressing sensation of overfulness which is caused by the accumulation of undigested food in the stomach.

No assistance is required from the stomach by the Tablets. It is resting all the time Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are being used.

Besides this, Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets contain certain ingredients that tone and strengthen the stomach, enabling it to digest the food taken into it.

No other medicine on earth but Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets can digest food.

Therefore, no other medicine on earth, but Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Indigestion.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the Dyspeptic's only hope. On them he can rely with absolute and perfect confidence.

THE MUSKRAT.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—Considering that hundreds and thousands of muskrats are shot every fall and spring in this vicinity, it is astonishing how little the average gunner knows of the habits of the animal.

"The musky odor is said to be due to secretion in glands present in both sexes. This is true so far as it goes, but the female has glands less than half the size of those of the male, and neither has them except in the spring. An incision made into the inside of the thigh, and also of forearm, will disclose a small white substance which resembles the treadle of a hen's egg. This is always removed by our Indians, as it gives a musky taste to the meat. For the same reason they remove the yellowish mass at the corner of the eye, as they usually cook the head.

"Muskrats sometimes attack people. Once, when travelling in the dark, one seized my boot and bit both boots badly before I could kill him. Examination showed that his hind feet were sore from travelling, as it was over a mile to the nearest water. No kind of animals are cleaner fed, and their flesh is esteemed by our Indians as superior to most kinds of meat. I always used to like them, till having to live too long on them once made me resigned to eat other meat when I could get it.

"The beaver strikes the water with the flat of its tail as a signal of danger. It does not do it except when it thinks danger is near. A muskrat carries its tail edgewise, and while he must twist it so as to strike flatwise, it would be pretty hard work. Usually they swim separately and they do not signal each other, as, when one is frightened and jumps off a bank, others pay no attention.

"In 1868 my partner caught a muskrat in a log trap set for mink and baited with meat. It was almost an impossibility for it to have been caught unless it had tried to eat the meat. We often catch rabbits, which are supposed never to touch meat, in log traps set for marten and mink and baited with meat or fish.

"In regard to breeding, I think that in general muskrats never have over two litters in a season, the first usually in May; but I once saw two kittens about a week old taken from a house about the middle of March. They, at first litter, have from four to eight—the second litter is from two to four, usually four. The first litter of kittens also have young of their own, usually two. These and the second kits of the adults are about of a size the first of September, and are then covered with a blueish woolly hair, very unlike the coat they take on later. The young are so easily tamed that on letting a pair go which I took in June and had kept but 24 hours, after they had swam off quite a distance they dived, and on coming up swam directly to me, and allowed me to take them up. They usually have from four to six or more entrances to a burrow, which a few feet back all converge into one. In digging them out the Indians first stake up all these entrances, and dig in on each till they come to the main hole, as otherwise all would escape. An Indian once showed me a place at the head of a lagoon, where a few days before he had taken 22 from one den. I have known two Indians to dig out 40 in a day. I have measured a hole which extended 14 feet back from the water.

"In regard to their cutting their feet off to escape from traps: When hunting there is seldom a night when one does not find more or less feet in his traps, no matter how carefully set, unless large traps are used. My father once trapped a muskrat which had lost three feet and several toes from the only remaining one. I once shot one which had lost half its tail, one foot and some toes. Often they unjoint a hind leg in the hip joint. In such cases they sometimes die on account of this. I once found one just dead whose hip I had taken some two weeks before. It had all healed except a cord, which protruded. While a beaver will cut the fore-leg off close to the body, I have never known one to cut off a hind foot.

"Muskrats will never become extinct unless some disease like the shoulder pest among cattle should break out among them. Trapping has no effect on them. I know of a stream right among houses which has been trapped for certainly 100 years. My father trapped it some 30 years ago, and the muskrats are as plentiful now as when he first saw it; in fact, muskrats increase after the country is closely settled, as they get rid of their greatest enemy—the owls—and also to a great extent of otter and mink. These destroy more in the unsettled country than all the trappers.

"The muskrat's greatest danger is from freshets in winter. Every few winters one of these occurs in Ontario. The ground is frozen so they cannot dig out from their burrows, or houses, and when the water reaches them they have no escape. Thousands are thus destroyed, and often on a stream which is alive with them in the fall, scarcely a swimmer can be found in the spring, and it takes years to repopulate it."

Yours,
TRAPPER.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

PEACE PROCLAIMED.

Spanish-American Hostilities to Cease at Once.

THE PEACE PROTOCOL SIGNED.

The Provisions of the Important Document Given Out—The First Act, Proclaiming an Armistice, Has Already Been Performed Under It—Peace Commission to Meet in Paris.

Washington, Aug. 12. — Ambassador Cambo and Secretary Thiebaut drove over to the White House from the French Embassy and were immediately ushered inside and to the Cabinet room, where President McKinley, Secretary Day and Assistant Secretaries of State Moore, Adee and Cridler had been awaiting them five minutes. There, in the historic Cabinet room, the ceremony of formally agreeing to and signing the protocol of peace took place at 4.32 p.m.

Provisions of the Protocol.

The protocol provides:

1. That Spain shall relinquish all claim of sovereignty over and title to Cuba.

2. That Porto Rico and other Spanish islands in the West Indies, and an island in the Ladrones, to be selected by the United States, shall be ceded to the latter.

3. That the United States will occupy and hold the city, bay and harbor of Manila, pending the conclusion of a treaty of peace, which shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines.

4. That Cuba, Porto Rico and other Spanish islands in the West Indies shall be immediately evacuated and that commissioners, to be appointed within ten days, shall, within thirty days from the signing of the protocol, meet at Havana and San Juan, respectively, to arrange and execute the details of the evacuation.

5. That the United States and Spain will each appoint not more than five commissioners to negotiate and conclude a treaty of peace. The commissioners are to meet at Paris not later than Oct. 1.

6. On the signing of the protocol, hostilities will be suspended, and notice to that effect will be given as soon as possible by each Government to the commanders of its military and naval forces.

The above is the official statement of the protocol contents, as prepared and given to the press by Secretary Day.

The protocol was signed by Secretary of State Day, representing the United States, and M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, representing the Spanish Government.

PEACE PROCLAMATION.

President McKinley Issues One on the Signing of the Protocol.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—The President has issued the following proclamation:

By the President of the United States of America.

A Proclamation:

Whereas, by a protocol, concluded and signed Aug. 12, 1898, by William R. Day, Secretary of State of the United States, and His Excellency Jules Cambon, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Republic of France, at Washington, respectively representing for this purpose the Government of the United States and the Government of Spain, the Government of the United States and Spain have formally agreed upon the terms on which negotiations for the establishment of peace between the two countries shall be undertaken; and,

Whereas, it is in said protocol agreed that, upon the conclusion and signature, hostilities between the two countries shall be suspended, and that notice to that effect shall be given as soon as possible by each Government to the commanders of its military and naval forces;

Now, therefore I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do, in accordance with the stipulations of the protocol, declare and proclaim, on the part of the United States, a suspension of hostilities, and do hereby command that orders be immediately given, through the proper channels, to the commanders of the military and naval forces of the United States to abstain from all acts inconsistent with this proclamation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 12th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-third.

William McKinley.

By the President:

William R. Day, Secretary of State.

A copy of the proclamation has been cabled to our army and navy commanders. Spain will cable her commanders like instructions.

Order's Sent to the Commanders.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 13. — The order sent to General Merritt to suspend hostilities was as follows:

Washington, D.C., Aug. 12, 1898.
Adjutant-General's Office,

Merritt, Manila:

The President directs all military operations against the enemy to be suspended. Peace negotiations are nearing completion, a protocol having just been signed by representatives of the two countries. You will inform the commanders of the Spanish forces in the Philippines of these instructions. Further orders will follow. Acknowledge receipt.

By order of the Secretary of War.
(Signed), H. C. Corbin,
Adjutant-General.

The orders sent to General Miles and General Shafter were identical with the above, save as to names.

As the order states, further instructions will be sent to each General. General Merritt will be directed to confer with the Spanish commandant at Manila to carry out the terms of the protocol and to occupy Manila immediately. General Miles will put himself in communication with the chief authority in Porto Rico for the purpose of having Spanish forces turn over San Juan and other points to him preparatory to evacuation. Owing to conditions in Cuba, the orders to General Shafter to be sent hereafter will be much different than those to other generals.

The Navy Department is also preparing orders to all commanders on lines similar to the War Department's order.

It is reported that yellow fever has broken out in various parts of Alabama.

If perfectly well, this is probably the case.

But many are suffering from frequent colds, nervous debility, pallor, and a hundred aches and pains, simply because they are not fleshy enough.

A HAMILTON EPISODE.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure a Popular Hotel Clerk, of Bright's Disease.

Hamilton, Aug. 1.—Every Hamiltonian, and thousands of persons who travel to and from this city, knows Mr. C. E. Aikins, clerk at one of our principal hotels.

Mr. Aikins is deservedly popular, and is eminently fitted for the position he holds.

His hundreds of friends are rejoicing over the fact that he has fully recovered from the attack of Bright's Disease, that for two years past made his life miserable.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Aikins says: "I have tried many remedies, but they all failed utterly, except Dodd's Kidney Pills. Six boxes of Dodd's made me a new man."

Every person who has used Dodd's Kidney Pills for any form of Kidney Disease, has the same to say; "They cured me."

The Wheelman's Friend.

No bicyclist should be without a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It takes out all stiffness and soreness of the joints and muscles. Relieves pain and takes down swelling in an instant. 25c.

THE POPE IS VERY ILL.

First Official Announcement of the Sickness of His Holiness.

Rome, Aug. 13.—The Observatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, announces that the Pope was stricken with an illness yesterday caused by the extreme hot weather. Dr. Lapponi orders absolute rest. All audiences are suspended.

The news has caused a great sensation, as it is the first official announcement of the illness of the Pope.

Strange Preachers in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Aug. 13.—Two street preachers, who gave their names as Harry Robertson, Montreal, and William Bertram, Toronto, were yesterday warned not to violate city bylaws by obstructing traffic. They preach a strange doctrine; they advise men not to work. Their favorite text is, "Thou shalt not labor for the food which perisheth."

The Grand Lodge of Oddfellows at Galt yesterday decided to meet in Toronto at its next annual meeting.

Sores Healed.

Nothing like B.B.B. for healing sores and ulcers, no matter how large or how chronic they may be. B. B. B. applied externally and taken internally according to directions will soon effect a cure. It sends rich, pure blood to the part, so that healthy flesh soon takes the place of the decaying tissue.

"I had been troubled with sore fingers and sore toes around the nails. The salve I was using did not help me and I was getting worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using nearly two bottles my sores were all healed up. I consider B.B.B. a wonderful blood purifier." ENOCH G. HORST, Bloomingdale, Ont.

Miss Cahill Going to Hastings.

It is learned from the Hastings Star that Miss Cahill, of Peterborough, intends opening a first-class millinery store in Hastings during this month. The people of Hastings are delighted with the prospect of Miss Cahill's advent in this capacity, as she is well and favourably known. Mrs. Porter, who carried on a business in that town, is going to Dakota, and Miss Cahill has secured the lease of the premises and will, within a short time, open out with an entirely new stock of fashionable millinery, of whose merit the least will not be that everything will be new, a la mode and up to date. THE EXAMINER can assure the people of Hastings that they are fortunate in securing the presence of Miss Cahill, who has won an enviable reputation, not only for her millinerry skill, but is highly esteemed for her courtesy and excellent personal qualities.

A Severe Test.

A gentleman who is possessed of large practical experience suggests that the exceedingly heavy rainstorm of Thursday night and Friday morning was the severest possible test to which the new block of pavement on George street, from Brock to Hunter, could be exposed. The water came down the gutters in a flood and the false work having been removed from the upper and lower portions, the latter being "green," not the slightest evidence of yielding to the action of the water, especially at McDonald's corner, where if anywhere, there would have been the greatest danger, was to be seen. This is considered an excellent test and that the work stood it unscathed is, the gentleman thinks, an excellent tribute to the permancy of the work, as constructed, and to the wisdom of the council in adopting a permanent system of pavement.

Asthma Can be Cured.

But not by the hundreds of preparations now being advertised as Asthma cures, which may relieve for a time, but have no effect in preventing future attacks. They are only anti-spasmodic in their action, and the longer the person uses them the worse the Asthma becomes until the drug loses its effect entirely. Clarke's Kola Compound is the only remedy ever known to cure Asthma without the slightest indication of its return. It is now being used throughout the leading hospitals in England and and Canada, and the homes for Incurables in different parts of Canada, having already cured more than 500 cases of Asthma in Canada alone. Three bottles are guaranteed to cure any case of Asthma. A free sample will be sent to any sufferer from this disease. Mention this paper. Address the Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, sole Canadian importers. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, or they will get it for you from their wholesale druggist.

MATRICULATION EXAMINATIONS

THE RESULTS AS APPLICABLE TO LOCAL STUDENTS.

The Splendid Showing Made by the Applicants From the Peterborough Collegiate Institute—A Long Honour Roll.

The reports of the Boards of Examiners in connection with the High School and matriculation examinations held in July have been considered by the Educational Council, and below are given the names of the successful local candidates, so far as concern the examinations of Forms I. and II. It is expected that the examinations of Forms III. and IV. and for commercial specialists, commercial diplomas and domestic science will be published in two or three days. It is intended to have the marks of unsuccessful candidates sent within ten days to the Principals of High Schools or Public School Inspectors. The marks will not be sent to candidates by the department. Certificates will also be sent to Principals and Inspectors about the 1st of September. It is recommended that unsuccessful candidates should not appeal until they have consulted the High School Principal after receiving their marks. Appeals to be entertained must be made before the 20th of September.

Regarding the value of the certificates, it will be understood that a Form I certificate has the same qualifying value for a teacher's certificate as a Public School leaving certificate, which, together with a Form II certificate, gives primary standing and enables the candidate, if eighteen years of age before the end of the year, to enter a county Modal School.

Regarding the certificates awarded for the examinations of Form II. subjects candidates should observe the following:

II. implies that a Form II. certificate has been awarded, the candidate having obtained the requisite 50 per cent. on the total as well as passing in each subject.

II. (4) implies that a Form II., Part I., certificate, covering grammar, arithmetic, history and physics, has been awarded, the candidate having obtained the requisite 50 per cent. on the total, as well as passing in each of the four subjects. This certificate, in addition to its value as provided by the regulations, also entitles the holder to junior matriculation standing in these four subjects.

II. (3) implies that a Form II, Part I certificate, covering grammar, arithmetic and history, has been awarded, the candidate having obtained the requisite 50 per cent. on the total, as well as passing in each of the three subjects. This certificate, in addition to its qualifying value in the case of candidates writing for junior or senior leaving standing under the provisions of the former regulations, also entitles the holder to matriculation standing in these three subjects.

Matriculation (4) implies that a Part I junior matriculation certificate, covering grammar, arithmetic, history and physics, has been awarded. This certificate has no qualifying value for a teacher's non-professional certificates, as the necessary 50 per cent. on the total was not obtained.

Matriculation (3) implies that a Part I junior matriculation certificate, covering grammar, arithmetic and history, has been awarded. This certificate has no qualifying value for a teacher's non professional certificate.

Below is a list of the successful local candidates:

FORM I.

Peterborough—E Ackerman, M L Bradburn, E E Brumwell, C R Cameron, A J Collins, R D Collins, F Corkery, B H Detcher, E Edwards, P B Faint, M Fessenden, N Fitzgerald, E Gillespie, A L F Hall, I Hay, B Huson, C Kemp, E Miller, L M Minorgan, L Moore, R Nimmo, S B Shorey, M M Speer, M Staples, A Sullivan, N S Thompson, E Thornton, A Torpey, B Tooey, F Tully, B Turner. Honours—N Bell, E Hill, H Walkey.

FORM II.

Peterborough—II—W A Allison, W H Andrews, M E Branch, L E Cameron (honours), P Campbell (honours), W C Campbell (honours), M J Denne, R L Dobbin (honours), J W Eyres (honours), J E Flaherty, M A Hamilton, C W Laing (honours), C J McDonnell, R W Mann (honours), B Nelson, E T Owen (honours), J W Rosborough, W Turnbull (honours). II—(4)—S P Bradd. Matriculation (4)—J Lightfoot, M Soden. Matriculation (3)—J L Maud. Passed in Physics—M A English.

Omemee—II—J H Callaghan, S English, (honours), E McConnell, M Scott, B Spence. Matriculation (4)—M Gardiner, A Jones, M E Poast. Matriculation (3)—F Rowan.

Lakefield—II—W T Brown, J L Dickson, E L Higgins (honours), A McConkey, J D Robinson. Matriculation (4)—A T Buckley, A F Nowland. Matriculation (3)—O Thompson.

Norwood—II—C Coughlin, B Fife, C McLaughlin, D M O'Brien, J Shaw, L Waterman, W J Watts, A Nelson. II—(4)—A E Powell. Matriculation (4)—W Howson, A T McGrath, J McMilty, T Robson, F N Rutherford.

Millbrook—II—E Cee, S L Hetherington, H B Lough, L M Pickup, F Robertson, K Robertson (honours), T H Stinson. II (4)—G Byers, B Whyte.

Attention may be called to a few points which will be of special interest beyond the bare list of names.

In form I it is to be noted that thirty-five wrote at the examinations and thirty-four passed, a most unusual and unprecedented occurrence or, rather, achievement.

In Form II, in which examinations the exceedingly difficult arithmetic papers formed the rock upon which many a candidate craft came to wreck, the exceptional number of candidates taking honours testifies to the excellence of the training which prepared them for so severe a test. In the whole provincial list, which occupies 15 columns of the Globe, there is to be found no such splendid record. Taking honours is a true test of successful teaching, as indicating that cramming for examinations was not a part of the pedagogic programme. Of these pupils of the Institute who wrote last July seventy-two have been heard from, and of these 59 have passed successfully—about 82 per cent., representing the highest percentage secured in the recent history of the Institute.

IN CANANDAGUA.

Canadian Masons Royally Received Across the Border.

Dr. Ross returned on Thursday evening from the American side of the border, where he performed the double mission of completing the final arrangements for the Oddfellow's Civic Holiday excursion to Rochester and also represented the local Masons at Canandagua, in response to an invitation extended to join the annual trip of Hope Lodge, Port Hope to this point, which this year was joined in by the Cobourg Lodge also.

It has become a yearly event in the Canandagua and Port Hope Lodges to exchange visits and this year the Canadian Masons number about fifty. Hope Lodge members carried with them for presentation to Canindagua Lodge a beautiful silk banner adorned with suitable mottoes and surmounted with the crossed flags of the two countries. On arriving in Canandagua the whole town turned out to meet the visitors with the band in attendance. The latter struck up "God Save the Queen" as the train drew into the station and the enthusiasm was something immense. The Canadians were escorted to the Masonic Hall, and after the Lodge had been opened and the visitors introduced, the presentation of the banner was made by V. W. Bro. Evans, D D.G.M., of Port Hope, and Rev. W. R. Young, formerly of Peterborough. Afterwards the third degree was put on in a manner to elicit the admiration of all visiting brethren. Refreshments were served at the conclusion. Amongst the entertainment provided for the visiting Masons next day was a drive around the city and a trip on the lake.

Mr. R. J. Munro, Worshipful Master of Clementi Lodge, Lakefield, was amongst the visitors.

A Boy's Bad Sprain.

Mr. B. Bennie, of Cotton Mines, B.C., writes: My son, Samuel Bennie, got his leg crushed and bruised in the mines seven weeks ago. The swelling never fully left it until we try Griffiths' Menthol Liniment. On the first application the swelling and soreness entirely left it, and the muscles began to loosen up so much that the same evening he was able to use his foot freely for the first time. I consider it the best liniment known. 25 cents. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

ANOTHER DROWNING FATALITY OCCURS.

JAMES WILSON'S BODY FOUND FLOATING TO-DAY.

He Must have Stumbled into the Dickson Raceway Last Night on His Way Home.

This morning at about eleven o'clock as a number of boys were bathing in the Dickson Raceway, on the east side of the river, just below the dam, they discovered near the headgates the body of James Wilson.

The unfortunate man was seen last night between eleven and twelve o'clock as he was making his way homeward and it is thought that whilst walking along the bank of the race he must have missed his footing and fallen into the water.

The deceased lived in North Ashburnham and the body has been removed to his late residence. A widow and small family survive.

Mr. Wilson was a cooper by trade and for many years has been a resident of the vicinity.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. John McCabe, of Grafton, is visiting relatives in Ashburnham.

Mr. Ad. Ferguson of Chicago, who is holidaying with his parents at Stony Lake was in town to-day.

Rev. Dr. Torrance has returned from his holiday sojourn at Lower Metis, on the St. Lawrence, near Quebec.

Mr. Herb. King who has been home for the last week from Chicago on a holiday, left for the west again to-day.

Messrs. E. Fitzgerald and W. Warne have returned after an extended trip on their wheels through Canada and the United States.

Mr. T. Callaghan, the energetic manager of the Rathbun Company, was in town to-day in the company's interests. He visited the portable saw mill now working in the manufacture of ties, etc., on the eastern shore of Little Lake. All the refuse material, except the saw dust, will be removed to Deseronto, where it will be utilised according to the thorough system of the company. Any persons wishing the sawdust may have it for the removal.

H. W. Kent, manager of the N. W. & B. I., Telephone Company, formerly of Peterborough, is, says the Daily World, Vancouver, B. C., nothing if not enterprising. At considerable expense he has had a nickel-in-the-slot telephone placed in the Crescent at English Bay, thus earning the gratitude of the many campers at the beach who have hitherto found the lack of a 'phone a great inconvenience. This is the first nickel-in-the-slot telephone to be placed in British Columbia and its workings are very simple. You first ring up the central in the ordinary way and ask for the number wanted. If disengaged the operator then asks you to drop your five cents in the slot and press the button. This informs central that money has been paid and you are then connected with the number needed. If, on the other hand, the number asked for is engaged you are so informed and you save your money for another time.

EMPLOYEES EXCURSION.

Annual Outing of the Employees of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company.

The third annual excursion of the employees of the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company took place yesterday to Jubilee Point. The steamer City of Peterborough left her wharf punctually at 8 o'clock with nearly 400 excursionists on board. This large party included, in addition to the staff of workmen, the wives and families of the employees, who shared in the pleasures of the day. It was a little unfortunate that the date fixed for the outing should have been the date fixed by "old Probe" as the day for the first big downpour of rain after a dry interval of over six weeks. But nobody seemed to mind it or to complain—all being perfectly satisfied to put up with a little discomfort so that the thirsty earth should be compensated by the long-looked for rain. People had been remarking that all round Peterborough had enjoyed copious showers and it looked as if it couldn't rain in this vicinity. However, a storm of rain, thunder and lightning broke over the town about 2 o'clock yesterday morning and it was feared by the friends of this excursion that it would put a damper on their day. But the storm cleared before six o'clock and the weather seemed to have been specially prepared for a delightful trip. After the excursionists had got a few miles below the locks, another rainstorm was encountered, lasting for half an hour, causing considerable apprehension as to the prospects for a favourable day. The sky, however, again cleared, and the party again became encouraged and enjoyed their trip to Jubilee amidst pleasant associations and social fellowship.

The excursion, was in charge of the foremen of the different departments of the company's shops, namely:—Mr. George Minorgan, foreman of the moulding shop; Mr. Robert Logan, foreman of the blacksmith shop; Mr. James Maud, foreman of the machine shop; Mr. Thos. Gillespie, foreman of the wood shop; Mr. W. M. Savigny, foreman of the paint shop, who had been personally appointed by the employees. The absence of Mr. Peter Hamilton was much regretted, but his son, Mr. James Hamilton, represented him and made himself friendly and popular with the employees and all on board. Mr. Alex. Gillespie, superintendent of the works, was also on board and assisted in looking after the comfort of the party.

The steamer reached Jubilee about noon, where the party disembarked and prepared for dinner. After an agreeable hour devoted to lightening the contents of the great load of provision baskets, which had kept the boat scraping on the bottom, the committee prepared for the afternoon programme of sports, the following being a list of the games and the names of the prize-winners:—

NOTES.

There should be some notes, for this was a notable picnic, a sort of a "Daisy"—more successful than any of its predecessors, with the latest improvements and up-to-date attachments.

To begin with, it is rather hard to get ahead of the employees in the long run. The steamer was very prompt at starting, and therefore several who arrived late were left. But Billy Buller's truck was on hand, and the late comers chartered her and caught the steamer at the locks.

The voyage down the river was pleasant, but was stirred up by the steamer grounding on the shoals, emphasised by low water near the locks.

The return voyage was, however, splendidly speedy, and the happy party struck home at 9.45 p.m. The steamer ploughed the crystal waves of the river almost as well as a Hamilton I X L plough turns down the soil.

On the way down the steamer picked up large numbers of farmers, who seem to be as fond of the Hamilton Company's excursion as they are of the Hamilton Company's farm machinery.

By the way the young ladies, though not perhaps taking great interest in the Hamilton self binder, seemed to have a sneaking fondness for the knotter, and it is expected from indications presented yesterday that a knotter operated by parson power, will be called into service before the season is over. The Hamilton machine that ties an untieable knot very naturally suggests the nuptual knot.

There was great enjoyment all through the excursion. At the park, the pavilion was not allowed to get lonesome. The dancers kept it busy to the excellent music supplied. The Misses Maud, Mrs. Hodgson, Mr. R. Hodgson and Mr. R. Maxwell not only supplied music for the hon but music to enliven the entire trip.

The trip throughout was a great success—as great as the trial trip of a new Hamilton self-binder.

BISHOP O'CONNOR HAS RETURNED

From Remote Portions of His Diocese.

SOME INCIDENTS OF THE TRIP.

His Lordship Spends Fifteen Nights Under Canvas Whilst Visiting the Missions at Lake Nepigon and Long Lake.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor returned last evening from a five weeks' trip to the mission stations on Nepigeon and Long Lakes, which are situated in the most remote part of his diocese.

His Lordship states that he feels the long trip has been most beneficial to his health although at times a trifle irksome when sitting in a cramped position in a canoe or not resting too comfortably on a couch of boughs at night.

Leaving Peterborough on July 5th His Lordship proceeded, unaccompanied, to Port Arthur and worked east from that point. In visiting the missions he was accompanied by Rev. R. Specht and at times by Rev. A. J. Dugas, resident missionaries. Usually one of the younger deacons of the cathedral is taken along on these trips, but His Lordship being aware of the difficulties of portaging decided not to cumber the Indian guides with any more luggage than was necessary and so this year was unaccompanied by an assistant, taking only actual necessaries with him after leaving the line of the C. P. R.

THE FIRST INDIAN

Mission visited was that of Lake Nepigon, which was reached by paddling sixty miles up the Nepigon river in canoes and then proceeding across the lake in a large sail boat a distance of forty miles further. The trip to this station and return occupied ten days. In the hundred miles, eight portages had to be contended with. With His Lordship were Rev. Fathers Specht and Dugas and seven Indians, who with their baggage occupied three canoes. On arriving on the shores of Lake Nepigon the party camped on sloping ground for the first, last and only time on the trip. An incident which occurred during the night was of a nature to make all particularly careful afterwards as to the location of the tents. It appears that sometime during the night a storm broke over the camp and the rain finding its way, on the sloping ground, beneath the sides of the tent and increasing in volume until a minature torrent forced itself beneath the couches of boughs, waking the two priests and His Lordship and necessitating an abdication of their blankets, which had been spread on the boughs and become wet through from beneath before the water was noticed in the tent. The Bishop's vestments were beneath his pillow and were so thoroughly soaked that his watch, which was in them, stopped. Until morning broke the three occupants were forced to stand in several inches of water, but at the first signs of daylight, the guides were able to procure wood and build a large bonfire before the comforts of which, the ills of the previous night were speedily forgotten.

At the shores of the lake the party was increased to fourteen, all crossing over in a large sailboat.

Mr. Guthrie is the only white man at the Hudson Bay post around which the Indians have settled. He is assisted in his work by a half-breed. There in the settlement and on the occasion of his visit the Bishop conferred the rite of confirmation on twenty-five. This Mission is visited about twice or three times a year by Rev. Father Specht.

On returning from Lake Nepigon His Lordship proceeded east to Herron Bay, from where he set forth for Long Lake with six Indians and two canoes. The Long Lake Mission is 180 miles north of Herron Bay, and difficult of access, as the entire distance has to be covered in canoes—no light undertaking when the fact is taken into consideration that there are fourteen portages to be negotiated. Two of these are very steep, one of which possesses over 200 steps. Portages of this description are more difficult of descent than ascent, as if in coming down the incline, with a canoe strapped to his shoulders, a guide should stumble accidentally broken bones would result to a surety, if nothing more serious. Two other of the portages are very long, the Indians having in each case to carry the canoes

FOR OVER THREE MILES.

A rainstorm coming up whilst portaging is going on is regarded as a crowning disaster.

It took the party five days to ascend the Pick River to Long Lake, and three days and a half were spent there. The Indians at the Post, which is in charge of Mr. McLean, are all Catholics and number about 200. Fifty-one were confirmed by His Lordship on the occasion of his visit. The Mission is visited but once a year, on account of the fact that it is only at one season of the year that the Indians are to be found at home.

The mission used formerly to be in charge of Bishop Lorraine, of Pembroke, whose diocese is supposed to begin at the dividing line known as "the height of land", where the waters flowing north and those flowing south separate. As, however, he had to travel five hundred miles through Peterborough diocese to get to this mission, he persuaded Bishop O'Connor to take it under his care.

IT IS NINE YEARS

since Bishop Lorraine made his first and only visit to Long Lake, and consequently the occasion of the presence of Bishop O'Connor was made a day of special rejoicing at the post.

The return trip to Herron Bay from Long Lake was made in three days and a half, and on the way down the "brigade" was encountered returning with provisions from Herron Bay. The "brigade" is formed of some twenty-five Indans, who are sent down to the C P.R. from the back country posts with the furs which have been purchased during the winter from the trappers, and on the return trip they bring with them the provisions for another year at the Hudson Bay post, and these are again converted into furs before the next spring. As an idea of the good prices obtained in trade by the the company when dealing with the Indians at Long Lake it is only necessary to make the following quotations:—Flour, ten pounds for a dollar; pork, three pounds for a dollar; Tea, one dollar a pound; other prices are in proportion. The Indians are of tea, preferring to go without pork or flour rather than forego the luxury of the "cups that cheer but not inebriate."

The Indians, as a rule, in this vicinity are almost inaccessible to the missionary, as they leave the posts on about Sept. 10th and spend the winter trapping, returning on June 5th to dispose of their furs to the Hudson Bay Company. A large party of them are then picked to take the furs to some central depot on the C. P. R. and the rest separate and scatter with their families out in the woods to spend the summer fishing. At Long Lake the voyageurs take about 27 days to take the furs down the river and the usual pay is $20 a man.

On the trip His Lordship experienced a good deal of showery weather, a great many rainstorms blowing up in the night. These, however, did not interfere in the least with the comfort of the party, except on the one occasion referred to. The general rule was to rise at five o'clock, when the Indians would merely take a cup of tea to warm them up, paddling for about an hour and a half before stopping to prepare for breakfast, for which a fine appetite had been created. During the thirty-eight days which were occupied in making the trip His Lordship spent fifteen under canvas.

HE DESCRIBES THE SCENERY

of the Nepigon as being romantically beautiful, the high, rocky shores being most picturesque in places. The country can never be utilized for agricultural purposes, but when the process of extracting ore from the quartz becomes cheaper, large mining developments may be expected.

The time consumed in the trip was not entirely spent in the wilds, as Bishop O'Connor visited and conducted confirmation at Port Arthur, Port Wilson, Rossport and Schreiber. On the return journey he also stopped over at Sudbury and Copper Cliff, which latter place is growing so rapidly that the Roman Catholic church erected a year ago has been outgrown by its congregation and His Lordship on the occasion of his visit had the pleasure of opening a new one, which has just been completed. The edifice is 35 x 60 in size with an 18 x 24 foot vestry attached. The statement that a ten per cent. export duty placed on nickel ore would result in the closing of the American company's mines is disproved by the growth of the place and the fact that great additional expense is being incurred in the erection of new buildings, opening of mines, etc., although the question of the imposition of the duty is still pending.

His Lordship states that he was not aware of the death of the late Archbishop Walsh until Saturday last. He was deeply affected by the news and can hardly speak of the occurence with equanimity yet, as he had known the Archbishop for 44 years and regarded him in the light of a father to whom he constantly applied for advice.

Saved from Paralysis and Death by Paine's Celery Compound.

WELLS & RICHARDSON Co.,

Dear Sirs,—I have much pleasure in recommending Paine's Celery Compound for nervousness and weakness with which I was sorely afflicted for a number of years, and for which my doctor could give me no relief. I became very weak and had a stroke of paralysis. I was confined to my bed, and the doctor requested me to try a course of your medicine as the last thing that could be done. I did as recommended, and before I had finished the first bottle I experienced a change. I am glad to say that I am cured through the use of Paine's Celery Compound. I have recommended it to others and they have been benefitted by it—it has worked miracles for me.

Yours truly,

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

DEVELOPMENT WORK DEVELOPS GRAND RESULTS.

Working Force to be Increased—Forty-Five Feet Gives Gold $11 per Ton and Copper 29 41-0 Per Cent.—Remarkably High Value—Strong Indications of Further Copper Finds.

The Royal Five group of mines at Rossland, B.C., concerning which an advertisement appears in this issue, is responding royally to development, as will be seen by the following from the Rossland, B.C. Leader:

"Development work is proceeding on these properties and the force at present is shortly to be increased to eight men. The shaft is now down 45 feet, and in the bottom a very good showing of gold-copper ore has been found, which is widening out and is apparently the ore chute of the vein. Assays from this ore gives $11 in gold and 29 4-10 per cent. copper, which is a remarkably high value. Further exploration of the surface of these claims shows large quantities of quartz float strongly impregnated with copper, proving thereby the existence of a large copper vein in the immediate neighbourhood. It is the intention of the company to strip the surface of the various veins of the accumulated soil and debris, which in some places is over 20 feet in depth, with the view of prosecuting further work at the most favourable point.

To remove grease spots.—A little prepared fuller's earth mixed to a stiff paste with water and spread upon grease stains will effectually remove them. It should be brushed off after three or four days.

A tarnish remedy.—The following is given as a good solution to remove tarnish from nickel: Ammonia, 8 oz.; cyanide of potash, 2 oz.; soft water, 8 oz. Dissolve the potash in the water and then mix in the ammonia. Sponge the parts with the solution, and immediately wash in warm soapsuds; then rinse in water and rub dry with a soft dry cloth.

A splendid refresher.—Fagged tourist could not do better than try the following. It is easily procurable: Half pint new milk, new laid egg well beaten up therein, and a glass of good port wine.

Oil the chain.—The average chain has about 100 joints, and, in riding, these joints become dry and the chain stiff. In passing over the small sprocket wheel these joints form elbows, and owing to the stiffness of the chain they do not not entirely straighten out. Hence the chain appears to be tight. The remedy is in the oil can and not in the monkey wrench graphite, stove polish, soap, etc. The chain needs a drop of oil at each side of every joint, then put on graphite if you have it; if not, go ahead without it. It is the oil in the rivets that lubricates a chain, not the graphite; that is on the chain.

NEW BICYCLE INVENTION.

Two youths of Campbellford, Cecil Maynard and Ernest Fredrick, are the inventors of a ball bearing sprocket wheel and crank hanger. The invention possesses the new principle of placing the ball bearings outside the crank hanger, the right hand bearings being inside the sprocket wheel. This will overcome all leverage and bring the chain pull and crank pressure direct on the bearings. The young inventors have their new invention patented in France, England, Canada and the United States, and are now in Toronto showing it to the cycle firms of that city.

PEOPLE GETTING OLD.

As age advances, vitality retreats. Old people find themselves tired, listless, dyspeptic and lacking in strength. They lose interest in the active affairs of life, and may either become chronic complainers, burdening their friends, or they may, by using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills be made bright, cheery, happy and healthy, as witness the following interesting example. The words of those who have lived many years carry wisdom with them. Why not profit by them?

WISE WORDS.

Nothing does a right-thinking man more good than helping his neighbors, especially the sick and weary. In recommending Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and helping to bring them before the public, I feel that I am truly helping my neighbors. Both my wife and myself have used these Pills and derived great benefit from them. We are getting along in years, and like many others feel the need of a tonic and strengthening medicine. My blood was thin and impoverished, and my wife was miserable with general debility, brought on by dyspepsia. We used many kinds of medicine, but nothing did so much good as the Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Yours very truly,

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

An Undesirable Capture.

Mr. R. Terry Sinclair writes in The Century of "The Eventful Cruise of the Florida." Mr. Sinclair says:

Another of our captures, a vessel from the East Indies, contained a rare character in an old lady, who, we were told, was a missionary on her return home for a vacation. As usual, Captain Morris gave this lady one of the staterooms in his cabin, but it was not long before she had the entire cabin, and I think, had she staid much longer, would have been captain. She was intensely Union and had little use for "rebels," nor did she hesitate to tell us so. We got in the habit of watching for her head as it came up out of the cabin hatch, when there would be a general scamper, but the poor officer of the deck was compelled to stand and take her tongue lashing. The old lady usually promenaded the deck with a green cotton umbrella raised, and on one occasion one of the retreating ones returned and found that Lieutenant Stone, who was in charge of the deck, had gone into the rigging, where he remained, looking very much like a cat up a tree, with a dog watching him.

TESTING HIS NERVE.

WAR TALK MAKES TROUBLE FOR THE BIG MAN.

While the Little Man Profits by the Opportunity to Get a Little More Than Even With the Fellow Who Had Been Taunting Him With Cowardice.

War talk started the trouble. The big man had been holding forth to the loungers in the country store, and the little man had wormed his way into the conversation, much to the disgust of the big man, who taunted the little man with not having the nerve of a woman. This promptly brought forth from the little man a challenge for a test of nerve, which the big man condescendingly accepted.

"Now, what I propose," said the big man, taking charge of the affair, as big men are wont to do, especially when a little man is concerned, "is this: Sam yere has got a keg of powder, an I propose thet we put a lighted candle in it an set down by it, an the one who sets the longest has got the most nerve."

A murmur of admiration went round the loungers at this bold proposition, but the little man stuck up his nose and said:

"Guess I've got the choosin of this yere nerve test."

"All right, sonny, go ahead," answered the big man, with a wave of his hand and a smile of pity.

The little man turned toward the window and gazed absently out in the direction of the big man's house, while the big man waited with a grin on his face.

Finally the little man arose and said:

"I'm ready for thet thar nerve test."

The crowd followed them out doors, where the little man promptly made for a mud puddle and waded through and insisted that the big man should follow his example.

Then he made for the big man's house and threw open the kitchen door and was about to enter when the big man said uneasily:

"See yere, the ole woman has jes' mopped out in thar."

"Where's yer nerve?" sneered the little man.

This brought the big man in with his muddy boots, and as they stood on the newly cleaned floor the little man said:

"Yer wife has jes' gone across to the neighbor's, 'cause I seed her, an we'll jes' stand yere an wait till she comes back an see who has got the most nerve."

The big man only gasped at this bold proposition.

"She's comin from thar now," announced the little man from his position near the window.

The big man moved uneasily from one foot to the other, while the crowd grinned in at the door.

"She's crossin the road," said the little man.

Beads of perspiration were standing on the big man's face, but the little man was calmly chewing a straw.

"She's comin in at the gate," announced the little man. "She'll be yere in"— But the little man was alone, the big man having fled.

And all the little man said as he wiped his feet on the grass was:

"I knowed all the time thet he didn't hev no nerve."

"But see yere," put in one of the loungers, "I don't see nothin of his ole woman."

"She's takin a lot of eggs ter the market," chuckled the little man. "I saw her go before we kim over yere."—Detroit Free Press.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The sultan possesses no crown, coronation being unknown in Turkey.

Kaiser Wilhelm has been camping out for a week under a tent on the island of Heligoland. He took three carloads of baggage with him.

Carmen Sylva is not the only royal poetess. The empress of Japan also cultivates the muse and has dedicated a volume of poems to her husband.

The young queen of the Netherlands will formally assume the reigns of government at 6:30 p. m. on Aug. 31, that being the hour of her birth.

The reason of King Leopold's intended trip to this country is not a desire to see it. He has told Mr. Mohun, recently the American consul at Zanzibar, that he wants to get capital in this country with which to build two long telegraph lines in the Kongo Free State.

FOR HOT WEATHER

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Only Safeguard to Health.

They Make the Kidneys Healthy—Then the Kidneys Make the Blood Pure, Rich, and Cool—Pure, Rich, Cool Blood Makes the Body Healthy.

This is the weather that tries the strongest constitution. These hot days tax the vital forces to their utmost.

And, if the human machinery is not in perfect running condition, something snaps, and another early grave is filled.

The hot weather puts the very heaviest strain on the kidneys.

Stop and think a moment, and you will see that this is so.

The blood becomes hot and thick and full of impurities.

We drink large quantities of liquids—very frequently alcoholic liquors—to cool ourselves, and this makes things worse.

The kidneys have to work five times as hard as usual, to keep the blood pure.

They cannot do it, if there is the slightest weakness or defect in them.

Any such weakness, or defect must be corrected, or the kidneys break down, and disease and death follow.

Dodd's Kidney Pills give the kidneys just what assistance they need at this time.

They stimulate them to regular, healthy action.

Then the kidneys make the blood thoroughly pure, cool and rich.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure any and every kidney disorder. The kidneys can't be unhealthy if you use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

If the kidneys are healthy, the blood must be pure, rich and cool.

When the blood is pure, rich, and cool, the whole body is healthy.

Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys healthy; therefore Dodd's Kidney Pills make the blood pure and cool, and give health, strength and vigour to the body.

If you doubt it, try a box. It will cost you only 50 cents. Dodd's Kidney Pills convince you by curing you.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A.L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$6,000.00
2nd. or fully paid-up insurance for	3,380.00
3rd. or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,080 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to-day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

"What Shall a Man Give?"

The solemn question comes home to almost every man at some period in his career. "What will you give in exchange for your life?" It is like that other solemn question about the soul. Just as an honest man feels that nothing of earthly value can be weighed against his soul so a man who has one friend to love him knows that life is too precious to be bartered away for ambition, or money, or pride.

But men are slow to believe that overwork sometimes kills; a man hates to admit that his health ever needs any particular care. He feels miserable and "out of sorts" but tries to "bluff it off" until he gets flat on his back, unable to do a stroke of work. He becomes obliged to spend no end of money for doctors and even at that can hardly save his life.

How much more sensible, and in the end how much cheaper at the first signs of physical weakness to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., and obtain, free of charge, the advice of a skilled and educated physician who has a wider reputation for the successful treatment of chronic diseases than any other physician in this country.

In a letter to Dr. Pierce, Mr. J. W. Brittin, of Clinton, Dewitt Co., Ills., (P. O. Box 475), writes: "For over a year I was troubled with liver complaint. Had no appetite, could keep nothing on my stomach, and had severe pains in my stomach and bowels. I doctored with home doctors but did not obtain relief until a friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I began taking it at once and after taking four bottles I think myself cured, as I can eat anything I want and my food never hurts me."

PLUM AND CHERRY ROT.

Bordeaux and Copper Sulphate Used Except on Japanese Varieties of Plum.

There is complaint each year about cherries and plums rotting on the trees. A writer in New England Homestead, who has had great loss with cherries rotting, nevertheless does not fear the rot nearly so much as the black aphis, which he has found unmanageable and the cause of the death of more cherry trees than all other causes put together. His course with cherries and plums has been as follows:

My treatment for cherries is to spray with sulphate of copper a pound to 25 gallons of water once just before the buds open and once with bordeaux when the cherries are one-third or one-half grown, then pick the cherries a day or two before they are fully ripe. If the weather is not persistently bad, this will be successful, at least it has been with me for several years.

As to plums, I have never sprayed the Japanese varieties except in a small way as a test, but have depended on picking off the decayed fruit by hand. They might be sprayed with bordeaux or sulphate of copper mixture while dormant, which would kill spores of rot then existing on the bark, but I have found the foliage of the Japanese varieties uniformly too sensitive to admit of spraying with bordeaux while in leaf. The European varieties, however, seem to like the bordeaux. They should be sprayed at least twice with it, the first time when the new growth is three to five inches long and the second when the fruit is half grown. Applied at this time it will not show when fruit is ripe.

Spraying in winter or early spring with sulphate of copper is also desirable. All the spraying should be done thoroughly from both sides. In my cherry trees I have a man climb the tree carrying the nozzle with him. Even after spraying the plums will need to be followed and hand picked, burying or burning to stop those spores. It may seem of no use to fuss so much, but is of use just the same, and this same spray on the plums will kill off spores of shot hole fungus and black knot.

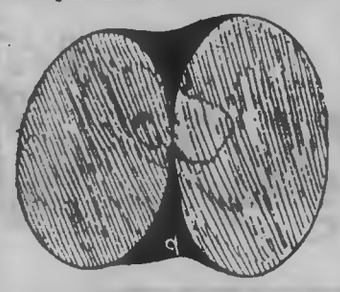
A Hardy Productive Apple.

The excellent York Imperial, according to American Agriculturist, is hardy anywhere, except possibly in the northern row of states or in New England and the west, where it has been but little tested. It reaches perfection in the elevated sections of Virginia and in similar regions. The quality while not of the best is reasonably good; color red, shipping qualities good; shape inclined to be lopsided. This apple is likely to take high rank as a market variety.

Colorado Apples.

The Rural New York illustrates the Fulton, a western apple having a smooth yellow skin, with a slight blush, and says it has a fine grained flesh with mild, subacid flavor and is very highly valued in Colorado, being of good size and keeping late in the spring.

The same journal quotes a Colorado correspondant as follows: "In the commercial orchards of Delta county the Ben Davis apple is no longer a leader, and is not now planted in any quantity, because its commercial value is not equal to Jonathan, Rome Beauty, Winesap, Arkansas Black, Grimes' Golden, Mammoth Black Twig and other first class apples. We can grow Ben Davis to perfection, but for dollars and high quality it is no favorite here; neither is Missouri Pippin or Jennetting. The Winesap, as kept in our orchard cellars and storage cellars, is a fine long keeper; the tree is hardy and bears abundantly."



THE FULTON APPLE.

Horticultural Brevities.

American Gardening tells of the production of a remarkable new race of hardy evergreen roses by W. A. Manda of New Jersey. The seed parent is Rosa wichuriana.

There is nothing worse in the cultivation of fine specimens of chrysanthemum than to let a potted plant get thoroughly dry.

Palms, some of the ferns and some grasses are now treated in such a way with chemicals that they retain their natural texture, shape and color indefinitely. They are prepared by dealers for decorative use in houses in place of the living plants.

A gardener advises in American Gardening that in growing calceolarias the little seedlings should be pricked off as soon as they are large enough to handle, especially if damping off should make its appearance.

Gardening says the easiest way to catch the blister beetle that devours asters and some varieties of clematis is to take a tin pan eight or ten inches in diameter, pour in an inch or so of water and then a little kerosene oil. Hold the pan under the plants and shake them, and Mr. Beetle will drop into the oil.

It is said that the clematis as a bedding plant, pegged down as are verbenas, will in light soil give a mass of the richest bloom from July until frosts make an end to it.

A DRESDEN MERCHANT

Gives Evidence in Favour of Dodd's Kidney Pills for Rheumatism.

Dresden, Aug. 8—Mr. W. G. Cragg is one of our best known merchants, and enjoys the highest respect and confidence of all who know him.

For eight or nine years past he suffered terribly from Inflammatory Rheumatism, for which there seemed to be no remedy.

The best doctors failed to relieve him. So did the medicines he used.

But to-day he is sound and well.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Cragg says: "I have used only six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but they have cured me completely. I'll never be without them."

Reader, if you have rheumatism—go and do likewise. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you too.

Neither Hush Up Nor Shut Up.

Recently a young lady was heard to say to another "Hush up!" The person addressed replied: "Nobody but a Virginian would say 'hush up.' 'Shut up' is the proper expression." The Virginian stood corrected, and her critic, rejoicing in her superior culture, rattled on as before. But neither, it appears, was exactly right. "Hush" would be proper, as this means be silent, but "shut up" is inelegant. "Shut up" has some colloquial use, but no one with pretensions to real culture would employ the expression, since it suggests rudely the closing of a wide open mouth. Virginians commonly use pretty good English and must be criticised with care.—Baltimore Sun.

The No Grog Law.

In July, 1862, congress revolutionized the American navy by passing the historic law providing:

"That from and after the 1st day of September, 1862, the spirit ration in the navy of the United States shall forever cease, and thereafter no distilled spirituous liquors shall be admitted on board of vessels of war except as medical stores and upon the order and under the control of the medical officers of such vessels and to be used only for medical purposes.

"From and after the 1st day of September next there shall be allowed and paid to each person in the navy now entitled to the spirit ration 5 cents per day in commutation and lieu thereof, which shall be in addition to the present pay."

And since that day there has been no "grog" in the United States navy.—San Francisco Call.

A Shirt Washing General.

I have seen a private letter from General Gatacre to a friend in a high place, in which the general describes himself as perfectly happy in the Sudan. He had only one shirt to his back, which he washed for himself from time to time. He lived on tinned meat and occupied a straw shelter without furniture and with nothing more than a blanket to cover him, but he was in rude health and the best spirits, and all his men were the same.—Allahabad Pioneer.

Test the KIDNEYS

They are the Great Feeders of our Bodies

The Purity of the Blood is Dependent on their Cleansing Powers

There's a time to all, old and young, man or woman, when poor health brings trouble, anxiety, and burdens hard to stand up under, and one's efforts to rid himself or herself seem only to be baffled at every turn, and we are prone to grow discouraged.

That is not the time to give up—but the time for action, the time to seek out the seat of the trouble, and act as your best judgment and the experience of others will help you, guarding against mistakes in the treatment adopted for your particular ailment.

MR. GEORGE RENNER,

As a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr. A. W. Chase's K.-L. Pills did for me. For nearly three years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the Kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can calmly and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

A SISTER'S HELP

BROUGHT RENEWED HEALTH TO A DESPONDENT BROTHER.

His Health Had Failed and Medicine Seemed to do Him no Good—Where Others had Failed, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Met With Great Success.

Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.:

GENTLEMEN,—A few years ago my system became thoroughly run down. My blood was in a frightful condition; medical treatment did no good. I surfeited myself with advertised medicines, but with equally poor results. I was finally incapacitated from work, became thoroughly despondent, and gave up hope of living much longer. While in this condition I visited my father's home near Tara. A sister, then and now living in Toronto, was also visiting at the parental home. Her husband had been made healthy through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she urged me to try them. Tired of trying medicines, I laughed at the proposition. However later on she provided me with some of the pills and begged me to take them. I did so, and before I had used two boxes I was on the roadway to restored health. I am commending their good qualities almost every day I live because I feel so grateful for my restoration, and I have concluded to write you this letter wholly in the interests of suffering humanity. I am carrying on business in Owen Sound as a carriage maker. This town has been my home for twenty eight years, and anyone enclosing a reply three cent stamp can receive personal information of the foregoing. This much to satisfy those who cannot be blamed for doubting after taking so many other preparations without being benefitted. You may do just as you like with this letter. I am satisfied that but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not be able to attend to my business to-day. Perhaps I would not have been alive.

Yours very sincerely,
FREDERICK GLOVER.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realise it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

Messrs. Griffiths & MacPherson Co.,
Vancouver, B. C.

Dear Sirs,—"I had been troubled with a painful attack of Pleurisy in my right side, not having slept for eight nights, so severe was the pain. My friend, Mr. Charles O'Connell, a leading jeweller of this city, procured a bottle of your Menthol Liniment and rubbed my side, resulting in entirely relieving me of pain within a few hours. I slept soundly all night, and the pain has not troubled me since.

Gentlemen,—"My son, Samuel Bennie, got his leg crushed and bruised in the mines seven weeks ago. The swelling never fully left it until we tried your Menthol Liniment. On the first application the swelling disappeared and the muscles began to loosen up, so much so that the same evening he was able to use his foot freely for the first time. I consider it the best liniment known."

DUNCAN BENNIE.

The Best Remedy for Coughs and Colds.

Mr. Chas. Bennett, Cambrio St., Vancouver, writes: "I do not believe Griffiths' Menthol Liniment has an equal for Coughs and Colds. My two children, aged 3 and 5 years, had a severe cough for some days, and coughed nearly all night. After using other remedies without success, we tried Griffiths' Menthol Liniment. We gave each 5 and 7 drops when going to bed; and rubbed their chests well with it; they did not cough during that night and in less than two days with continued treatment they were altogether better. My wife says she would not be without it in the house under any circumstances."

A Big Mistake.

A fool, a barber and a baldheaded man were traveling together. Losing their way, they were obliged to sleep in the open air, and to avert danger it was agreed to watch by turns.

The first lot fell on the barber, who for amusement shaved the poor fool's head while he was sleeping. He then woke him, and the fool, raising his hand to scratch his head, exclaimed: "Here's a pretty mistake. You have awakened the baldheaded man instead of me!"—Liverpool Mercury.

Stockings were first used in the eleventh century. Before that cloth bandages were used on the feet.

The Rev. Mr. Symonds spent a day last week at Mrs. Wallace's cottage.

Mrs. Moore is in Ottawa for the last two weeks, with her ill father, Mr. Thos. Fuller.

Judge Morson came down from Toronto with Dr. Baine's and spent Sunday here.

Dr. Poole, of London, England, has taken up a cottage and is delighted with the Park.

A very enjoyable hop and supper took place at the hotel Monday evening.

The trip around the lakes from Lakefield to Chemong on Thursdays is one of the most beautiful available.

For the past two weeks fishing has been excellent in these waters, and many are the visitors who return home made happy by good catches. An Indian and his boys caught 41 bass up the lake a few mornings ago. They were on the beds before daylight and two hours afterwards the bass ceased biting.

Mr. E. H. Hughes, who has been absent from Peterborough for the last four years, being connected with a Cleveland electric firm, is now spending his holidays about town. On Thursday Mr. Hughes did a little fishing at Chemong and took home 25 lbs. of bass.

Mr. W. H. Foord, who is summering in Mr. Denne's cottage, had a lively tussle with a 12 pound lunge a few days ago. When the fish was landed the three hooks were so firmly imbedded as to require cutting them out to extract them.

The new and speedy steamer Lady of the Lake plies between here and Bobcaygeon daily. It arrives at 10 a.m., and leaves at 3 p.m.

On Thursday the Crandella brought a large excursion from Lindsay to the park. It was under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

The Lady of the Lakes was down among the islands in these waters a few days ago, when she was crossed by the Sunbeam of Stony Lake. The Lady in her modest colours and merry voice responded to the visitant, as steamers will you know. The Sunbeam seemed so clever in his wooing mood, they both moved on together, with voices blending down the lake. But the conceity Sunbeam with all its latent power turned on tried its best to leave the Lady wilting behind. This would not work, however. The Lady like a nymph speedily passed away.

While Mr. and Mrs. John R. Stull, of Rochester, were out bass fishing a few days ago a remarkable occurrence was witnessed that will ever be pleasant to recall when speaking of their outing in Canada. The gamey bass were biting briskly. Mrs. Stull having a nibble, pulled in her line. No sooner had she her minnow out of the water than the bass that had had the subaqueous flirtation announced, was to the top of the water after it and as the minnow swung into the boat the bass actually jumped after it and lit in the boat. That evening when they were counting their individual catch, Mrs. Stull included in hers the bass that jumped into the boat. But to this Mr. Stull objected on the ground that she did not catch the fish and therefore could not count it as one she caught. Mrs. Stull persisted that it was her minnow that was the means of the fish being brought into the boat.

EVENING.

Illuminated yacht, skiff and canoe parade: Entertainment at the pavilion—concert and hop.

The season at Stony Lake is in full swing now and this year promises to excel all previous ones. This pleasant resort is becoming more popular every year and small wonder for the round of gaiety for the younger people and the quiet seclusion of their own island for the older ones makes it an ideal spot for a summer outing. The pavilion is the scene of at least a couple of semi-public hops each week and combining these with a number of smaller dances held at the cottages and the visiting of the numerous points of interest around the lake, one never knows where the time of their vacation has gone and two weeks' holidays appear like two days. On Tuesday evening the largest dance of the season was held and about 75 couples enjoyed themselves till the wee small hours. Monday evening the talent of the lake are going to give a concert and of course it will finish with a hop.

The 18th is the date of the annual regatta.

Mrs. W. A. Sanderson entertained a number of her friends on Thursday evening.

To-night Mrs. Brock will be "at home" to her friends.

Rev. Canon Spragge, of Cobourg, conducted the services here on Sunday last.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. Fred. Smyth, of Toronto, who has been spending his vacation in Peterborough and at Stony Lake, reached town Monday evening on the yacht Mispah, after a pleasant cruise lasting from early morning. On the way up he caught five fine maskinonge, several of them weighing over ten pounds. He spent the night with his father, Deputy-Reeve Smyth, and returned to the city next morning on the early train.

On a certain island in the lake the quantity of line was not sufficient to accommodate the week's wash, so the girl placed some of the garments on the grass to dry in the sun. In the evening she gathered the clothes in and proceeded to fold them up. Suddenly she was shocked to find a snake coiled in an unmentionable article, but she did not scream very loud or faint. Gathering the garment up so that the snake could not escape, the very young women lifted a lid off the stove and deftly shot the reptile into the blazing fire. It was a novel and original way to dispose of an ugly customer.

Misses Maud Baptie, Effie McWilliams, Lily Ridpath and Messrs. G. Newberry, L. Lawler and H. Wolfenden, of Lakefield, spent a few days at "Forest Nook" this week.

A Great Rheumatic Remedy.

Mr. H. E. West, Water street, Vancouver, writes: I had been suffering from a very painful attack of rheumatism in my right shoulder, and could not attempt to raise my arm, so great was the pain. Griffiths' Menthol Liniment was applied, and in less than four hours the pain entirely left it, and I could use my arm freely. It is truly a wonderful remedy. 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

A considerable force is engaged in the C. P.R.'s Winnipeg shops placing Westinghouse air brakes on the freight cars. About 2,000 cars have already been fitted with these brakes there.

The first of the ten magnificent sleeping cars which are being built at the C.P.R. shops at Hochelaga is ready for service. These cars are exceptional in design and finish, and will be the handsomest and costliest cars on the company's tracks. Each car will be finished in Louis XV. style, with Watteau decorations, richly upholstered, and most comfortably furnished. The natural woods used in the wood-work are especially fine. There will be no oil lamps, electric lighting taking their place. Two electric lights will be suspended from each berth rod bracket. In each seat, or compartment, a reading light will be attached to the side of the car, to be turned off or on at the wish of the occupant. The smoking compartments have been made two and a half feet larger than the ordinary sleeping car smoking room. It has been the object of the management to build ten little palaces on wheels that shall be unexcelled by anything on the continent in workmanship, and it has succeeded.

F. W. Jones, assistant to the manager C.P.R. Western Lines, has issued the following circular to passenger trainmen:—"Complaints have reached me of the distressing noise produced by the slamming of doors in passenger cars. There is a good deal of truth in this, as I have noticed that many trainmen seem to be always testing the strength of the doors and seeing how hard they can slam them. A little care in the closing of doors will remove all cause of complaint."

The employees of the G. T. R. are not only being instructed in the new code of signals but the brakemen are getting special instruction on the air brake system. A special car is fitted out with a complete outfit, with an instructor in charge, who gives lectures several times each day and in the evening. In the car there is represented an air brake train of 20 cars. In explaining the manner in which the brake is operated from the engine and the coach, the instructor points out the meaning of various colours representing different pressure. The method of turning on the air in case of an emergency is demonstrated in a clear and intelligible manner. In the engine department are located two pumps and two large main reservoirs with a capacity of 4,000 cubic inches. The new system is known as the automatic, which will replace the old straight air brake. Formerly when a train broke in two the air brake was useless, but the new brake remedies that fault, as it applies immediately to the train with rapidity and force. The first pump compresses the air and is stored in the reservoir located on the engine in a convenient place. The air passes from there into the train pipe through the engineer's brake valve located in the cab of the engine, then from the train pipe through a triple valve into the auxiliary reservoir.

The train is then charged for a journey. The brakes are applied by a reduction of train line pressure. Then the triple piston and slide valves go to the applied position and allow the pressure to pass from the auxiliary reservoir to the brake cylinder, which applies the brake. To release the brake an increase of train line pressure is applied. In the main reservoir on the engine there is more pressure than that carried on the train line. The pressure, which is called excess pressure, is derived by an automatic feature of the brake valve. When the brakes are released the engineer throws that excess pressure into the train line.

SORE HANDS CURED BY CUTICURA

About eight years ago I got sore hands. It commenced with a burning sensation on my fingers. When I rubbed them you could see little white pimples on the skin, and I felt like twisting my fingers out of their sockets. I had high fever and cold chills, and nights I had to walk the floor until I fell asleep. I got the CUTICURA RESOLVENT and CUTICURA SOAP. The nails hardened up and peeled off, and I don't believe there is one of the first nails left on my hands which are now cured.

Two dollars' worth of CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me of Salt Rheum of twenty years' standing. My hands and fingers broke out in red, watery blisters with terrible itching, then a scab would form, which would peel off and come in great cracks, the blood running out. My nails grew out wrinkled like a cow's horns, but now they are growing nice and smooth.

S. E. MILLER, Robertsdale, Pa.

I was obliged to keep the first three fingers of my little boy's hand done up all the time, as it was a raw sore, beginning to extend down toward the palm. We consulted three different physicians, each a certain length of time. A gentleman recommended CUTICURA REMEDIES. I purchased CUTICURA SOAP, CUTICURA (ointment) and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, put aside what I had been using, and began with them. Well! they cured that hand.

DROWNED IN BELMONT LAKE.

Willie Chase, aged 16, Gets Beyond his Depth.

Campbellford Herald.

About 6 o'clock on Friday evening last, a boy named Willie Chase, 16 years of age, was drowned while bathing in Belmont Lake. The accident occurred on the east shore, about a mile south of where Mr. C. W. Turner is camping. The boy who could swim only a few strokes, got beyond his depth, and his struggles attracted the attention of a companion on shore. Alfred Lake, a young man of 21 years of age, Lake hastened to the rescue, but being unable to swim he waded out to within about five feet of the drowning lad without being able to reach him. He hurried to the shore and got a pole but on returning to the water young Chase was too far gone to grasp it, and he sank to rise no more in life. Efforts were at once made to recover the body, and it was brought to the surface by grappling at one o'clock the following day.

No Cocaine in Dr A. W. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Prof. Heys, Ont. We offer a reward of $1,000, to be devoted to any charitable institution if any druggist or doctor can find the least trace of that deadly drug Cocaine contained in Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." HIGH-CLASS HORSES IN DEMAND

Horse dealers report a great scarcity of first-class coach and draught horses. It is with difficulty that a decent shipment can be collected in this Province, although the prices for first-class animals are satisfactory. The demand for high class horses is as great as it has ever been, and the prices just as high. It will pay farmers to give more attention to the breeding of horses. Cavalry horses are in excellent demand in in the United States as well as coachers and drivers. The English market is also quite active and will absorb all the high-grade horseflesh that Canada can produce. But for poor horses there is no sale whatever.

A THIRD-RATE POWER

The Sunday El Pais of Madrid in Mourning Borders.

SPAIN PREPARES TO EVACUATE.

The Honors, However, Were With Spain in the Last Land Fight at Porto Rico, and She Got in the Last Damaging Shot at Havana—U.S. Peace Activity.

Madrid, Aug. 15.—El Pais Sunday printed the text of the protocol signed by the United States and Spain with mourning borders, and says: "Spain, without colonies, is reduced to the role of a third rate power."

El Imparcial says: "Peace will not bring to Spain even the rest she so much needs after three years and a half of war."

El Nacion says, bitterly: "If Spain had at least been vanquished only after a furious and heroic struggle, she could resign herself. Peace with the United States will only be a momentary respite from our misfortune."

El Tiempo (Conservative) says: "Peace is an accomplished fact. The bitterness of defeat does not prevent us from seeing with satisfaction the end of the war."

SPAIN PREPARES TO EVACUATE.

Instructs Her Governors-General to Carry Out the Terms of the Protocol.

Madrid, Aug. 15.—The Government Saturday evening telegraphed instructions to the Governors General of Porto Rico and the Philippines for the carrying out of the terms of the protocol signed by the United States and Spain, and to prepare for evacuation. Instructions were also sent as to the policy to be adopted in the event of the insurgents refusing to observe the armistice.

THE LAST LAND FIGHT.

The Americans Repulsed by the Spaniards Near Coamo, Porto Rico.

Washington, Aug. 15.—A despatch from Gen. Wilson, near Coamo, Porto Rico, tells of a reverse to the American arms on Friday. A Lancaster battery was sent forward to capture a mountain stronghold and the Spaniards opened fire. The American troops, which included the Third Wisconsin, rushed forward and drove the enemy back, but reinforcements were secured and Wilson's forces were compelled to retire at a gallop under a deadly fire. Corporal Swanson was killed and several were wounded.

A later despatch says all hostilities have ceased, the signing of the peace protocol having been published throughout Cuba and Porto Rico.

The Closing Bombardment.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 15.—Advices were received by General Shafter Saturday morning to the effect that Manzanillo was bombarded Friday, day and night, and again in the morning. General Shafter also cabled to the Spanish commander at Manzanillo that peace had been declared, and requested him to advise the American commander of the fact under a flag of truce, which he did, and the shelling of the town ceased. The shelling of the town began just 23 minutes before the signing of the protocol.

Havana Has the Last Shot.

Key West, Aug. 15.—The flagship San Francisco, the monitor Miantonomah and the auxiliary yacht Sylvia were fired upon by the Havana batteries shortly before 5 o'clock Friday morning. One ten or 12-inch shell struck the San Francisco's stern, as she turned to get out of range and tore a hole about a foot in diameter, completely wrecking Commodore Howell's quarters and smashing his book case to fragments. Nobody was injured, and being under orders not to attack the batteries, the ships retreated as fast as their engines could carry them.

THE CUBAN JUNTA

Recognizes the Armistice—Message to the Cuban Republic.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 15.—Senor Palma, the head of the Cuban Junta, has sent the following cable by way of Santiago:

Bartolomeo Masso, President Cuban Republic, Santiago, Cuba: I have this thirteenth day of August, 1898, accepted in the name of the Cuban Provisional Government the armistice proclaimed by the United States. You should give immediate orders to the army throughout Cuba, suspending all hostilities. Preliminary terms of peace, signed by representatives of Spain and the United States, provide that Spain will relinquish all claim over and title to Cuba.

A Standing Army of 100,000.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 15.—The War Department will ask Congress to increase the standing army even beyond its present war basis. The department has decided that the 65,000 men now in service will not be sufficient for the needs of the Government.

The whole volunteer army will disappear as soon as the President issues his final peace proclamation. It is the understanding that 100,000 men will be needed at home, in Cuba, in Porto Rico and in the Philippines.

The proclamation of peace will disband all the volunteers and necessitate new enlistments.

The News at Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, Aug. 15.—News of the cessation of hostilities between the United States and Spain was received here Saturday. The British steamer Australian, bound for Sydney, New South Wales, was chartered to carry the news to Manila. No other vessel was available for the purpose, owing to the prevalence of typhoons.

THE POPE IS VERY FEEBLE.

The Condition of His Holiness No Longer Admits of Disguise.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The Rome correspondent of the Cologne Gazette says:

"The condition of the Pope no longer admits of disguise. His health has gradually gone from bad to worse, and His Holiness is now a decrepit old man. His voice is of the weakest; thinking tires and prayers confuse him. He has been observed to commence the same prayer ten times without noticing the repetition. Cardinal Rampolla, Papal Secretary of State, conducts all Vatican business."

Produced a Commotion.

Rome Aug. 15.—The Pope's extreme weakness has produced a great commotion. Dr. Laponni, the Pope's physician, thinks there is no danger if the Pope is able to pull through the hot weather. All the members of the family of the Pope have hurried to Rome.

His Holiness on Friday insisted upon getting up, but soon had to be carried to bed again in a state of partial collapse. He does not suffer from any specific affection, but only from debility.

WORK OF THE FIRE FIEND.

Madoc Village Gets the Worst Scorching in Its History.

Madoc, Ont., Aug. 15.—The most disastrous fire in the history of Madoc took place yesterday morning between 12 and 1 o'clock. Fire was discovered in the Windsor Hotel stables on the east side of Durham street. From the stables fire spread rapidly until it was thought the whole village was doomed. The fire was now raging on two streets and nothing but a 66-foot street to prevent the whole village being destroyed by the flames. Finally the fire fiend was stopped. The burnt portion extends over the whole block from Durham street to Elgin, and the total loss is estimated at fully $50,000.

The following are losses and insurances: P. Sinclair, loss $3,000, insurance not known; J. L. McGuire, Windsor Hotel, loss $10,000, insurance $6,000; W. Mullet, loss $3,000, no insurance; T. Mullet, drug store, $1,000, no insurance; W. H. O'Flynn, loss $17,000, insurance $9,000; M. Bristol, loss $10,000, insurance $1,000; W. Orr, loss $1,500, insurance not known; Methodist Church, loss $10,000, insurance $6,500.

A. Sanderson had a narrow escape in descending from the roof of the Methodist Church. He was very severely burned. No fatal results anticipated.

Yachtsmen Drowned.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 15.—The sloop yacht Leone, with 17 men aboard, while anchored outside of Boston light, was run into by a barge in tow of the tug Honeybrook, and five men were swept from the deck by the heavy tow line. Two were drowned, one killed and two rescued.

3,500 Harvest Hands Required.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—The Provincial Department of Agriculture Saturday notified Immigration Agent Scott at Toronto that 3,500 extra harvest hands would be required to garner Manitoba's big crop.

The Tug Ainslie Burned.

Owen Sound, Ont., Aug. 15.—Word has been received that the tug Ainslie, belonging to Maitland, Dixon & Co. of Owen Sound, was burned to the water's edge, one mile from South Bay, Manitoulin, whither she had gone for a raft of logs. The tug was a valuable one and was classed "A1½." She was valued at $10,000 and was partly insured.

MR. SEMLIN'S CABINET

Forecast of the New Ministry Published in Vancouver.

MR. MARTIN REFUSES TO ACT.

This Was a Set-Back for Mr. Semlin at the Start—The World Announces a Coalition, With Mr. Turner as Finance Minister—Another Slate Outlined.

Vancouver, Aug. 15.—Mr. C. A. Semlin, the Opposition leader, who was called by the Lieutenant Governor Friday to form a Cabinet after the failure of Hon. Robert Beaven, is hard at work, but he experienced a setback at the very start. He wired Mr. Martin offering him the position of Attorney-General. Mr. Martin wired back, refusing. It is stated in the News-Advertiser (Opposition) that Mr. Martin's refusal was due to the fact that he has been offered the position of Chief Justice, vacant since the death of Hon. Mr. Davie. Mr. E. V. Bodwell of Victoria has been asked to accept the Attorney-Generalship, and his answer, to be given on Monday, it is said, will be favorable.

Mr. Semlin, interviewed Saturday morning, said: "In view of the fact that Mr. Martin, in his interview with the Lieutenant-Governor, stated distinctly that there was no friction in the Opposition ranks. I should have little hesitation in accepting the task of forming a Ministry, and had I done otherwise it would surely be construed as a confession on my part of dissension among the Opposition. I am addressing a letter to each of the elected members explaining my position and requesting that they co-operate in the work of taking hold of the reins of government."

Mr. Semlin went up to Victoria on Saturday, with the object, it is believed, of discussing the situation with Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, M.P., son of the Governor.

In its news columns the World says: "The latest as to the personnel of his Cabinet, which it is reported is to be a purely Conservative one, a result which has been forced upon Mr. Semlin, the new Premier met Mr. Turner, who, it is reported, along with Mr. Eberts is to remain in the new Cabinet, the members of which, it is said, will be as follows: Mr. Charles A. Semlin, Premier and Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works; Mr. J. H. Turner, Minister of Finance and Agriculture; Mr. D. M. Eberts, Attorney-General; Mr. F. L. Cotton, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education; Mr. F. Green, Minister of Mines.

"Following is the slate as given by a prominent Opposition member: Mr. Charles Semlin, Premier; Mr. E. V. Bodwell, Attorney-General; Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, Minister of Finance; Mr. F. L. C. Cotton, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education. Mr. Martin, member for Rossland, will probably be Minister of Mines, and Mr. Alex Henderson, New Westminster, will be given a portfolio.

The Province (Opposition) says editorially: "Mr. Semlin is not in a position to undertake the formation of a permanent Government, for the reason that the party has not yet determined that Mr. Semlin is to be its leader."

Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 1898.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

What Britain ought to do, suggests the Ottawa Journal, is to open that door again and show Russia the way out.

THE Conservative journals have a refreshingly free and easy way of getting a chance to warm the treasury benches. The Toronto World declares that the Hardy Government is in a helpless, hopeless condition, and advises them to resign. That's an easy way.

FOR a long time Mr. Whitney and his organs denied a majority to the Ontario Government in the recent elections. The Government claimed a majority of eight supporters in the House in excess of the Opposition, and the first division justifies their claim. The first division in the House gave the Government a clear majority of six. Mr. Craig, East Wellington, a Government supporter, was absent through illness, and Mr. Evanturel, another Government supporter, occupied the speaker's chair.

THE Montreal Star seems to have achieved a success which ordinary so-called independent journals have sought to do in vain. It is on both sides of the political fence at once. In its editorial columns it is uncompromisingly Tory, but it is supposed to show its Grit complexion by printing Government advertisements on on the page devoted to such matter, as a sort of solatium for the loss of the flop-over senatorship which Sir Charles Tupper promised, but was not in a position to deliver. The Montreal Herald, however, furnishes an explanation of the political duality of the Star. The Government advertisements are printed without order or remuneration. This is patriotic on the part of the Star, but it is not business.

LIBERAL PROSPERITY.

In connection with an announcement of a proposed picnic, the Globe mentions that "during the past eight months the Massey-Harris Company has been running both the Toronto and Brantford implement factories as well as the Toronto bicycle factory, up to their utmost capacity twelve hours per day in order to overtake their orders." This is not an isolated case, by any means. Other factories, in other towns and cities, have been and are equally busy, and activity in the building trades might or might not have occurred if the Dominion elections had gone the other way in June 1896. That is a point upon which politicians may speculate, but there can be no definite decision. It is enough to know that, with a Liberal Government in office, Canada is doing well, employment is plentiful, wages are fair and profits are good.—Hamilton Times.

THE LION SNARLING.

Growing Indignation Over the Chinese Affair—A National Humiliation—Some Strong Language.

London, Aug. 15.—The morning papers express the growing indignation of the country at the position of affairs in China.

The Daily Graphic says: "If this state of things continues, the guns will go off of themselves."

The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail who professes to divulge the terms of a long existing secret treaty between China and Russia, says: "It is nothing less than an offensive alliance. China undertakes to regard Russia as having a preponderating influence in all questions of commercial and internal politics, while Russia will support China against all "open door" demands. Russia finances China in internal developments; and China grants Russia preferential rates in certain areas; and railways built in the joint interests of the two countries will be under Russia's practical control.

"Russia will assist China in developing her military and naval forces and China will co-operate with Russia as an ally. This treaty has been in abeyance since Li Hung Chang visited the Czar. That it has become operative at the present moment in respect to the Pekin-Hankow and New Chwang contracts is significant."

The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial which reflects the general opinion of the London morning press, comments upon the fact that the Marquis of Salisbury and all the responsible officials are leaving London at such a critical moment. It says: "The curtain is deliberately dropped upon a scene of national humiliation and national indignation."

G.T.R. MANAGEMENT.

London Papers on the Manager's Report—Canadian Officers Amateurs.

London, Aug. 15.—(Telegram's Saturday Cable.)—The Financial News says the report of the Grand Trunk Railway is disappointing. Relatively it is much worse than the most cautious expected, and creates grave suspicions as to managerial methods. The manager's statement is extremely disappointing to those who made optimistic calculations.

The Statist says the report is an unpleasant surprise. But the general opinion is that Mr. Hays' management of the Grand Trunk is excellent and the best that can be done for the road

Hon. William Mulock, Canada's Postmaster-General, will sail from Queenstown on the 21st.

The Broad Arrow, commenting on an article in the Canada Military Gazette on Gascoigne, Luard and Herbert, former commandants of the Canadian militia forces, says many of the senior Canadian officers are little better than amateurs. This, the Broad Arrow observes, is because political considerations are allowed to intervene in military affairs.

ELEVEN LIVES LOST.

A Captain, His Wife and Two Children Among Those Drowned.

London, Aug. 15.—Advices from Melbourne report that the American barque C. C. Funk, Captain Nissen, which sailed from Tacoma, May 22, for Melbourne, has been wrecked on Flinders Island, Tasmania. Eleven of those on board the barque, including Capt. Nissen his wife and two children, were drowned.

Are Wearied of Mahdism.

Atbara, Aug. 15.—A most significant omen of the Khalifa's impending downfall is the large band of refugees who have just arrived at Kerti, on the Nile, about fifty miles above Old Dongola, after a journey of 400 miles across the desert from El Obeid, the capital of Kordofan, whither Hicks Pasha's army was marching when it was cut up by the Mahdists. The party numbers eleven hundred souls, men, women and children, with their stock and effects. With them are certain influential sheikhs, who come as a deputation from the whole population, begging the Sirdar to occupy El Obeid.

Cholera in Madras.

Madras, Aug. 15.—The cholera is epidemic here. Between Monday morning and Friday night there were 53 deaths from the disease, the fatalities prior to the day first mentioned having been 117.

WHEAT FOR SEVEN DAYS.

The Cash Article Has Been in Demand, But Late Options Have Been Depressed—The Prices.

Saturday Evening, Aug. 13.

Cash and nearby deliveries of wheat have shown a strong upward tendency on the Chicago market during most of the past week, but at the same time the more remote options have been depressed. The cause for this is found in the fact that, while this year's crops are very large, old stocks are much depleted, and farmers are still refusing to make free deliveries of new wheat. The shortage of immediate supplies has kept up present prices, but in the prospects of an American yield of over 600,000,000 bushels are seen the reasons for the low quotations on the September and December deliveries, which have declined 3c per bushel during the week. As the week closes the promise of large receipts next week has caused a recession in this month's article, and the outlook seems to be for lower prices for all deliveries.

The Liverpool prices reflect the same condition. Spot and early delivery wheat is strong, and the later options are depressed. The Continental markets have acted along the same lines. The European markets have derived a slightly firmer tone the past day or two from reports of wholesale damage to Russian crops.

Conservative Animosity Towards Lord Aberdeen.

THE EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Mr. Hugh John Macdonald's Refusal to Preside at the Manitoba Club Banquet—Mrs. Heron's Death—Leon Boyer's Death—A New Witness Secured — Personal and Political Notes.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—The refusal of Mr. Hugh John Macdonald to preside at the complimentary banquet tendered by the Manitoba Club at Winnipeg to Lord Aberdeen on his way back from the coast is a subject of comment at the capital. If this were simply a personal matter between Lord Aberdeen and Mr. Macdonald the public would have no concern with it, but such incidents are a part of the Tory system of revenge upon the Governor-General for having in pursuance of his constitutional duty refused to allow Sir Charles Tupper to load up the Senate, the bench and the civil service with his friends after the people had withdrawn their confidence from him. It is satisfactory, however, to know that the banquet was a complete success in spite of Mr. Macdonald's conduct.

Mrs. Heron's Death.

Mrs. W. S. Heron, wife of Major Heron of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, died Sunday morning. Mrs. Heron's death was most unexpected and sad. She retired in her usual health, and apparently slept well. About six o'clock in the morning her husband heard her speaking incoherently, and, thinking she was ill, summoned Dr. Powell. By the time the physician had arrived Mrs. Heron had become unconscious, and remained so until her death. Mrs. Heron was a daughter of the late Mr. J. Gordon Brown of Toronto, and a niece of Hon. George Brown.

Leon Boyer's Death.

The facts of an autopsy on the body of Leon Boyer, found dead on the Eardley road, will be given at the preliminary examination on Wednesday next. David Dube, a pedlar, states that on the night of the tragedy he was on his way to Aylmer from a trip in the country, and met Riopelle, who is now in jail on suspicion, driving a team a short distance from where Boyer's body was found. There was another man in the rig lying prone on his back, and to all appearances either dead or very much under the influence of liquor. Something in the man's position caused Dube to think that the man was dead, and it was with difficulty he restrained an impulse to ask the driver what the trouble was with his companion. He proceeded on his way home, however, but mentioned his suspicions to some neighbors.

Deposits in P. O. Savings Bank.

During the year ended 30th June, 1898, the total amount deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank was $9,188,693, an increase of $960,693 over the previous fiscal year. The withdrawals totalled $8,353,173, or $1,197,099 more than was withdrawn the previous year. Interest allowed to depositors during the fiscal year 1896-97 totalled $4,094,511. Last year the interest allowed was $982,795, a decrease of $41,786. The amount standing to the credit of depositors at the close of the fiscal year was $34,480,937, an increase of $2,100,118 over the amount at deposit on the 30th of June, 1897. The average amount at each depositor's credit is $242, a slight increase over the average of the preceding year.

To Prevent Improper Speculation.

The secretary of the Parliamentary Committee on Agriculture is now engaged sending circulars seeking the views of the butter and cheese trade respecting a proposed law to prohibit improper speculation in the sale of butter and cheese. The task is by no means a small one, there being in the Province of Quebec 1,467 cheese factories and 807 creameries, and in the Province of Ontario 1,153 cheese factories and 900 creameries. Thus it is expected that the views of about 5,000 persons interested in the matter will be received in reply to the committee's circular. These will be tabulated so that when the Agriculture Committee meets next session it will be able to deal with the proposed law, fully apprised of the views of the trade upon it and recommend action upon the measure accordingly.

Personal and General.

The Customs Department is refusing to accept Jubilee stamps in payment of duty. With October will end the acceptance at the Customs Department of any stamps in payment of duty.

Some very interesting experiments are at present being made by the Department of Agriculture in a cold storage building here. The articles being experimented with are beef, butter, eggs, berries and cheese, and they are being tested especially with reference to the value of formaline, the antiseptic. So far the experiments are understood to have been very satisfactory.

Official reports to the Department of Railways and Canals indicate a considerable diminution in the volume of trade passing through the Soo Canal during the past few weeks.

An investigation into the death of Fred. Barbeau, thought to have been drowned in the Ottawa River, has been demanded by his relatives. Cries were heard at the time Barbeau met his death, and this has given rise to suspicions of foul play. Relatives say that a gang of toughs have often threatened to beat him.

"Pig's Foot Charlie" Killed.

Hamilton, Aug. 15.—Word has been received here that William Wye, known as "Pig's Foot Charlie," was killed near Lyndon Saturday evening. He got caught in a threshing machine while assisting a farmer, William Coverdale, and was cut to pieces. One of his legs was cut off near the trunk. Wye was well known here, as he used to peddle pigs' feet around the saloons and hotels at night. He was about 40 years of age.

Challenger Won on a Foul.

Dorval, Que., Aug. 15.—On Saturday the Challenger, the American boat, in the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club's championship races, won the first race of the series on a foul. The Dominion passed the buoy one-half minute before her competitor. Three of the series won will determine the winner, and one race will be sailed each day, beginning today.

WORK OF THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

Measures of Prime Importance Passed During the Past Session.

London Aug. 15.—The New York Post's correspondent cables: The session of Parliament has not been so infertile as the London press makes out. The following measures are all of first-class importance, some being quite new departures:

The Irish Local Government Act extends to Ireland all the rights and apparatus of self-government enjoyed by Great Britain, and contributes from the Imperial Exchequer over $3,600,000 in relief of this year's taxation. Politically, the measure draws the teeth of the Home Rule Government.

The Vaccination Act makes vaccination a matter of conscience.

The Criminal Evidence Act allows, but does not compel, the accused to give evidence in his own defence.

The Colonial Loans Act places the Imperial credit at the service of the Crown Colonies, subject to certain safeguards, and makes the Imperial Federation.

The London University Act provides the metropolis for the first time with a teaching university.

The session is also memorable because it added 32,000 men to the British army, and to the British navy 7 battleships, 8 armored cruisers and 12 destroyers.

Moreover, it should be realized that there is a surplus of revenue of over $18,000,000; but the session produced no new parliamentary reputation, and, in this respect, was disappointing.

A Shift of Artillery.

Quebec, Aug. 13.—The detachment of the Royal Artillery that has been stationed here for the last three months returns home on Monday, and the detachment of Royal Canadian Artillery now replacing the former at Halifax is expected back here on the same date. M. PURCELL KILLED.

Brother of Pat Purcell, Ex-M.P. for Glengarry, a Victim of the G.T.R.

Cornwall, Aug. 15.—M. Purcell of Glen Walter, brother of the late Patriak Purcell, ex-M.P. for Glengarry, was struck and instantly killed by a train on the G.T.R., a few miles east of here, Saturday morning. He was driving across the track and misjudged the train, which was a pay car special. His head was badly crushed and the body was thrown against the fence, 50 yards away. A hired man who was riding in the rear part of the carriage escaped uninjured. The remains were taken to Cornwall and an inquest is being held. The deceased was about 50 years of age, and one of the wealthiest farmers in Eastern Ontario. He returned home only last night from a trip to Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. He was a married man, and leaves a wife and several children.

A New Business Citizen Coming.

The Norwich, Ont., Gazette, of Aug. 11th says: "Now that Mr. A. W. Cressman has announced definitely that he will commence operations in the commercial line at Peterborough in the latter part of September, the fact of his approaching disconnection with the commercial life of Norwich becomes more realizable, and one begins to understand the extent of his social, religious and commercial interests of our town and the beneficial effect of the influence which he has wielded here in many channels. Upon his experiences here, however, we shall dwell in a future issue. Just at present the points we are driving at are to direct the attention of the Norwichites to the closing sale now drawing to its end, and to inform the Peterborough people that a brisk and very wide awake element is about to be added to their commercial circle, Mr. Cressman being a thoroughly capable and up-to-date business man whose motto is 'there is room at the top,' and who is never satisfied to take the second place wherever his lot may be cast.'

BEAT IT IF YOU CAN.

The best trip of the Civic Holiday—one that will combine pleasure with a rest—will be that offered by the North Star. Take this popular steamer in the morning down the river to Gore's Landing for dinner. Then after dinner sail up Rice Lake, past Idyl Wild to the Serpentine Mounds. Then will follow the sail home in the evening. The boat leaves here at 9.15 a. m. and returns at 7.30 p. m. The return fare, including dinner, is only 50 cents. This is a day's outing that cannot be beaten for cheapness or pleasure.

THE RETREAT.

It will Begin this Evening at St. Peter's Cathedral.

THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON CAPTURED.

Mr. Fred Sawers Overcomes the Victor of Waterloo—Excellent Work of Collegiate Institute Pupils.

At the departmental examinations conducted here, Mr. Fred Sawers wrote for matriculation to Trinity University. The result of his work, as published in the Globe on Monday, is a triumph for the young man. He secures the Wellington scholarship which represents a cash payment of $80, and three years free tuition at $40 per year. This means that he stood at the head of the list in first class honours. He also took head standing in first class honours in English and history, and first in second class honours in German and chemistry. This is a record of which any young man may be justifiably proud; and, while it is a credit to him it is, at the same time, another splendid testimony to the thoroughness and efficiency of the instruction imparted at the Collegiate Institute.

The "Wellington Scholarship" has something of a history. It was presented by the Duke of Wellington for competition at King's College (the original of Toronto University), and at the time of the separation of Trinity College with University powers in 1850, this scholarship was assigned by the Iron Duke himself to whom the disputed question of its custody was referred, to Trinity University. It is of the value of $200—$80 in cash and three years tuition at $40 per year.

Though the number of pupils from the Institute who wrote, was not as great as during the past two years, owing to the departmental regulations permitting promotions from form to form without passing departmental examinations, nevertheless, the results make up in quality what they might have otherwise done in quantity. However, the number is by no means unsatisfactory, while the record of work done by the Collegiate Institute is eminently gratifying. Of the comparatively smaller numbers writing those who won success (at these and other examinations), are worthy of special note.

Miss Yeaney's brilliant double scholarship success, followed by Mr. Fred Sawers capture of the Wellington scholarship, preceded by Mr. Jack Fessenden's conspicuous success at the matriculation examination to the Royal Military College, Kingston, conjoined with the exceptionally great number of honours obtained by the exceedingly large percentage of Institute pupils who passed the recent examinations, go to show the care and thoroughness bestowed from day to day upon the pupils, whose ability and industry do such gratifying credit to their local alma mater.

It is interesting to note in connection with the success of Mr. Sawers, that the principal of the Institute, Mr. Fessenden, himself, in the callow days of his student-career, was the winner of the Wellington scholarship, a circumstance which may to some extent explain the falling of his mantle upon the shoulders of one of his pupils.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

There was a large gathering of friends, and at the train the newly-married couple were showered with rice, and well wishes expressed for their future happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Hague will spend their honeymoon in the south."

THE HORSE FELL.

An Accident Which Befell Three Young Ladies from Town.

Three young ladies met with quite a thrilling experience yesterday whilst out driving in Monaghan.

It appears that their horse stumbled and fell, breaking the harness.

With the assistance of a number who witnessed the incident the harness was removed from the horse and repaired sufficiently to allow the young ladies to resume their drive.

Daily Examiner.

MOODAY, AUGUST 15, 1898.

FOR THE PUOLIC GOOD.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I have noticed by a letter signed "Ratepayer" in your issue of the 11th inst., that the action of Councillor McWilliams has had the effect of bringing some of our refractory councillors to a sense of their duty to the public, and that instead of being lords and masters they are the servants of the people, elected to carry out the mandates of the majority.

At the meeting referred to another "episode" occurred, which to my mind is of vastly more more importance than even the reduction or retention of the present number of councillors, and that is the conspicuous absence of a solitary Roman Catholic at the council board. In this connection Councillor McWilliams touched a chord that will vibrate and echo through every heart that loves fair play, equality, justice and equal rights to all, and the man who does not is unworthy of the name of "British subject," and if his country were in danger would hind behind a stump. It may be an accident or incident, unfortunate perhaps but true nevertheless, and pity tis, tis true, that in a county and town like Peterborough, containing a large Roman Catholic population, and sending two representatives to the House of Commons, two to the Local Legislature and a senator (for this district) to Ottawa, ten members to the county council and twelve aldermen and a mayor to the town council that there is not a single Catholic in the lot.

I imagine I can hear some one say, Why should a man be elected because he is a Roman Catholic? and in reply would say, Why should a man be rejected because he is such?

To my mind Mr. McWilliams has taken the just, fair and manly view of the situation. He did not hesitate to tell his confreres in the council, and, of course, through them and the medium of the press, the general public, that he was an Orangeman and a Protestant of Protestants, and that he was willing to give to others the same rights that he claimed for himself to think and act for themselves.

With more such manly men the world would be better.

DISLIKES THE GAME LAW.

MR. STRATTON, M. P. P., POINTS OUT DEFECTS AND SUGGESTS SEVERAL CHANGES.

Would Kill Deer in Water—Land Hunting the Cause of Prolonged Agony to Many of the Animals.

(Toronto Star.)

There seems still to be dissatisfaction in various parts of the Province regarding the Provincial game law. In his address to the House Mr. Stratton, of Peterborough, referred casually to the dissatisfaction of the hunters in that district. I asked him this morning to state more particularly the objectionable sections.

"I was thinking," said Mr. Stratton, "of the impracticability of the enforcement of the game law in its present condition, and of the dissatisfaction accompanying such a condition."

"What is the most important section that, in your opinion, requires amendment?" I asked.

KILLING DEER IN WATER.

"To my mind," he replied, "that referring to the killing of deer, or rather the mode of killing deer. As you know, the law now prevents the slaughter of deer in the water, a provision which is practically a dead letter. The law also prevents the hounding of deer, and on these two clauses the trouble hinges.

"The consequence is that a deer started by dogs takes, I suppose naturally, to the water, and it is rather more than human nature can stand to resist the temptation to take a crack at the animal. The law is violated in one part through observance of it in another respect. The majority of deer now brought to camp are taken from the water. On the other hand, land hunting alone has its serious objections. It is said by those who should know — the settlers and lumbermen—that a very large proportion of the deer wounded in the woods by inexpert marksmen, or by skilful gunners firing under unfavourable conditions, are left to die and rot, in prolonged agony from not immediately fatal injuries.

SUGGESTED CHANGES.

"The general impression down Peterborough way seems to be that the length of the deer season, the retention of the limit number and the killing of deer wherever it can be done, either on land or water, would be in the interest of the sport—of both the hunter and the hunted. If our forests are being depleted of deer, then why not apply the present law relating to partridge, to deer and make the slaughter prohibitory for a few years? I might add that there is no uncertain feeling in my constituency as to the unsatisfactory condition of the present law, and as the Minister promised last session to look into the matter and to get the fullest possible practicable information and has issued circulars to leading sportsmen to elicit their opinion generally, it is probable that something tending to the termination of the present unsatisfactory condition of matters will be the outcome.

"I have not been thinking much over the subject recently, and only referred to the matter in the House the other day incidentally in connection with the discussion of the fishery question. We shall likely have a talk over this matter next session; there are other matters there are complaints of, but in the face of legislation being introduced next session, we shall have an opportunity of then discussing these various phases."

DESCENDED FROM EMPERORS.

The new Lord Courtenay, who will succeed his grandfather as the Earl of Devon, has a descent which, it is said, be can trace back to one of the Emporers of Constantinople. The Courtenays are the only English family now in a private station who once held imperial rank. Their ancestors were, we are informed, Emperors of Constantinople from 1204 to 1261; but after the recapture of the city by the Greeks, they sank into comparative obscurity, rising again as an English noble family. The Courtenays have other claims to hereditary distinctions, for they are descended from Louis le Gros, who was king of France. The families representing the ancient sovereignities of France, Spain, Naples and Parma, still go into mourning on the death of a member of the Courtenay family in honour of their connection with the house of Bourbon—Daily Telegraph, June, 1898.

WILL CROWE WRITES FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM A FORMER CITIZEN.

Business is Dull in the Capital of the Transvaal—Peterborough Men Seem to be Holding Their Own in Spite of the Depression in Trade Circles.

Johannesburg, July 20th, 1898.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—It is now quite a year since you received my former letter, and I came to the conclusion that I should bestir myself and write you again a few lines, but when I sat down to think what I should write about that would interest your readers, I was at a loss, as this city is at a dead standstill. Business is completely paralyzed and any business transacted is on account of the large capital invested. many large concerns have gone to the wall, making it better for these that survive. We are now in our midwinter, and it is very cold, especially in the early mornings. I have seen it as cold as 10 degrees below the freezing point at 7.30 a.m, and to as many degrees above in the same day. This sort of weather a great many people cannot stand, and a lot of sickness prevails, especially smallpox, which is prevalent in our midst at present. The last few days I have been a little off colour myself with a severe cold, which has compelled me to take a few days rest, but as I am of that disposition that I must be doing something I concluded I would write to you and what to write about or my subject or what to write that would interest all parties was what bothered me. Presently I thought I would take a walk up and see the cemetery, or as they generally name it, the City of the Dead, and my subject will be on that, as it is about the only place that is doing a pretty fair business and have plenty of room to spare. People come here from all parts of the world, and likely there are more coming. Let them come, bring them along, there's plenty of room for them—in the cemetery—and as I said before it is about the only place there is room for them as all the factories, stores, mines, banks and poor houses, where the

are helped to live, and the hospitals, where the weary and worn are helped to die, are all filled to overflowing. The asylum for the insane has but few vacant cells, many sensible people having recently gone mad, "and after all is said and done it isn't far to go." And even the cold, narrow streets of this promising city of gold have lost all that was life in them. Everything seems dead. A few days ago, being alone and feeling lonely, I visited the hospital. My spirits were immediately raised. I entered like a lamb and left like a lion, feeling that I had much to be thankful for. Not being in very good trim yesterday I took myself off to the cemetery—that is to say, the cemetery where, according to the inscriptions on the monuments, all the good people are buried, and there I read of many who are "gone, but not forgotten," and thought of the many more who are forgotten, but not gone. The Johannesburg cemetery covers about thirty-five acres and is situated about due north-west of the city and about thirty minutes' drive from the market square. It is quite close to where the great dynamite explosion occurred about two years ago. It has four entrances, the main one being from De Korte street. There are here massive iron gates which swing on huge stone pillars. Passing the superintendent's residence you proceed along a well-kept avenue fully thirty-five feet wide, and before you reach the neat brick office of the secretary, consisting of a comfortable little waiting room on one side and the secretary's office on the other hand, with an archway between and public conveniences and tape for supplying water for the graves at the rear. You come to the conclusion that the cemetery is less cosmopolitan than the city, for in the latter all creeds and all colours live and labour together, but in the former they do not lie together. There is the general cemetery, the Church of England division, the Roman Catholic division, the Nonconformist plot and the Dutch area, with the paupers' strip or field, on one side, and the prisoners on the other. To the north lies the Jewish plot with a very thick, high stone wall built around it, which makes it entirely independent of the rest of the divisions. Further north of this is where the Malays (Mohammenans), are buried, and further away still the Coolies or low-class Indians (Buddhists), Going west further you come to the

or Kaffirs, and east of them the idolatrous Kaffirs, and further east still the heathen Chinese, who by the way still observe the time honoured custom of "feeding the dead," a very interesting ceremony to those who have never witnessed it. Thus every different religion has not only a distinct division but an entirely independent enclosure. The various Christian sects are of course content with different sections in the one ground, but even they show their disinclination to allowing the process of earth to earth and ashes to ashes, to proceed in one common ground in a very pronounced manner, which was shown by the terrible accident that happened one of the mines here last summer, when there were eight men killed by an explosion, seven of whom were Church of England and one a Roman Catholic. The seven were put in a nice plot with a handsome railing, and a monument put up; the other was buried alone in the Roman Catholic plot. Although he had laboured and lived, but not worshipped together, with the rest when it came to the last resting place he had to be parted. The cemetery, I understand, supports itself, but it is controlled by the city council, which body though often negligent of the living, is certainly to be complimented upon its thoughtfulness of the dead. A nice row of trees has been planted along both sides of the main avenue, which in time to come will make an improvement, and several beds of roses and other shrubs and plants have been tastefully laid out. The space devoted to floriculture is too small and as further encroachments are being made thereon it threatens to dwindle away altogether, but this seems about the same in Peterborough cemetery. People appear to be anxious for front seats in a cemetery as well as any other place, and crowd out the place that should be devoted to flowers. Trees also stand round in different reserves. The Australian eucalypti predominating, while pine trees, which shed their wiry leaves as if to remind man of his mortality, and the weeping willows, which seem to droop in sympathy with the sorrowing, are plentiful. In time to come there but more space for flower beds are wanted. The grounds are symmetrically laid out, the avenues and walks are angular and precise. The monuments all face one way and are kept directly in line with each other. All graves are made due east and west, which I was surprised to notice here, that they know a little more than some of our Canadian and American towns do in that respect. Adults and children are buried in alternate rows with regular uniform spaces for double graves, and neat pathways divide the graves which are kept in order by the superintendent and his eight native assistants. The latter also act as grave diggers, and have a distinctness about them, most men begin at the bottom of a ladder and go up, they begin at the top and go down. There are now 7,996 graves of white people, and nearly 3,000 coloured people and not one of them has a neglected appearance. The city council receives £1 10s 0d or $7.29½ for grave of an adult, and £1 or $4 86⅔ for that of a child, (slight difference being made for coloured people), although the ground becomes the property of the relatives who can have it reopened for future interments. The city council plants all flowers and keep them weeded and watered, the friends of course having the privilege of making some additions and seeing that the superintendent carry out their instructions, and vice versa, the superintendent seeing that they pay for them. Corpses from the hospital are buried for 7s 6d, or about $1.85, and those from the gaol, including bodies found in the street or elsewhere and taken to the morgue, are interred free of charge. Very poor people may have the remains of their deceased kindred buried gratuitously. The interments, excluding the coloured people, for the past three months were as follows: May, 315; June, 335; July, up to date, 284, and only about half of the month is in is due to smallpox, which is prevalent at present.

WILL BE NUMEROUS AVENUES,

Graves that have not been improved with railings (which I do not personally term an improvement), or headstones, are not beautified by the autnorities, but shapely mounds are raised and kept free from weeds. Hospital patients, paupers' and prisoners' graves are treated the same way. The other day a penniless Irishman stepped on to an which not receiving the necessary deposit, refused to register, and he stepped off saying: "Thrue for yez; no wealth, no weight in this world." Exactly; but why perpetuate the fact! The unfortunates taking their long last rest beneath those cold looking mounds may have been gentlemen and gentlewoman by birth if not by education, the ties that bind them to life may have been as tender as those that hold the well-to-do: there may have been, may still be, some one to whom they were dear and who long to keep their memory green. But no; there was a wide gulf in life—it is not narrowed even by the grave. Society could not allow it.

The few hundred victims of the dynamite explosion of Feb. 19th, 1896, which happened quite close to the cemetery, are buried therein. In the middle of the cemetery stands a large monument sacred to their memory, suitably inscribed and neatly railed. This was erected by a general subscription. Comparatively little desecration goes goes on in the cemetery. Occasionally coloured children steal flowers and take them to the graves of their departed friends, but artificial wreaths and other emblems of affection remains undisturbed. I have heard of a case that happened above Port Huron in a cemetery, where an individual sold the monument over a debtor's grave, which was recut to suit some other person, and there is only one instance of the same being done here, only the party who took the monument had no right to it whatever. Anyway he took the monument and painted it in loving remembrance of his departed friend and was punished for so doing. Since then there has never been the least thing removed of any account. One class of people here place upon the graves all the medicine bottles, ointment jars, pill bottles, baby feeding bottles, etc., that had been used by the deceased during the final illness, but this practice with a view to its discontinuance. It is very strange to see a Malay funeral. When one of them passes in his checks a few of his friends come to our factory for a few pitch pine boards which must be sound and free from any knots or cracks, two inches thick, and the wider and heavier the more chance you have of getting a good price. Well, you sell him the planks, they put the body on them and cover with a red table cloth. They then get the planks on their shoulders and form up in funeral procession, march a few of the principal streets and thence to the cemetery. There is nothing very slow about them and a stranger would not think it a funeral. They seem to be in a hurry to get their departed friends planted, and plant them in a sitting posture. The Kaffirs are buried sometimes three, four and six in one grave, though always of the same tribe. There is now quite a fuss being kicked up by the white people that such a thing should be allowed. I know if the Kaffirs are as independent when Gabriel blows his horn on the resurrection morning there will be trouble in the camp here. I must confess that I was agreeably surprised when I visited the Johannesberg Cemetery, and I find it to compare very favourably with our own in Peterborough, but hardly so well situated.

As I informed you when I began this letter I was at a loss what to write about to interest your readers. Well, the Peterborough people take a lot of interest in their cemetery, and now it will be almost at its best for the year. This will give them a little idea of our cemetery away down here in South Africa. I hope that I have pleased all, and that you will excuse the subject I picked upon to write of. I would like to send you a letter on the depression existing here at present, and may do so later on. The other day I was enquiring for a good sober, steady mechanic, and got the answer to apply at the cemetery—that they had a few tailors and shoe makers there that were steady men.

If my letter is too long for insertion cut it down to suit yourself. Remember me to all the boys. I remain as ever,

Yours respectfully,
W. H. CROWE.

P.S.—Dr. Brennan still enjoys the best of health, and is prospering. I myself have been a little off colour with la grippe, but hope to be all O.K. in a few days. I have not heard from Jack Smith since he left here for Bulwayo over a year ago, consequently cannot give you any information about him.—W. H. C.

CAN'T EAT.

FOOD is the fuel that feeds the fires of life. Digestion is the process that turns the fuel into energy. Few possess perfect digestion. If your digestion is imperfect, if you cannot eat what you like without discomfort, if you cannot eat when you ought to eat, the time has come when you should take Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Hunger is the best Sauce. Take these Pills and get hungry. You may eat what you want if you take Dr. Ward's Pills.

WHAT THEIR MERITS ARE:

My system was entirely rejuvenated by the use of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I consider them a marvellous strength and nerve builder for dyspepsia. I was so sick and miserable that I seemed to have no life or energy left in me. I suffered so at times that I thought death would be better for me. I had tried Doctors and different kinds of medicines, but all failed to do me any good. I am in every way now a well woman, and have been for months. Before using these Pills I was so sick that I could not keep anything in my stomach. I was under the opinion that dyspepsia could not be cured, but now I am satisfied it can be cured, for I am able to eat like any healthy woman and feel better in every way. They have built me up also,—I now weigh several pounds more than I ever did before. In conclusion, I would advise every woman afflicted with poor digestion to give Dr. Ward's Pills a trial.

MRS. L. E. WATSON, Port Colborne, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

THE BRITISH ARE SORE.

London Press Turns on Lord Salisbury for the Defeat at Pekin—France Supports Russia.

London, Aug. 13.—All the morning papers, including the supporters of the Government, attack Lord Salisbury for weakness in dealing with the Chinese question.

The Daily Chronicle says: "What is to be the result, nobody can say. There is room for the gloomiest forebodings. Does the country realize that for want of a little foresight and firmness Great Britain may ere long be plunged into a colossal war. Such, without the least doubt or exaggeration is the appalling possibility."

The Daily Mail says: "The door is closed. The proudly boasted British lion does not exist in the Yang-Tse Valley, it is a mistake; and, looking to what Lord Salisbury has done in Egypt, his failure in China is inexplicable."

The Standard says: "These repeated humiliations are becoming intolerable."

France Will Back Russia.

Paris, Aug. 13.—The papers are full of the significance of the Chinese question. The Matin says: "In China the greatest game in the world is being played, and French intervention should be efficacious and decisive."

The Soir has a sensational article headed "War Between England and Russia Imminent."

The Journal des Debats says: "England is now seeking an arrangement with Russia. The understanding is impossible unless Russia remains mistress of the north and England is ensured her influence on the Yang-Tse River. In short, the lines of the section are beginning to be marked along with the disruption which would occur whenever China falls to pieces. Clearly neither France, Germany nor Japan could hold aloof from such an agreement."

The article hints that France would support Russia in the event of war, and says in conclusion: "France will be content with the southern provinces bordering on Tonquin."

Prorogued Until Oct. 20.

London, Aug. 13.—The House of Commons met yesterday at 10.30 a.m. A host of questions on the subject of China elicited little information, except that the Government leader, Mr. Balfour, declined to pledge the Government to prevent the ratification of the Franco-Belgian, Pekin-Hankow concession.

But Mr. Balfour promised that in the event of British capitalists purchasing railroad concessions obtained by French or Belgian syndicates in the Yang-Tse-Kiang Valley, Her Majesty's Governments would support and assist them, both in London and at Pekin, in this and in all other legitimate British commercial enterprises.

The China appropriation bill then passed its third reading, and the session was suspended until 2.30 p.m., when Parliament was prorogued.

The Queen's Speech at the prorogation of Parliament among other things stated that relations with other nations continue friendly, and that arrangements had been made to establish at an early date penny postage between the United Kingdom, Canada, Newfoundland and elsewhere. Parliament was formally prorogued until Oct. 20.

THE LIGHTNING

Of Friday Caused Much Damage and Loss in Western Ontario—Port Dalhousie Lighthouse Burned.

Port Dalhousie, Aug. 13.—During the severe storm which swept over the province early on Friday, the large lighthouse on the east pier was struck by lightning and burned down to the pier level.

The lighthouse was built anew in 1895, and had revolving lights and all the latest machinery. The other lighthouse had nothing but a stationary light. Therefore, until it becomes known to the marine men, it will handicap them somewhat to enter the port at night.

The keeper of the lighthouse lost all his books, also a number of tools necessary to keep on hand, together with some personal effects which he also kept when on duty. The season's requirements, with the exception of one barrel of oil, which was stored in the small house, were also destroyed.

The steamer Elvin played a stream of water on the building, but the flames had made too much headway for this to have effect.

Craigville—William Howie's barns, on 9th con. Innisfil, were struck by lightning. His season's crop, about 1,000 bushels of grain, was destroyed. Mr. Howie had a very narrow escape while trying to save his horses. No insurance.

Salem—Hugh Black's barn and all the season's crops were destroyed, involving a loss of $1,500.

Tottenham—Lightning struck the house of Daniel Gavin, con. 5, Tecumseh, and set fire to his barns, all of which were destroyed, with all the crops. Loss heavy; insurance only $800.

Mitchell—Fred Horn, who lives about a mile and a half from here on the Stratford road, lost his barn and almost entire crop by lightning. Insurance $1,400. Thomas Boyd, Township of Logan, also lost his barn and season's crops. Insured for $1,000.

Chesley—Barn of Michael Schroder, Brant Township, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground; also Mr. William Burney's barn, on the same line. Loss heavy.

Whitechurch—Stable belonging to the Methodist parsonage was struck by lightning and totally destroyed. Rev. W. W. Leech lost his new buggy and cutter.

St. Catharines—The lightning, which was very severe, visited G. W. Robertson's farm, in Grantham Township, just outside the city, on Niagara street, and totally destroyed his barn and season's crops. His residence was destroyed by fire some time ago. Mr. Robertson was fortunate enough to get out the live stock. The electric car service was suspended for the greater part of the day, owing to their generators being burned out by the lightning. The rain, which fell in torrents, caused serious washouts in the fruit districts.

Petrolea—Thursday afternoon's storm blew down the tents of Main's circus and upset the animal cages. There was great excitement, but the management managed so energetically that only two or three children were slightly hurt. The canvas of the big tent was badly ripped. Mr. Stewart's barn near here was struck by lightning and consumed. Many shade trees were laid low.

WILL FIRE FOUR DAYS.

A Small But Interesting Budget From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The prize list and programme of matches for the annual meeting of the D.R.A., which will commence on the new Rockliffe range on Monday, Aug. 29, have been curtailed by the executive of the association, so that instead of the matches continuing over the entire week as heretofore, they will last but four days.

Collectors of customs have been instructed that bona fide trade catalogues and price lists of goods for wholesale in any country beyond the limits of Canada, not exceeding three to one address, may be admitted free of customs duty through the mails.

At the Council yesterday the orders necessary to enable Col. Huston, G.O.C., and Major Foster, Quartermaster-General, to draw their pay, and confirming the Imperial appointments, were put through. Col. Huston was also given the temporary and local rank of Major-General.

Mr. Joseph Pope, Under Secretary of State, has been appointed Joint Secretary with Mr. N. Bourassa, M.P., for the Quebec conference.

Killed and Mangled by a Train.

Berlin, Ont. Aug. 10.—A very mysterious accident happened at Breslau, four miles east of here. At an early hour yesterday morning the station agent discovered on the track the body of a young man, which had been horribly cut to pieces by a train. It turned out to be the body of a young man who arrived in Breslau the day before. He drank several glasses of liquor and was seen around by many people. He did not give his name, however, or where he came from. The body has been brought to Berlin, and awaits identification.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

MR. SEMLIN ACCEPTS.

He Will Endeavor to Form a Government in British Columbia.

Vancouver, Aug. 13.—Hon. Robert Beaven, who was called upon by Lieut.-Gov. McInnes to form a Cabinet, has failed, and the political affairs of the province have reached a crisis. In an interview yesterday Mr. Beaven refused to say what he would recommend the Lieutenant-Governor to do under the circumstances, but said that the latter had decided to call Mr. Semlin, the present leader of the Opposition, to form a Ministry. Hon. Joseph Martin is therefore out of the race for the Premiership, for the time being at least. Although Mr. Semlin has accepted the call doubt prevails in some quarters as to whether he will succeed in forming a Government, but local Oppositionists believe nothing will occur to prevent Mr. Semlin from forming a strong Cabinet. It is doubtful if Mr. Martin will accept the Attorney-Generalship under Mr. Semlin.

The future is uncertain, but if you keep your blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla you may be sure of good health.

ERIE & HURON GOBBLED.

Lake Erie & Detroit River R. R. Now in Control.

Chatham, Aug. 13.—The Erie & Huron Railway, which runs from Sarnia to Rondeau, a distance of 74 miles, has passed into the hands of the Lake Erie & Detroit River Railway. The Walker line connects at Blenheim with the E. & H., and it is expected trains will run through from Sarnia to Walkerville, via Chatham. The Michigan Central and L. E. & D. R. R. have been negotiating to get control of the E. & H., but the Walker proved to be the most successful. The selling price is to be $750,000. This road was owned by the Bickford Estate. The papers have all been signed and the L. E. & D. R. R. are now practically in control.

MOTHER! DO NOT DARE

Be Without a Bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in The House.

The Life of your child may some day depend upon it.

Hot weather is a dangerous time for babies and an anxious time for mothers. Fermentation is everywhere active, and the ever present germs of disease multiply rapidly under the influence of heat and moisture.

It's hard to keep the children well, and despite all you can do they may be seized at any time with diarrhœa, cholera or summer complaint. With Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the house you are always safe.

It never fails in the worst cases and is a remedy that over forty years experience has proven to be without an equal for bowel complaints of children or adults. Mr. Chas. Smith, Shoal Lake, Man. writes: "I think Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best medicine that was ever made for diarrhœa, dysentery and summer complaint. It is the best thing to give children when they are teething. I have always used it in our own family and it has never yet failed."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the one remedy that the medical profession would recommend for bowel complaints in preference to all others, as its sterling merits and reliability place it above all others.

North American Life

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.L.A. C.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash..... $5,000.00

2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for..... 8,280.00

3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,050 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, sue policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to-day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Talking it Over.

When a party of middle aged women get together alone, a common theme of conversation is their physical ailments. It would be better if these discussions of the ailments peculiar to women took place twenty years earlier in life. If a little of the prudery of modern society were banished, so that young women talked these subjects over among themselves, there would be less suffering among women in middle life.

Good health is the best endowment that a human being can have. Good general health among women is largely dependent upon good local health in a womanly way. Through ignorance and neglect it has become such an ordinary, common-place thing for women to suffer from weakness and disease of the delicate and important feminine organism, that many women have come to look upon these troubles as an unavoidable inheritance. This is a mistake. All troubles of this nature may be cured in the privacy of the home, without undergoing the obnoxious "examinations" and "local treatment" insisted upon by the average physician. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives health, elastic strength and vitality to the sensitive organs concerned. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and frees from pain. It tones the nerves and builds up the nerve centers. It makes a woman healthy and strong, and thus prepares her for healthy wifehood, capable motherhood and a safe transition at the change of life.

"I want to testify to the great benefit derived from using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. H. Mason, of Strykersville, Wyoming Co., N. Y. "I commenced using it about three months before confinement. With my former confinement I suffered greatly, while this one was comparatively easy, owing to the use of the 'Favorite Prescription.'"

WASTED MANURE.

The Greatest Leak on the Farm — Value of Covered Yards.

"We cannot, in actual practice, apply the manure to crops as we make it, though we would desire to do so. As it is done in actual practice, the manure is thrown out of the stables and generally scattered over the yard to remain until needed or a convenient time comes to haul it out on the land. The sky is the roof, and the rains and snows descend and leach away the very best and most valuable ingredients. Roofed or covered manure yards were not approved of by our older authorities. Even so great an agricultural authority as Professor Storer speaks in a rather deprecatory way of covered manure sheds. Of late there has been a general revision of opinion along this line, since intelligent practice by actual farmers has proved the contrary of the general preconceived opinion.

"Quite a number of experiment stations have investigated the matter and reported some rather startling results. At Cornell the loss varied with the rainfall and other conditions, but ranged up to 62 per cent. The Geneva station reported a loss of 46 per cent, the Kansas station 50 per cent, and the Ohio station about the same. At the Massachusetts station the leachings, though 93 per cent water, were worth $2.94 per ton. Thus I might continue to cite many more instances pointing to the fact that about 50 per cent, or one-half of our yard manure, is annually wasted. The worst part of the matter is that the best half—the half that is readily soluble in water and could be used by the plants immediately—is wasted. The manure made on my little farm was worth over $500, so if carelessly handled and thrown out into the open yard to leach and ferment until the end of the season the loss would foot up at $200 or $250, or, in other words, I would have to purchase plant food ingredients to that amount to replace what passed off in gas or went down stream or into the rocks as leachings. If an item of that size is not worth looking after in these times of close competition, when there are thousands of farms barely holding their own, then I would like to ask how large a leak has to be to demand attention. This can be remedied quite inexpensively by constructing a roof over the yard, or part of the yard, to keep the manure under. The reason such shelters were not recommended in the past is because the manure was not properly handled and would fire fang or burn up from overrapid fermentation."

A writer in Country Gentleman, who has the foregoing to say about what he characterizes as "the greatest leak" on the farm, mentions also the requisites for bringing out manure in the most perfect condition for plant food and soil improvement:

The manure must be composted as it is put on the yard. If the cattle are allowed on it, they will do this to perfection.

All the liquid manure should be incorporated with the solid and the bedding to produce an even and proper fermentation.

Some land plaster should be used in the stable and on the yard to absorb the odors. Dissolved South Carolina rock can be substituted, as it is in fact land plaster with 12 to 14 per cent of available phosphoric acid. Plaster generally costs $6 to $7 per ton, while the dissolved rock can be bought close to seaboard for $10 to $11 per ton, and by using it in this way it balances up the manure better, as it otherwise has an excess of nitrogen, and the phosphoric acid costs only 1 2-3 cents per pound, counting the plaster at $7 per ton. This plaster or rock will capture and hold all the ammonia that might otherwise escape during the process of fermentation.

Manure made and cared for in this way is valuable enough to be applied with care, and four tons per acre properly distributed is sufficient for any ordinary farm crop, and each crop should have about that much, which would make 12 tons in the course of the three year rotation. By using the manure spreader this can be so evenly distributed that each plant will get its share of food, and none will get an overdose. Topdressing is preferable whenever it does not interfere with the tillage of an intercultural crop. By having the manure sheltered we can apply it just when the crop is most in need of it or when most convenient to ourselves. Let us not forget the manure crop while we care particularly for all other crops and tools. Care and shelter here pay as well as with any of the others.

Diseases of Cucumbers, Melons, Etc.

Districts where cucumbers are extensively grown for pickling, notably in Ohio, suffered last year from a disease the symptoms of which were yellowing and spotting of the cucumber leaves, beginning early in August, followed by premature barrenness and death of the vines. Investigations made at the Ohio experiment station have shown that the unusual cucumber losses were almost entirely due to downy mildew, a fungous parasite which attacks most plants of the gourd family, including melons, cucumbers, pumpkins, squashes, etc., and that this disease may be successfully controlled by spraying with bordeaux mixture, making the first application about July 1 and repeating the treatment at intervals of 10 to 14 days. It is estimated that the cost per acre for seven sprayings should not exceed about $8, while the yield may be much increased.

Cucumber anthracnose has also been noted on both melons and cucumbers. It is believed that this disease will be amenable to spraying. Spraying is also recommended for melon and tomato leaf blight.

ANOTHER RISE.

Demand for Cash Wheat Larger Than the Supply—Russian Wheat Crop Fails—The Prices.

Friday Evening, Aug. 12.

Higher cables from Liverpool and reports of the destruction of a great part of the Russian crop, together with a strong cash demand and light receipts at home brought about an elevation in the price of wheat at Chicago to-day. On the Liverpool Board to-day spot wheat was up, and also futures. The September option gained 1⅝d per cental and the December future ⅝d. Paris wheat closed 15 to 25 centimes lower than yesterday.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

HOMESICK.

Write to me very often.
And I greatly long to hear,
For alien hearts are round me
And alien faces near.

Write when the sun is sinking
And the firelight flecks the gloom,
And the mist dims all the window,
And the shadows shroud the room.

Write when the songs that we sang
From other voices come,
When the old, old strains awaken
The thoughts that have long been dumb.

Write to me very often,
For in times of thoughtful pain
I dream that I do what we did
Over and over again.

Write from the cheerless city
In autumn's evening damps,
When the splashing pavements glimmer
With the rain bespattered lamps.

Write from the happy country,
With its grass grown hills and sun,
Where under the moss hung bowlders
The musical rivulets run.

Write to me very often,
For I often think of you,
And the life I lead is lonely
And the friends I find are few.

What We Owe to Hamilton.

The constitution, which is the bulwark of our national existence, was first suggested by Hamilton in his letter to James Duane in 1780, and from that time to its final adoption his advocacy of it never flagged for a moment. It is safe to say that but for Hamilton we might not have had a constitution, but would have remained a mere confederacy of states.—Gunton's Magazine.

BRAIN FAG.

A well-known editor tells how Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured him of this nineteenth century nerve trouble.

"Brain Fag" is a new disease. Our forefathers did not have it. To them the terrible strain on the nervous forces that falls to the lot of business, professional or literary men of the present day was unknown.

Nervous prostration is the goal to which more than fifty per cent. of the brain workers are hurrying. How can it be avoided? How can this new disease be cured? We will allow Mr. J. W. Hey, the genial and able editor and publisher of the Ailsa Craig Banner to answer. He says, "I was suffering from nervousness and impoverishment of the blood and commenced the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, believing from what I had heard and read of them that they were an excellent remedy. My faith in them was rewarded very speedily. They vitalized my blood, strengthened my nerves and restored me to perfect health. I do not consider they have an equal for nervousness, brain fag or nervous prostration produced by overwork."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills always do good. They cure palpitation, faint and dizzy spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, anaemia, after effects of grippe, weakness, debility, etc. Sold by druggists at 50c. a box or three boxes for $1.25. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The steamer North Star, owned by Mr. Geo. McWilliams, and run by Capt. Hamilton, is a fast boat and the daily trips between Peterborough and Gore's Landing are a source of great pleasure to many tired and sick people. The round trip for 50c., including a first-rate dinner at the "Rice Lake House," is a marvel. The proprietor, Mr. Thomas Harris, spares no pains to make his guests feel at home and happy.

Gore's Landing is coming to the front as a pleasure resort. The are two hotels. The "Rice Lake House" is a beautiful new structure, containing thirty rooms, where board can be had at very reasonable rates. The "White House," conducted by Mr. G. Braithwaite, has about fourteen rooms and is a nice resting place. There is a beautifully shaded park adjoining the village, where many are camping at the present time. In the village, in addition to the above, there are two churches (Methodist and Anglican), school, blacksmith shop and general store, where necessaries of any kind may be had at a reasonable price. There is a daily mail and telephone. The North Star and other steamers call daily. The sights all the way down the serpentine Otonabee, including Jubilee Point and the Mounds, are well worth any one's visit.

I have written the above unsolicited by any person, believing it to be in the interest of the public to know how much pleasure can be had in one day for 50 cents. The proprietor and captain of the North Star are gentlemanly and obliging.

Yours truly,

PASSENGER.

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

School will re-open next week, bringing with it great hopes for the education of our youth. To those in particular who have passed successfully their examinations admitting them to the High School, the hope must be greatest.

S.S. No. 1 succeeded in passing Mary E. Brick, under the careful guidance of Miss McCanna, teacher. S. S. No. 4 succeeded in passing four pupils—Minnie Young, Loretta E. Calvin, Muriel Sherbineau and May E. Sullivan, under the direction of Miss J. C. Geary, teacher. May success attend both teachers and pupils in their future high school work, and may Ennismore be honoured by many such successes in educational work.

DESERTED HER HUSBAND.

Antoine Larose Will Paddle His Own Canoe.

Marmora Herald.

Mr. Antoine Larose called at the Herald office on Wednesday and reported that his wife had left town and for which act he was unable to give any justifiable account. It appears that her father, Eli Cook, was living with them and Antwine had given him permission to make that his home. Antwine was working in Rawdon township and on returning home on Saturday night found that his "frow" had made herself scarce. The place had been deserted on Wednesday night and only for the kindness of a neighbour the stock would undoubtedly have starved to death.

Mrs. Larose left the key of the house with Mr. Larose's sister and purported to be going berry picking, but not having returned Mr. Larose is of the opinion that it is a case of desertion.

He will leave for Peterborough in a few days where he will put the case in the hands of the police.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Miss Sherlock and Miss Florence Hall took the solos in the anthem, "The Radiant Morn," last evening in the Charlotte street church.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey was the celebrant at the last mass yesterday in the Cathedral. Rev. Father Scanlon preached at eight o'clock and again at 10.30.

"The Lord is My Light" was the title of the morning anthem in the Charlotte street church yesterday. Miss Florence Hall and Mr. W. J. Squires took the solo parts in good voice.

Rev. P. C. Parker, of the First Avenue Baptist church, Toronto, will speak at the morning, afternoon and evening services in the Park street Baptist church next Sunday. The occasion is the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Sunday school and Mr. Parker has been asked to be present on account of the fact that he was in charge of the Murray street church at the time the Mission Sunday school was organized.

Rev. W. B. Smith, of Charlotte street church, preached in the Mark street church Sunday morning, and in the evening the pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph. B., occupied the pulpit. Both sermons were practical, and were listened to by large congregations.

The trustees of the Mark street church meet at the parsonage this evening at 8 o'clock.

A special meeting of the W.M.S. of the Mark street church will be held at Mrs. Wand's Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to elect a delegate to the convention at Bowmanville.

Good progress is being made in repairing the Mark street church.

A quartette composed of Messrs. Crane Mein, Shelton and Dawson gave a fine rendering of "The Wayside Cross" in St. Paul's church last evening.

Miss Vida Gladman presided most acceptably yesterday, at the Charlotte street church organ in the absence of Miss Stevens.

Mr. Weldon, of Ingersoll, who was in charge of the George street church organ, showed himself to be the possessor of a very pleasing voice, last evening, when he sang a solo. Miss Vina Belleghem played the accompaniment.

Miss Clara Belleghem sang the solo parts in particularly pleasing voice in the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord" in the George street Methodist church last evening.

"Guide me, oh thou great Jehovah" was the title of the solo which Mrs. Chambers sang with so much expression and taste last evening in the George street Methodist church.

A Farmer Killed by an Engine.

Inglewood, Ont., Aug. 15.—About 4.35 Saturday afternoon John Clarridge, a prosperous farmer near here, was struck and almost instantly killed at a crossing on Main street by a northbound Grand Trunk engine. In making the steep grade to the crossing he failed to notice the approach of the engine, and he kept on his way regardless of the engine's repeated whistling and the excited shouts of persons who witnessed the accident. The wagon was completely demolished and the contents scattered in every direction. The horses alone escaped without injury. Dr. Emmerson of Claude was immediately summoned, but when he arrived the unfortunate man was beyond the reach of his skill. The skull had been fractured, the collarbone broken in several places, and a number of ribs broken. After hearing one witness the coroner's inquest was adjourned till Thursday evening, Aug. 18.

THE SECOND READING

Of the Fisheries Bill Passed Without Opposition.

HON. MR. HARDY'S STATEMENT.

The Dominion Government Will Collect the Revenue and Hand It Over to the Province—Two Sets of Officials, However, Will Be Required —Mr. Whitney's Endorsation.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—The House held a brief session yesterday afternoon and advanced the bill relating to the fisheries a stage.

In moving the second reading of his bill, Mr. Hardy explained that since the decision of the Supreme Court, upon which the bill of 1897 had been based, had been greatly altered by the Privy Council, his new bill had become urgent as well as essential. One of the features not upheld by this court of last resort had reference to the rights to take fish with certain implements, and also to the close season. The Privy Council had adjudged the provinces to have control of the bottoms of rivers and lakes, and therefore the right to take out fish rested with his Government. So did the right to impose license fees. The revenue from these licenses was of considerable importance, the Dominion Government having realized from $30,000 to $33,000 per annum therefrom during the last few years. To the Dominion Government, on the other hand, had been declared the right to make regulations as to the close season, and also as to the implements to be used. Certain minor regulations as to the use of the foreshore still rested with the Provincial Government. The fact that the Dominion Government had the right to fix the amount of license to be charged, made a deadlock, he admitted, technically possible, but in the usual course of events actually improbable. No modus vivendi had been arrived at between the Minister of Marine and the Provincial Government. He had simply come to a partial arrangement whereby the Federal Government conceded that they had no right to issue licenses, but were allowed to collect such of this year's licenses as were issued before the decision of the Privy Council had been given.

Two sets of officials to administer the altered law would now be necessary. The Dominion Government would have to appoint officers to see that the regulations were observed, while the Provincial Government would appoint others to protect the fisheries. Upon the high seas and the international lakes and rivers the Dominion Government would still retain controlling power, because in the event of international questions arising they would be held responsible. They would still retain patrol vessels to prevent illegal fishing in such waters, while the Provincial Government would appoint controllers of inland fisheries. The question of official salaries had not yet been decided, though the salaries in the Dominion Department ranged from $3,200 to $650. In the meantime the House was asked to sanction the appointment of a deputy commissioner to organize a new Fisheries Department.

Concluding, the Premier explained in detail the sections of the bill, and added an amendment to the effect that it should go into force immediately upon passing the Legislature. He spoke of the vast importance of protecting the fisheries, an importance which could not be overestimated or too graphically described. He spoke of it as a convenient and healthful means of sustainance to those settling in and opening up a new country, as a means of relaxation to those engaged in every other calling in life.

Mr. Whitney's Endorsation.

The Opposition leader agreed with the Government's idea of the immense importance of the fisheries. He still believed that the matters could have been arranged so that the necessity of a special session would have been precluded. He urged, however, since the present session was a fact, that the bill be considered without haste, and reserved any further remarks till it reached the committee stage.

Mr. Hoyle, as representing North Ontario, a constituency largely interested, congratulated the Government upon getting the decision from the Privy Council, and made a few suggestions. Learning from the Attorney-General that the matter of obstructions came within the power of the Local Government, he urged some restrictions in this matter, especially as the obstructions along the Beaver and Severn Rivers were found an inconvenience to anglers in his riding. People, he thought, should have the opportunity to fish without being compelled to go 15 miles to do so. He also suggested that the game wardens, as not being overburdened with work, might take upon themselves the duties of fisheries inspectors, and avoid the expense of salaries of new appointees.

Mr. Foy wanted the bill consolidated with the Fisheries bill, to which it was an amendment.

Mr. Hardy thought this might involve the elimination of certain clauses, and might deprive the province of possible rights now in dispute.

The bill was then read a second time.

In reply to an inquiry, the Attorney-General stated that he proposed to move his resolution for morning sittings after to-day if there are no serious objections. Mr. Whitney assured the Attorney-General that his opinion was the House would get through just as soon by not holding morning sessions, and the Attorney-General agreed to let the motion stand until another day.

The House then adjourned.

The bill will come up in committee of the whole on Thursday. To-day the Constable bill will be introduced.

CANADIAN DIVORCES.

The Senate Divorce Committee Will Have Something to Do Next Session.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The Senate Divorce Committee will not lack employment next session. Two new notices of application for divorce appear in Saturday's Canada Gazette. They are by David Stock of Toronto, on the ground of bigamy, and by I. S. G. Van Wart of Calgary, on the ground of desertion. Mr. Van Wart states that his wife has married one B. Smith of Oakland, Cal., "according to the laws of the State of California."

Ottawa Street Railway Company employes, at a meeting yesterday, decided to refuse the company's offer of 14 2-7 cents per hour for a 10-hour day. The men will not take anything less than $1.50 per day, and if their demand is refused they will go out on strike.

The statement of circulation and specie for July shows amount of Dominion notes outstanding $23,320,238; specie reserve, $11,955,585; guaranteed and unguaranteed debentures, $19,176,667.

The Cabinet is represented here by Hon. R. W. Scott, the only Minister in town. He is still endeavoring to complete the list of returning officers for the plebiscite.

FOUR BABIES AT A BIRTH.

The Happy Mother Lives in Kingston—Details of the Event.

Kingston, Aug. 15.—On Sunday forenoon Mrs. W. Bowman of Upper Colborne street, gave birth to four children, one of them, a girl, being stillborn. There were two boys and two girls. The boys are active and of good size. The episode has created great interest. Mrs. Bowman is a daughter of Sergeant Culhane, 5th Field Battery, and was born in Hyderabad 25 years ago.

The babies were baptized Sunday. The boys are James St. Vincent and Michael James. The girl is called Mary. Rev. Father O'Brien christened them. Mrs. Mayor Livingston was a caller, and left a $5 bill.

The infants when placed on the scales yesterday weighed 16¾ pounds, the individual weight being four and three-quarters, four and one-quarter and three-quarter pounds. The latter was the weight of the dead girl.

Blair Inquest at Carleton Place.

Carleton Place, Ont., Aug. 16.—The coroner's jury met yesterday. Only two witnesses were examined, who testified that they had seen Blair when coming off the train the evening before his death, apparently in his usual health. The inquest was then adjourned for two weeks, to Aug. 29.

Dewey Was Struck by an Express.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 16.—Frederick Dewey, locomotive foreman of the Michigan Central Railroad at Montrose, was walking on the track, from the yards to the junction, when he was struck behind the head and killed instantly, although the engineer tried to attract his attention by whistling. He seemed not to notice it. Mr. Dewey was about 70 years of age. He leaves a wife, who is at present visiting relatives in Chicago.

Killed in the Klondike.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—A letter received in the city announces that Francois Marlean, son of Napoleon Marlean of Hull, has been suffocated to death while digging a claim in the Klondike. He was overcome by the gas. He left for the gold fields about two years ago, and is supposed to have accumulated considerable wealth.

Governor of New Guinea.

London, Aug. 16.—The Queen has approved the appointment of Mr. George Ruthven le Hunte, C.M.G., Colonial Secretary of Mauritius, to be Lieutenant-Governor of British New Guinea, in succession to Sir William MacGregor, M.D., K.C.M.G., C.B., who is retiring from that office.

THE CUBAN QUESTION

Uncle Sam Seems to Have His Hands Very Full.

CUBANS FOMENTING TROUBLE.

Disbanding of Cuban Army Agreed Upon by a Secret Meeting of American Commanders and Cuban Leaders—$15,000,000 Will Be Required for Insurgent Soldiers' Back Pay.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The reconstruction of affairs in Cuba, Porto Rico and throughout the Spanish West Indies is receiving earnest consideration in official quarters, and at the White House yesterday the President saw a number of prominent callers in connection with this reconstruction in our new insular dependencies.

General Fitzhugh Lee spent some time with the President, going over the conditions of Cuban affairs. While no announcement was made, the impression prevailed that General Lee would be one of the Cuba military commissioners, to be named within a few days.

ALREADY TROUBLESOME.

One Class of Cubans Who Will Not Recognize the Armistice.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 16.—Trouble with the Cubans is breeding. Their attitude is one of sullen hostility towards America. The better class in Cuba favor the annexation of the island to the United States, and a majority of the masses are ready to work and accept the shelter and protection afforded by an American protectorate; but they are influenced by a certain class of rabid orators and breeders of sedition and rebellion against anything smacking of law and order. This inflammatory class demands and urges the recognition of Cuba for Cubans and spurns all offers or suggestions tending to prosperity under an American protectorate and excites popular discontent.

Their advice to the Cubans is to repudiate all offers of peace or a cessation of hostilities, and to look upon the armistice as an agreement between the United States and Spain on their own account and not binding upon the free and independent state of Cuba, whose liberati army not only repudiates pacification, but will ignore the armistice to the point of continuing to wage war and shooting every Spaniard in the field.

Uncle Sam Will Have to Pay Them.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 16.—A secret meeting was held last night at the Palace between the commanding officers of the American army and the Cuban leaders. The strictest secrecy was maintained, but it can be said with good authority that General Garcia was present. The meeting lasted one hour and a half. The information obtained is to the effect that the Cuban situation was thoroughly reviewed, and that it was resolved to disband the Cuban army, and that the United States should pay the men off. This involves the expenditure of $15,000,000, but it is most important to the prosperity of the island, whose wealth is entirely agricultural, nobody, planter or farmer, daring to cultivate his lands while insurgents are in the field, raiding and burning.

BLANCO HAS RESIGNED.

He Did Not Wish to Superintend the Evacuation of Cuba.

Madrid, Aug. 16.—The Government has received from Captain-General Blanco a despatch tendering his resignation. The reason given by General Blanco for resigning is that he does not wish to superintend the evacuation of Cuba. The Government is also informed that General Augusti, Governor-General of the Philippines, will leave Manila for Spain by the first mail steamer, giving his command to the second rank.

The next Cabinet Council will consider the question of summoning the Cortes. Senor Sagasta, the Premier, is hopeful that the Ministers will be agreed upon this point.

MANILA HAS FALLEN.

A London Business House's News Confirmed From Madrid.

London, Aug. 16.—The Westminster Gazette says it has received from a London business house a report that Manila has fallen. The report comes from the firm's Hong Kong agent.

Confirmed From Madrid.

Madrid, Aug. 16.—According to La Correspondencia de Espania, the surrender of Manila occurred after the last attacks made upon the city.

Reign of Terror at Madrid.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—A Record special from Madrid says:

A perfect reign of terror prevails here. The editors of several Republican newspapers have been thrown into prison and others have sought safety in flight.

The impending revolution is slow in coming, but when it does come all the authorities now occupying the scene will fall without resistance. They are utterly incapable of defending their position.

Shipment of Spanish Soldiers.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 16.—The Spanish steamer Isla de Luzon sailed yesterday morning for Spain, having on board 2,136 Spanish soldiers. The Isla de Panay will probably sail to-day.

Rough Riders Returned.

New York, Aug. 16.—The Rough Riders are home. With Col. Theodore Roosvelt and Fighting Joe Wheeler they have reached Montauk Point. They came on the transport Miami.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE first division in the Ontario Legislature demonstrates that Mr. Hardy is in the saddle for a four years' canter at least. Now, Mr. Whitney challenges him to dissolve the House and bring on a new election. This is child's play.

MR. WHITNEY charged Mr. Hardy, in regard to the constable question, with having crawled under the barn. Mr. Whitney had the manliness to voluntarily withdraw the expression, which was evidently made from the fulness of the heart. The Opposition mind runs so strong on farm animals, such as calves with coughs, sick pigs and high-priced rams, that agricultural phraseology and metaphor bubble out spontaneously.

CANADA'S prosperity is reflected in the postoffice savings bank returns for the past year. In that period the number of banks increased from 779 to 814, number of depositors from 161,151 to 179,814, the amount on deposit from $8,223,000 to $9,183,693, and the individual average credit from $238.55 to $242.47—and this despite an aggregate reduction of interest from $1,024,511 to $982,725. The withdrawals for 1898 were $8,853,188 and in 1897, $7,655,086.

Objection is made in some quarters that Canada's new Governor-General has not had much experience as a statesman. He will do very well for us nevertheless Canada happens at present to be governed by statesmen and there is not so much need of an experienced statesman at Rideau Hall as if we were governed by politicians. Lord Aberdeen had considerable experience as a statesman and that very fact accounts for circumstances that makes our Conservative politicians subordinate their loyalty to their hatred.

MUCH reason for congratulation is to be found in the August crop bulletin, now in course of preparation in the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Fall wheat throughout the Province is one of the best crops ever harvested; spring wheat is considerably above the average. Barley is generally a good crop, while the quality is satisfactory; and the hay and clover yield is 50 per cent. above the average. These conditions should more than compensate for the drawbacks which are mentioned. The oat crop is only an average one. That of pease is a little below the average, and flax is only a middling crop, all three having suffered from the July frosts and following drought. The apple crop is light, owing to heavy showers while the trees were in blossom, and from the operations of insects. The outlook for roots is favourable if the dry spell, which has already been broken in this locality, does not continue in other sections of the Province.

SIR SIDNEY FISHER and Prof. Robertson were recently banqueted by the Provision Merchants' Association of Bristol, England. They set forth Canada's claims on British markets in excellent speeches, and the merchants who spoke were enthusiastic over Bristol's associations with Canadian trade. Mr. W. A. Titley, who submitted the toast "Success to the Bristol Trade with Canada," pointed out that in 1895 the provisions from Canada to Bristol were 27,695 tons; in 1896, 37,127 tons, and in 1897, 44,121 tons. In 1897 London imported 850,846 boxes of cheese; Bristol, 551,786 boxes; and Liverpool 417,175. Of butter, in 1897, Bristol imported 116,397 packages; London 53,684; and Liverpool 30,749. Mr. Titley added, that they used to get good cheese from New York, but now there was a little sentiment, and they tried to improve. The average of Canadian cheese and butter, he said, was better than the average of English produce; but they were able to make cheese a little finer than as yet they in Canada could do, and they would continue to do so, and to turn out a finer Cheddar than they could make in Canada.

THE New York Times announces that keen resentment has been excited all through the south by the implied reflection upon the healthfulness of that part of the country which its residents see in the decision of the government to send north practically every regiment that has been encamped among them. Some of the States which pride themselves on being the resort of invalids and tourists are up in arms and the local press is fierce in its denunciations, and one Florida paper refers to the action of the government as "conspiracy." This is a rift in the lute and it is to be taken in connection with other circumstances to indicate that the problem of homogeniety of the population of the United States has not yet been solved. The chasm between the North and South has, it is feared, not been permanently bridged, and though the "bloody shirt" is not waved, yet it simply hangs on the line in the back yard, ready for use if necessary. All of which means that the old-time spirit of hostility of early days, the hostility intensified by the war of the rebellion, has not yet been laid and that at heart Southerners still heartily hate and despise the Yankee.

OUR BUTTER IN BRITAIN.

Big British dealers now assert that they are able to sell Canadian butter at as high a price as has hitherto been obtained for the Danish product, which has had the preference for years. Canadian butter is really excellent value, the English experts say, and it is the most profitable article on the market to-day, the packing and general get-up being highly complimentary to our shippers. This result has been brought about by the creamery system, which ensures a greater uniformity of good quality than was obtainable when each farmer made his own product at home. Everything is to be said in favour of the creamery and the enlightened method of breeding and feeding dairy stock and treatment of the milk, which has accompanied the growth of the creamery system.

CANADIAN FRUIT FOR ENGLAND.

The Canadian Grocer reports a good opening for Canadian raspberries in Great Britain. An experimental shipment of five carloads is being made, the berries being packed in 10-pound round tins. Large quantities of berries from New England are annually imported by the British, and there is no reason why Canadians should not share the market. The Grocer truly says the development of such an industry would leave thousands of dollars in the hands of the farmers and country merchants. Those who have taken up land in new districts where wild raspberries chiefly abound, will find them a most valuable source of income at a time when a few dollars are most needed.

RUSH FOR THE YELLOW METAL.

Rich Placer Diggings Have Been Found on Pine Creek, Northwest Territories —1,000 Miners Thitherward.

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 10, via Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—What is regarded as an important discovery of rich placer diggings is reported to have been made on Pine Creek, a small stream emptying into Atlin Lake, a feeder of Lake Tagish. The discovery is located in the Canadian Northwest Territory.

The news has caused a great stampede from Juneau and other southeastern Alaska points, and it is estimated that at least 1,000 prospectors have started for the locality.

Walker Carter, who has just returned here from the diggings, says: "I saw four men shovel in twenty-six ounces in two days, one pan from bed rock containing four dollars. This was on Discovery claim. Pine Creek is about fifteen miles long and will average 75 feet in width. The current is very rapid. The diggings are what is known as bar diggings or summer placer. Discovery claim is about eight miles from the mouth of the creek. The bed-rock is only five feet from the surface, and is of a slate formation. Miller, who discovered the mine two years ago and left it dormant, now has five men at work shoveling into sluice boxes, and he pays $12 a day each, settling every night with dust taken from the boxes.

"The men are taking out $60 a day to the man. Captain Strickland of the Canadian Mounted Police and several other men are already on the ground and have staked claims for themselves and reserved the Government claims. When I left 38 claims had been located, and the balance of the creek is reserved by the Canadian Government. When I was coming out to Juneau, I met a large lot of prospectors going into every bay along Tagish Lake trying to find the spot which they had heard of, but whose location they did not know."

Hon. Joseph Martin Accepts the Attorney-Generalship.

MR. MARTIN ON HIS REFUSAL.

Everything Now Appears to Be Plain Sailing for Mr. Semlin and the New Ministry—Local Politics of the Pacific Province May Simmer Down to Grit and Tory.

Vancouver, Aug. 16.—The Opposition at present shows unbroken ranks. Mr. Semlin is to be Premier, Mr. Martin Attorney-General, Mr. Cotton Minister of Finance. Mr. Semlin will also take the Agricultural Department, and Messrs. Foster and Green of Kootenay are spoken of at this writing as the other two who will accept positions to make the complete Cabinet. This leaves Vancouver Island, which has controlled the province since Confederation, completely out.

Mr. Martin, interviewed, said: "After I had refused Mr. Semlin's first offer of the Attorney-Generalship, I was waited on by a number of Opposition members of the House, who urged me, if possible, to meet Mr. Semlin's views, so that the opportunity of the hour might not be lost. Finally, I came to the conclusion that the only course I could pursue was to accept Mr. Semlin's offer. In doing so I have the entire approval of Messrs. Foster, Dean, Ralph, Smith and all Opposition members-elect."

Messrs. Semlin, Martin and Cotton were yesterday afternoon sworn in as members of the Council.

A great many people here seem to think that the politics of this province will now simmer down to a clear case of Grit and Tory, and that future contests will be fought on these lines. People on both the island and the mainland are heartily sick of sectionalism, which they think is due to the present complicated condition of affairs.

The Province (Opposition), after referring to Mr. Semlin's strong Cabinet and the fact that the Opposition party is harmonious, says: "It is necessary to put matters thus plainly to set at rest reports in circulation regarding the differences of opinion in the Opposition ranks, and assure the friends of the party that there is no friction or unpleasantness. Everything is harmonious and serene. It will be found that the Opposition will have no difficulty in organizing a Ministry that will prove acceptable in carrying on the business of the country."

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash $5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for 8,280.00
3rd or take the profits in cash 2,080 25
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, as a policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

CRIMINALS CAPTURED.

The Johnson Family of Counterfeiters at Last in the Law's Clutches—Caught on Canadian Soil.

Detroit, Aug. 16.—David Henry Johnson, the youngest of the four Johnson brothers, notorious counterfeiters, was arrested early yesterday morning at the house of Joseph J. Wetherald, farmer, living two miles from Blenheim, Essex County, Canada. Johnson was looked up at police headquarters at Windsor.

He was the third of the family to be arrested in this city within the last week. Two of the other brothers, Charles and Edmund, were arrested here Friday. The fourth brother, John, alias "Shang," Johnson, is in Kingston Penitentiary, Canada.

Young Johnson is known to the police and secret service as the most dangerous man in this country, and the whole family were artists in their line. The man arrested yesterday eluded even suspicion for the last 10 years. The official secret service says there is positive proof that David Johnson, though only 35 years old, was the author of counterfeit bills in 1888, and the authorities have been looking for the man who did this job ever since the bills first came into circulation. The bills in question are $2 notes, with heads of Hancock and Windom. The counterfeit Hancock note came out 10 years ago. The difference between it and the original is in the signature and in the vignette. The discrepancy is so small that many experts have been fooled. The Windom $2 note was issued Aug. 4, 1891, and the imitation was discovered in 1893.

The detective force of this city has been looking up evidence against the Johnsons for a long time. More than three months ago they went to work and the first point scored was the arrest of Charles and Edmund. Saturday last the house in which David had been living was searched, and a hollow place behind the base board bedroom panel was removed, touching a spring, and showing a small cabinet. Detectives found in here plates and other apparatus for making counterfeit money; also between $7,000 and $10,000 in counterfeit notes. A letter was found in the house giving information of the death of Wetherald of Blenheim, who is a relative of the Johnsons. Detroit officers, with Officer Mahoney, visited Blenheim, and Mahoney made the arrest. Johnson was very obstinate, but was finally taken to Windsor, and says he will fight extradition to the last. In searching the house of the other brothers, the officers found a large number of dies and colorings. The arrests are regarded as of the utmost importance. Washington authorities connect the Johnsons with the issue of a number of other bills, including $100 silver certificates, which are among the best counterfeits ever turned out. Treating notes with glycerine gives them the appearance of having been used. Johnson is married and has two children. He lived in Detroit more than a year under the guise of a traveling agent.

David Henry Johnson, youngest of the four Johnson brothers, was arraigned before Commissioner Bartlett of Windsor yesterday and decided to come across without extradition papers.

LATTER DAY SLAVES.

Slaves of the Stomach are Doomed to a Miserable Lot.

From Which Only Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Can Rescue Them—But This Remedy is Positive in its Cure—It Never Fails.

Slavery, in its original form, has been abolished in all civilized nations.

But slavery of a more horrible form, slavery that means continual, unceasing suffering, ended only by a lingering and miserable death, still exists, wherever civilization holds sway.

The Slaves of the Stomach form a large proportion of the population of our country.

And the stomach is a more tyrannical master than any old-time slave-holder could be.

Ask any victim of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Heartburn, Flatulence, Headache, Waterbrash, Constipation, etc., what his lot is.

He will tell you that "Life is a burden." He would give much to learn how he could escape from his bondage.

Yet escape is easy.

The use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for a short time will break the chains of any slave of the stomach and give him perfect freedom.

It is needless to describe the symptoms of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, etc. Every victim know them, only too well.

It is of more interest to know what will cure his disease.

That information is given here.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—and they only—will cure Dyspepsia, etc.

They are absolutely certain in their result. They always cure.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 50 cents a box, (each box containing full double treatment) six boxes $2.50, or sent on receipt of price, by The Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders are easy to take, harmless in action and sure to cure any headache in from 5 to 20 minutes.

DECREASE IN VISIBLE.

Wheat Stocks as Changed From a Week Ago—A Drop in Cash Wheat—Prices.

Monday Evening, Aug. 15.

To-day's statistics showed last week's decrease in the American visible supply to have been a large one for this time of the year, but the freer offerings of new wheat in the West and a break in cash wheat caused some weakness in futures on the Chicago board. The decline at the close was about ½c per bushel, as compared with Saturday's last figures.

In Liverpool wheat futures declined ¼d per cental. Paris markets closed for the holiday.

English visible supply of wheat decreased 3,120,000 bushels the past week.

Visible Supply.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has decreased 1,357,000 bushels, that of corn has decreased 1,903,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 271,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 25,217,000 bushels, against 30,014,000 bushels a week ago and 31,886,000 bushels a year ago.

MONUMENT TO WOLFE TONE.

Dublin Puts on Holiday Clothes in Honor of the Great Irishman.

Dublin, Aug. 16.—The whole city is en fete in connection with the laying of the foundation stone of the monument in memory of Wolfe Tone. Delegates are in attendance from the United States, Australia, South Africa, France and Italy. There was an immense procession to the site of the monument. A memorial car, containing the foundation stone, which was decorated with flags presented by the Daughters of Erin '98 Association of New York City, preceded the procession.

On the return of the Belfast contingent to that city at 11 o'clock last night a fierce conflict ensued between the contingent and a hostile crowd, which had gathered, and was awaiting their arrival. Stones and other missiles were thrown and many persons were slightly injured, and a number of windows were broken.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

BEAT IT IF YOU CAN.

The best trip of the Civic Holiday—one that will combine pleasure with a rest—will be that offered by the North Star. Take this popular steamer in the morning down the river to Gore's Landing for dinner. Then after dinner sail up Rice Lake, past Idyl Wild to the Serpentine Mounds. Then will follow the sail home in the evening. The boat leaves here at 9.15 a. m. and returns at 7.30 p. m. The return fare, including dinner, is only 50 cents. This is a day's outing that cannot be beaten for cheapness or pleasure.

HIT HIM WITH A WEIGHT.

A Spirited South Ward Woman Lays Out a Man Who, She Says, Insulted Her.

A rather peculiar case was ventilated in the police court this morning, when John McGill brought a charge of assault against a woman residing in the South Ward. The assault was proven, McGill having been struck by a weight. The magistrate informed the complainant that he did not get as much as he deserved in being struck, and hinted that a horsewhipping would have been appropriate under the circumstances. As a breach of the law, however, had been committed, a nominal fine of $3 and costs was imposed.

The circumstances of the case were that defendant heard McGill was "keeping company" with a young lady, also a resident of the south end, and knowing that he was a married man, she went to the girl's mother and informed her of the fact, telling her also that the deserted wife lived in Kingston and had written to her asking the whereabouts of her husband, whom she stated was not contributing to her support.

The girl's mother was thankful to receive the information, but the daughter, who knew of the wife, was very indignant that the affair should be made a matter of comment, and when she ran across McGill accompanied him to the defendant's grocery where the latter proceeded to "call her down" for her action. When the girl stated that, although she had been going with McGill she knew at the same time that he was married, defendant cried "shame" and ordered the pair out of the shop. On the request not being complied with she picked up a couple of weights off the counter. Just then McGill asked her why her husband did not live at home and stated probably she was deserted for the same reason that he left his wife. Defendant considered this an insult and let fly a two pound weight which caught McGill in the ear and made the blood fly. McGill drew a revolver but did not use it.

The magistrate held that in speaking to the girl's mother about McGill, the defendant had only done what was proper and right, but that a mistake had been made when she lost her dignity and threw the weight, which if it had caught McGill on the temple might have killed him.

Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the defence and Mr. E. B. Stone represented the complainant.

A SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST A PHYSICIAN.

ACCUSED OF THE CRIME OF PRODUCING AN ABORTION.

The Case Taken up in the Police Court This Morning—Evidence of Dr. Halliday and Dr. Boucher—The Hearing Adjourned.

At the police court this morning H. Pigeon, M.D., was charged with having unlawfully used an instrument, called a sound, with intent to procure an abortion in the case of one Catharine Johnson. Through his counsel, Mr. Stone, he declined to elect in what manner the charge should be tried—summarily or otherwise.

Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the Crown.

The first witness examined was

Dr. Halliday, who testified that he was called on Thursday, August 11th, between three and four o'clock in the afternoon, to see Catharine Johnson, at 260 Reid street. He was summoned by telephone. At the house he saw Catharine Johnson and two women, whom he subsequently learned were the girl's mother and sister-in-law, and a priest, Rev. Father O'Sullivan. The girl was in bed down stairs. He found her in an excited condition, and feverish, and there was a very bad odour in the room about the bed. He questioned the patient. She told him that she had had an operation performed to procure an abortion—on Thursday morning. She said it was done in Dr. Pigeon's office or house. She said he used an instrument. She said she had considerable pain in the uterine region. Her temperature was 100 3 5 and her pulse 120. Witness made an external examination. He found the uterus distended and tenderness in the abdomen. He judged that the girl was about four months advanced in pregnancy—judging from the size of the uterus from an outward examination. He told the priest that he wanted another physician called. Dr. Boucher came and the witness made a vaginal examination and found a fœtus presenting, which was removed without difficulty; the associated membranes, etc., coming away also. Decomposition had set in in the fœtus and membranes. Witness thought that the uterine contents had been disturbed two or three days previously. He went on to describe minutely the conditions he found, including a perforation in the placental membrane. He could not say positively whether these conditions were produced by natural causes or by external violence. There was no diseased condition to account for the results described. There was nothing to show that the birth was natural and nothing but the fact of its having taken place to show that it was unnatural. His subsequent attendance upon the girl furnished no evidence of the miscarriage having been produced by artificial means. The membranes were particularly perfect. The girl was now in the hospital. She showed some signs of blood poisoning, high temperature and quickened pulse.

To Mr. Stone—The high temperature and quickened pulse are not always usual after a case of the kind in question. He had attended many similar cases and could not always tell the cause. In this case different causes might have produced the results and all the conditions described might have been present without an operation having been performed.

To the Magistrate—The girl was apparently about 26 years of age.

To Mr. Stone—Such conditions are often the result of over-exertion or the act of the woman herself.

Dr. Boucher testified that he was called in consultation with Dr. Halliday on Thursday, August 11th, to see Catharine Johnson. Heard Dr. Halliday's evidence and agreed with what he said. It would be impossible from what was seen to pronounce as to the cause of the miscarriage.

To Mr. Stone—From what I saw it would be impossible to tell if the miscarriage was brought about by artificial means. They are often brought about by various causes. Witness supposed that under such circumstances girls often told misleading stories. All the conditions present might have been there if an operation had not been performed.

To Mr. Wood,—The conditions were not natural—not the conditions he would expect to find if the miscarriage had been produced in the natural way. He was not prepared to say what caused the opening in the placental membrance. It might be thought have been there a day or two. This opening would bring about the results that took place.

To Mr. Stone.—The conditions witness found might have been present without artificial means.

At this stage Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, father and mother of Catherine Johnson, were called and not appearing, Police Constable Adams testified that he had served summons upon them and as they did not appear warrants were issued to compel their attendance.

The hearing was adjourned till four o'clock to permit of Catharine Johnson's evidence being taken at the hospital.

William Hayes was arraigned, charged with counselling Catherine Johnson to procure an abortion, and pleaded not guilty. Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared on his behalf.

The indications are that the play off with Orillia will take place on Tuesday, August 23rd, at the Toronto Island. The local team, which goes to Rochester on Thursday with the Oddfellows, will have to keep in training while away. This is left as a matter of honour amongst the boys, and with the championship within their grasp it is to be hoped that they will not throw their chances away by indulging in late hours whilst across the border.

A telegram has just been received ordering the tie game with Orillia for the District Championship to be played at Toronto, on Tuesday next, August 23rd.

TO BEAT HOTEL MEN.

A Scheme in Which the C.O.D. Express Parcel Figures.

(Belleville Sun.)

Mr. John F. Baird has unearthed a very ingenious scheme for beating hotels. On August 9th he received a letter written on the letterhead of Goldstein, Gormaly, Jones & Co., of 69 Broadway, New York, stating that the writer would be in the city in a few days and that his watch, which had been injured and was being repaired, would be forwarded C. O. D. from Toronto. He requested that the parcel be kept until his arrival. The letter was signed "Frank A. Chase, with G., G., J. & Co." The parcel came on August 10th and was refused by Mr. Baird, who had discovered that similar parcels had been sent to Picton and Deseronto. He telephoned the Hotel Aberdeen at Trenton, and found they had received a parcel and letter. The Trenton letter was signed Frank Warren and the parcel was addressed to the same party. The parcel was opened and found to contain tin foil. Mr. Baird, to protect hotelmen, telephoned the Toronto police to be on the lookout for the swindler. The game is to send out a number of such parcels C.O D., putting the amount at perhaps $1 to $3 and all purporting to come from the Globe Jewellery Co. The cash would then be collected by the wily beat and he could quietly leave for fresh pastures.

Mr. S. Curry received a letter similar to the one to Mr. Baird, but signed "Clarence Milburn." He paid $2 to the expressman and kept the box to await its owner's arrival. It was opened and found to contain tea lead.

THAT NAPANEE ROBBERY.

("Society" in Events.)

The trial of the suspects in the Napanee bank robbery is absorbing a large amount of the public attention these days. The story told by the prisoner Pare is a remarkable one, and is so finished in every detail that it is almost too good to be true. The man's reputation is such that the tale will require so much backing up, that the detectives might as well have made out a case independent of anything he had to say. So far, there is nothing to shake faith in the innocence of Ponton, who does not seem to have been connected with the robbery in any way, unless Pare's confession is to be taken as proof of his complicity. The Crown claims to have evidence to back Pare up in this, that and the other statement, but so far as I have heard, it does not seem to have anything to connect Pare and Ponton, except Pare's statement. True, it is said that there are witnesses who will swear to having seen Pare coming down the stairs from Ponton's quarters, but it will be necessary for the Crown to prove that Ponton was in his room at the time. A man as expert as Pare in getting in and out of banks and bank vaults, would have no trouble in getting in and out of a man's room during his absence. Then, none of the stolen money has been found on Ponton, nor has it been claimed that he was in debt, or in such pressing need of funds that he would hire crooks to rob the bank that he might have robbed on his own account, and with a much better show of getting off. As far as the evidence already taken goes, Ponton is not in much danger. No one would believe a man of Pare's character without the strongest kind of corroborative evidence. He is so sure of everything that one is inclined to believe that he learned the whole story that he told the court as a school boy learns his lessons. It is too bad that the Crown has to build so largely on his evidence, which is certainly not of a disinterested character. Future developments will be watched with interest, and the wish of all right thinking people will be that justice will be vindicated, let the guilty ones be whom they may.

Whether or not young Ponton be guilty of aiding in the robbery of the Napanee bank in which he was employed is of little moment beside the fact that he has become the popular hero of the town, and all the girls in it are going wild about him. They do not seek to know whether he had a hand in the affair, and do not seem to care if he had. It has become the rage to rave over him, and the honest young men of the town, the ins and outs of whose private quarters have not been made the gossip of the street as described by a noted crook, are completely ignored by these gushing belles. I am not one who would blame them for sympathizing with the young man if he is wrongly accused, but cutting his photographs out of the newspapers to ornament their hats, and gushing over him in the way they are said to be doing is going beyond all bounds. While women persist in carrying their sentiments to such extremes, they cannot hope to win respect for any views they may entertain on such questions, for instance, as prohibition. Most people will be inclined to think that that too is a mere matter of gush, and there is no fixed principle behind it.

Meanwhile, however, Ponton is to envied for I am told that Napanee has some very pretty girls, and that any fellow would rob a bank or ten banks, if by so doing he could win their favour and bask in their smiles. Society indeed has reached a bad state when all a man has to do to win the favour of its fair is to have himself accused of some daring crime. If the thing goes on it is likely to make robbers of us all out of sheer desperation. No fellow who has the proper spirit of gallantry is going to be left out in the cold for the small matter of cracking a safe or walking off with a cash box.

THE HALIBURTON MINE.

A STAMP MILL WILL BE IN OPERATION SHORTLY.

Exceptionally Favourable Mining Conditions—The Quality of the Ore Improving at Every Blast—Assays Show $10 to $15 to the Ton, While $2.50 Would Pay a Profit.

Everything is running smoothly at the new mine near the village of Haliburton at present, and every foot shows up better quality of ore and higher values of gold and copper. An immense cutting has been made in the face of the mine at a point about 100 feet from the top. The cutting is about fifty feet in height and thirty-five feet from the face. At this point a shaft fifteen by eight feet is being sunk to the depth of fifty feet for the purpose of examination. The shaft is at present down to thirty feet, and shows up a better quality at every blast.

An idea of how easily this mine may be worked may be taken from a single blast, which consisted of about one lb. of dynamite and exploded in a mass of four cubic yards : the amount of ore blown out by the explosion was estimated at fifteen tons. This, at 31c. per lb. for dynamite and four hours' work, representing $3.75 for labour, places the cost at four dollars for fifteen tons or approximately 30 cents per ton for mining. However, the mining engineers in charge estimate (at the highest) to mine this ore at a dollar per ton, which, with 35c for milling, would make this mine pay if it only runs $2.50 to the ton. The latest assays show ten to fifteen dollars to the ton on the average. The company have directed Mr. Keith to purchase a stamp mill immediately, and it is expected that it will be in active operation in about two months.

The mine is at present in a condition to deliver 100 tons of ore per day, so that it is a mere matter of getting the stamp mill there and up, when the mine will be in a paying condition.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

The Top Price of the Year Obtained Monday Morning.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Lindsay cheese board was held Monday morning. President Thos. Robertson and the other officers were present, also Buyers Whitton, Cook, Flavelle and Fitzgerald.

The following factories boarded the number of cheese placed opposite :

Star	100
Lorneville	40
Cameron	88
Dunsford	90
Mariposa	80
Cambray	90
Janetville	77
Omemee	127
Fenelon Falls	78
North Verulam	80
Minden	48
Leaskdale	76
Valentia	83
North Ops	76
Pine Grove	55

Palestine	115
Red Rock	145
Oakwood	48
Little Britain	50
Sutton	50
Ingoldsby	—
Manchester	—
Derryville	—
	1,934

When President Robertson called for bids Mr. Fitzgerald promptly set the pace by offering 7½ for the first selection. Mr. Flavelle raised to 7⅝c, Mr. Whitton to 7¾c, and Mr. Cook followed with a bid of 7 13 16c. Mr. Fitzgerald was still in the ring, however, and his limit warranted him in offering 7 7 8c, which was not bettered. He called Star, Mariposa, North Ops, Bobcaygeon, Oakwood, Cambray and Cameron, all accepted, the total being 634 boxes.

Mr. Whitton offered a further selection, and named Janetville, Omemee, Fenelon Falls, North Verlam, Minden, Valentia, Reaboro, Maple Leaf, Palestine, Red Rock, Sutton and Little Britain, making 1,320 boxes in all. Leaskdale boarded, but the salesman did not arrive.

The cheesemen were jubilant over the high price obtained, as the condition of the market and the large number of cheese being held in Montreal had prepared them to accept a lower figure than that obtained.

REFILLING APOLLINARIS OF BOTTLES.

On July 8th, William J. Verner, of Richmond street, west, Toronto, was charged before the Police Magistrate with unlawfully selling and having in his possession for sale goods to which a false trade description, namely, Apollinaris, was applied. The actual offence of which he was accused was that of refilling Apollinaris bottles bearing genuine labels with the intent that the same should be taken to contain genuine Apollinaris which is bottled only at the Spring near Neuenahr, Rhenish Prussia. He was convicted.

It may not be generally known that such offenders, likewise those who use counterfeit labels or otherwise sell spurious Apollinaris, are liable under the Criminal Code to imprisonment for two years with hard labour, and fine.

A FRONTIER FIGHT.

How Jim Bowie's Band of Eight Stood Off Five Hundred Comanches.

In Texas James Bowie set his hand to another sort of fighting. In 1831, with his brother Rezin, six other men and a boy, he set out upon a trading and exploring expedition through the heart of the Comanche country. At six days' travel from possible succor he found his party assailed by 500 mounted warriors, Comanches all, who rode like the wind, yet shot with deadly aim. Resistance seemed hopeless in the face of odds so great. Bowie took the one desperate chance left him and won the game.

He divided his forces, stationing three in one skirt of woods, with the pack animals, and scattering the rest about a more considerable arborage. Each was fully armed—had rifle, knife and pistols. Powder and lead were plenty; also wherewithal to eat and drink. Each grove had a spring in it. Close about the waters the white men lay or crouched, resolved, "If they must die, to take at least 100 redskins with them."

Five days the fight went on. Swooping in clouds, the red riders dashed round, round, ever nearing the devoted marksmen and sending toward them in whirring flight arrows and bullets thicker than hail. But the wheeling ended in rout when it came within fair rifle range. The men crouching in cover made every missile tell. Men and horses went down in struggling heaps at the sharp crack of their weapons, and they were so swift to load and fire that the chiefs easily persuaded themselves their enemy was a hundred strong. But the attacking went on until threescore braves were dead and as many more disabled, to say nothing of the ponies. Bowie had one man dead, whom he buried reverently; one desperately wounded, whom he took away to safety, although the attempt appeared to promise destruction to all the band.—Martha McCulloch-Williams in Harper's Magazine.

"Fond"—Its Two Meanings.

The older meaning of this word was, as is well known, equivalent to foolish. Now it has the meaning of affectionate. The following instance of the use of the word in both senses on the same page of the same work marks the period of transition, when the old sense still lingered while the new sense was coming into use. In Dr. Watts on "The Improvement of the Mind," first edition, 1751, in chapter 15, section 5, on page 119, I find:

"Some are so fond to know a great deal at once and love to talk of things with freedom and boldness before they truly understand them that they scarcely ever allow themselves attention enough to search the matter through and through."

And lower down on the page, in section 7, is:

"A soul inspired with the fondest love of truth and the warmest aspirations after sincere felicity and celestial beatitude will keep all its powers attentive to the incessant pursuit of them."

Also in Coles' English-Latin Dictionary, fifteenth edition, 1749, both meanings are given as follows: "Fond, indulgens," and lower down, "Fond (foolish), stultus."—Notes and Queries.

A Dramatic Author.

Like most actor managers, Macready was pestered by would be dramatic authors. An ambitious young fellow brought him a five act tragedy one morning to Drury Lane.

"My piece," modestly explained the author, "is a chef d'œuvre. I will answer for its success, for I have consulted the sanguinary taste of the public. My tragedy is so tragic that all the characters are killed off at the end of the third act."

"With whom, then," asked the manager, "do you carry on the action of the last two acts?"

"With the ghosts of those who died in the third!"—Cornhill Magazine.

How to Drive Away Ants.

Ants can often be driven away by sprinkling about their haunts ashes saturated with coal oil. They can be trapped and killed by placing sweet oil where they can have access to it, as they are very fond of it, but it has the effect to close their spiracles and thus kills by asphyxia.—Vicks Magazine.

Fiction Enough.

It happened in a book store.

"What can I show you, madam?" he asked. "Something in the line of fiction?"

"No," she answered slowly. "I think I'll try history for a change. I get enough fiction when my husband gets home late from the club."—Chicago Post.

THE SECRET OF GOOD LOOKS.

A Good Complexion Will Make a Person of Ordinary Features Beautiful.

"As a rule, women wash their faces too frequently," says Euphemia Woods in "How to Have a Fine Complexion" in The Woman's Home Companion.

"It is far from being the best way to clean the face, more especially where rainwater cannot be procured. That may be used quite frequently, but soap should not be applied oftener than three times a week. Pure, imported castile soap, such as surgeons use, should be given the preference. Use it at night only and with hot water; then rinse the face with clear, cold water. In the morning cold water should be used in preference to hot. If you do not have rainwater, throw a pinch of powdered borax into the washbowl, but use it sparingly if your skin is more alkaline than acid. You can discover this by wiping your face with litmus paper when you are perspiring. Blue litmus paper turns red when it touches an acid, and the red paper turns blue when exposed to an alkali. On no account must you use soap on your face except with rainwater. Soap in hard water forms a scum which, even though quite invisible, clogs the pores, often causing pimples and blackheads and always giving the skin a faded appearance. Throw away powders, washes, pomades, lotions of every description. Without doubt there are some very good preparations on the market, but how are you to know that you are using the one that best suits your skin? A skin that is distinctly acid requires very different preparations from one that is alkaline.

"It is not generally known that it is the action of the sun on the natural oils of the skin that causes tan and sunburn. If a healthy woman could keep this oil wiped off as it accumulates, she might always have a pretty complexion, provided so much friction did not irritate the skin. One reason why the skin on the body is so much nicer than that on the face is that the clothing supplies the friction necessary to keep the pores of the skin from clogging. Finally, if you want a nice complexion, you must take plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room, stop worrying, bathe frequently and perspire a little every day. No lotion is better than perspiration, but it must not be allowed to dry on the skin.

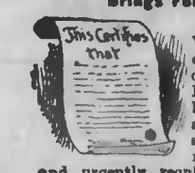
THIS CERTIFICATE

Brings Forth a Story.



BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

We, the undersigned, certify that the health of the Rev. R. A. Bilkey has for months been deteriorating, and that he is now suffering from severe nervous prostration, and urgently requires immediate and prolonged rest. J. W. McLaughlin, M.D., A. Beith, M.D., L. Holland Reid, M.R.C.S., etc.

THIS INTERVIEW TELLS IT.

A reporter called on the Rev. R. A. Bilkey, rector St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, during a church function, and on congratulating him on the great change for the better in his appearance, the reverend gentleman said, "It is due entirely to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

"I suffered for over three years from extreme nervousness, weakness and prostration, and could not obtain relief. A few months ago it became only too apparent that extreme nervous prostration had set in, as I lost flesh and appetite rapidly. Three of our four medical men pronounced me in urgent need of immediate and prolonged rest in order to build up my nervous system, giving me a certificate to that effect. About this time, by pure accident, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills were brought to my notice. I decided to try them, and on doing so a decided change for the better took place at once. I have since continued taking the pills, with continued and marked benefit and improvement. My appetite has returned. I am gaining in flesh steadily, and my general health is now good. Further, I am sure that these results are due to the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I have every confidence that they will do for others all that they have done for me."

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 6 boxes for $2, at Druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by the Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

He is one of the many self made men in Italy and from very small beginnings has lived to see enormous establishments bearing his name in most of the large cities of Italy.

John R. Marshall, the negro colonel of the Eighth Illinois regiment, was born a slave at Alexandria, Va., in 1859. He was graduated with honors from a military school in his home town and afterward received the benefit of a course at Hampton. In civil life he has served with acceptance in the county clerk's office in Chicago.

The Coming of Baby.

When a baby comes to the house real happiness comes. The care and anxiety count for nothing against the clinging touch of the little hands and the sound of the little voice. The highest function given to human beings is bringing healthy, happy children into the world. Over thirty years ago the needs of women appealed to Dr. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y. The result of his study improved by thirty years of practice is embodied in Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription. It strengthens, purifies and makes healthy the organs distinctly feminine. It gives weak women the strength and health necessary for the production of healthy children and it makes the bearing of those children easy. It is sure to cure any weakness or derangement peculiar to women; stops pain, soothes inflammation, strengthens, purifies, invigorates.

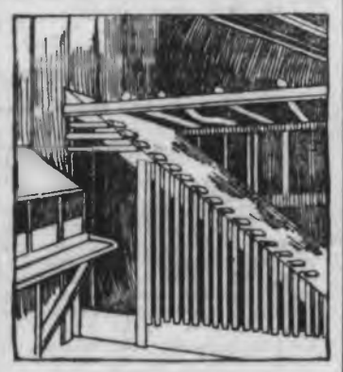
HOUSING CHICKENS.

An Arrangement Combining Convenience With Moderate Expense.

Waldo F. Brown, writing in The Country Gentleman, says: I make all my poultry houses long and narrow and running east and west, for the poultry house is especially for winter use, and we want large windows on the south to admit as much sunshine as possible. Ten feet by 24 or 25 is a good size for a colony of 50 hens, and if there is a yard to let them out into for exercise or they can have the run of the barnyard in pleasant weather 70 hens can be kept healthy in a house of this size, as I have proved in several cases. I prefer to make these houses with the roof sloping but one way, and if the house is built independent of the other buildings the roof should slope to the north, so as to have the high side of the sun, but often the building can be located at the south end of a barn, thus saving lumber and securing a warm location. I have two built in this way. There is no need of a high building for the laying hens, and we use posts six feet high at the lowest side and nine or ten feet at the highest side, so as to give sufficient slope to the roof.

The walls should be lined with building paper, to make it warm, and the windows well fitted. Our engraving shows the interior arrangement of the building. I like the plan of putting the roosts high and a sloping floor under them to catch the droppings, as it makes it easier to clean, and the hens like a high roost. This sloping floor serves as a ladder for the hens to get up to their roosts by nailing small cleats to the boards at each side. It also enables us to utilized the room under the roosts, and we use it for a dust bath in winter when the hens are shut in, and in the summer we use it to set eight or ten hens at a time, or when not needed for this to shut up broody hens.

The nest boxes are located at the side opposite the windows, and a small section of them shows in the engraving. Our boxes are all made movable and are slid into the spaces made for them. These spaces are not floored, but have inch cleats nailed at the sides for the boxes to rest on, as a floor would make a breeding place for lice. It is an advantage to be able to carry the boxes outdoors when the house must be cleaned, and as we do not allow the hens to sit in these houses we want to put the eggs under them and carry box and hen together to the new place, as the hen can be moved in this way with less risk of her leaving the nest than if she is carried without the box.



CONVENIENT CHICKEN HOUSE.

The loss of young chicks is very great on most farms, amounting to one-half or more of all that are hatched, and nine-tenths of this loss is clearly preventable. The causes of loss are many, as, for example, gapes, drowning or chilling in wet dews and rain, the depredations of rats, hawks, skunks and other prowlers, and then the giving of improper food or failing to furnish grit and to keep the coops clean. Nearly all these losses are preventable by furnishing a suitable place to keep the chicks for the first five or six weeks, and then, if they must be moved, have a safe house to put them in. I have found that young chickens do very much better on a floor raised considerably above the ground, and I now make all my coops and the houses to put the chickens in at weaning time with a floor raised so high above the ground as to give a free circulation of air under them, so that they will not be damp, and there is no place for rats or other enemies to find shelter.

Eggs From Fat Hens.

All the experiments show that eggs from very fat hens will not hatch well. This is not always because the eggs are not fertile, for very often the process of hatching will be started all right, but the embryo will die sooner or later, sometimes as early as the third day and at others not until fully formed and ready to leave the shell. The lack of vitality in the eggs from a flock of very fat hens is no doubt due to lack of vigor in the hen, which is transmitted to the embryo in the shell.—Farmers' Review.

Have Enough Nests.

It is not necessary to have as many nests in the henhouse as there are hens, but it is better to have too many than not enough, and three nests are not too many for four or five hens. If there are less than this, several will lay in one nest, and often in the struggle for two or three to get in it at one time eggs will be broken, not only causing the loss of the broken ones, but daubing the others, and perhaps teaching the hens to eat their eggs, and thus causing greater loss.

The best medicine you can take is that which builds a solid foundation for health is pure, rich blood—Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE PURE IN HEART.

I asked the angels in my prayer,
With bitter tears and pains,
To show mine eyes the kingdom where
The Lord of glory reigns.

I said, my way with doubt is dim,
My heart is sick with fear.
Oh, come, and help me build to him
A tabernacle here!

The storms of sorrow wildly beat,
The clouds with death are chill.
I long to hear his voice so sweet,
Who whispered, "Peace, be still!"

The angels said, God giveth you
His love—what more is ours?
And even as the gentle dew
Descends upon the flowers,

His grace descends, and as of old,
He walks with man apart,
Keeping the promise, as foretold,
With all the pure in heart.

Thou needst not ask the angels where
His habitations be.
Keep thou thy spirit clean and fair,
And he shall dwell with thee.
—Alice Cary in New York Ledger.

New Trick on an Old Miner.

"If you never had a mine salted on you," remarked an old time Colorado miner, "you have missed half of your chance to get good experience."

"Did you ever have it happen to you?" asked a stranger from the east.

"Yes; my first lesson cost me $5,000, when I bought a mine in Leadville that had been tunneled into the mountain side for nearly 200 feet. I had heard of the trick of salting properties, so after the man showed me what there was in sight he invited me to go right ahead and blast out several feet in order to satisfy myself, which I did, and the ore seemed to be just as good as it was when he was working it. Of course I bought it, and then it never paid a cent—it was salted."

"But how could they salt three or four feet into the solid rock?"

"There was the trick of it. They didn't salt the rock, but put the gold colors into the giant powder, and as long as that lasted there was gold in sight."—Denver Times.

Raw Ants as Delicacies.

Raw ants are largely eaten in Mexico. As is known, certain ants are selected by their kindred as storehouses of honey. They are fed with honey until the abdomen speedily becomes smooth and round and so filled with honey that the skin is transparent. These ants are doomed to pass the remainder of their lives as mere honey cells, from which their kindred extract the honey when it is required. There are several specimens of these ants in the British museum, with the honey still within their transparent bodies. The Mexicans raid the nests of these ants for the sake of the honey that their bodies contain, and the ants are eaten raw as sweetmeats. They are sold by measure and form an article of commerce.—London Standard.

A man has to have pluck to make a success of any calling A man must have the backbone to take knock-down blows and get up again and again and fight on.

Pluck and stamina are largely a question of good health. It only takes one knock-down blow to finish a man with a headache. It only takes a small setback to disconcert a nervous and shaky man. A bilious, headachy man goes into bankruptcy at the first embarrassment. A nervous man who does not sleep at night and gets up shaky in the morning gives up the battle of business at the first discouragement. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all health-makers and health-keepers. It makes pure, rich blood. It forces out all impurities and disease germs. It does not make any difference what the disease may be called, so long as it has its inception in improper or insufficient nourishment—this great medicine will cure it. It may be called dyspepsia, kidney disease, "liver complaint," skin or blood disease, or nervous prostration—all these have the same starting point. The "Golden Medical Discovery" reaches that point. It will cure these diseases absolutely. None of them can retain their hold on the system when the arteries are filled with rich, pure blood.

"I am 54 years old," writes Mr. F. G. Bledsoe, of Leesville, Henry Co., Mo. "For 25 years I suffered from torpid liver, constipation and indigestion which severely affected my nerves. Having to make my living by hard work, I would keep on until I would have to give up. Sometimes my friends would pick me up and carry me to bed. What little sleep I could get was tortured with horrible dreams. I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It relieved the pain in my back and between my shoulders, braced up my nerves, and to-day I am a well man."

THE JACK POT TEST.

HOW A MEAN GAMBLER SPRUNG IT ON SISTER ABIGAIL.

He Wanted Another Proof of a Theory Concerning a Womanly Weakness and Got It at the Expense of Uncle Uriah's Opponents at Poker.

Bent, but tall, with sparse whiskers seldom trimmed, nearly 70 years old, Uncle Uriah used to sit in the poker game in Omaha, his long, thin fingers tremblingly placing his chips and his old eyes glittering as he timorously skinned his hand. Pathetically like Little Nell's grandfather he looked sometimes, but he was at no desperate shift to obtain a stake, for he was the possessor of a competence, and he brought into the game the raving grace of the parsimony to which he had been habituated in his earlier days in a New Hampshire home. He never bought more than $5 worth of chips at a time. These he would for the most part auto away waiting for aces or better, and when he finally did get a good hand a bare call represented the climax of his enterprise.

In those days there was always a game on Sunday afternoons, and Uncle Uriah, although a devout Methodist, could be counted upon to arrive directly after service and to sit in until the time for afternoon Sunday school. The boys used to joke him at first and ask him if he had sneaked his stake out of the contribution box, but to this question and to all others of similar levity he opposed a scared seriousness which showed that his passion for the game was more a weakness than a vice.

Uncle Uriah lived with his two sisters—Abigail, aged 68, and Ann, aged 55. In New Hampshire they had been called "the girls," but in Omaha the irreverent, with rude directness, referred to them as "Uncle Uriah's old maids."

It did not take the boys in the game long to discover that Uncle Uriah was in much fear of Abigail in general and in mortal dread that she would discover his besetting weakness. He would always shy at a new player, and he frequently held forth to the boys on the impropriety of talking on the outside about the features of the game.

"I sh'd hate to hev the parson know," he used to say. "I wouldn't keer so much 'bout Ann, 'cause she's easy skeered, but I wouldn't hev Sister Abigail know fer the biggest jack pot t'was ever played on this here table!"

There was never any solution to the mystery of how Sister Abigail discovered the oblicuity in Uncle Uriah's life. Some officious neighbor may have told her, or in an excess of caution Uncle Uriah himself may have aroused her definite suspicions. At any rate, on a particular Sunday afternoon he arrived at the room at the regular time, but without the key with which he, in common with other participants in the game, had been provided. The negro attendant admitted him, and he was soon engrossed in the play.

There was a good jack pot on the table. Uncle Uriah was in and was dealing. It was his last say, and the two men ahead of him had bet $10 each. He had drawn one card, and the play was up to him. He had not, however, looked at his draw when the key turned in the snap lock of the front door, and Sister Abigail, pale with a righteous and terrible rage, strode into the room and up to the table.

"Gamblin!" she cried. "And on the Lord's day, with the church bells ringin outside and decent people flockin to his worship. I expected to find you here, you hypocrite!" she went on, turning to Uncle Uriah. "You better get on your duds right now and come home."

"I was comin in a jiffy," the old man said, weak with fear. "I guess I might as well go 'long with you as with anybody else." He rose and steadied himself by holding the chair.

Seth Coe was the coolest hand in the game. Even Sister Abigail had not disconcerted him. He reached over and turned up Uncle Uriah's hand. It was a flush.

"You better straighten this pot out before you go, uncle," said Coe. "You call, of course. I suppose a flush is good?" Coe asked, turning to the other players. They nodded assent. Coe stacked up the chips. "Forty-three dollars here," he said, pushing them toward Uriah.

The old man started instinctively toward the pot and then remembered Sister Abigail. He stopped and waited tremblingly for her decision.

It seemed to the players, who turned from the weak and timid old man to the dominant woman, that at this crucial test something of her moral rigidity relaxed. She did not sweep the chips to the floor. She said nothing about ill gotten gains. With a visible effort she overcame a slight nervous constriction of the throat. She grasped her skirts firmly and swept toward the door

"Uriah," she said, with great dignity, "I will wait for you in the hall at the foot of the stairs."

After Uncle Uriah had obtained his $43 and departed Seth Coe said in his leisurely way:

"The old man didn't have a flush. I slipped in a card to fill it out for him. I reckoned you fellows wouldn't mind payin once more for positive proof that, no matter what kind of a woman she is, she's always in with your play when you win the pot."—New York Sun.

Had Read About It.

"I had a distressing pain in my side and was also troubled with severe headaches. My blood was out of order and my constitution was generally run down. THE TATTLER.

Mrs. S. C. Doud of Cato, N. Y., 90 years old, has kept a diary for more than 60 years. As she is an intelligent woman her record is historically complete and of value.

Mrs. Amy Pinkham, who died the other day at Brooklyn, Me., was 104 years of age, and both her father and her grandfather were soldiers in the Revolutionary army.

Miss Elizabeth Ashe of San Francisco, who named the torpedo boat destroyer Farragut, is descended from a long line of soldiers and is related to the Farragut family.

Miss Anna E. Mitchener is the superintendent of the Tuscarawas Electric road which is ten miles long and connects the twin cities of Uhrichville and Dennison with New Philadelphia.

Miss Margherita Arlina Hamm of New York, the well known newspaper woman, has been appointed an inspector by the woman's veteran auxiliaries of the national guard and nurses' staff.

Frau Lilli Lehman, who retired for awhile from the operatic stage on account of illness, has reappeared in the great Wagnerian roles in Vienna, and her powers are said to be almost fully restored.

Sarah Bernhardt is to visit India at the invitation of the maharajah of Kapurthala, who has been visiting Paris. Besides acting in his palace she will give performances at Bombay, Calcutta, Colombo and Pondicherry and means to see a tiger hunt before her return.

Now that Hawaii has been annexed the Queen Dowager Kapiolani is suing her two nephews for property in Honolulu, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, which she had previously deeded to them, while another report is to the effect that the ex-queen is going back to the islands to live.

ZOLA AGAIN.

Zola has again been convicted and ordered to pay a fine, but the guilt of Dreyfus is no more proved than ever.—New York Tribune.

If repeated fines will break up M. Zola's monopoly in the matter of defending Dreyfus, the French courts will do it. M. Zola must begin to feel like the Standard Oil company in Texas.—Buffalo Express.

The Catarrh Clutch

This Disgusting Malady is at the Throat of 900 of every 1,000 of our Country's Population.

This Is Not Hearsay. It is Borne Out by Carefully Compiled Statistics of Diseases Most Prevalent. Its Development is Watched Carefully Because it is so Sure a forerunner of Consumption if Neglected. Most Catarrh Cures Contain Cocaine, which is a Dangerous Narcotic, and Prof. Heys, of the Ontario School of Chemistry and Pharmacy, says:—

"After an examination made from samples procured on the open market, I declare that there is no COCAINE contained in the preparation of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." Most astonishing results are daily coming into Dr. Chase's office of the cures made. Here are a few in condensed form. We ask you to call or write to the following parties if at all sceptical:

OSWALD BURKHARDT, 139 PORTLAND STREET, TORONTO, suffered from Catarrh for nine years, and was cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

The terrible pain that strikes you in the small of the back right over the kidneys, is nothing more than these disordered organs crying out for help.

Will you go to their assistance with the right remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills?

Mr William Waller, Richmond Street, Guelph, Ont., did. They cured him, and this is what he says:

"For the past two years I have been troubled with a complication of kidney diseases, which caused various distressing symptoms, such as pain in the back, urinary difficulties, etc. I found it impossible to get restful sleep, my general health was miserable, and the pain in my back became so acute that I could not get off a chair or turn in bed without assistance.

"Some four months ago I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. Two boxes removed the pain from my back, completely cured all the kidney trouble, and gave me health and strength again."

Bicycles!

First in Quality and Reputation.

A horse that doesn't kick, shy or go lame, when wanted, is a treasure.

Next to foolish horse buying is taking risks on Bicycles. Tricky horses are dear at any price—so are wheels.

Do not suppose that we claim to have all the thoroughly reliable wheels there are—that's not what we say. But this is what we say and ask to be remembered—that we "go slow" on taking up and selling any wheel.

It is one thing to sell an article with the use of which we have nothing to do, and an altogether different thing to put a man or a woman on a wheel which they take from us with confidence that they are safe with their lives. We value such confidence. A dollar or two of profit more or less cannot persuade us to handle it if the article is bad.

We do not undertake to protect buyers of Bicycles from sudden fear or from recklessness while riding, but we do undertake to give them, in a wheel, all the safeguards of best steel and skillful workmanship together with all the tests and circumspection possible.

"E. & D." mark the highest grade and are still the best.

"GENDRONS" are thoroughly reliable and never disappoint their owners—"The wheel that's always in front.

"TRIBUNES" are high grade—strictly good—but nearly sold out.

There is a fine chance just now to buy a few good Second-Hand wheels—$10 to $25 each.

If you are thinking about a wheel—we can sell you one whose excellence cannot be doubted.

"Sporting Items" show that our wheels have won 70 per cent of all the road and track races in Canada this year and it will be ever thus—quality and easy running always tell.

CANADA'S DRINK BILL.

The Value or, Perhaps Better, the cost of the Drink we Consume.

A recent calculation, has been made by Mr. Geo. Johnson, the Government statistician to show the amount of the drink bill of Canada. His calculation, which is based on the consumption of 1896, places the drink bill for that year at $35,382,064, or $6.90 per head for every man, woman, and child in Canada. Mr. Johnston gives the details of his figuring. The retail price of spirits he averages at 7½ cents a drink, some vendors charging 5 cents, and some 10 cents. A gallon of spirits contains 75 drinks, which, at 7½ cents each, would yield $5 62½. On this basis Mr. Johnson figures that the consumption of 2,794,622 gallons in 1896 meant an outlay to the consumer of $15,716,374. Mr. Johnson allows 20 drinks to a gallon of beer. A consumption of 18,305,804 gallons would, therefore, call for an expenditure, at 5 cents a drink, of $18,305,804. The retail price of wine Mr. Johnson arrives at by adding 45 per cent. to the cost and duty. Wines valued at $945,370 would, therefore, extract $1,370,886 from the consumer. To sum up, the statistician places the drink bill for 1896 at the following figures:

Spirits	$15,716,374
Wine	1,370,886
Beer	18,305,804
	$35,393,064

In this calculation no allowance is made for the dilution of spirits, which would considerably increase the receipts of the retailer. Mr. Johnson points out that, on the same basis as he has figured for 1896, the liquor consumption of 1892 cost the consumer $37,288,015 If, he adds, the drinking habits of the people had kept pace with the growth of population, the liquor bill for 1896 would have been $39,107,077. So that, if this calculation be accepted, the people of Canada were spending about $3,700,000 less for drinks in 1896 than they would have spent had they drank as hard as they did in 1892.

By applying Mr. Johnson's method to the official returns for 1897, the last year reported upon, it will be seen that the drink bill went up considerably and kept pace pretty well with the estimated growth of population. Spirits taken out of bond for consumption, less the exportations, amounted to 3,561,594 gallons. This, retailing at $5.62½ per gallon, would realise $20,033,628. The beer manufactured and imported measured 18,215,455 gallons, which, at $1 a gallon, represents $18,215,455. The value and duty placed on imported wines were, combined, $642,937. By adding 45 per cent. to this we get $932,245. Altogether, therefore, the drink bill for 1897 was as follows:

Spirits	$20,033,628
Beer	18,215,455
Wine	932,245
	$39,781,328

The liquor taken out of bond for consumption in 1897 represented, when retailed, $7.73 per head for every man, woman and child in Canada. There was, however, an unusually large quantity of spirits ex-warehoused on account of the prospect of increased duties. The figures computed by the Inland Revenue Department show that since Confederation the consumption of spirits and wine has steadily declined in Canada, whereas the people have taken more freely to beer drinking. The following shows the quantities per head for the last nine years, as compared with the record of the three previous decades:—

BRITAIN TO CHINA.

Former Will Make a Demand on the Latter for the Dismissal of Earl Li Hung Chang.

London, Aug. 16.—The Foreign Office, it was reported here yesterday, though the report as yet lacks confirmation, intends to demand that the Chinese Government dismiss Prince Li Hung Chang from power on the ground that he is responsible for the recent anti-British attitude of the Tsung Li Yamen.

The Foreign Office, it is also asserted, has had under special consideration the question of seizing the Taku forts on the Gulf of Pechin, at the mouth of the Pekin River, and the city of Tien Tsin, the port of Pekin, in the event of China refusing to comply with this demand, holding all until compliance is assured.

Half-Hearted Depreciation.

London, Aug. 16.—The semi-official Journal de St. Petersburg, in yesterday's issue, deprecates the tone of the British press and says: "Russia does not contemplate fresh acquisition in the far East. Her only object is to preserve the advantage recently gained. The Russian Government does not desire to injure the economic interests of Great Britain any more than those of any other power."

FRENCH SHORE QUESTION.

Mr. Chamberlain Will Appoint a Commission to Settle Matters.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 16.—The Colonial Government yesterday received a despatch from Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, stating that Her Majesty's Government had decided to appoint a Royal Commission to enquire into the state of affairs on the Newfoundland French treaty shore, and as to legislative or other measures required to carry out the treaty.

Steamship Men in Trouble.

Queenstown, Aug. 16.—J. W. Jago, chief officer of the White Star Line steamer Britannic, was discharged yesterday on the charge of robbing the mails and smuggling, but was immediately re-arrested upon a warrant issued at the request of the United States Embassy, charging him with embezzlement and larceny.

London, Aug. 16.—At Bow Street Police Court yesterday Daniel Wood, steward of the Cunard Line steamship Lucania, who was arrested for alleged complicity with Jago, was released on his own recognizance to attend when called for.

Hit Hard by American Competition.

London, Aug. 16.—Owing to the disquieting growth of American competition in the tin-plate trade, the Welsh manufacturers are being put to serious shifts in order to maintain their position as the controllers of the tin-plate industry. They are now endeavoring to force their workmen to take lower wages, employing for that purpose the threat to introduce into their establishments a new patented tinning machine, which has just been invented, and which does away with most of the work of tinmen, requiring only one attendant. This machine is said to be in successful operation at the Monmouthshire tin-plate works.

It's Very Hot in London.

London, Aug. 16.—Yesterday was the hottest day London has known for a long time. The St. John's ambulance staff was out in full force, and treated scores of cases of heat prostration. Upward of 150 cases had been treated at the various hospitals before 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A number of policemen were overcome. The surgeons found that their prostration was due to swelling of the legs and feet, produced by the heat from the asphalt and wood paving on which they stood.

IN FAVOR OF PONTON.

The Bank Clerk's Whereabouts on April 24.

BURGLAR PARE CONTRADICTED.

Pare Said He Met Ponton to Divide the Money at Belleville—Six Witnesses Prove an Alibi on That Date —Another Alibi for April 27 —Detective Wilkes and the Wire Key.

Napanee, Aug. 17.—Last night the counsel for the defence in the bank robbery case point with pride to what they have achieved towards setting Holden, Mackie and Ponton free from Napanee jail. Three links have been forged in what the legal gentlemen for the defence say will be a chain of incontrovertible evidence.

After it had been agreed that the evidence should be taken as read, Mr. Porter enquired the meaning of the Magistrate in stating that he intended to be guided by Mr. Osler. The Magistrate explained that he would consult Mr. Osler in legal questions, but in other matters would be free to exercise his own judgment.

Mr. Osler stated that the Crown Attorney was the recognized legal adviser of a magistrate, and, although an advocate associated with the prosecuting attorney might in the same sense be looked upon as an adviser, so far as he was concerned he preferred not to play the role of prosecutor and adviser at the same time.

Mr. Porter stated that, this being the case, he would call witnesses to testify on behalf of his client, W. H. Ponton.

Mr. Edward Douglas, proprietor of the Paisley House, was the first witness called. Mr. Douglas' evidence was practically the same as that of last year. He had rented the rooms for Ponton because he wanted prisoner's room for the travelling public, as he did those of his other boarders. The night of the burglary witness saw Ponton about 11.30 in the bar, and afterwards Ponton and Roland Hawley waited a few minutes in the sitting room, and Ponton got a pitcher of water, as was his custom, and went to his rooms. The pitcher would hold about a pint.

To Mr. Osler, witness said he did not look at the clock when his boarders went out. He knew it was after 11 o'clock, as the bar was closed. He tried to observe the law, but that night there were at least two men in the bar after hours. Could not say there were others.

C. B. McAulay, barrister of Belleville, said that he remembered that he spent the evening of April 24 at the residence of his mother-in-law in Belleville, and that Billy Ponton, Miss McLean and Miss Davies, with others, were present. He replied to Mr. Porter in most emphatic terms that it was impossible for Ponton to have been in the Dominion Hotel between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock of that evening. He was absolutely certain about the date and time.

Mrs. C. B. McAulay, wife of the last witness, was the next to testify. To Mr. Porter she said that she remembered April 24, and that Mr. W. H. Ponton was at her mother's home. In this she was assured by the fact that she made a note in her diary.

To Mr. Osler witness said that she was not in the same apartment, and could hear his voice through a wall adjoining the room in which he spent the evening.

Miss Lulu Davies of Belleville said that she had a distinct recollection of the evening of April 24, as Mr. Ponton had called at her home, and that he had spent from 8 to 11 o'clock with a company of some five people. She could swear positively that Mr. Ponton could not have been at the Dominion Hotel that evening. She also felt certain that Billy Ponton could not have been elsewhere, as he was in her company every Sunday evening that she was not absent.

Upon cross-examination by Mr. Osler, she witness said that she could not swear to any other fixed Sunday, either before or after April 24.

Miss Fanny Newberry said that she remembered meeting Mr. Ponton at Mrs. Davies' on that occasion, as he had acted as her escort about 11.15 that night. She also stated that it was impossible for him to have been at the Dominion Hotel that evening between 8 and 11.15. She remembered the night, as she and Miss Davies had twitted Will for not being present at St. John's Church, where Miss Coleman sang.

Witness said to Mr. Osler that she could not remember any other Sunday either before or after the date spoken of.

Mr. Porter now called George Hanwell, who said that he remembered the 24th well, as the Oddfellows had walked on that day. He also remembered that Ponton, who was stopping there at that time, came in about 11 o'clock. This fact was clear to his recollection, as Mrs. Hanwell had called out to Ponton: "You're a nice fellow to come to see a girl home." Mr. Hanwell explained this by stating that Ponton had agreed to escort Miss Coleman.

To Mr. Osler he said that he was absolutely certain about the date and the time in particular, as he seldom retired at 11 o'clock, as he had done on this occasion.

Upon being re-examined by Mr. Porter, witness said Mr. Ponton had been assisting his mother in the library at Belleville.

James Starling, another resident of Belleville, testified as to Ponton's whereabouts on the 24th.

Alexander Walker said that he had known Ponton for 15 years. During the month of April he and Ponton had spent much time in renovating things in the Belleville library. He could swear positively that Ponton had not left the library that afternoon; he was engaged checking the books and taking them to Mrs. Ponton's place. His evidence was unshaken by cross-examination.

John Mackie, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, Belleville, and brother of the prisoner Mackie, said that he never received $200 for a board bill from any of the prisoners, and that he did not know the prisoner Pare, and that he had never seen him until a few minutes before, when he saw Pare in the cell. Mackie also asserted that he never took a message of any kind to Ponton on any occasion. To Mr. Osler the witness said he did not know what his brother, the prisoner, did for a living. Did not know the prisoner Pare, although when taken to see him in jail to-day he said, "Hello Jack."

S. D. McCoy of the Napanee Beaver said he saw Ponton on the night of Aug. 27, in front of the Campbell House about 8 o'clock, and was with him about half an hour. He remembered that Billy Coates was there. He again saw Ponton opposite the stone bridge about 10 o'clock. It was absolutely impossible for Ponton to have been in his room at that time.

To Mr. Osler the witness said that he could not swear positively to the time, but that was his nearest estimate.

Roland Holly said that he met Ponton that evening opposite the Tichborne House, and that both of them had a drink at the Paisley House about 11 o'clock.

Mr. F. M. Smith, clerk of the Dominion Bank, was the next witness. On Aug. 27 he had met Mr. Ponton about 9 o'clock in front of the bank. They discussed a baseball game; then Ponton went down the street with Mr. Coates.

Ezra Pringle, a blacksmith and carriage builder of Napanee, said that a man called at his shop and asked for a piece of steel to test a lock. He told Mr. McKee, one of his employes, to "draw" the steel out for the man.

"Who was that man?" asked Mr. Porter.

"He was the man they call Detective Wilkes," said Pringle.

The key was produced and Mr. Pringle swore that a piece of steel much like that was given to the detective. The witness said that he thought it impossible for a key to be made from the impression on the famous piece of paper.

To Mr. Osler he said that it would be impossible for him to make a key from such impression, although other men might.

Mr. McKee, an employe of Mr. Pringle, said that he had drawn out a piece of steel which was a little longer than that in the exhibit, but he thought that the piece in court had been filed.

At this juncture Mr. Porter asked McKee if he had ever seen Pare, to which a negative answer was given. "Then go and see him," said Mr. Porter, significantly.

When Mr. McKee returned he swore Pare was not the man who had called at the shop, and that he had never seen him before. He also said that Detective Wilkes was the man.

His evidence was unshaken by cross-examination.

James Roblin, clerk in a store adjoining the bank, swore that he heard noises the night of the bank robbery, much like the sound of falling silver.

George Mohard also corroborated this statement, as he was in the same room at the same time.

P. G. Carscallen, ex-mayor of Napanee, swore that he saw a man in the bank at 1.30 on the morning of the robbery. He could make no mistake, as he had made an entry in his diary to that effect, with some other matters that occurred that night.

Mr. Osler failed to shake his story in the least.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

A Young Girl Struck in Huntingdon Township.

A CYCLONE IN COUNTY OF GREY.

Mrs. Livingstone Carried Up 40 Feet in the Air—Buildings and Live Stock Blown Hither and Thither by the Fierce Wind—Much Damage by the Lightning.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—The heavy thunderstorm which passed over the city between five and six o'clock yesterday morning, the man at the Observatory says, was one of a number that have passed over various parts of the province since last evening, being general in the northern portion during the night and early morning, and in the southern portion later. A heavy squall accompanied the storm, and the peculiar light which preceded the storm cloud was due to electrical disturbances. The jibboom of the Vivia, the Royal Canadian yacht, was carried away, and several yachts dragged their anchors and were damaged against the wharves. On the Island trees were blown down, tents flattened and other damage done.

Tweed, Ont.—Little Miss Bella Baker, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. W. S. Baker of Huntingdon township, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The family were sitting at the teatable when the stroke came, and, strange to say, none of the rest of them were seriously injured, although all were more or less stunned.

Marmora, Ont.—About six miles south of Marmora village, in the township of Rawdon, a cyclone caught John Livingston's barn and completely demolished it, taking it about twenty feet from its original place. The woodshed was torn away and both ends out of the drive house. Mrs. Livingston, who was down cellar at the time, ran up and out toward the woodshed and was taken up by the wind for thirty or forty feet.

Close by the lightning struck a cow belonging to John Barlow. The cyclone took the cow about twenty feet high, whirled her around and when she fell to the ground she was found to be dead. The Livingston family had a very narrow escape.

Ayr, Ont.—During the severe electric storm the lightning entered the G.N.W. Telegraph office and post office, and did some damage to instruments and papers of the G.N.W.

Gananoque, Ont.—The circus which was to take place at the American Canoe Association camp, Stave Island, was postponed until Thursday night, owing to the violent thunderstorm which struck the camp about 2 o'clock. Many Gananoque people and others who had gone down to witness the circus were provided for during the night by the canoeists. Considerable damage was done to both camps and tents.

Thamesville, Ont.—A house in the village was struck by lightning and a barn owned by Mr. Farrel, on the first concession Zone, was totally destroyed.

Cobourg, Ont.—A bolt struck the town clock here, and set it on fire. The wind storm did some damage, and the lifeboat had to go to the rescue of two policemen, who had gone out early.

Owen Sound, Ont.—In the township of Derby James Hardy's barn was unroofed, and two barns at Mr. Abrey's shared the same fate. The Sharp orchard was split into kindling wood, and then crossing the Sydenham Valley the wind demolished Oliver's orchard and tore his kitchen away from the house. At Nilsie's farm it unroofed two barns and blew down the windmill. The path of the storm was not more than one hundred yards wide. Sarawak township orchards also suffered considerable damage.

On the Other Side.

At Gary, S.D., eight people were killed.

At Knoxville, Tenn., it is now known that thirty-two persons lost their lives in the cloudburst.

SHOOTS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

Jim Corbett's Father Commits Murder and Then Suicide.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—Jim Corbett's father yesterday shot and killed his wife and then turned the weapon upon himself.

It is believed that the murderer was demented. He had been in extremely poor health for some time. Death was instantaneous in both cases.

The Hooley Case in Court.

London, Aug. 17.—In the Queen's Bench division of the High Court of Justice yesterday Justice Wright resumed the hearing of the motion to commit Earl de la Warr, Messrs. Broadley, Bradshaw and Rucker for contempt of court in attempting to induce Mr. Ernest Terah Hooley, the bankrupt company promoter, to falsify his evidence in the Bankruptcy Court. Mr. Hooley stuck to his guns, under severe cross-examination, and Earl de la Warr declared he had received nothing for becoming a director of the Dunlop Company, although Mr. Hooley said he paid him $50,000—$25,000 of which were through Mr. Broadley, but did not reach him.

Britain and Russia Negotiating.

London, Aug. 18.—The Daily Graphic says it understands that an exchange of views is occurring between the Government of Great Britain and Russia, and that negotiations started on Friday last are proceeding in a conciliatory spirit on both sides. Russia declares that she has no interest financially or otherwise in the Pekin-Hankow Railway, nor any desire to acquire any.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Conservative Charges of Extravagance Repelled—Vast Improvement in the Post Office Department Management—Klondyke "Mare's Nest" Yarns Ventilated—Conservative Attacks Founded on Jaundiced Yankee Information.

Ottawa, Aug. 13—Among the varied and and often unique criticisms which the ingenuity of the Conservatives have devised against the Government none have been more persistent than the charges of extravagance, and reckless expenditure of of the public moneys. Because the cost of Government was not immediately cut down a few millions on the accession of the Liberals to power, there is an outcry that the pre-election promises of economy and retrenchment have not been carried out, though the critics know full well that the sum total is kept at its present high figure partly because of the permanent charges with which the late administration saddled the country, and which can only be brought down very gradually, and partly because of the great cost in new departments, and for necessary work which was unknown until a year or so ago, notably, for example, in the case of the Yukon. The whole trouble in fact is that the critics are either unable to distinguish between legitimate expenditure and extravagance, or else they are deliberately and wilfully striving to mis-lead the electors by an ex-parte statement of the case which they know is misleading.

FACTS THAT TALK.

No better illustration of the fact that real and substantial retrenchment is being practised by the Government can be found than in the report of the Post Office Department for the fiscal year just closed. It is a well known fact that the Post Office has never paid for itself, but perhaps it is not as well known that the actual deficit when the present Postmaster General took office was over $700,000. This huge sum was the result of an annually recurring balance on the wrong side of the ledger, and was therefore the result of a permanent lack of sound business management, and not of exceptional adverse conditions. It was therefore the more difficult to overcome and could only be changed by a complete remodelling of the entire system. This difficult task Mr. Mulock set himself to accomplish, and with the result that at the end of the first term he had cleared off over $100,000 of the deficit, and when the complete returns are in for the year just closed, there will be another half million wiped out, so that the deficit will thereby be the comparatively insignificant sum of $74,000 only. A reduction of the unfavourable balance by $627,000 in two years is most eloquent of the splendid administrative ability that is now governing the Department.

EFFICIENCY WITH ECONOMY.

This immense saving to the public has not been effected at the cost of efficient service, on the other hand reforms and improvements have followed each other so rapidly that the story has become almost monotonous. The service is in every respect much more efficient than it ever has been. Of the large number of new post offices that have been opened, many are at distant points where the cost of increased communication is much above the average. The railway mail service has been entirely remodelled, the dead letter department rearranged and made far less cumbersome and more expeditious. Many unnecessary positions have been abolished. The postal note which has been for years of immense commercial benefit in the Old Country is now in circulation in the Dominion and the special delivery, while possibly of benefit to the comparative few only, is still a distinct advance, and is paid for by those benefitting by it.

NO PARTISAN CONTRACTORS.

But perhaps the most notable improvement has been in the way in which the mail contracts have been re-let and when so much is being said of the disregard of the Government for the principles of awarding public works by open tender, it is worthy of note that contracts previously given to political friends without competition are now in the hands of those who have secured them by public tender at a saving of over $100,000 annually, although the territory covered by the new contracts is several hundred miles greater than before.

Before leaving the subject it is worth noting that in a spirit curiously lacking in patriotism, the "Old Flag" party have criticised the Imperial penny postage scheme most persistently upon the grounds of the deficit which they claim it is bound to create. It would appear in better taste for the party responsible for the old $700,000 deficit to say as little upon this point as they conveniently can.

THE YUKON "SCANDAL."

During the past week the editorial columns in Conservative papers in Ontario have been prettily evenly divided between excited dissertations on the iniquities of the Hardy Government and the "awful revelations" of malfeasance of office among the Government officials in the Yukon. The fact that these stories have all come by way of the American papers makes no difference so long as a whack can be had at the Administration, it matters little the source or authenticity of the "facts." The principle upon which the yarns are circulated is a safe and easy one—spread them broadcast before there is any chance to investigate, if subsequent information brings corroboration, then repeat, and embellish them, if they prove false, leave somebody else to say so.

Already the other side of the story is reaching the East, and, as was to be expected, a very different aspect is given to the various "scandals." It appears that Messrs. Wade and McGregor, the Crown Attorney and Mining Inspector respectively at Dawson City did not follow the example of members of the late Government, and locate claims upon information secured in their official capacity. On the contrary they heard of the strike on Monte Cristo Island just as scores besides heard of it, on the street, and started out with the rush, staking their claims with others as ordinary miners. It would surely be an absurd restriction to forbid a man having any pecuniary interest in the country, simply because he is an official. The conditions of life are admittedly extremely arduous and no reasonable salary could be offered that would induce competent men to undertake the work. So long as there is no trafficing in their official capacity the country will refuse to endorse the ridiculous outcry that is being raised, having confidence in the Department to step in with a firm hand if it is shown that improper use has been made of confidential information.

FURTHER CHARGES REFUTED.

There is just about as much reason for most of the other strictures passed upon the officials, apparently. The charge that postal clerks in Dawson exacted toll before they would hand out letter turns out to be without substantial basis. The fact was that owing to the rush whenever a mail arrived, many had to wait hours for their mail. Miners coming in from a distance and anxious to return, in some cases feed the clerks to hunt up their letters during the night, and paid them for their trouble. As there is not a sufficient staff to work day and night shifts, there does not appear to be anything very heinous in this.

The allegations that extortionate charges are made by pilots at Mile Canyon and White Horse Rapids may or may not be true, in any case the boatmen are private individuals and in no way under Government control.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash..... $5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for..... 3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,080 25
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

THE CONSTABLE BILL.

The Bill Read a First Time Without Opposition.

THE PREMIER'S EXPLANATION.

Rights of the Classes of Persons Affected—The Line of Demarcation—Service to the Public Will Not Disfranchise—Constables' Rights Were Never Questioned in the Province.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—The House held another brief session yesterday, the only business transacted being the introduction of the bill respecting the election laws, more generally referred to as the constables' bill. The Attorney-General, in an able address which occupied upwards of an hour in delivery, explained the various clauses of the bill.

The Constables' Bill.

In introducing the bill, Mr. Hardy spoke an hour and a quarter, and stated he had not beaten a retreat. The object of the bill related not only to the constables' vote, but to two other classes of voters as well. It embraced in its purview persons from whom polling booths were rented, those who furnished printed ballots and other election necessaries and those who might be hired by the deputy returning officer as well. The Attorney-General drew a line of demarcation between election officials hired in the public interest to perform public functions, and those employed by one of the candidates for his own benefit. These latter were not entitled to vote, but with the men who were paid public money the case was different. They performed a public duty, and were not called upon to work for either one or other of the candidates.

"We on this side think it an injustice," he said, "that when an Act has been in force for 30 years, and its principles have been recognized for half a century, a new and startling interpretation should be placed upon it after, and not before, an election contest." The fact that both parties up to 1887 had for 50 years tacitly recognized the right of the constables to vote, should be a significant factor in the consideration of the question. He had never heard the slightest doubt expressed on the subject. Four years ago the Government had met the House with the slim majority of seven, or, including West Kent, of nine; there had been no effort then to apply a legal quibble of the kind to deprive the Government of that majority. It was true that the Government had at one time commanded a majority of 37, but it should be remembered that "no chain is stronger than its weakest link."

There was no questioning the right of Oppositionists to assume that returning and deputy returning officers were friends of the Government in power, but the constables, for a variety of reasons, were often not so. The Act of 1868 and 1869, it was true, held returning officers, deputy returning officers and poll clerks to be disqualified, the Legislature thereby implying that they had not been so before. Sir Oliver Mowat, in 1874, in passing an Act enfranchising them, had made no mention of constables, thereby implying that they had never been disqualified. After quoting from the Common Law of England, the Premier took issue with the statement that eight seats were involved in the question before the House. He admitted that there might be three or four, of which two certain ones were South Perth and West Huron. He could not say as to Nipissing, or Muskoka. He was certain, however, that it would not alter the position of affairs in East Lambton, South Norfolk, Lennox or West York; in the latter some constables were Conservatives.

Mr. Foy—How many constables were there in West York?

Mr. Hardy—The majority, I believe, was 39, while there were only thirty-five constables, and six of these, I am told, were Conservatives.

There were ten reasons why constables should vote to one why they should not, and he quoted from learned judges in support of his statement. He then dealt with the newspaper allegations that he had beaten a retreat. They had claimed that the Government, after meeting its friends, had been forced to change their minds and alter their course. There could be no iota of truth in that. No Reformer, either in the House or in the country, had remonstrated with him or the Government against the original measure as founded on the principle of the bill of 1887. In fact, he believed Reformers would have been better pleased had the Government stuck to their original plan as drafted in the memorandum. He challenged the Opposition to point out in the memorandum any reference which would indicate either the original or the final bill. Either course, that of an appeal to the Court of Appeal, or the framing of a bill like that of 1887 had been left open to him.

After explaining in detail here the various sections of the bill, he referred again to the precedent of 1887. Upon that occasion, he recalled, the two Federal parties had risen superior to party advantage, and the Opposition, though recognizing that they were confirming the Premier in his seat at Kingston, had joined hand in hand to put the bill through.

The collusion of the two parties riveted the right of the constables to vote more than if the Act had been passed by a bare Government majority. Sir John A. Macdonald's majority in Kingston at the time had been but 17, yet the Act removed all semblance of disqualification from 70 voters. The seats of Sir John Thompson and Dr. Montague were alike jeopardized and secured to them.

"What's right at Ottawa," said he, "is right here." He was working on a wider line, but that did not alter the justice of the case.

He explained why he had preferred the Court of Appeal to the trial judges. He had felt that it would be placing too much responsibility on any single judge to have the political destiny of the province, the fate of two parties, depending on his decision, however learned he might be. Then there was the possibility that one judge might decide one way and another another. This would be manifestly unfair, and unsatisfactory. Was it not, therefore, a statesmanlike, wise, and prudent resolution to have the matter left to a full court, to the court of ultimate resort? Their Lordships had deemed it unwise to take the matter up so late in the season and without a full court and, therefore, he had called Parliament together. A third and most important reason was that it would save members endless expense in litigation. He knew how members of the House had been ruined in years gone by in election trials. Then the Premier went on to say that much had been said, and rightly said, in favor of passing a law to prevent a man of straw, who could not pay his own costs, protesting a member's election. He engaged to take some steps in the near future to introduce legislation to prevent this anomaly.

He denied that there was anything in the bill to be looked upon as a Government voting itself into power or judging in its own cause. The bill was a mere declaration that certain persons had the right to vote. If they always had that right, it gave no additional powers. It was a fair bill. It concurred in the Opposition principle, both of submitting it to the courts and to the people. Mr. Hardy closed by moving the first reading of the bill.

Mr. Whitney Reserves Discussion.

Mr. Whitney reserved discussion until the second reading. He ridiculed Mr. Hardy's statement that he was anxious to get the question before the people. He was acting contrary to all precedent and principle, for, instead of unseating a man by the possible disqualification of certain voters, he was enfranchising the doubtful voters and calling a new election. The Government had had plenty of chances before to pass this legislation, but instead had slept by the wayside and had called an August session of the House to pass it.

The Opposition leader consented to have the first reading recorded as "passed on division," and the second reading is to come up to-morrow. To-day the Fisheries' bill will be read a second time.

RESPONSIBLE FOR PEACE.

The War Department Has Fully Instructed Major-General Lawton—It Advises Him to See the Cuban Leaders.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The War Department late yesterday afternoon posted the following in reply to an enquiry from Major-General Lawton, commanding the department of Santiago, for instructions as to the policy to be observed toward the Cubans that are within his military department.

Commanding General, Department of Santiago de Cuba: Replying to your message for instructions, the President directs that you be informed that the United States is responsible for peace, and must maintain order in the territory surrendered and in your department, and must protect all persons and their property within said jurisdiction. Interference from any quarter will not be permitted. The Cuban insurgents should be treated justly and liberally, but they, with all others, must recognize the military occupation and authority of the United States and the cessation of hostilities proclaimed by this Government. You should see the insurgent leaders, and so advise them.

HOW THE U. S. CAPTURED MANILA.

Bombardment for Two Hours, Then Trenches Were Stormed.

Hong Kong, Aug. 17.—Manila has surrendered to Rear-Admiral Dewey. The Americans bombarded the city Saturday and were soon in possession. Governor-General Augusti and his family arrived here yesterday from Manila on the German cruiser Kaiserin Augusta.

The bombardment, which began at 9.30 a.m., was continued for two hours and then the Americans stormed the trenches, sweeping all before them. Those within the walls attempted no resistance.

The losses, American or Spanish, are not yet known. The Spaniards in the trenches probably numbered 3,000 men. The American force numbered 10,000, and the Americans were better armed, better trained and in better condition.

The American warships engaged were the Olympia, Petrel, Raleigh, McCulloch, Boston, Monterey, Charleston and Baltimore.

The American version of the battle is not yet obtainable.

Messrs Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. EVIDENCE TAKEN OF CATHERINE JOHNSTON

The Girl is Now Out of All Danger.

REPORT OF THE TESTIMONY.

The Court Holds a Session in the Nicholls Hospital Where the Patient is at Present Lying.

A session of the Police Court was held yesterday afternoon in the South Ward of the Nicholls Hospital for the purpose of taking the evidence of Catherine Johnston, upon whose person it is charged an abortion was committed.

County Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution. Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for Dr. Pigeon and Mr. W. A. Stratton for Wm. Hayes. Both of the accused were also in attendance.

The other patients had been removed from the ward for the occasion and Miss Johnston was found to be resting comfortably, being now pronounced to be out of all danger, unless something entirely unforseen should intervene. On her testimony being taken she stated that she resided at No. 260 Reid street with her parents. She had gone to Dr. Pigeon because she was pregnant. She did not know when she became so. Did not know she was in this condition until told so by Dr. Pigeon on Thursday, Aug. 4th, at 5 p. m. William Hayes was the father of the child. She saw Hayes the same night that she went to Dr. Pigeon and told him what was the matter. Hayes said he would be down the next night. On Friday she saw Hayes when he came to the house. She told Hayes she was going to go to Dr. Pigeon again, and he said, "All right. She went to Dr. Pigeon's at ten o'clock on Saturday morning. He told her if she

GAVE HIM TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS

she would be all right in a couple of days. She could give him $10 cash, and the rest whenever she had it. She said she would come back on Monday or Tuesday. She saw Hayes again on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. She told him what the doctor had said. Hayes said he would give her the money on Monday. He came Monday night and gave her $10. She went to the doctor again Tuesday morning at twenty-five minutes to ten. No one else was there. She said she had the money. He took it and went out of the office. When he came back he told her to get into a large chair that was there. He then brought in some instruments and used them. [Witness here described in detail the instruments used and the manner of their use.] Continuing the witness stated that after being operated on she almost fainted. When she was coming to he told her to get out. She went home and lay on the sofa, and after about two hours felt better. Before leaving the doctor she said she supposed he would come to see her. He said there would be no occasion to as by Saturday she would be all right. If she sent for him he would come. On Wednesday she was pretty sick. On Thursday morning at 11.25 her mother had Dr. Pigeon telephoned for. He came and took her temperature. He asked if there was any danger of her mother or anyone coming in. She said "No." She asked him if he could give her anything. He said "no," but he would be back. He did not stay three minutes. He SEEMED GREATLY EXCITED.

Father O'Sullivan came in later and she told him everything. He advised sending for Dr. Halliday.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stone witness stated that she was at Dr. Pigeon's three times—on Thursday, Saturday and Monday. Thursday at 5 p.m., Saturday at 10 a.m. and Tuesday at 9.35 a.m. When she went to the doctor's the first time she asked him if she was in the family way. She thought she was about seven weeks gone. She asked him if he could give her anything to get her out of her trouble. She did not threaten to drown herself if he refused. She saw herself doing such a trick (laughingly.) She made no threat about herself. She did not care much whether she got rid of her trouble or not. She thought she was not very far gone and he might give her a little medicine which would fix her all right. She was not sure whether she was pregnant or not. It was on the morning of Tuesday that the operation was performed. Dr. Pigeon did not tell her he was going to operate or she would never have submitted to it. She thought he was only going to make an examination. As she went into the doctor's office she met a lady going out. She thought she was giving him the ten dollars for medicine. She had been keeping company with Hayes since March 1st. She had known him for a good many years. It was about the middle of March when she lost her virtue to Wm. Hayes. It was on April 7th that she got into trouble. She did not tell her mother about it. She did not tell her when she was going to Dr. Pigeon's or when she came back. On Thursday about the operation, but did not say what it was for. When Dr. Pigeon came to the house she told her mother that it wasn't necessary for her to be in the room. She had kept company with two other young men before she went with Hayes. Hayes seduced her about a fortnight after he began to keep company with her. Her age was twenty-five years.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stratton, the witness stated that she never intended having an operation performed on her. If she had known she was to have been operated upon, she would have refused. No one ever advised her to have an operation performed. No one ever advised her to permit any means to be used on herself to procure a miscarriage. In her talk with Hayes there was no talk of an operation. He did not counsel an operation. He did not counsel her to permit any means to be used on herself to procure a miscarriage. Witness then repeated her conversation with Dr. Pigeon as given in her evidence in chief. There had been no talk on Saturday between her and Hayes about an abortion or using any means to secure one. This was also the case on Monday, when Hayes gave her the ten dollars. The charge as laid in the information against Hayes was untrue.

Re-examined by Mr. Wood, the witness stated that she did not know when Hayes got the $10 which he gave her. On Monday when Hayes gave her the money he knew she was in a family way. When he gave her the money it was to pay the doctor for what he was going to do for her. Her desire in going to the doctor was to get rid of her pregnancy. Hayes knew what she was going to the doctor for.

At the conclusion of the evidence Dr. Pigeon was committed for trial and was released on bail—himself in the sum of five hundred dollars and Dr. King and Adam Hall for $250 each.

The prisoner Hayes was remanded until Friday morning, and was released on the same amount of bail as Dr. Pigeon, his father and brother being his sureties.

CAMP IS OVER AND THE BOYS ARE BACK.

THE Y.M.C.A. CLEAR LAKE PARTY RETURNS.

Every Member of the Camp was More Than Delighted With the Pleasures of the Outing.

PETERBOROUGH, Aug. 16, 1898.

Here we are again—nineteen jolly Y.M.C.A. campers, back from the haunts of Clear Lake and the first Y.M.C.A. boys' camp at Sandy Point. Our leaders, Mr. Williamson and Mr. Stubbs, must have breathed a sigh of relief yesterday when the entire party and outfit were landed safely at the Y.M.C.A. building. The first contingent, in charge of the secretary, arrived in the storm, about 3 o'clock, and at 6 o'clock Mr. Stubbs, with the Pleo and a crew of four, completed the procession.

Promptly at 8 a.m. the fleet left camp and rowed to Young's Point, where the majority took the 'bus for home, the remaining men going on by water to Lakefield with the boats. Every boy in our party was delighted with the outing and the closing day came only too soon.

My last letter to you was posted on Thursday. Much of interest transpired since then. On that afternoon the party arrived at the store en route for Bucleigh when an alarm of fire sounded over Juniper Island. It was discovered that the section of the Island belonging to Mr. G. M. Roger was in flames. Everyone quickly secured buckets and hastened to the spot. The fire had already gained great headway and until our help arrived two ladies of Mr. Roger's camp fought the flames like heroines. Our boys worked hard and after some hours had the conflagration under control. Mr. Roger, who was absent, returned in the evening and duly acknowledged the faithful services of the boys.

Friday was the first rainy day of the camp and it was welcomed because it added variety to camp life. The unpleasant feature was the postponement of the "camp fete" which was killed for the afternoon and which a large number of campers promised to attend. The storm was severe, but the excellent tent arrangements protected the camp from any serious results. The boys read, played checkers, or put on their swimming suits and danced about in the downpour. A section of the sports was run off on Saturday and the balance will form the programme for this afternoon. The game of baseball between two teams captained by N. Cameron and E. Gibson resulted in an easy victory for the team of the Torontonian. The score was 43 to 10.

On Saturday evening all accepted the kind invitation of Mrs. B. F. Ackerman to luncheon. A very pleasant evening was spent and the abundance of refreshments provided was warmly appreciated by the boys. Mrs. Ackerman also treated the camp yesterday to a fine roast of lamb.

Yesterday a number of visitors were welcomed to camp, including Messrs. G.M. Roger, W. H. Rackham, W. Elliott, A. E. Mosley, of Peterborough; R. Clarke, Sarnia; also Misses Roper and Halliday, Peterborough; Miss McFarlane, Toronto; Miss Gilmour, Montreal; and Mrs. Smith, of Chicago.

The service at the pavilion was attended on Sunday, and a large number of the boys went to the camp fire service at Otter Island in the evening.

Monday was the most memorable day of camp life. The afternoon was spent in running off the sports. Mr. Ernie Gibson of Toronto took the lead in almost everything, but withdrew from the competition as he was a few years older than the others who contested with him. Henry Cleeves won the first place in the aggregate, and thus became the proud possessor of the cup presented by the secretary. I will not trespass on the space of your valuable paper more than to give a list of the successful competitors and the aggregate number of points:

1—Gibson, 45 points.
2—Cleeves, 34 points.
3—Armstrong, 12 points.
4—Dobbin, 7 points.

In the evening the arrangements for supper were interrupted by rain, and at a late hour a large pan-cake bake took place. The Admiral had his most successful batch which was also the largest. Everything soon disappeared.

The rain commenced afresh and the final shin heat on the lake shore was called off. However a fire blazed brightly in the centre of the camp, and 20 quarts of popcorn were sandwiched in between the times of story telling and joke cracking. The boys of the sections vied with each other in who should play the best trick on the other.

2 a.m. saw all quiet again, and at 5 the voice of our visitor, Sanford Hall, was a reminder that the time for packing up had arrived. With expedition the tents were struck and the boats loaded, and as they moved off a cheer arose. A final look back at the camp revealed only a smouldering camp fire and a well beaten green sward—to mark the scene of the first annual camp of the Boys' Department of the Peterborough Y.M.C.A.

THE SCRIBE.

CLARK'S KOLA COMPOUND CURES

A Child that Suffered from Asthma Almost Since his Birth.

Mr. James Kirkland, 52 Princess avenue, Victoria, B. C., writes: "Our boy who has been troubled with asthma almost since his birth, which has been continuously growing worse in spite of the medical aid we could procure. Our doctors' bills have been very large each year; neither myself nor my wife had had a full night's sleep during the last year of his trouble, having had to poultice and to give him medicine to keep him from choking. We heard of a neighbour who had been cured by Clarke's Kola Compound and we resolved to try it, with the result that to-day our child is completely cured, not having had an attack since the second bottle, almost a year ago. He has grown very fast since and is now quite strong and healthy. We feel very grateful to Dr. Clarke for the discovery of his wonderful remedy as it has saved our son's life." Certified correct by Messrs. Hall & Co., druggists, Victoria, B.C., from whom the medicine was purchased. Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are absolutely guaranteed to cure any case of Asthma or Hay Fever, or money will be refunded. Free sample bottle to any address mentioning this paper. REPORTS OF THE BOARDS OF EXAMINERS.

Results of Examinations for Commercial Specialists in Domestic Science, for Commercial Diplomas and for Forms III. and IV.

The reports of the Boards of Examiners in connection with the examinations for commercial specialists, in domestic science, for commercial diplomas and for forms III. and IV. have been considered by the Educational Council, and below are given the names of the successful candidates at Peterborough. It is intended in the case of Forms III and IV. and commercial diplomas to have the marks of unsuccessful candidates sent within ten days to the Principals of High Schools or Public School Inspectors. The marks will not be sent to candidates by the department. Certificates will also be sent to Principals or Inspectors about September 1. It is recommended that unsuccessful candidates should not appeal until they have consulted the High School Principal, after receiving their marks. Appeals to be entertained must be made before September 20.

Regarding the value of certificates, it will be understood that the other certificates required by the regulations must be held in order that a candidate have junior or senior leaving standing. Candidates should also observe the following:

III. implies an examination of form III. under the old or under the revised regulations. The certificates issued will indicate more definitely the character of the examination passed. Candidates awarded this certificate obtained 50 per cent. on the total, besides passing in each subject.

Matriculation implies that the candidate has been awarded a certificate for part II. of junior matriculation, or has obtained pass standing in same subjects of junior matriculation. Matriculation certificates have no value as qualifying for a teacher's non-professional standing.

IV. implies that the candidate passed in the required subjects of this form, under either the old or the revised regulations, 50 per cent. on the total being obtained. The certificate issued will indicate more definitely the character of the examination passed.

Form IV., part I., implies that this certificate has been awarded, the required total being obtained.

Form IV., part II., implies that the candidate passed in the required subjects, under the old or the revised regulations, 50 per cent. on the total being obtained. The certificate issued will indicate more definitely the character of the examination passed.

Honours in matriculation will be awarded to such candidates as submit proof of standing and forward their certificates for endorsation.

Only four commercial specialists were successful this year, and of these two were from Peterborough—Messrs. Arthur S. Laing and Robert S. Simpson, both of whom were prepared for the examination by the Peterborough Business College, which fact necessarily reflects great credit on that institution, when the very small percentage of applicants who passed is taken into consideration.

The students from this vicinity who were successful in other branches were:

Peterborough—III.—M. Kennedy, S. B. MacDonald, C. E. Sisson, A. S. VanEvery. Matriculation—S. R. Hall; M. A. English, passed in Latin; H. C. Kindred, passed in Latin; H. R. Philp, passed in Latin, French authors and German authors; F. J. Sawers, Class I. honours in English, history and classics, Class II. honours in mathematics, German and chemistry.

Norwood—III—E Brethen, B Campbell, G Carter, M O'Brien, A Stewart, E L Crawford. Matriculation—J Breckenridge, passed in Latin authors; M A Fraser, passed in algebra; A H Wood, passed in Latin.

Omemee—III—L McGeough, M Rutherford, N Thompson (honours). Matriculation—H Mulligan, passed in French and German authors.

There are fifteen circuits or missions in the district. The superannuation fund assessments were made, the missionary meetings and educational work arranged for, and a reading club formed with Rev. C. H. Coon, Cavanville, secretary.

The following re the plebiscite and prohibition was carried unanimously by the district meeting:

Moved, seconded and resolved at the Financial District Meeting of Peterborough District held in Lakefield on August 16th, 1898, that we as a District Meeting heartily commend to our people the opportunity that will be given on Sept. 29th next to declare their position clearly upon the question as to whether or not they desire the prohibition of the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

We would also warn our people of the effort that is being made by liquor dealers to complicate the question by false issues, such as (a) the question of revenue; (b) whether the Government will give us a prohibitory law if we carry the plebiscite; (c) that a prohibitory law cannot be enforced.

The question at issue is:—"Do we as a people believe that the said prohibition would be in the interest of our citizens, and therefore in the interest of our native land?"

And that in the opinion of this District meeting it is the duty of each member and adherent of the Methodist Church to do all that is possible, by vote and by influence, to have as large a majority as possible in favour of the prohibition of the liquor traffic in the approaching plebiscite vote.

And resolved that we urge upon the ministers of this District the duty of urging upon the people their duty in this respect in ample time before the vote is taken, reminding them that neglect to vote may be as fatal to the cause of prohibition as voting against it.

The Tea Cup Test

It is well enough to talk about the good qualities of a tea, but after all it is what is shown by brewing that is the final test. The number of cups of good tea that can be brewed from a single pound has as much relation to economy as the price per pound. From a pound of Ram Lal's Pure Indian Tea, 200 cups of tea can be made. Beside, the strength there is the quality of the brew, and in this Ram Lal's stands above all others.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT IN CARDEN TOWNSHIP

A Young Man's Arm Torn off by the Cylinder of a Threshing Machine—The Victim Succumbed to the Shock and Loss of Blood.

The details of a terrible accident in Carden township, Victoria county, are to hand to-day. A young man by the name of Richard Hicks was assisting at a threshing bee Monday on the farm of Mr. Richard Killinsworth, in Carden, and while cutting bands and assisting the feeder, his right hand became caught in the cylinder and was drawn in until the arm was pulled out of the socket, to emerge in a mangled condition on the straw carriers. A doctor was at once sent for, but the several arteries could not be located, and the poor fellow died of shock and loss of blood. The unfortunate young man was a general favourite, and the sad fatality has cast a gloom over the entire neighbourhood. Mr. Joseph Hicks, the father, is a well-to-do and highly respected farmer, and will have the sympathy of all in his terrible affliction.

Can't Sleep.

The weary vigils of the night, anxious hours that drag like days. How often they come, and how unwelcome they are. A system robbed by sleeplessness of natural rest cannot be vigorous and strong. The nerves are at fault and must be built up. Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are the remedy that cured

MISS EMMA TEMPLE.

HERE IS WHAT SHE SAYS:

At last, after eight months of physical weakness and nervous prostration, caused by over exertion and want of rest,—during which time I suffered greatly on account of the shattered condition of my nerves, and for which I was unable to find any relief. I have found a medicine (Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills) that in three months made my nerves strong, removed all nervous troubles, built up my physical system and made me strong and well. They removed despondency, and in consequence of taking your valuable Pills I look forward to the future hopefully. I have to thank your great cure for nervousness and bodily weakness for my present good health and strength.

Yours truly,

Signed, EMMA TEMPLE, Hastings, Ont.

THREE QUEER CITIES.

Each One Is Built on Islands Connected by Many Bridges.

The city of Ghent, in Belgium, is built on 26 islands. These islands are connected with each other by 80 bridges. The city has 300 streets and 30 public squares. It is noted for being the birthplace of Charles V and of John of Gaunt, whom Shakespeare called "time honored Lancaster," and as the scene of the pacification of Ghent Nov. 8, 1576, and of several insurrections, sieges and executions of well known personages. It is associated with American history by the treaty made there Dec. 24, 1814, terminating the second war between England and the United States, known as the war of 1812.

Amsterdam, in Holland, is built on piles driven far below the water into the earth. The city is intersected by many canals, which are spanned by nearly 300 bridges, and resembles Venice in the mingling of land and water, though it is considerably larger than that city. The canals divide the city, which is about ten miles in circumference, into 90 islands.

The city of Venice is built on 80 islets, which are connected by nearly 400 bridges. Canals serve for streets in Venice, and boats, called gondolas, for carriages. The bridges are, as a rule, very steep, rising considerably in the middle, but have easy steps. The circumference of the city is about eight miles. The Venetians joined the Lombard League against the German emperor, and, in 1177, gained a great victory in defense of Pope Alexander III, over the fleet of war vessels headed by Otto, son of Frederic Barbarossa. In gratitude for this victory the pope gave the Doge Ziani a ring, and instituted the world famous ceremony of "Venice Marrying the Adriatic Sea." In this ceremony the doge, as the chief ruler of Venice used to be termed, with appropriate ceremonies dropped a ring into the sea every year in recognition of the wealth and trade carried to Venice by the Adriatic.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman, too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all it attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

That aching head can be instantly relieved by taking one of Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders. One powder 5c., 3 for 10c., 10 for 25c.

Piles! Piles! Itamin Piles.

A TRYING NAVAL JOB.

WHAT IT MEANS TO PUT A WARSHIP IN COMMISSION.

The Enormous Amount of Work That Must Be Performed and the Ceremonies That Are Observed Before the Pennant and the Stars and Stripes Are Hoisted.

In times of peace as well as when war's dark clouds gloom the nation you are liable to read in the newspapers an announcement to the effect that one of the vessels of the navy is going "into commission." It is not a very impressive phrase, but the full meaning of the term is something of which few have any adequate conception. To put a modern warship into commission involves an enormous amount of work, which can be fully appreciated only by one who has observed the process from beginning to end.

When a vessel of the navy is laid up in reserve, "in ordinary," as it is called, it is far from an attractive object and could hardly be recognized as the same ship when in thorough trim, with crew aboard. The ship is anchored at a convenient navy yard; the stores are sent ashore, her engines and guns covered with oil and an antirust paint; her decks are allowed to become dirty, her sides dull and stained from rusty chains. Thus she lies perhaps for months, and then an order comes from the secretary of the navy, through the chief of the bureau of navigation, directing the commanding officer of the yard to get her ready for sea.

The first thing to be done is to bring as many men as possible from the receiving ship, which lies hard by, and these, with the force of the yard, under the direction of whatever officers are available, begin at once to put things to rights and remove the accumulated dust and dirt from the different parts of the equipment; the engineer's force goes at once to the engines and boiler rooms; the antirust paint is removed from the engines; new packing is put in the valves and joints; the pumps are tested, the rust and dirt knocked from interiors of fire boxes, and boiler tubes and grate bars renewed.

Outwardly everything is now in fair condition, but this is only the beginning. It remains to get up steam in some of the boilers, turn over the engines to see if they are in proper trim, start the dynamos, test the electric lights and the pilothouse, signals, turn on the searchlights, start the fans, work the steering gear and steering engines, set the hoisting machinery in motion and put the boat cranes in operation. Every engine, boiler, pipe, wire, tube, rivet, bolt, nut and plate is carefully inspected, and if found unserviceable from any cause repaired.

Next the equipment storehouse is visited, and a full allowance of beef, pork, beans, potatoes, coffee, sugar, salt, flour, meal, clothing, shoes, hammocks, blankets, paint, tobacco—in short, the whole miscellaneous assortment of the commissary department, is placed on board. The paymaster of the ship is responsible for every article received, and a strict account is kept of each. Then the galley, or cooking stove, has to be examined to see whether it is complete in all its findings. The outfit of a galley usually consists of two copper kettles of 30 gallons each, a 50 gallon kettle, with cast iron jacket and copper hinged covers, two steamers for vegetables, each with a capacity of 32 gallons; two sets of saucepans, a fine set of tools for lifting and firing and the ordinary cooking implements.

The line officers look after the condition of the guns, the rigging, the boats, the cables, the anchors, the flags and signals, the charts, the nautical instruments and other parts of the ship's equipment. What this means can only be appreciated by one who has actually undertaken the task. A volume might be written in regard to the signals alone.

When all this work has been done, the ship is ready to go into commission, and up to this time everything has been under control of the commandant of the yard, so that when the captain of the ship arrives and reports himself to the yard commander little remains for him to attend to. In the meantime men have been brought together to constitute the crew.

Sometimes they are enlisted particularly for the ship which is about to go into service, at other times they are withdrawn from other ships which have just been put out of commission. The crew and marines report aboard with bags and hammocks; the captain orders the crew to be drawn up on the spar deck promptly at noon upon the day on which the ship is to be put formally in commission, reads to them his orders from the secretary of the navy detailing him to the command, hoists the commission pennant to the main truck and the stars and stripes to the gaff or staff at the stern, and all is ready.

The ship is now in commission.—San Francisco Call.

A FARMER'S EVIDENCE.

Proves That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Only Cure for Diabetes.

St. Thomas, Aug. 15—Diabetes has carried off many of our valued and worthy citizens, of late years.

Many others would have been killed by that dread disease, if Dodd's Kidney Pills had not been used.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved many precious lives in our city, and are daily adding to the list.

Mr. M. Hollern, a farmer living near St. Thomas tells what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for him.

"I suffered horribly from Diabetes. All the remedies I took were useless, till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured me quickly and thoroughly."

There is no case of Diabetes that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure. Try them, and be convinced.

THE DUNKERS' LOVE FEAST.

Feet Washing, the Great Supper and the Kiss of Peace.

"The most important and the most beautiful custom of the Dunkers is their love feast, which they celebrate in commemoration of the Lord's supper, after the manner of the primitive Christians," writes Clifford Howard in describing the customs of the Dunkers of Ephrata, Lancaster county, Pa., in The Ladies' Home Journal.

"The celebration is held at nightfall and begins with the rite of feet washing, in imitation of the act performed by the Master at the last supper, when he washed the feet of his disciples. Small tubs of lukewarm water are brought in, and those about to receive the ordinance remove their shoes and stockings. The brothers then in turn, each one girding himself with a towel, wash and dry one another's feet, the sisters at the same time doing likewise among themselves in their part of the room.

"After this follows the supper, the feast of love, which is spread on long tables and consists of lamb soup and bread and other simple viands. It is eaten in devout solemnity and reverence. At the close of the meal the brothers turn to one another and extend the right hand of fellowship and the kiss of peace, each one shaking hands with his neighbor and kissing him, while the sisters at their tables perform the same beautiful rite among themselves. The communion is then administered."

The victory rests with America's Greatest Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, when it enters the battle against impure blood.

"You Owe It to Her."

If you are the mother of a young girl who is approaching the time when girlhood merges into womanhood do not hesitate to speak freely and frankly with her about the things which most closely concern her future happiness. If she is subject to any weakness of the delicate, special organism of womanhood, make it your business to see that this is properly corrected, and that she starts upon womanhood's career with full womanly strength and capacity. She will bless you for it all her life.

There is no need of "examinations" and "local applications." Sound professional advice may be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose thirty years' occupancy of this position has made him recognized among the most eminent of living specialists in the treatment of woman's diseases.

Every case submitted to him by mail receives careful consideration. Efficient and inexpensive home-treatment is prescribed whereby delicate, feminine complaints may be promptly alleviated and cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only proprietary medicine in the world designed for this special purpose by a regular physician—an educated, experienced expert.

Miss Cora L. Russel, of Leemont, Accomac Co., Va., in a letter to Dr. Pierce, says: "From April, 1895, until the following October, I suffered severely from painful menstruation. For about twelve hours before the appearance of the menses I would feel giddy, have a severe headache, pain in my back, in fact I felt as if every bone in my body was breaking. Nothing did me any good. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he recommended his 'Favorite Prescription,' and after using three bottles of it I am glad to say I am cured."

DISGUSTED FISHERMEN.

It Made Them Ill to See an Old Time Angler Catch Trout.

One day a Boston party, on a fishing trip to Moosehead, came across one of the old school fishermen. He was up off the mouth of Tomhegan stream and was fishing out of a lumberman's batteau. It developed later that he was the cook for a crew of river drivers. On the bank near at hand stood the cookee, or his helper. The cook had thrown about a peck of table refuse into the lake in order to "tole" the fish, and over that lure he was having great luck. His pole was of the jib boom variety, and when a fish bit he would derrick it over his head into the bushes where the cookee was stationed.

The Boston men from their canoes watched operations with all the disgust of the true sportsmen.

"Got enough for supper yet?" shouted the fisherman over his shoulder as he set another great trout flamping into the bushes.

"No; better catch six or eight more," shrilled back the cookee.

"Say, how many fish do you two fellows usually eat for supper?" shouted a Boston man who didn't understand the situation.

"When you've cooked for 22 river drivers as long as I have," yelled the cook, derricking another fish, "you'll know more about empty nail kegs."

Hardly was this enigmatic utterance out when there came a tug at his line that was nothing short of tremendous. He twitched. The fish didn't come. He braced, set his jaws and pried. His line only sawed the hissing water.

"Play him! Play him!" screamed the excited sportsmen from the city.

"Play your grandmother!" bellowed the cook. "I ain't here to play. I'm here to fish." And as he spoke he boosted over his head a 15 pound laker. Any man in the Boston crowd would have given $10 to have played him an hour at the end of an eight ounce rod. 'Twas too much for their nerves. They came away.—Lewiston Journal.

VOLUNTEERS OF HAVANA.

How They Were Won With a Pocket Handkerchief Promise.

In 1868, when the revolution of ten years in Cuba began, no volunteers existed in Havana worthy of being called such. There was only one old regiment, and when Governor General Lersundi, then of the island, tried to complete this regiment he found the task difficult of accomplishment on account of the prevailing unwillingness to enlist. But just at this time, most providentially for the relief of the dilemma, some unknown hand covered the walls of Matanzas, near Havana, with huge posters promising each Spaniard his passage home and the privilege of carrying away with him whatever his pocket handkerchief could contain in the event of his enlistment.

The effect of this stimulus to the flagging pulse of the public was electrical, and the enrollment of 50,000 men followed within 48 hours. The volunteers thus came into existence with their chiefs in the majority. But the ruined merchants of the city of Havana soon found out and objected to the newly risen power. This opposition increased upon the arrival in Cuba of the new governor general, Duice, who came in 1869 as representative of the revolutionary government in Spain. He was a man of good faith, empowered by the government to grant Cuba all the reform she coveted and that had lately been offered. He would undoubtedly have put a term to the revolution, averting all the ruin and devastation which followed. But such an easy and magnanimous course did not suit that class which faced inevitable financial ruin as a consequence of such a policy.—San Francisco Chronicle.

African Skins.

Between 1850 and 1875 it is certain that some millions of blesbok, wildebeest and springbok must have been destroyed in the Transvaal and Orange Free State. The slaughter was so prodigious and the variety of wild animals so great in these wild regions of South Africa that the result made a sensible difference in the leather industry of Europe. The markets were filled with skins which, when tanned, gave leather of a quality and excellence never known before, but the origin of which, as the material was still sold under old names, purchasers never suspected. Hides of the zebra and quagga arrived in tens of thousands, and good as horsehide is for the uppers of first class boots, these were even better. Smart Englishmen for years wore boots the uppers of which were made of zebra and quagga skin or from the hides of elands, onyx and gemsbok disguised under the names of "calf" or patent leathers.—London Spectator.

I was afflicted with that tired feeling and had no appetite. A friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and in a short time my appetite was better and the tired feeling was gone. Since then we always take Hood's when we need a blood purifier." MRS. S. KINCH, Beatric, Ontario.

Miss Lillian Russell has gone to Europe to fill her engagement at the Winter Garden in Berlin.

"A Sure Cure" is one of next season's new farces. It is to be sent out on the road by Harry Doel Parker.

Charles Coghlan writes that he will have the new play which he will produce in January finished by the time he returns to New York.

"Aunt" Louisa Eldridge has been engaged for a part in "La Tortue," which will open the next season at the Manhattan theater, New York.

Rose Leighton is a recent acquisition to the ranks of the Castle Square Opera company and will play character parts in the productions next season.

The Royal Italian Grand Opera company, with several new principals and with a competent chorus and orchestra, will begin a tour of the principal cities in September.

There will be nearly 200 people in the production of "Yankee Doodle Dandy" at the New York Casino. Of this number about 150 will be utilized in the choruses and ballets.

Miss Virginia Earle, Paula Edwards, Herbert Gresham and James T. Powers of the Daly Comic Opera company are in London to study the production of "The Greek Slave."

Miss Katherine Grey, who will play Celia Pryce in support of Charles Coghlan in "The Royal Box" next season, has returned from Paris, driven from the French metropolis by homesickness.

The scenery for "The Moth and the Flame," Mr. Herbert Kelcey's and Miss Effie Shannon's play, was destroyed, with Miss Julia Arthur's stage effects, in a recent fire in Jersey City.

Miss Carolyn Daniels has been engaged by the Bostonians as their second prima donna. She will sing Arabella in "Robin Hood," the English officer in "Rob Roy," etc., and will be the understudy for Miss Helen Bertram.

There Was Time.

"And when I come back from the war," said the young soldier, "we will be married."

"Have you so little time now?" she asked.

Thus it happened that a clergyman in the next block got a wedding fee that very day, and two people have less cause to worry.—Chicago Post.

Watson Will Do the Punching.

"What do you think of Admiral Camara's frequent trips through the Suez canal?" asked the observant boarder.

"I think," replied the cross eyed boarder, "that the canal company should issue him a commutation ticket at reduced rates to be punched every time he goes through."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Straightforward.

He's wondrously benevolent
'Mid ordinary scenes,
But when on action he's intent
The world knows what it means.
And youthful potentates who pine
For power must stand away
When Uncle Sam hangs out the sign,
"This Is My Busy Day."

He's affable and generous, too,
When circumstance invites,
But always sees the matter through
If he asserts his rights.
And filibusters get in line
And cease their capers gay
When Uncle Sam hangs out the sign,
"This Is My Busy Day."

Women's Worst Enemy

Some hesitate before giving an answer, but those who know best will immediately say HEADACHE.

Thousands of women live in misery day after day, and week after week, suffering untold agony from these dreadful headaches. Husbands are disheartened, children neglected, and happy homes ruined. Most women strive to bear in patience the suffering which they consider part of life without looking into the cause or searching for relief. Food cannot digest without the bile which the liver supplies and hence the necessity of keeping the liver in good working order. To cure the headaches you must cure the liver and thus remove the cause of disease.

Dr. Chase spent years of his life in perfecting a medicine which acts directly on the kidneys and liver. Thousands of grateful women have testified during the past ten years to the effectiveness of this remedy for sick headaches. Many a home has been restored to happiness as a result.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the greatest discovery of this great scientist, are put up to sell at 25 doses for 25c. All dealers.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

Knew His Business.

"You say Mrs. Weeks was here during my absence?" said the superintendent of the lunatic asylum to the attendant.

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "She called to see about taking her husband home, but he positively refused to go; said he would rather stay here."

DANGEROUS DYSENTERY.

Have it checked and the inflammation allayed by Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

It is appalling how many people in the course of a year are hurried into untimely graves by an attack of dysentery.

It comes on so suddenly, its course is so rapid, its action on the system so weakening, its termination so quickly fatal, that any treatment must be administered promptly and the disease checked effectively at the outset. The only remedy that anyone would think of relying on in such an emergency as that, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. For a generation and a half it has been curing all forms of bowel complaints of children and adults, and during that time has saved thousands of lives and many doctor's bills. Never be without it in your house. It's cost is trifling, only 35 cents, but the pain and weakness, yes, even death, it may save you from some day, or some of your family, is worth more to you than ten thousand times its price.

Mrs. Richard Gilbank, Coldwater, Ont., says: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and found it a reliable remedy for summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera morbus. I know it to be a grand remedy in the case of children and heartily recommend it."

Hagyard's Yellow Oil cures all pain in man or beast; for sprains, cuts, bruises, callous lumps, swellings, inflammation, rheumatism and neuralgia it is a specific.

How to Reduce Flesh.

If hens are getting too fat, there is no better way of reducing their flesh than to change the character of the rations. It is not often the quantity of food that fattens, but the character of it, and to give more clover and green foods and to substitute bran and oats for the heavier grains will do much, though omitting a meal or giving less for a few days might assist and also help to give them a better appetite for the unaccustomed food.

Bicycles!

First in Quality and Reputation.

A horse that doesn't kick, shy or go lame, when wanted, is a treasure.

Next to foolish horse buying is taking risks on Bicycles. Tricky horses are dear at any price—so are wheels.

Do not suppose that we claim to have all the thoroughly reliable wheels there are—that's not what we say. But this is what we say and ask to be remembered—that we "go slow" on taking up and selling any wheel.

It is one thing to sell an article with the use of which we have nothing to do, and an altogether different thing to put a man or a woman on a wheel which they take from us with confidence that they are safe with their lives. We value such confidence. A dollar or two of profit more or less cannot persuade us to handle it if the article is bad.

We do not undertake to protect buyers of Bicycles from sudden fear or from recklessness while riding, but we do undertake to give them, in a wheel, all the safeguards of best steel and skillful workmanship together with all the tests and circumspection possible.

"E. & D." mark the highest grade and are still the best.

"GENDRONS" are thoroughly reliable and never disappoint their owners—"The wheel that's always in front.

"TRIBUNES" are high grade—strictly good—but nearly sold out.

There is a fine chance just now to buy a few good Second Hand wheels—$10 to $25 each.

If you are thinking about a wheel—we can sell you one whose excellence cannot be doubted.

"Sporting Items" show that our wheels have won 70 per cent of all the road and track races in Canada this year and it will be ever thus—quality and easy running always tell.

THE FLAG UNFURLED AGAIN AT IDYL WYLD.

THIS FINE RESORT READY FOR THE RECEPTION OF GUESTS.

A Brief Reference to the Improvements in the Re-opened Hotel and Grounds.

Idyl Wyld, Aug. 15th, 1898.

The flag is again floating at top mast on Idyl Wyld, and new life and interest are being infused into this breezy summer resort, so familiar to visitors from Peterborough.

Since the property has reverted to Commodore Calcutt's hands, the impress of enterprise is plainly discernable, and what is being done at present is only the temporary preliminaries to greater improvements of a permanent nature in the future. The season is now rather too far advanced to inaugurate the new plans for a general remodelling of the house and grounds, but enough is being accomplished to warrant visitors who desire to come and stay for a term, that their comfort and pleasure will not be neglected.

The weather is most delightful, and although Idyl Wild has the same evidence of the drought which Peterborough and its surrounding country has so long experienced, there is a constant cooling breeze on the island, so grateful to the tired nerves of town and city residents after a protracted hot spell. The house has been partially refurnished with new furniture and other supplies; the bedrooms have been all renovated, and new bed linen, blankets, etc., added, and unless one is particularly fastidious about having things first class in every respect, real rest and airy sleeping apartments can be enjoyed. The table is not spread with the luxurious linen or set with the elaborate silverware one sees in high-price and expensive summer hotels, but the bill of fare is substantial and satisfying, well-prepared, varied and wholesome. The luxury of freshly caught maskinonge at every meal if desired is a delicious treat to the visitors from the city and becomes palatable to the most fickle of digestions. The tenderest of new vegetables are supplied from the Idyl Wyld gardens and an Idyl Wyld Jersey produces the creamiest of milk, fresh every morning and evening. Sweet home-made bread and prime dairy butter to butter it with, fruits, condiments and relishes, well made puddings, pastry and cake make up the daily pleasures of the table.

Under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Beckett, who have been officially installed as host and hostess, the visitor to Idyl Wyld will have no reason to complain. No mosquitos swarm as they do elsewhere at this season of the year. The beach and shores are clean and free from debris and decaying matter and the island is well kept and abounds in interesting shady nooks and sheltering foliage, while the view all round the lake furnishes endless delight to the lover of beautiful scenery.

The following are the arrivals at Idyl Wyld since last Friday:

WIFE'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Torture was so Intense Husband Thought She Could Not Live Twelve Hours.

Doctors Within Reach Could Not Even Relieve. No Sleep For Seven Days.

Tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. Asleep after First Application. Cured Well and Hearty.

I desire to inform you what CUTICURA (ointment) and CUTICURA SOAP have done for my wife. She was in the most horrible condition of any human being, from that most torturing of skin diseases, Eczema. She could neither sit down or lie down, her torture was so intense. I tried all the doctors that I could reach, but she got so that I firmly believe that she would have died within twelve hours if I had not been advised of CUTICURA REMEDIES and got them. A travelling man on seeing her condition told me what to get, and you may believe that I lost no time in getting them. Greatly to my surprise, my wife went to sleep in two hours after the first application, although she had not slept for seven days, nor I myself either. I followed up the treatment, and two boxes of Cuticura (ointment) and one cake of Cuticura Soap did the work completely, she was absolutely cured, and is well and hearty to-day. If this statement will do you or anybody else any good, use it. It is straight facts, and I can back up all I have said by fifty witnesses. I can't thank CUTICURA REMEDIES enough, for I thought one time that I should have to bury my wife, and I was never so happy and glad, as when I saw that deadly, fiery red begin to leave. Feb. 20, 1898. C. D. BONE, Clarksville, O.

CUTICURA REMEDIES appeal to those who have suffered long and hopelessly from torturing, disfiguring humors, with loss of hair, and who have lost faith in doctors, medicines, and all things human. Every hope, every expectation awakened by them, has been more than fulfilled. Their success has excited the wonder and approval of physicians familiar with the marvellous cures daily effected by them.

A SCANDAL EXPLODED

There Was Nothing in the Opposition's Ram Allegation.

CONSTABLES' BILL DEBATE.

Mr. Whitney Denounces the Measure Hon. G. W. Ross Replies and Quotes Many Precedents Justifying the Government's Position—Circumstances and Practice Combine Against Opposition.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—The piquancy was taken out of the latest agricultural scandal of the Opposit[illegible] yesterday afternoon when Hon. E. J. [illegible] rose to a question of privilege respecting an article in the Mail and Empire in reference to Mr. Hodgins and his ram, and informed the House that according to Mr. Hodgins' written statement the animal in question was at the Guelph farm in 1886, which was before Hon. Mr. Dryden became Minister of Agriculture and before there was any Minister of Agriculture for the province. Therefore the charge that Mr. Dryden was guilty of any wrongdoing was disproved. The remainder of the afternoon and evening sessions was occupied by the debate on the constables' bill.

Mr. Whitney, in opening the debate on the second reading of the constables' bill, referred to the hesitation of the Ministry in bringing down their matured bill, and said that everywhere Reformers were objecting to the proposed legislation. The original intention of the Government to pass a declaratory law had now simmered down to a decision to hand it over to the Court of Appeal. He had been told that the latter court had not only refused to take the matter up, but that it did not care to give a decision, believing that it would be binding on the trial judges. He was not disputing that the constables had voting rights, but the point was as to whether the Legislature should pass an Act saying they always had been so entitled. Mr. Hardy had argued that what was right at Ottawa was right at Toronto, conditions being the same. He agreed that this position could not be controverted. But then why had the Government changed its front? Why had they not stood by a position which was parallel to that at Ottawa? Why had they deserted this "right" stand to turn to an appeal to the Court of Appeal? He was glad to hear that in 1887 the Liberals had sprung to the defence of Sir John A. Macdonald's seat, for had he not been told so he could scarcely have thought it.

He next quoted voluminously from authorities to show that the bill was retroactive, and he said that in this case ex post facto legislation was carried so far as to be an actual substitution of the will of the Legislature for the will of the people. Why didn't the Attorney-General pass a straight bill saying the constables had a right to vote? He had no doubt it was because his friends in the House had pronounced an emphatic "No!"

Mr. Ross Answers.

Mr. Ross told Mr. Whitney that his address had been unusually full of invective and denunciation. In all his experience, he had never seen him so completely unhorsed and demoralized. All his arguments had fallen to the ground. He had come to the conclusion that the Opposition wilfully refused to be satisfied. In the first place, they had howled against a presumed declaratory bill. They had wanted the Government to leave it to the courts. The Government had now proposed to do so, and Mr. Whitney was lecturing them for receding from a declaratory bill. The Ontario ballot was practically a secret one, for out of the 16,000 culpable ballots which had been scrutinized before trial judges, not one had been identified. If it was a bad, corrupt or illegal vote, however, it was only right that it should be traceable, and for this reason the number was a necessity. It was not proposed that the will of the Legislature should be substituted for that of the people. But honorable gentlemen opposite were proposing that candidates, by avoiding the necessity of a new election, should obtain seats in the House without a popular majority. In speaking of the bill he said the Opposition leader wanted to have the right to put his hand in the ballot boxes and take out the constable votes, votes which had been recognized as legal for the past fifty years.

After piling up precedent upon precedent in his argument, Mr. Ross concluded by saying: The hon. gentleman is not sincere in his heroics. He was opposed to a declaratory bill as an issue, and now he is denouncing hon. gentlemen of this House because they have not brought in a declaratory bill. We have brought in a bill which will keep the hon. gentleman where he is for four years. (Liberal cheers.) We are introducing a bill which will keep a man in his seat when he is confirmed in that seat by the courts of the land. (Cheers.)

Other Speakers.

Col. Matheson accused the Government of obscuring the main issue. All British precedent was against retroactive legislation. Mr. Ross' precedents were worthless, none of them were analogous to the present attempted bill. No British Parliament ever left a question to the courts with the proviso that if successful the fruits of their success should be snatched from them. The alleged proposal of the Government was to leave the question to the courts, at the same time instructing their decision. He concluded his speech by denouncing the extravagance of the Government.

Mr. German of Welland said he was content to let the matter go on the representation of Mr. Ross in his exhaustive speech. He quoted Sir John A. Macdonald as saying that his bill was retroactive. In the first place, the leaders of the Opposition, composed of the leading lawyers of the land, had never stated that on March 1 the constables had no right to vote. He would himself have preferred supporting the bill in a different phase—one that would state clearly constables have a right to vote; nevertheless he was fully satisfied with this as it is.

The other members who spoke were: Mr. Lucas (Centre Grey), Mr. Graham (Brockville), Mr. Hoyle (North Ontario), and Mr. Clarke (West Northumberland). Mr. Carscallen moved the adjournment of the debate at 11 p.m. The second reading, by arrangement between the parties, will be divided upon by the House to-night, or it may be early to-morrow morning.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL.

All the Napanee Bank Robbery Prisoners Committed by Magistrate Daly—Ponton's Bail $10,000.

Napanee, Aug. 19.—Mackie, Holden and Ponton have been committed for trial, Magistrate Daly announcing that he would accept bail in Ponton's case. He placed the amount at $10,000. Mr. Wilson, Mackie's counsel, will apply to the County Judge for bail for his client.

Mr. Porter's address closed at 11 o'clock yesterday, with an eloquent appeal for Ponton's release, after occupying the attention of the court for three hours.

Messrs. Wilson and Preston, counsel for Mackie and Holden respectively, followed with brief addresses.

Mr. Osler then addressed the Magistrate for about an hour. In his remarks he alluded to the fact that a man may turn Queen's evidence at a preliminary investigation and his evidence may be rejected by the trial judge. Pare had everything to gain by telling the truth in this matter. He was not, however, there to sustain Pare's character. The public had to protect itself by utilizing such evidence as his. He would have the court consider what there was in the case that was definite and not dependent on the accomplices' evidence. He contended that there was sufficient evidence to warrant the committal of the three men.

Magistrate Daly's summing up was brief. He said the community must be protected. He thought it to the interest of Ponton to have a thorough investigation, consequently he would send him up for trial. As to Holden and Pare, he had no doubt that they should be tried. In the meantime Magistrate Daly grants Ponton bail. No bail was allowed for Holden or Mackie.

Bail for Ponton was fixed at $10,000.

Mackie's counsel will apply to the County Judge for bail.

LUXURIOUS FIXINGS

Found in the Homes of the Members of the Johnson Family.

Detroit, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Georgina Baylis, sister of the three Johnsons, under arrest for counterfeiting, was arrested at noon yesterday by Detective Kane and Special Officer Downey. Her arrest was caused by the finding of more bogus money and counterfeiting materials concealed in the house at 106 McGraw avenue, which was occupied by Charles and Edmund Johnson, their mother and Mrs. Baylis. The latter was housekeeper, and must have known of the work. The charge against her will be the same as that against Mrs. David Johnson. The detectives found that the houses were most luxuriously fitted up with velvet carpets and valuable paintings. They also found $5,000 in bogus money.

TEN BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Fire at Vankleek Hill Burns Many Valuable Buildings at an Early Hour This Morning.

Vankleek Hill, Ont., Aug. 19.—About midnight a fire broke out which totally destroyed the residence and hardware store of Henry Cheney, house and shop occupied by Rev. Dr. W. K. and Miss Anderson; Blanchard, merchant tailor, and J. Landeau, barber; John Farmer's harness shop, dental office of Drs. Howes and Fitzpatrick and D. J. Jamieson & Sons' store, as well as Windsor hotel, Main street. Fire now under control. Insurance and loss at present unknown.

THE LOSS WAS FIFTY

It Is So Stated in General Merritt's Official Report.

TO BE NO JOINT OCCUPATION.

The United States Takes Over the Philippine Archipelago Under the Terms of Capitulation Alone—The Insurgents Must Recognize the Military Occupation and Authority of Uncle Sam.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The War Department has received the following:

Manila, Aug. 13.—After describing preliminaries, much the same as Admiral Dewey's report, Gen. Merritt proceeds:

After about half an hour's accurate shelling of Spanish lines MacArthur's brigade on the right and Greene's on the left under Anderson made a vigorous attack and carried Spanish works. Loss not accurately known; about fifty in all. Behavior of troops excellent; co-operation of navy most valuable. Troops advanced rapidly on walled city, upon which white flag shown and town capitulated. All important centres protected. Insurgents kept out. No disorder or pillage.

No Joint Occupation With Insurgents.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The War Department yesterday made public the order sent to General Merritt, regarding the occupation of the city of Manila by the American forces. The order is as follows: "The President directs that there must be no joint occupation with the insurgents. The United States, in the possession of Manila city, Manila bay and harbor, must preserve the peace and protect persons and property within the territory occupied by their military and naval forces. The insurgents and all others must recognize the military occupation and authority of the United States, and the cessation of hostilities proclaimed by the President. Use whatever means in your judgment are necessary to this end. All law-abiding people must be treated alike."

The Terms of Capitulation.

London, Aug. 19.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says: The terms of the capitulation of Manila, as agreed upon Saturday between Gen. Jaudenes and Gen. Merritt, include the cession of the Philippine archipelago to the United States.

American Troops Everywhere.

Hong Kong, Aug. 19.—The American troops now occupy every position formerly held by the Spaniards, of whom 6,000 are prisoners. Not a single shot was fired at the fleet.

Admiral Dewey picked up the end of a severed cable on Friday, but the line is not in working order. Merchantmen are leaving Hong Kong for Manila. A great rush of trade is expected.

Spanish Troops Sent Away.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 19.—Four thousand Spanish troops have already been shipped and the transports Villa Donga and Estra De Panal will leave today with 3,000 more. Gen. Toral says more transports will be needed than have been provided. The 6,000 Spanish at Guantanamo Bay cannot leave before the last of the month. Sickness is increasing among them.

BARBARIC WARFARE.

Spaniards in the Philippines Accused of Great Cruelty—Heavy Fighting With Insurgents.

London, Aug. 19.—The Singapore correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The native rebellion in the Philippines has extended to the hemp provinces, in South Luzon. Heavy fighting occurred at Taglatnan, Pilar and Ponsol, the immediate cause being outrages committed by the Spaniards at Paglatuan. The Spanish also burned Pilar and massacred 500 natives. The insurgents are concentrating at Albay with the object of cutting off the retreat of the numerous Spanish in the Camarines Province.

"A German cruiser has been carrying despatches from the Captain-General of the Lisayas Island to the district between Cebu and Iligan and the Spanish military depot. The German flag has also been transporting in Mindanao, the steamer Rosario, taking troops thence to Iloilo. After the island of Maskate had been taken by the insurgents, the latter indignantly refused to allow the German steamer Clara to enter any ports under their control."

Spanish Peace Commissoners.

London, Aug. 19.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily News says that Generals Blanco, Castellanos and Leon, and Admiral Manterola have been appointed commissioners for Cuba, and Gen. Macias and Ortega and Admiral Vallarino for Porto Rico. It is probable, the correspondent says, that Senor Leon y Castillo, the Spanish Ambassador to France, will preside at the sessions of the Paris Committee.

A Bailiff's Gruesome Find.

Hamilton, Aug. 18.—Bailiff Hunter went into the office of Dr. E. S. Hillyer, corner of Victoria avenue and Cannon street, yesterday to make a seizure. He did not see him, so he entered the private apartments. On the bed was the dead body of the doctor and on a table, under two empty vials, which had contained poison, it is supposed, was a letter in which he said: "I tire of the struggle."

An inquest was opened at 4 o'clock and adjourned till to night. In the meantime a post-mortem examination will be held.

CONSERVATIVE LOYALTY.

Conservative organs have a characteristic way of excusing the disrepect shown by them and their leaders to Her Majesty's representative, Lord Aberdeen. Because His Excellency prevented Sir Charles Tupper from making a host of appointments after he had been defeated at the the polls, he has been hounded like a highwayman by the Conservative politicians and press. During his visit to Winnipeg Mr. Hugh Macdonald refused to preside at a banquet tendered to His Excellency, and this outrageous breach of hospitality and act of disloyal disrespect the Belleville Intelligencer not only excuses but commends the son of the late chivalrous leader of the party for his course. The Intelligencer says:

> "Mr. Macdonald, with that chivalry and sense of honour, which have ever characterized him, could not become a party to the lauding of His Excellency, as would have had to be the case had he presided at the banquet, without directly giving his chief a slap in the face. Fidelity to party and to his leader, prevented him from placing himself in such a position."

That is to say because Sir Charles Tupper outraged every principle of decency and loyalty in his treatment and actual abuse of the Governor-General, Conservatives are bound to follow his example.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

How would "Whitney's doddering party" do as an anti-fillip to "Hardy's tottering party?

THE Conservative journals have a good deal to say about Hon. Mr. Hardy's "tottering party," that is perhaps why they bring forth the battering-ram, Dan. to give the coup de grass to the premiers following.

THE Brantford Expositor is one of the best evening dailies in the Dominion. Always enterprising—from day to day—lively and newsy and well written. Its special editions are examples of fine typography and newspaper enterprise. It has issued a civic holiday number, beautifully illustrated and replete with interesting reminiscent and live local matter. It is a pictured and picturesque replica of what the editor calls the finest and most enterprising city in all the great Dominion—"Canada, the full fledged partner in the firm of John Bull & Son." The Expositor's gala day number is a model and is a splendid credit to the publisher and the city. Floreat Brantford.

AT the beginning of the special session of the Legislature, Mr. Whitney and his followers were loud in complaint of the unnecessary expense attendant upon the calling of what they considered a superfluous session. That the session was necessary has been amply demonstrated, and the expense is to be increased by its length. Mr. Whitney, by deciding upon a policy of obstruction will greatly prolong the session, and be directly responsible for the expense implied in a protracted sitting of the House. And it can accomplish no good purpose. He can justify himself to the country by entering any protest he sees fit, and permitting the Constables' Bill, which has been selected as their raison d' etre of obstruction, to pass to a vote. He will have discharged his duty in this regard, and will further discharge his duty, by not committing the country to uncalled for expense. Here is a chance for Mr. Whitney to elect whether he will appear in the light of a pure obstructionist, or a patriot, who has the good of his country more at heart than a vain attempt to harry his opponents.

ONTARIO FISHERIES.

The Bill Passes Through Committee Stage.

WANTS TO RETAIN OFFICIALS.

One of Ottawa's Members Makes a Protest That Precipitates a Debate—The Bill, Itself, Passes Without Many Words—Severe Criticism of Past Administration — No Partisan Officials Required.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The bill relating to the fisheries was passed through Committee of the Whole House yesterday. There was practically no discussion on the bill, but an interesting debate was caused by a question by Mr. Powell, one of the members for Ottawa, regarding the intentions of the Government with respect to taking over the officials of the Dominion Fisheries Department by the Provincial Government. The administration of the department by the Dominion Government in past years was severely criticised, and the Attorney-General was emphatic in his declaration that the manipulation of the department for party interests will be put a stop to, and that there is no room for officials who have been guilty in the past in the provincial service.

The House went into committee and passed the resolution of the Attorney-General, authorizing the appointment of the necessary officers for the administration of the Fisheries Department.

The Fisheries Bill.

The House went into committee on the bill relating to provincial fisheries.

Mr. Hoyle (North Ontario) submitted an amendment to section 3, the clause dealing with the appointment by the Government of a deputy commissioner and staff, providing that the game wardens and such other officers should so far as practicable be employed to carry out the provisions of the Act.

Mr. Powell (Ottawa) said his constituents disapproved of the rumored change by which such of the staff of the Marine and Fisheries Department of Ottawa as were to be retained by the Ontario Government were to be removed to Toronto.

Mr. Auld (S. Essex) made a number of suggestions concerning American fishermen, which Col. Matheson afterward said were under the purview of the Dominion. Regarding Mr. Powell's plea, he would clean out the Dominion officials and completely reorganize the department.

The Attorney-General said the amendment was out of order, as the Act conferred the power of making appointments entirely on the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. As to Mr. Powell's contention, the Premier promised to show no mercy to such officials as had been responsible for the "gross maladministration" of the Ottawa Department. He might, however, find the experience of certain of the more honest, non-partisan and capable officials at Ottawa valuable in the formation of his own new department. The work of appointing and organizing he hoped to have finished by next session, when he would ask the House to vote salaries. These salaries he could not hope to make as large nor the staff as extensive as those at Ottawa. As for outside agents, the Dominion would still have to retain some, while he would appoint others. If Ottawa officers were retained the Government of Ontario would certainly supervise them better. He might not be able to accede to Mr. Hoyle's resolution, yet he would, when possible, abide by the spirit of it.

Mr. Garrow said he wanted one well-salaried agent to displace the various smaller-salaried officials and thereby to obtain a man who could devote his whole time to supervising the lake fisheries.

Dr. Pyne suggested that a registration fee be imposed on nets, to protect legitimate fishermen from the depredations of tourists and settlers.

The bill then passed the committee stage.

The Attorney-General put through his resolution empowering the calling of a special morning session at 11 o'clock, but it will not take effect to-day.

Mr. Beatty (Leeds) secured an order of the House for a return showing the number of saw logs cut during the winter of 1897-1898 on the limits of the Georgian Bay and on Lakes Huron and Superior, or which were driven to either of said lakes, together with quantity cut at provincial mills and quantity exported uncut.

The House adjourned at 5 o'clock.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,330.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, as a policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

DEWEY AND MERRITT

Instructed to Enforce Law and Order in Manila.

THE SURRENDER OF THE CITY.

The Americans Secure It With the Loss of Only Six Men Killed—Humanity of Admiral Dewey — Official Report to the Department at Washington—Advice From Russia.

Washington, Aug 18.—The two American commanders at Manila, Admiral Dewey and Major-General Merritt, united in a joint despatch which was received here late yesterday afternoon, asking for instructions as to the manner of dealing with the various elements, particularly the insurgents, now that the city is occupied by the American forces. After a conference at the White House, in which Secretary Alger and Acting-Secretary Allen participated, instructions were sent the two American commanders. The text of the request for instructions and of the arrangement was not made public, but Secretary Alger summed up the instructions substantially as follows: The instructions are to enforce law and order and to treat all law-abiding citizens alike.

Dewey's Official Report.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Admiral Dewey's official announcement of the bombardment and surrender of Manila has been received, as follows:

Manila, Aug. 18.

Secretary of Navy, Washington:

Manila surrendered to-day to the American land forces, after a combined attack. A division of the squadron shelled the forts and entrenchments at Malate, on the south side of the city, driving back the enemy, our army advancing from that side at the same time. The city surrendered about 5 o'clock, the American flag being hoisted by Lieut. Brumby. About 7,000 prisoners were taken. The squadron had no casualties, none of the vessels were injured. On Aug. 7, Gen. Merritt and I formally demanded the surrender of the city, which the Spanish Governor-General refused.

(Signed) Dewey.

Humane Action of the Americans.

London, Aug. 18.—The Manila correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, telegraphing Saturday, says: Nothing could be more humane than the Americans' capture of the town. Gen. Merritt and Admiral Dewey's plan was to spare every object; but the armed defences and the trenches. Apparently the American losses were extremely small. The Spanish entrenchments varied in point of distance from two to four miles from the centre of old Manila.

The Spanish commander, convinced that further resistance was hopeless, hoisted a white flag at 1.30, and the order to cease firing was immediately issued in the centre of the town, but in the outskirts street fighting continued for some time afterwards between the rebels and Spaniards. The only tear felt in the city is in regard to the conduct of the insurgents.

Six Americans Killed.

London, Aug. 18.—The Manila correspondent of the Times says: "The latest returns show that six Americans were killed and 39 wounded."

Advice From Russia.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 18.—The Journal de St. Peterburg, semi-official, says: "The prestige of the white population in the Philippines has been almost entirely destroyed by the war. If an attempt is made to give the islands autonomy it should be effected gradually, under strictly benevolent European tutelage. Any other regime would bring back barbarism."

Santiago, Aug. 18.—The bodies of the dead Spaniards continue to be cremated. Over 700 have been burned so far.

THE DOMINION LANDS.

The Department of the Interior Will Have an Unprecedentedly Good Report to Present to Parliament.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—The Department of Interior for the fiscal year ending June 30, will have a report to present to Parliament which has never been surpassed. The revenue returns are unprecedented in our history, amounting to $819,851, compared with $250,057 for the preceding year. Cash receipts from the Dominion lands in 1897 are $75,000 more than the preceding year, while expenditures have been decreased over $20,000. Receipts from ordinary lands are over $12,000 more than the previous year; collections on account of seed grain loans have increased 50 per cent. and receipts from registration fees 70 per cent. The revenue of Yukon district, exclusive of royalty, which was said some time ago to have reached over $300,000, amounts to $331,817. From timber dues on Yukon there was received $43,911; dredging leases $133,005; mining fees $145,268. The Government obtained practically nothing from liquor permits, the actual receipts being $940, as against $3,160 during previous years.

The Government of the Northwest Territories, acting under the authority they had before the recent changes were made, took steps to secure the revenue from this source before the Yukon was detached from their jurisdiction.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? In Death. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

The British commissioners to the Quebec Conference will have an informal conference at Quebec on Friday. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will leave Arthabaskaville for the ancient capital to-morrow morning. Sir Richard Cartwright will set out from Kingston to-morrow for Quebec, stopping at Montreal on the way. The participation of Newfoundland in the conference, which has been agreed to, because of the close mutuality of interests in the fisheries and trade questions, will be confined to these subjects, and any terms arrived at between Canada and the United States will be accepted by that colony.

On the way out he would meet William Ogilvie, the newly-appointed Commissioner, for conference, and especially to indicate the chief lines of policy which have been followed, and to offer suggestions, based upon his experience of last winter in the mining camps.

32 000,000 BUSHELS.

C.P.R. Agents' Estimate of the Wheat Crop of Manitoba and Territories.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—Hon. S. C. Wood of Toronto, President of the Freehold Loan Company, has just returned from a trip through Manitoba, and he estimates the wheat yield at about 18 to 20 bushels per acre.

The weekly crop report made by agents of the C.P.R. at the various points on their lines in the wheat growing region dated August 15 contains the most favorable reports from all sections of the country. The Manitoba wheat crop is estimated at 25,000,000 bushels, and that of the Territories at 7,000,000 bushels.

The total number on board the six trains is 2,500, and they will be distributed throughout the province according to demand.

South Arabian Protectorate.

London, Aug. 18.—High Officials at the Foreign Office declare that the story based upon a despatch from Aden, Arabia, to the St. Petersburg Viedomosti, to the effect that Great Britain has recently assumed a protectorate over the whole of South Arabia, is nonsensical, as Great Britain has for many years exercised a protectorate over the tribes around Aden, and there has been no change in the situation for the last two decades.

REGATTA YESTERDAY AT STONY LAKE.

The Events Were all Well Contested.

SEVERAL VERY CLOSE FINISHES.

Thousands of People Witnessed the Events Being Run Off—The Concert and Hop in the Evening—Other Notes of Interest.

Four large steamers, ten steam launches and small boats and canoes innumerable hovered around Juniper Island, yesterday afternoon, it being the occasion of the annual regatta under the auspices of the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association.

The Majestic, Golden City, Crandella and Sunbeam all brought large excursions from different points to McCracken's Landing, and afterwards ran over to Juniper. Consequently the Island was crowded. The steam launches all brought in long strings of boats. The Ruby, of Norwood, had over a score in tow when she was met by the Tramp and relieved of a portion of the string. Before the Ruby reached Juniper, however, there were fifteen boats strung out behind her, and as she performed several evolutions in front of the pavilion, the scene was a pretty one.

The day was an ideal one for a regatta, the races were brought off promptly, and were conducted in

AN ADMIRABLE MANNER.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane officiated as starter and the judges were Messrs. Dumble, Shortly and Terrill.

The course lay south-east from a buoy just opposite the Store to another buoy placed near the "Remember the Maine" rock—making in all a distance of about three quarters of a mile.

The first race brought off was the boys' tandem, the entries being Norman Bell and Fred Collins, and Charlie Blomfield and Gwyllyn Dunn. After a hard race the latter pair won out by a canoe length, their weight and wind telling in the finishing spurt.

The men's single canoe race brought out C. D. Silvernail, Rochester, Harry Hamilton, Chas Evans, R Blomfield and T. Hull. Hull shot to the front at the start and held the lead until about half way to the first buoy when the bunch caught him and all made the turn together and came away on the home stretch in a cluster. Blomfield slowly forged to the front and though Hamilton was he was able to finish first well within himself.

There were three entries in the ladies' tandem but only two pair started, viz., Miss Beattie Roxburgh and Miss Minnie Birdsall and Misses E. Cox and E. Griffith. The race was very exciting from start to finish and both canoes raced home bow and bow for the last hundred yards. A desperate spurt just at the finish landed Miss Roxburgh and Miss Birdsall the winners amidst great applause.

An event in which great interest was centered was the men's tandem canoe race, as there has been a great deal of rivalry amongst the various camps during the season, regarding which could turn out the fastest pair. The entries were C. D. Silvernail and H. E. True, of Rochester; R. Blomfield and Charles Matthias; H. Hamilton and Ira Snelgrove; Melville Strickland and Fred Richardson; Tom Ferguson and Arthur Piper. The start was a good one, but in the limited space it was difficult for the canoes to be kept from fouling and several times they were in and rubbed one another for an instant before the paddlers noticed where they were going. There was considerable of a mix-up at the turning buoy, but Blomfield and Mathias got clear first. It was a pretty race home and the crowd went wild with excitement as the members of the different camps shouted encouragement to their favourites. Blomfield and Mathias won out, with Strickland and Richardson as close seconds.

The tub race was easily won by Blomfield. H. Dunn, who took second, only being at the turning buoy when the winner finished.

The single scull race was hotly contested by Reggie Blomfield, Charlie Reynolds, Arthur Piper and Ross Cameron. The last named took the lead at the start and held it until he reached the turning buoy, but at this point Reynolds and he got tangled up and before they got straightened out for home both Piper and Blomfield had passed them. Both men pulled up again, however, but Reynolds dropped out when about a hundred yards from

THE FINISHING BUOY.

The other three finished close together with the Blomfield in the lead and Piper close behind.

The race of the day was the mixed tandem canoe event, the entries being Miss Griffin and Chas. Matthias; Miss Edith Strickland and Melville Strickland; Miss Flo Burns and Dr. Spence; Miss Sara Robinson and Victor McWilliams.

It was a race from start to finish and of the four canoes none ever got a canoe length advantage over the others. The turning of the buoy was neatly negotiated by all although Vic McWilliams and Miss Robinson were slightly crowded off and consequently were a trifle in the rear when entering the home stretch. Gradually they crept up and were presently racing neck and neck with the leaders, Miss Strickland and Mr. Strickland. Up to within twenty-five yards of the finish the two canoes flew through the water parellel. Then Miss Griffin and Matthias came up quickly from the rear and it looked for a moment as though their sudden spurt would land them the winners, was fairly lifted out of the water with a last great effort and won by about six inches with Miss Griffin and Matthias second. The other two canoes were a tie for third place, and were not more than a couple of feet behind the winners.

BUT M'WILLIAM'S CANOE

R. Blomfield, C. Mathias and Norman Bell entered the "Hurry Scurry," in which the contestants raced a hundred yards to the shore, launched their canoes, paddled over to Big Otter Island and returned. Blomfield won with Mathias second.

The "Upset Race" had only two entries this year, R. Blomfield and Chas. Mathias. The boys started from Big Otter Island and after paddling a short distance upset their canoes and after righting them again continued the race to Juniper. Blomfield won easily.

Dr. Rose, F. Roxburg, A. Piper, C. Mathias, and Ross Cameron were the entries in the sailing race, the course being from the wharf to the white buoy off Kenmore and return. Cameron won with Roxburg second.

The prizes, which consisted of beautiful little silk pennons, were presented at the conclusion of the races.

IN THE EVENING

the Cottagers' Association first concert of the year was held, and attended by representatives from all portions of the Lake, who speedily filled the Pavilion to overflowing.

Mr. D. W. Dumble occupied the chair, and the programme wat opened by a violin and piano duet by Miss and Master Ross, after which the following numbers were rendered:

Vocal solo	Miss Patterson
Reading	Mr C Brown
Piano solo	Mr Clarence Silvernail
Vocal solo	Mrs Baggs
Recitation
Whistling solo	Dr Nicholls

INTERMISSION.

Recitation	Prof Silvernail, Rochester
Piano solo	Miss Durgan
Vocal solo	Mr Durgan
Reading	Mr C Guillet
Vocal solo	Miss Carnegie
Recitation	Miss Burns

At the conclusion of the programme the benches were cleared out of the pavilion and the young people enjoyed an informal hop for several hours.

NOTES.

On Wednesday evening the most pleasant hop of the season took place, being given by the members of a party who are camping on Blomfield's Island under the patronage of Mrs. Walter Paterson. The music was furnished by the Misses Hurley, who were brought up from town for the occasion.

The Crandella brought the Bridgenorth Canadian Foresters around to McCracken's.

The Tramp is becoming very popular on the lake. Commodore Tully seems to have made himself a favourite with everyone.

Dozens of citizens who cannot get away during the week are falling into the habit of going back to the Lakes to get a breath of fresh air on Sundays. No time is lost by leaving on the 6 30 p. m. train and returning at 9 55 a. m. on Monday morning. As the Victoria House is reached by the boats at a reasonable hour and is the centre of all fun it has become very popular. "Freddy" Morgan seems to be making a grand success of it and his courtesy to guests certainly should bring its reward.

The Charlotte street S. S. Library brought out a large crowd on the Sunbeam, who appeared to enjoy the day on Lake immensely.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

There Were no Attractions to Keep the Crowd at Home and Everyone was Away.

The town was almost deserted on the civic holiday. The Canadian Foresters took a couple of hundred on their excursion to Buffalo, and nearly 300 more went with the Independent Oddfellows to Rochester. Big crowds went down the river with Court Peterborough C O F., and the Salvation Army, and hundreds more were down in their canoes. The Stony Lake regatta also attracted a large number to the back lakes.

A SUCCESSFUL OUTING.

Court St. Peter's Excursion Well Patronised Yesterday.

The members of Court St. Peter, Catholic Order of Foresters, held one of the most successful outings of the season to Stony Lake yesterday.

A large number of excursionists boarded the morning train for Lakefield, where the steamer Majestic was in waiting to convey them to Stony Lake. The committee in charge of the trip had provided excellent arrangements looking to the comfort of those on board, and as a result a delightful trip was enjoyed in every respect.

Wilson's orchestra was on board the scow, and of course the young people (and the older people, too) kept them busy supplying music until the boat reached Lakefield in the evening.

A large number of the excursionists spent the day at McCracken's Landing, but a great many remained on board the Majestic on its trip through the islands.

LACROSSE.

A telegram was received on Wednesday afternoon from President Lennox of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, consenting to postpone the play off with Orillia until the 30th inst., when the local team and the Orillias will play on the Toronto Island. Peterborough and Orillia have both won the same number of games in the North Eastern District, both winning from Midland and Beaverton, and each winning from the other on the home grounds. This made the two clubs a tie in the race for the district championship, and one match on neutral ground is to be played to decide the question of supremacy. As stated above this match is to be played on the Toronto Island on the afternoon of the 30th and it is generally acknowledged that the winner of this game will have roseate chances of carrying off the championship pennant of the League.

The Peterboroughs will have the strongest team in the field that has ever represented the town and after another week's hard practice they will be in shape to play the game of their lives. It is to be hoped that a big crowd will accompany the boys to Toronto to encourage them by their presence.

CRICKET.

A despatch from Deseronto says: A cricket match was played here yesterday between Peterborough and the Bay of Quinte District team, composed of men from Kingston, Napanee, Picton, Campbellford and Deseronto. Peterborough won the toss and Capt. Ray and M. Hamilton going in first they were not parted until they had put on 71, S. Ray retiring after a well-played 41. M. Hamilton was not disposed of until he had made 88, one of the finest innings ever played in the district.

Arrangements have at last been completed with the Toronto-Rosedales for a match, and this team will be down on Thursday next, for a match on the Nicholls Park Oval. Four or five "International" men will be playing against Peterborough.

IN THE CASE OF CATHERINE JOHNSTON.

Evidence Taken at the Previous Hearing Put In—The Question of Bail Referred to the County Judge.

At the police court this morning William Hayes was arraigned on the charge of counselling the procuring of an abortion in the case of Catharine Johnson.

Mr. Wood appeared for the Crown and Mr. W. A. Stratton for the accused.

The interest in the case was attested by the crowded attendance in the Court room.

The testimony presented at the former hearing—that of Dr. Halliday, Dr. Boucher and the deposition of Catharine Johnson were put in.

Mr. Stratton in a brief argument submitted that the testimony of Catherine Johnson relieved Hayes of the charge and that the charge should be dismissed.

Mr. Wood, contra, contended that there was sufficient evidence to connect him directly with the charge. The magistrate so held, and Wm. Hayes was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. Upon the magistrate intimating that he would admit the accused to bail, Mr. Wood interposed with the statement that the local police authorities were in receipt of inquiries on the other side of the line, where it was alleged Hayes had "jumped bail." Under the circumstances the matter of bail was referred to the County Judge.

Benjamin Johnson was bound over in the sum of $100 to appear and give evidence at the time of the trial.

Dennis Daly was charged with vagrancy and sent up on the hill for six months at hard labour.

The interest of the great unlaundried was excited for an hour or so by a breezy assault case, in which a Mrs. Quinn charged a Mrs. O'Brien, of College street, with assault. The evidence of the two principals—prosecutor and defendant, and that of their respective allies, was picturesquely contradictory, while at the same time it flowed like a rivulet hardly as pure as a mountain stream. The evidence clashed at so many vital points that the magistrate acknowledged himself incompetent to "untangle the twist," practically intimating that both sides were drawing the long bow. Each side made it appear that it was the incarnation of all the virtues and the possessor of all the moral and Christian graces, while the other side was namelessly and irredeemably vile and lost to shame. The upshot was that the charge was dismissed. Mr. Wood appeared for the prosecutrix, and Mr. Stone for the defendant.

PREMIER SEMLIN'S CABINET.

It Will Have Six Instead of Five Members—Dr. McKechnie Sworn In.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 19.—Dr. R. E. McKechnie, member-elect for Nanaimo, was yesterday sworn in as a member of Mr. Semlin's Cabinet without salaried portfolio. He took the office of President of the Council. He is a native of Brockville.

It is understood that Mr. Semlin will have a Cabinet of six in place of Mr. Turner's five, an additional salary having been voted for several years but not utilized.

Owing to the loose laws of British Columbia, 32 election protests filed will fall through. The Supreme Court has no power to try election cases and an unrepealed law says guaranteed costs must be deposited in the Bank of England. Of course, this was not done.

Rascally Chinamen's Fiendish Revenge.

An entire village of Chinamen are engaged at the fishing town of Steveston during the fishing season. At night they convert Steveston into a Monte Carlo, with opium garden attachments. Magistrate Pearson attempted to stop gambling and enforce a curfew law, "lights out at 10." He fined several Chinamen heavily. Yesterday under the Town Hall a powder keg, with a half-burnt fuse attached, was discovered. No doubt is felt that the fiendish Chinamen had decided to blow up the Town Hall and kill all the officials when court was sitting. The powder was lodged directly under the Magistrate's chair. A slight dampness in the fuse prevented an awful wholesale murder.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

ADDITIONS TO UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

Congress to Be Asked for $50,000,000 to Build 15 Warships.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Congress at its next session will be asked to increase the navy by authorizing the building of fifteen more warships, the estimated cost of which is between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000. The specifications will call for unusual speed and an enormous steaming radius. The list is headed with three battleships of 13,000 tons displacement, armed with 13-inch guns. The speed requirement will not be less than 18 knots, with a draught of about 19 feet. Three first-class armored cruisers of 12,000 tons displacement, with a speed of 22 knots. Three second-rate cruisers of 6,000 tons displacement, and six protected cruisers of 2,500 tons displacement, carrying 5-inch rapid fire guns, having a speed of 19 knots, and a steaming radius of 18,000 knots. The protected cruisers are designed for use in the Pacific.

FATALITIES AT LONDON.

John Williams Will Probably Die—Jamie Lynch Drowned.

London, Ont., Aug. 18.—John Williams, a Grand Trunk car oiler, while making an air-brake coupling in the Grand Trunk station yards here last evening, received probably fatal injuries through his head being squeezed between the car buffers. He is in a critical condition at the city hopital.

James Lynch, the 5-year-old son of Joseph Lynch, who lives on Wellington street just below Clark's bridge, while fishing in the Thames about 1 o'clock yesterday, lost his balance and fell in. His 7-year-old sister, Mary, who at once went to his rescue, also fell in, and two drownings instead of one would have resulted had not Mrs. Lynch summoned a neighbor, named Robinson, who pulled both children out. The boy was past human aid, but the sister recovered.

James J Corbett denies that his father lost a large amount of money on his contest with Fitzsimmons at Carson, and says the story that his financial losses on the Carson battle affected his mind is a cruel canard.

The Oldest Q.C. Dead.

He was made Q.C. by Lord Elgin, being the oldest Queen's Counsellor in Canada by many years.

Albert Brown Killed.

Tilsonburg, Ont., Aug. 19.—Albert Brown, a well-known citizen, was instantly killed last evening at the bridge in course of construction over the Otter Creek, on the new T.L.E. & P. Suicided in Each Other's Arms.

Camden, N.J., Aug. 19.—Passengers from Atlantic City were horrified yesterday morning while crossing the river on the ferry boat City of Reading, of the Camden & Atlantic Railroad, to see two extremely pretty and handsomely dressed young women, clasped in each other's arms, leap from the stern of the boat as it entered the slip at Chestnut street, Philadelphia. The bodies have not been recovered.

CAN'T ENJOY LIFE

Because of nervousness, dyspepsia, heart trouble, etc. Lots of people just have to sit and look on while their healthy, vigorous friends have all the enjoyment of a strong and robust body. Dr. Ward's Pills will bring back health, strength, snap, vim and energy to even the weakest and weariest of suffering humankind.

A BAD INVESTMENT MADE GOOD.

I have half a gross of empty bottles upon my shelves. Everything my neighbors and friends would tell me to try I would go straight away to the drug store and purchase. I was in a terrible condition from dyspepsia and liver troubles and was getting worse all the time. I was so discouraged buying one medicine and the other and receiving no benefit that I was about giving up all hope of ever getting better, when my husband brought me home a box of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, which he said had been highly recommended to him. I began using them at once, when, to my great surprise, I felt better in a very short time and continued them for about two weeks more which cured me entirely. I have not the least sign of dyspepsia or liver troubles now, and have also gained several pounds in weight.

Signed, ANNIE E. GAUNTLEY,

DR. JOHNSON NOMINATED

To Succeed Judge Lister as Member for West Lambton.

Sarnia, Aug. 18.—Yesterday the Liberals of West Lambton chose a standard-bearer worthy to succeed their late representative in Parliament. A more representative convention could not be imagined than that which chose Dr. T. G. Johnson, Mayor of Sarnia and President of the West Lambton Reform Association to head the Liberal forces in the bye-election. Every division of the riding was represented, and from all sections came the report that the Liberals are certain of victory should there be a contest. Dr. Johnson is an unusually strong candidate of great personal popularity and an active worker in the Reform party of twenty years' standing. He was born in Sarnia and has spent his life in the town, and the estimation in which he is held by his fellow-citizens is shown by the fact that they have elected him Mayor for the past two years.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman, too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all it attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

MR. McINNES' EXPLANATION.

Why He Dismissed Mr. Turner and Ultimately Called Mr. Semlin.

Vancouver, Aug. 18.—Lieut.-Governor McInnes has repeatedly since the dismissal of Premier Turner been accused by the Government press of unconstitutional acts. The World particularly has been loud in its demands for explanation from his Honor. In a letter to Mr. Charles Semlin, the present Premier, published for the first time in the Province yesterday afternoon, his Honor goes fully into the matter and explains why Mr. Semlin was finally called. Briefly it was because both Hon. Joseph Martin and Hon. Mr. Beaven had assured his Honor that they both recognized in Mr. Semlin the leader of the victorious party which, when he called upon Mr. Beaven, he was assured was not the fact.

Mr. Semlin has not yet completed his Cabinet, but is progressing favorably. Rumors that Mr. Martin may ultimately take the reins of government from him revived yesterday and appear well founded.

MURDERER CLAUS SUICIDES.

His Wife Brought Him a Meat Pie and Shortly Afterwards He Was Dead From Strychnine Poisoning.

Nanaimo, B.C., Aug. 17.—The mysterious death in the condemned cell at Nanaimo jail of Claus, the Stikine River murderer, gives the key note to a story of wifely devotion that has in it elements of Spartan drama. How a prisoner under lock and guard, sentenced to death, and, therefore, watched with especial vigilance, could procure access to such poison as strychnine, and in sufficient quantity as to make suicide possible, struck dumb with astonishment the police authorities.

On Sunday night two facts developed which point to a solution of the mystery, when taken with the oft repeated statement by Claus that he did not fear death, but he did the gallows.

These facts furnish the framework of a tragedy. Last Friday evening, after being informed by the sheriff that the sentence of the law would be carried out at the day and hour appointed, he was visited by his wife.

At his request she was permitted to prepare his supper for him and bring it to the jail, meat pie being the chief item of the spread. On Saturday the wife was missing. Claus was dead before night and the medical men say he was unquestionably killed by strychnine poison, taken between eight o'clock Friday night and four o'clock Saturday morning. Claus retired early on Friday night, but awoke about 11, when he asked the guard for a drink of water. He only took a mouthful and then returned to his bed. It was shortly after this that he became violently ill.

Drs. McKeechanie and Davis were summoned, and it was found to be a case of strychnine poisoning. The physicians tried everything possible to bring the man around, and at 8.30 in the evening reported that there was a chance for his recovery. Later on he took a turn for the worse and died at 10.30 in terrible agony.

The law had decided that Claus should die, his crime being the killing of his partners, Burns and Hendrick, with whom he was journeying to the upper Yukon, by the Stikine route. Robbery was the purpose of the murder, which was committed with an axe while the victims were sleeping. The crime was one of extreme ferocity, committed with great deliberation and followed by the concealment of the bodies in a crevasse of ice.

MR. MARTIN AS PREMIER.

Important Change in British Columbia Politics—Announcement Causes the Turner Party Disquietude.

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—An Oppositionist who has the confidence of the party is authority for the statement that Hon. Joseph Martin will yet be Premier and leader of the party; that he merely accepted the portfolio of Attorney-General under Mr. Semlin in order that the party might get whipped into shape. This announcement made yesterday was a political bomb in the Turner camp, for it seems Mr. Martin is regarded as a far more dangerous opponent than Mr. Semlin. All reports are to the effect that the latter is succeeding well in Cabinet-making. He stated yesterday afternoon that the island would have Cabinet representation. This means that Dr. McKelchner, Nanaimo, will be made Minister of Education. The question as to who will represent Kootenay will likely cause considerable difficulty, the choice lying between Messrs. Martin, Rossland, and Hume, Nelson. The portfolio which will go to Kootenay will be Minister of Mines. Mr. Semlin says he will make final announcements regarding the Cabinet to-day.

6,000 Tents at Pike Creek.

The steamer Coquitlam arrived yesterday bringing news of the continuation of the big stampede to the new strike on Pike Creek, the richest strike in the country. Gold dirt from grass roots yields $6 to the pan. Six thousand tents are already up around the creek. Two other creeks are said to be just as rich. Major Strickland, in a letter to the coast, confirms the strike as the best made yet.

The Putrid Canadian Bacon.

London, Aug. 17.—Messrs. Mills & Sparrow of Tooley street, say the damage to the cargo of bacon was caused by the steamer being delayed through becoming stranded on the rocks. The cargo got heated. A large quantity of cheese was also destroyed. The firm are regularly receiving large consignments of Canadian bacon, all arriving in prime condition. The present case is the first of which there was any cause to complain. The firm did not offer the bacon for sale.

Killed by a Barn Door.

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 17.—The three-year-old son of Mr. Oliver Betzner, on Breslau road, about two miles east of here, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by a barn door. The door was broken loose from its fastenings by the strong wind, and swept around, knocking down the child, who was standing in its course, and pinning him to the ground.

Everyone Connected With the Alleged Counterfeiters to Be Taken Up.

Detroit, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Johnson, wife of David Henry Johnson, came to Detroit yesterday, and in the evening, accompanied by her attorney, called at police headquarters and asked to see her husband. She was told that she was under arrest. Capt. McDonnell said afterward that he had been given orders by officials of the United States Government to arrest any one that was in any way associated with the Johnson brothers.

At the Central Police Station she was plied with questions for fully an hour. She maintained a calm and ladylike demeanor and never once allowed herself to give a particle of incriminating evidence against her husband.

Greek and Latin.

M. Jules Lemaitre condemned the study of Greek and Latin the other day at the Paris Sorbonne. He declared that the national mind had been formed not by the literature of the Greeks and Romans, except in an indirect way, but by the Scriptures first and afterward by the great French writers. M. Lemaitre further declared that he regretted having studied Greek and Latin 12 years, whereas he is ignorant of English, which is spoken by half the world, and only knows German in a pitiful manner.

There is too little preaching of the gospel of health. It is the last thing that anyone thinks of teaching, either to a man-child or woman-child. It is one of the most important branches of an education.

Without health, a man will be a business, and a woman a social failure. When the body of either a man or a woman is properly nourished, the result is the enjoyment of good health. Almost all ill-health is due to improper or insufficient nourishment. If the stomach is right and the liver is right, the blood will receive its normal supply of the life-giving elements of the food and the body will be properly nourished. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts directly upon the stomach and liver. It purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder, nerve tonic and restorative. It promotes the natural activity of the entire nutritive organism. It puts an end to the slow starvation that is at the base of many diseases. It does not make flabby fat like cod liver oil, but firm, muscular tissues. It does not make corpulent people more corpulent but builds up the system to the normal standard.

"I was run down with nervous prostration and female weakness and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Maranda Ramsey, of Smartt, Warren Co., Tenn. "My bowels were constipated. My whole system was wrecked. My friends thought I would die. I had read of Dr. Pierce's medicines and sent for the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' In one week's time I began to sit up. In two weeks I could sit up all day, after being so bad that I had to be helped in and out of bed. I have taken four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two of 'Favorite Prescription' and am in better health than I have been for years."

Constipation is the father of all manner of maladies. If it did not exist, or was in all cases promptly relieved, the majority of medical books could be safely destroyed. It is the easiest sickness to neglect and the simplest to cure. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation every time. They cure it promptly, completely and permanently. They never gripe. They don't get you out 'o nights. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists keep nothing else "just as good."

PORTER FOR PONTON.

Counsel of the Defence Begins Argument in Prisoner's Favor.

MORE PARE DISCREPANCIES.

Witnesses Who Contradict the Crown's Chief Witness Against the Principal Prisoner—Mackie's Father Testifies in Son's Behalf—High Constable Sills Contradicts Blacksmith McKee's Evidence.

Napanee, Aug. 18.—Within a few hours William H. Ponton, Edward Holden and Robert Mackie will be free men or will have been consigned by Magistrate Daly to the care of Jailer Vanluven, whose men will keep watch and ward over them until the November Assizes. Mr. E. Gus Porter has almost finished his argument for the release of Ponton, the weightier part of which was directed against an acceptance of Pare's Queen's evidence. To lay he will finish with a renewed appeal for Ponton's liberation. Then the counsel for the other prisoners will have an opportunity to plead for their release. Mr. Osler will make a short address, and the case will be in Mr. Daly's hands. At the request of Mr. Porter the court was not opened until 10 o'clock yesterday. The court house was literally packed. A. S. Vallean, customs collector at Deseronto, testified that the steamer Resolute made only one trip between Charlotte and Deseronto during the month of April, and that was on the 25th of that month.

William Mallick, locomotive engineer, swore that he ran the only compound engine on the G.T.R. He could positively say that the engine never made a trip on the 28th day of August.

Mr. Lucas, station agent at Belleville, said no return tickets were sold between Belleville and Deseronto on the 25th or 26th, 27th and 28th April, as was stated in Pare's evidence. The witness never stated that any return ticket was good for eight days only.

Raymond Harmer, Napanee, said he saw Pare to-day. He resembled a man he saw at a crossing. The witness thought that Holden was with him. To Mr. Osler he said that Roach's portrait looked like the other man of the company.

John Abbott swore that he saw the famous biscuit box kicking around for several months during which time it was alleged to have contained the money taken from the bank.

Maud Mackie, daughter of the prisoner, testified that she had taken chloroform on the 26th of August, 1897. This evidence was corroborated by Dr. Dolan, who administered the chloroform, and who had kept an accurate memo. of the fact. The Doctor did not see Bob Mackie there.

Bryce Allan had seen Pare down the track frequently for two months. Two other men were with him. Robert Mackie was not with him.

George Perrit said he lived near Belleville along the G.T.R., where he worked a farm. His attention was called to tramps in a log house. There were Holden and Pare in the house. The other men with Pare and Holden were younger. He never saw the tramps in that log cabin during the summer. Mackie was not there.

To Mr. Osler the witness said he knew Mackie for 20 years, and that Roach's picture looked much like the one of the men there in the cabin.

To D. H. Preston, Q.C., counsel for Holden, he said he could not swear definitely that it was Holden who was with the five tramps in the cabin.

John T. Grange of Napanee knew the bank premises well and the adjoining lane. He said that it was impossible to see the bank window from the lane in question. Nor was it possible to see any partition. It was not possible to see it when the door was open. This fact the witness demonstrated. He was manager of the building where the Ponton rooms were; he saw May Baldwin going up the stairway about ten days prior to the robbery.

To Mr. Osler witness said that one might see the corner of the bank from the lane and could see a person turning up that alleyway.

Mr. Templeton, editor of the Beaver, gave evidence to the effect that one passing along the lane could not see the windows nor partition in the bank, nor a man looking in the window.

The court adjourned at noon.

At 2 o'clock the court resumed business.

W. T. Waller, experienced locksmith, said a key could not be made from the impression on the paper found in Ponton's room.

Re-examined by Mr. Porter, witness said he would swear absolutely that such a key could not be made by an eight-inch file, and that the roundness could not be secured by a square-edged file.

William Smith, jeweler, said that as one familiar with Yale locks, a key could not be made from the impression on the paper.

James Mackie, father of the prisoner, was examined by Mr. Wilson. He thought he had seen Holden before. His reason for so thinking was that the man had asked him for a letter. The man wanted a letter forwarded to Toronto. Such was not done. He did not recognize Pare. The witness lived at the Dominion Hotel all through the summer of '97 and the preceding winter. During this time he knew of no men who were secreted in the hotel. He remembered that Robert was at home last summer, when he was seen frequently by the witness. They played billiards often. The game was usually started about 2 o'clock and the father was usually beaten. It was not possible for John to have been away day after day without his father knowing. "Bob Mackie is a speculator. He has looked after himself the 12 years that he has been married," said the witness.

To Mr. Porter he said he had never seen William Ponton in the Dominion Hotel. He was in the habit of frequenting all parts of the house.

To Mr. Osler Mr. Mackie stated that he was in New York in April of '98.

Nowlton Sanford saw Pare in Portland. He also knew Holden. Saw Pare west of Belleville the first part of July last year for the first time. He thought he saw Holden with Pare and another man who had a black mustache. Witness was then on a flat car coming from Belleville. He had jumped the freight. He then noticed the men sitting in the grove. He visited the "knights of the road" almost daily for three weeks. During his companionship he had never seen Robert Mackie with them. The third party had a mustache, and Roach's photograph resembled his features.

To Mr. Osler: Witness was employed as waiter at the "Hub." Before that he was with a medicine show. He had no regular employment before that, and lived from odd jobs.

Here Mr. Osler called High Constable Sills for the purpose of contradicting some of the evidence given by the defence.

Mr. Porter objected.

The Magistrate allowed.

Constable Sills said Mr. Dougherty asked Mr. McKee if Pare had secured the wire, and the former said that Pare was the man. McKee did not say a word about Detective Wilkes. McKee had selected Pare's portrait from 15, and said that was the man who had called for the wire.

Cross-examined by Mr. Porter, Sills would not say that McKee had wilfully perjured himself. He could not say that McKee would make a willful misstatement.

To Mr. Wilson the constable said that he had stated that Detective Wilkes had spoken of making an impression by gum.

"That is all the evidence," said Mr. Osler.

Mr. Porter's Argument.

At 3.20 Mr. Porter began his argument in favor of W. H. Ponton. It was a most able address. In it he contended: 1—That no evidence had been put in connecting Ponton with the crime, and that the law will not allow a man to be committed on the testimony of an accomplice. The evidence of Pare, he said, contained 87 flagrant contradictions, both by his own testimony and that of others, that is: When he tells two different stories as to how he secured the combination on Aug. 5. Again, Pare swears that he used the combination of 40, 60, 80 and 40 and 42. Further, that the only set of figures that would open the combination were 53, 73, 93 and 53 to 55. The true combination is proven to be 39, 66, 80, 43. Pare swears that the combination he used would not open the safe. How did he get it open? Mr. Porter argues that he has not told the method, and wants to implicate Ponton. Also, the evidence offered as corroborative of Pare's story, viz., as to the $10,000 in bonds, Mr. Porter showed had utterly failed, as the correct amount was $13,000. Many other statements of Pare he showed to be utterly at variance with the evidence of reputable witnesses, and he asked: Why is Pare lieing about Billy Ponton?

At this point the court adjourned until 9.30 o'clock to-day, when it is expected the arguments will conclude about 11 o'clock, and a verdict will be given.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment...

Endorsed by Dr. C. M. Marian of the American Journal of Health

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE....

He says:—Among the proprietary medicines recognized is Dr. Chase's Ointment, compounded by Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, as a remedy for Piles, Eruptions and Eczematic Skin Diseases, for which it has been used with marked success and has effected remarkable cures. It is not the practice of the Medical Profession indiscriminately to use proprietary medicines, but there are hundreds of physicians throughout this country who are using Dr. Chase's Ointment in their practice. We handed out during the last month 2,500 boxes of free samples of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the thankful results have been something astonishing. Here is what one of the cures says:

MR. O. P. ST. JOHN, 256 Shaw St., Toronto, in his letter states: I suffered for some years from Itching Piles, at times being unable to sleep for the annoyance caused by them. After trying almost every remedy known, I was induced to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can say one box entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of it, and have recommended it to several of my friends, all whom have been cured by its use.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

SWORDS.

"By the sword of my father" is one of the most convincing oaths a Frenchman can use.

The sword of Napoleon was laid unsheathed on the pillow where rested his lifeless head.

In Montenegro when a man is rejected as too old for war he breaks his sword at the feet of his prince and goes home to die.

General Custer during the war was the recipient of a sword which was so large that no other arm in the service could wield it.

The breaking of the sword in halves and throwing the weapon at the feet of an enemy is the expression of insubordination, the spirit that admits defeat, but remains unconquered.

As early as 1612 the French began to advertise in a paper called the Petites Affiches, and ten years later the first bona fide attempt at printing a newspaper was made in London. Among the very earliest mercantile advertisements to appear in England was one advertising the sale of tea.

WRITERS AND PAINTERS.

Mark Twain's forthcoming novel is said to be partly political in character. The scene is laid in Austria, and parliamentary struggles appear in it.

Rosa Bonheur has commissioned Miss Klumpke, an American artist, to paint her portrait. Miss Klumpke has won several medals both in France and America.

Mr. W. J. Stillman, the American artist and art critic who has for many years been the special correspondent of the London Times, is about to leave Rome, where he has dwelt for 12 years.

George Romney's paintings continue bringing high prices in England. A portrait of the Marchioness Townshend has just been sold in London for $28,000 and one of Mme. Susan Jouenne for $15,300. Vandyke's "Prince Rupert," once belonging to Joseph Addison, brought $3,700 and his "Prince Maurice" $8,000.

DARED NOT GO TO BED.

Smothering Feeling and Palpitation, Together with Rheumatic Pains, Rendered Sleep Impossible.

Miss Mabel Jackson, 78 Huron Street, Toronto, made the following statement: "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me of serious heart trouble of three years' standing. My physician said my heart trouble was caused by rheumatism. It was with great difficulty that I could go upstairs, or even walk a short distance, because such exertion set my heart palpitating so violently that it made me positively sick. I could hardly breathe, and suffered greatly from smothering, often so badly that I dared not go to bed, and had to walk the floor all night for fear of suffocating. I became terribly nervous and weak, and was in a bad state, indeed, when I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

"My rapid recovery was a surprise to myself, as well as to all my friends. For months since I have not had the slightest trouble with my heart; I sleep well, my nerves are strong and healthy and not subject to any startling. I walk as well as ever I did. The good effects of these pills have been a boon to me, not only because they rescued me from a condition of misery, but because their effects have been lasting. I am as well and strong to-day as ever I was in my life, although I have not used any of the pills since they completed their marvellous cure months ago."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure palpitation, fluttering, throbbing, dizzy and faint spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, pale and sallow complexion, weakness, debility, female troubles, etc. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c. a box or 3 boxes for $1.25. Bicycles!

First in Quality and Reputation.

A horse that doesn't kick, shy or go lame, when wanted, is a treasure.

Next to foolish horse buying is taking risks on Bicycles. Tricky horses are dear at any price—so are wheels.

Do not suppose that we claim to have all the thoroughly reliable wheels there are—that's not what we say. But this is what we say and ask to be remembered—that we "go slow" on taking up and selling any wheel.

It is one thing to sell an article with the use of which we have nothing to do, and an altogether different thing to put a man or a woman on a wheel which they take from us with confidence that they are safe with their lives. We value such confidence. A dollar or two of profit more or less cannot persuade us to handle it if the article is bad.

We do not undertake to protect buyers of Bicycles from sudden fear or from recklessness while riding, but we do undertake to give them, in a wheel, all the safeguards of best steel and skillful workmanship together with all the tests and circumspection possible.

"E. & D." mark the highest grade and are still the best.

"GENDRONS" are thoroughly reliable and never disappoint their owners—"The wheel that's always in front.

There is a fine chance just now to buy a few good Second-Hand wheels—$10 to $25 each.

If you are thinking about a wheel—we can sell you one whose excellence cannot be doubted.

"Sporting Items" show that our wheels have won 70 per cent of all the road and track races in Canada this year and it will be ever thus—quality and easy running always tell.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

Beneficial Results Expected From the Meeting.

THREE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

The Behring Sea Difficulty, Reciprocity in Trade, the Atlantic Fisheries, the Alaskan Boundary, Bonding Privilege, Fish Preservation in Contiguous Waters, Alien Labor Law, Etc.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.— he interest of the British, American and Canadian people is at the present moment focused upon Quebec, where, on Tuesday next, will be opened the International Conference, which promises results more far-reaching and beneficial in promoting a better-feeling between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race in America and Great Britain than any negotiation which has taken place between the two countries since the separation of the American colonies from the motherland. Public men on both sides of the Atlantic concur in the belief that the time is oppor' ne.

Behring Sea Difficulty.

It is beyond question that the Behring Sea difficulty, upon which the United States has taken what appears to Canadians to be an extreme stand, not at all in accordance with the terms of the Paris award, will be a stumbling-block which the commissioners will have to get over, and though the contentions of the two countries seem at this moment so wide apart as to be impossible of reconcilement much will be accomplished by the observance of a spirit of compromise which must be present in all successful negotiations. The United States have long insisted upon the complete suspension of pelagic sealing, but as they do not possess exclusive dominion over Behring Sea nor the right of property in the migratory seal herds their wish cannot be realized without the consent of Great Britain and of Canada. The suspension of pelagic sealing would entail great loss to Canadians engaged in the industry, and would also involve the sacrifice of a valuable right possessed by Canada. Obviously Canada could not surrender this right unless the United States were prepared to make substantial compensation in some other direction, and it is suggested that a quid pro quo could be given by extending trade privileges to Canada in excess of those which might be expected under an ordinary reciprocal arrangement.

The Trade Question.

The trade question, which is to Canada the most important that will come before the conference, is one which, up to the present, has baffled all attempts of diplomacy to adjust satisfactorily to British, Canadian and American interests the abrogation of the treaty of 1854. Though the protection sentiment in the United States is strong, and though it has a zealous representative amongst the commissioners in the person of Mr. Dingley, there are many reasons for believing that the effort to negotiate a reciprocity treaty mutually advantageous will be crowned with success.

Other Important Matters.

Probably next in importance amongst the questions that will come up is that of the Atlantic fisheries. The treaty negotiated in 1887-88 at Washington will no doubt be taken by the commissioners as the basis of their discussion of this matter, and it seems reasonable to suppose that its general terms will be acceptable to both countries. The treaty then negotiated was declared by Mr. Chamberlain, on behalf of Great Britain, and by President Cleveland, on behalf of the United States, to be satisfactory, but for reasons connected with the domestic politics of the United States, and because of a less friendly feeling towards Great Britain than now happily exists, the American Senate felt itself obliged to withhold ratification.

Though the Alaskan boundary dispute may not be so easy of settlement as some of the other questions, the difficulties attending the interpretation of the treaty of 1825 being very great, still the same conciliatory spirit as will be necessary to the adjustment of other differunce if applied here may be productive of results. The commissioners may adopt a conventional boundary or they may agree upon a board of experts to delimit the boundary, following the directions of the treaty as nearly as the topographical difficulties of the country will permit. The adjustment of the other boundary differences between Canada and the United States ought to be nothing more than a matter of expert agreement.

While it is a large question, there should be no great obstacle in the way of coming to an understanding in regard to the bonding privilege, and the question of the preservation of fish in contiguous waters is one that cannot possibly involve any difference of opinion, as undoubtedly the countries are anxious to perpetuate this source of wealth and both realize that common and harmonious action is the best way of accomplishing that end.

The question of the conveyance of prisoners through the territory of each country is a matter in regard to which there can be no dispute.

The proposed revision of the treaty stipulation in regard to the maintenance of war vessels upon the great lakes seems to present no time-consuming difficulty. If it is the wish of the United States merely to be allowed to construct war vessels on the upper lakes for ocean service, and not to maintain a fleet in the inland waters, it is probable that no serious objection will be offered.

The alien labor question, which has been the cause of so much irritation, will doubtless find an easy solution.

The anomalies of the wrecking laws of both countries have long been felt by the shipping trade and recognized by public men, and there being a manifest disposition to wipe out small causes of difference this one will be removed with the rest. In short, if the three questions of prime importance relating to reciprocity in trade, the Behring Sea seal fishery and the Atlantic fisheries are disposed of, there can be little doubt that the solution of the other differences will follow.

The Commissioners.

Great Britain, Newfoundland and Canada are fortunate in having their case entrusted to men of the calibre of those who have been named as commissioners.

General and Personal.

Hon. Col. Aylmer, Adjutant-General of Militia, left last evening for Quebec to meet the new commanding officer, Lieut. Col. Hutton C.B., who is expected to arrive there by steamer from England today. The reception to the new general officer commanding will include the usual military formalities of a salute and guard of honor. Lieut. Bell, a subaltern in an Imperial infantry regiment, has been appointed A.D.C. to Col. Hutton.

At the preliminary trial of Andre Riopelle, charged with complicity in the death of Leon Boyer of Black Bay, Dr. Paquet said that he would declare at the enquiry when examined that Boyer was murdered by some one, and that it was the most horrible murder ever committed.

Alexander Crepin, a teamster, met an awful death at the Perley lumber yards yesterday. The front collar on one of his horses gave way suddenly, and Crepin jumped from his seat, but missed his footing and fell under the wagon, the forward wheel of which passed over his head and neck. Death was instantaneous.

UNDISPUTED CHAMPIONS.

The Greatest Four-Oared Crew in America Wins at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—Yesterday was the second and concluding day of the Winnipeg Rowing Club's regatta. The chief event was the second and final heat of the triangular race for the senior four-oared championship. The first heat was rowed Wednesday, when the James Bay Club's crew of Victoria, B.C., defeated the Winnipeg Rowing Club's four by a length. The James Bay crew's competitors yesterday were the Argonauts of Toronto.

The Argonauts beat their opponents by three lengths. Their time was 9.04.

This Argonaut crew, composed of Messrs. Joseph Wright, stroke, F. H. Thompson, E. A. Thompson and R. G. Muntz, have won all the four-oared honors on the continent this year, including the N.A.A.C., C.A.A.C. and the Northwestern, and their victory of yesterday entitles them to retire as undisputed champions of America. The four will now, it is said, disband.

The Windom Counterfeiting Plates.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 19.—The Windom plates have now become the issue in the Johnson case. To find them the authorities will make another thorough and systematic search. When Edward Henry Johnson, father of those under arrest, was caught in Toronto in 1880, he disclosed the hiding place of his plates. They were buried under a big tree in a wood on the outskirts of the town. The Canadian officials dug them up, and found them carefully wrapped in oilcloth and sealed with beeswax.

COUNT CASSINI.

Russian Ambassador to Washington to Succeed De Staal—More of Advantage to Russia.

London, Aug. 19.—M. De Staal, the Russian Ambassador to Great Britain, according to a special despatch from St. Petersburg, will soon retire from London and be succeeded by Count Cassini, Russian Ambassador to the United States

What Washington Has to Say.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The report from London that Count Cassini, Russian Ambassador here, will shortly be transferred to London, excited much interest in diplomatic quarters, as it was felt to have an important bearing on the Chinese question, which has recently reached an acute issue between Russia and Great Britain. Count Cassini is probably the best posted public man of Russia concerning Chinese affairs, as he was for five years Russian Ambassador at Pekin prior to coming to Washington. It was during his service at Pekin that Russia executed the coup of gaining Port Arthur and part of the Liao Tung Peninsula. The recent clash between Russia and Great Britain grew out of some of the British concessions made while Count Cassini was at Pekin. His transfer to London will, therefore, give his Government the advantage of having the negotiations with Great Britain conducted by a diplomat thoroughly conversant with the condition of Chinese affairs.

MEDICAL MEN AT QUEBEC.

First Business Meeting of the Canadian Medical Association.

Quebec, Aug. 19.—At the first business meeting of the Canadian Medical Association yesterday afternoon, papers were read by Dr. Rosebrough, Toronto, on the treatment of inebriates, which resulted in the appointment of Drs. Thorburn, Muir and Adam, as a committee to study and report on the subject; on Monocular Diplopia, by Dr. Ryerson, Toronto; on Septic Peritonitis, by Hon. Dr. Marcil; on Genit Urinary Instruments, by Dr. Valentine, New York; on the Physican and Life Insurance, by Dr. Thorburn, and Cases in Gall—stones, cancer, tumor, etc., were exhibited and commented on by Dr. Smith of Orangeville.

It is stated that the question of the inter-provincial registration of the medical diplomas will be raised before the Canadian Medical Association. It is one of the most important from the professional standpoint that can come before the convention. The aim of such registration is to provide that a man holding a diploma in any one part of Canada might practice in any other part of it.

AGAIN SIX MAJORITY.

Debate on the Constables' Bill Second Reading Closed.

A DIVISION TAKEN, 41 TO 47.

A Warm Debate—The Opposition Leader's Point of Order—Effect of Constables' Votes—The Speaker's Decision Was Against Mr. Whitney's Contention, and the Second Reading Was Carried.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The debate on the second reading of the Constable bill was brought to a close last evening and the vote resulted in the Government majority of six, with one supporter absent, being maintained.

Mr. Hodgins' ram again made its bow to the House, and the hon. gentleman who looks after its welfare informed the Government where to find the item of expenditure in the public accounts of 1886, showing what he believed to have been made in payment for it. The Provincial Secretary laid the voucher in question upon the table, when it was found that the illusionary Shropshire ram had been transformed into four Hampshire down ewes.

The Constables' Bill.

Mr. Carscallen, rising to talk on the constable bill, said the Government had tried to disguise the issue and throw dust in the people's eyes. At some length he considered Mr. Ross' authority, Cooley, to show the Minister that a distinction should be made between retrospective legislation, which was generally permissible, and ex post facto laws like the one on hand. He said the Government could not point to a single precedent in the annals of history, or of Parliament, for their bill. Taking up the various sections, he took exception most strongly to No. 2, which provided that in case the appellant's counsel decided to make the constable votes a ground for protesting the election, an order postponing the trial until after the decision of the Court of Appeal had been given must be issued. This clause, he said, simply gagged justice. Then there was section 13, which practically said that if a scrutiny proved the Liberal to be elected well and good, but if the court adjudged the seat to be Conservative, there should be a new election. In conclusion he moved, seconded by Mr. Colquhoun, "That this bill be not now read a third time, but that it be read this day six months hence."

Mr. Garrow (West Huron) expressed his surprise that with a measure so plain and simple in its purpose it should be difficult to get the hon. gentlemen opposite to deal with the merits of the case, but that they should go all around it and abuse the Government, and abuse the bill, which they will not discuss upon the merits. What is the measure? he asked. It is a bill to prevent the Conservative party from committing petty larceny; to prevent the Conservative party, though a minority in this province, from stealing the treasury benches, from getting on the Government side of the House by false pretences. (Cheers.) That was what the bill would accomplish, according to their own showing. The question is not the right of a few puny members, but it is the larger right of the constable to vote, and there is the still larger question involved, whether the majority shall govern in the province, whether the 7,000 Liberal majority of the popular vote in the province shall rule. They were willing to abide by the decision of the courts whether for or against them, but they had rights as well as the defeated candidates, and he insisted that they should be put in the same position as they were on the first of March last. (Cheers.) In conclusion, Mr. Garrow asserted that he was not anxious to sit there or anywhere else where he could not sit with honor. (Applause.)

Mr. [illegible] (South Toronto) cited many precede[illegible] and continued the discussion over th[illegible] He denied the Attorney-General's c[illegible]ntion that the receipt of public m[illegible] for public services did not vitiate [illegible]te.

The [illegible]er rose at 6 p.m.

W. C[illegible]scrip (South Perth), after regretting [illegible] tone of the Opposition toward [illegible]overnment on the standing of the judi[illegible]y, said there were no men on either side who wished to do anything wrong. It was merely a difference of opinion. He reiterated that the law of 1897 was a precedent. He wished to see the question dealt with on a broad basis, and not as a technical issue.

Dr. Pyne said he considered it a privilege to enter a protest against legislation of a character designed to secure two or three members their seats. The Attorney-General had stated that constables had the right to vote, though the judges had no right, because they never had the right. He said the judges could have petitioned for a vote. "Did the constables ever petition?" asked Dr. Pyne. He considered that the bill was almost bordering on the revolutionary stage.

Mr. Charlton of South Norfolk said that he would still have a majority of 15, striking out the constables' votes. "I," said Mr. Charlton, "do not like to attend a funeral before there is a death. It appears to me this Government was never in a more healthy state. It will pass this bill, and Parliament will adjourn, but it will meet again, and the eight seats disputed will be occupied, the two Ministers will be here with seats, and everything will be lovely."

Mr. Kidd of Carleton next spoke for half an hour.

Government Majority Again.

It was then 10.20 o'clock. No other member rising, Mr. Speaker put the amendment of the Hamilton members for the six months' hoist to the second reading. The result was a vote of 47 to 41 against the amendment, making a majority for the Government of six.

The division on the amendment was as follows:

Yeas—Whitney, Marter, Matheson, Foy, Miscampbell, Crawford, Carscallen, Colquhoun, Reid (Addington), Little, Carnegie, Powell, Fallis, Reid (Durham W.), Lucas, Wardell, Pyne, Kidd, Brower, Barr, Boyle, Beatty (Leeds), Morrison, White, Thompson, Duff, Gallagher, Dempsey, Fox, Lackner, Kribs, McLaughlin, McDonald, Joynt, Tucker, Hodgins, Jessop, Macdiarmid, Calder, Boyd, Allen—41.

Nays—Hardy, Ross, Harcourt, Davies, Harty, Stratton, Conmee, McKay, Ferguson, McKee, Carpenter, Caldwell, Auld, Richardson, Mutrie, Farwell, Lees, Charlton, Bowman, German, Garrow, Pattullo, Lumsden, Smith, Dickenson, Pardo, Barber, Douglas, Russell, Burt, Brown, Moscrip, Blezard, Loughrin, Taylor, Bridgland, Graham, Clarke, Pettypiece, Pardee, Holmes, Guilbord, Hislop, Aylesworth, Beatty (Parry Sound), Truax, Hill—47.

Pairs—Ellber and Campbell, Jamieson and Malcolm.

Challenged Eight Members' Votes.

On the question, "Shall the bill be recorded as carried on the same division?" Mr. Whitney was immediately on his feet to say, "No; not yet." Before the bill was put he wished to rise to a point of order. His point was that the members for East Lambton, South Norfolk, West York, Nipissing, Lennox, Muskoka, West Huron and South Perth were excluded by rules 16 and 114 a., from the right to vote on the bill.

Rule 16 says: "No member is entitled to vote upon any question in which he has a direct pecuniary interest, and the vote of any member so interested shall be disallowed."

Rule 114, A., says: "If anything shall come in question touching the return or election of any member, he is to withdraw during the time the matter is in debate, and all members returned upon double returns are to withdraw until their returns are determined."

Mr. Whitney said he thought the last rule quoted was conclusive, and, to prove that it concerned the eight members mentioned, he produced petitions against their election, based on the ground that the settlement of the constable vote question was still pending. If the facts set out in the petition did not also show that the sitting members were directly interested pecuniarily, then he could not conceive of a case in which rule 16 could be applied.

The Speaker's Ruling.

"I find," said the Speaker, "that the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery has informed the House of the return of the members. It is also to my knowledge that they have taken the oath of office, and are, therefore, entitled to vote." He preferred basing his contention on British rather than Canadian House of Commons practices. He quoted from May, an English authority, to the effect that no question of the kind could be raised excepting by the placing in his hands of a substantive motion, of which due notice should be given. He was certainly of the opinion that the pecuniary interest of members was not such as should prevent them from voting.

In reply to Mr. Whitney, the Attorney-General intimated that the House would not meet again until Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

$425,000 Supplementary Estimates.

Then the members deferentially rose in their places to receive a message from the Crown. The Provincial Secretary read it, as follows: "The Lieut.-Governor transmits the estimates of certain sums required for the services of the province until the estimates for 1899 are finally passed and recommends them to the Legislative Assembly."

The amount asked is as follows:

Civil Government	$ 60,000
Legislation	85,000
Public Institutions mentioned	150,000
Education	40,000
Administration of Justice	50,000
Miscellaneous	40,000
Total	$425,000

Mr. Harcourt said that the amounts were the same as other years, and they will be passed upon next week. The Constable bill goes into committee of the House Monday night.

The House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

UNCLE SAM'S FLEET.

The Importance of the Mightily Increased Armament.

IT MAY GIVE RUSSIA A PAUSE.

The American Navy Now Fourth in the World's Fleet, Where It Will Not Long Remain—U. S. Will Have Chinese Policy—Col. Hay's Appointment Far-Reaching in Importance.

London, Aug. 20.—The morning papers comment upon the proposed immense increase in the American navy.

The Standard says: "Such a fleet operating from Manila as a base would be able to exercise considerable influence upon the progress of events in Chinese waters, and added to the English-China squadron and the Japanese navy would make a mighty armament indeed." The Standard suggests that this consideration may give Russia a pause.

The Daily Mail says: "The new programme is startling in its immensity. The American navy jumps to fourth place among the world's fleets. It will not long remain fourth, nor will it be long before the United States will have a policy in China."

Of Far-Reaching Importance.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The Hamburgische correspondent regards the appointment of Col. Hay to the post of Secretary of State of the United States as of far-reaching importance, as indicating the solidarity of the Anglo-American understanding and co-operation in far Eastern affairs.

Advised to Go Home.

Washington, Aug. 20.—There have been conferences between Estrada Palma and other representatives of the Cubans with officials of the United States Government relative to the Cubans, and what would be done with them. Mr. Palma was advised that the United States would not consider the question of compensation of the Cuban troops. He was told that the best thing the Cubans could do was to advise the men in arms to disband, retire to their homes and engage in peaceful pursuits. The Junta has sent emissaries who will try to persuade the Cuban leaders that resistance to United States authority would result only in further distress in Cuba.

SPAIN WILL PROTEST

If Capitulation of Manila Is Made Pretext for Holding Philippines.

Madrid, Aug. 20.—The Government has resolved to insist that the capitulation of Manila, after the signing of the protocol, shall have no effect in the peace negotiations, unfavorable to Spain. In any event the Government holds that the capitulation having been signed by the commander of the town, does not entail the surrender of the whole of the Philippines.

DEATH OF EX-SHERIFF GIBBONS.

He Was Formerly Representative of South Huron in the Legislature.

Goderich, Aug. 20.—Ex-Sheriff Robert Gibbons passed away last evening at the ripe age of 87 years. His name occupies a prominent place in the political and municipal history of Huron county. He was of Scotch origin, having been born in Glasgow, Dec. 24, 1811. In 1832 he emigrated to Canada and on May 16, in that year, he arrived at Goderich, then a village of less than 250 inhabitants. He served as Mayor of Goderich, and was for many years reeve and warden of the county. Mr. Gibbons was elected to represent South Huron in the first Parliament of Ontario, and four years later, in 1871, was re-elected to the Legislature, each time as a Liberal. After serving two terms of the second Parliament he resigned his seat to accept the shrievalty of Huron county, which office he acceptably filled until about a year ago, when he found that his advancing age incapacitated him from the active duties of his office.

Shot Through the Lung.

Athens, Ont., Aug. 20.—Charles Crane and Henry McLaughlin, both aged about 16, were hunting in a wood near the village, when, by accident, the gun in the hands of Crane, went off, the charge striking McLaughlin. The bullet entered the left breast, passing through the left lung. The doctors' operation failed to locate the bullet and small hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Another Barn and Crops Burned.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The barn of John Sheppard, Bellhaven, caught fire on Wednesday afternoon whilst he was threshing and nearly all the season's crop off two farms was consumed. A spark from the engine did it, and the men in the barn had to run for their lives. The separator was burned and a cow and calf and some implements.

Rebel General Morales Dead.

Washington, Aug. 20.—United States Minister Hunter of Guatemala cables the State Department that General Morales, leader of the revolution, was captured in a cave on Wednesday, and died on his way to prison at San Sebastian. This ends the revolution.

OUR DAIRY PRODUCTS.

The following from the New York Mail and Express makes very pleasant reading:

"There are some suggestions of value to dairymen in the United States contained in the report upon Canadian cheese, made by our consul at London, Ont. We have referred before to the efforts made by our Agricultural Department to increase the sales of American butter and cheese in the London market. These efforts have been successful because they have been addressed to the maintenance of purity of product and the prevention of fraud in labels. Honesty is the best policy in increasing this branch of our export trade, as indeed it is in every other. But the fact remains that last year 58 per cent of the cheese imported into the United Kingdom came from Canada, and only 24 per cent from the United States. One reason for this may be that the Canadian cheese-makers are thoroughly organized. Through this organization they enforce a uniform quality of their product for export. Their sales are made after inspection, in open market. These associations in Ontario alone represent 1,208 factories, with an annual output of more than 100,000,000 pounds of cheese. These facts ought to be instructive to our own dairymen."

There are several seasons for the superiority of Canadian dairy products. First honest intention in turning out our products in a manner to make them correspond in every respect, weight, quality, etc., to the name they bear. Co-operation of farmers and enterprise are added reasons. The possession of a climate and soil specially adapted to dairying is another reason, and the liberal and intelligent encouragement and assistance given by both our Provincial and central governments are not to be forgotten. Thanks to all these conditions, Canada has taken the lead in the cheese market of Great Britain, and by a similar course of procedure is forging ahead in the matter of butter. As pointed out by the London Advertiser, Canadian butter has made great progress in popularity. This year to date the shipments of Canadian butter to the old country are 62,029 packages, compared with 52,779 in the same period last year. The United States shipments this year to date are only 20,416 packages, compared with 92,224 for the same period last year. The July export trade of both countries has been the smallest in ten years. The cause is ascribed to the large make in England, Ireland, Denmark and other continental countries, resulting in low prices. The Monetary Times says that the surplus butter produced in the United States is not sufficient to establish an export trade, irrespective of the home requirements. So much the better for Canadian exporters.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THOUGH it is somewhat early to assert definitely, yet it looks now as if the Canadian surplus will be a round million this fiscal year.

SPAIN cannot complain of not having something to live for. It will keep the denizens of the Iberian peninsula rather hustling to pay the annual charge of one hundred and forty millions of dollars on their two billion dollar national debt.

THE ram "Dan," the latest bucolic fad and pet of the Opposition has died—that is as a political factor in Opposition politics. He is old enough to be spoken of respectfully. He was imported in 1882, sold to a Mr. Glennie in 1886, and there is no record of the ram "Dan" or any other animal having been purchased by the Agricultural College from Mr. Glennie. Hon. Mr. Dryden was not Minister of Agriculture at the time of the alleged sale of the now notorious ram was made. Thus one by one the political fads of the Opposition fade away and leave them comfortless in the cold shades of apparently perennial Opposition.

SOME of our contemporaries show a rather petty spirit in referring to the Globe's proposal to hold a "Twentieth Century Fair" in Toronto and we have the chestnutty flavour of references to Hogtown, etc. There does not seem to be anything objectionable in the proposition. Toronto is the capital city of the capital Province of the capital dependency of the Empire. It has the facilities of accommodating such an exposition and if the Torontonians feel like putting up the bigger end of the capital, we are sure that its citizens have the go to make the undertaking a success. If Toronto takes the lead other cities, who do not seriously propose themselves as the site of such an exhibition as the one proposed, would show their loyalty to Canada by giving it a lift with a strong and willing shoulder instead of throwing cold water upon it.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE EARLY SESSION.

Most of those who condemn the Premier of Ontario for advising the holding of an early session of parliament, quite miss the merits of the case, through taking too narrow a view of it. Some look on it as a manifestation of fear, while it is really the outcome of that courage which is ready to challenge a trial of strength as speedily as possible, and thus put a stop to persistent efforts to keep the public mind in a needlessly perturbed condition. Others speak of it as a party "trick." If it were so it would be on a par with the trick of trying to disenfranchise the poll constables, but there is no trick about it. It is a perfectly legitimate and statesmanlike procedure, as anyone may see who will take the trouble to read over the Attorney-General's memorandum.

To understand this it must be borne in mind that when Parliament is called together it should have its membership complete. For some reason an unusual time has elapsed between the election and the trial of the controverted elections, and if Parliament had not been called till January there might have been half the number out of their seats. This would have been intolerable, and yet the time within which Parliament must meet is absolutely fixed by imperial statute. The only safe way to overcome the difficulty was to begin the session and organize the Assembly before any of the trials took place, making provision for continuing the trials during a recess by adjournment and resume business at whatever time may be found most convenient.

Old politicians will remember what happened in 1871. Mr. Sandfield Macdonald, as Premier, met the Assembly with several seats vacant. Had they been filled, possibly he might have been able to avert defeat, and much of the subsequent political history of the province might have been different from what it has been. With such a precedent to serve as a warning, Mr. Hardy would have been as big a fool as Mr. Macdonald's friends used to call him, if he failed to secure the organization of the House by means of those members who were returned at the general election.

This does not put the Opposition at a particle of disadvantage. The petitions that are not withdrawn may still be fought out as they would have been if no session had been held. If any members are unseated, the bye-elections may be held within the recess. The Opposition can make its fight as advantageously as ever; first in the courts, afterwards before the people, and lastly, in the Assembly. If it succeeds in overturning the Ministry, then no one will begrudge it the consequent term of office; but it is not in office yet, and it has nothing, so far, to complain of.

The constable vote bill is a mere incident of the situation. As the proper course was to hold an early session in order to prevent a paralysis of public business, it was quite natural and proper to make special provision to prevent conflicting decisions by the trial judges on the technical objection that has been raised to the constables voting. This is a view of the case that will commend itself to all reasonable minds, and clear up the fogs with which it has been confused by men who are angry because they are forced to admit defeat. If they had not vaunted so much they would not have been so humiliated by the complete and early proof that they are still on the Opposition.—Expositor, Brantford.

THE REMEDY.

Jamaica, which had relinquished the hope of receiving Imperial aid, regards with great satisfaction the prospect held out by Mr. Chamberlain in his speech of direct steamship communication with England and Canada, as this alone can save the colony in the future; otherwise Cuba's liberation will be Jamaica's ruin. The grants to the other West Indian colonies are considered totally inadequate to meet the necessities of the case, and the planters are profoundly disappointed. The Legislative Council of Jamaica has adjourned till next year, having reduced the estimated deficit at the end of the current financial year from £96,000 to £14,000.

CARRY GOOD HEALTH

In the Form of Dodd's Kidney Pills Wherever You go.

No Kidney Disease Can Torture you if you use Dodd's Kidney Pills—They are a Positive Cure for all Kidney Complaints.

If we were told that we could carry good health in our trunks when we go on our summer vacation, just as easily as we can carry our extra clothes, it would be thought that no one would neglect doing so.

It is possible to carry good health with us wherever we go.

This may seem a strange assertion, but it is true.

Let us prove it to you.

Medical records show that nine-tenths of all diseases are caused by diseased kidneys.

Further, on the same authority it is known that nine-tenths of all deaths that occur, other than those from old age and accidents, are caused by kidney disease, in one form or another.

It follows, therefore, that if we could keep the kidneys in a state of perfect health, there would be no kidney diseases and, therefore, no deaths from these causes.

If we possessed the means of keeping the kidneys healthy we would be justified in claiming that we had gained possession of good health.

Now we do possess the means of keeping the kidneys perfectly healthy.

Dodd's Kidney Pills do this positively.

Dodd's Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys when they are weak; they heal them when they are diseased, and they give them new vigor and life when they are well.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have never failed to cure any case of Kidney Disease such as Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Dropsy, Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Impure Blood, Diseases of Women, etc., for which they have been used.

Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you. If you doubt it try a box. It will cost only fifty cents. Dodd's Kidney Pills convince by curing.

THE JAILED JOHNSONS.

The Case Against Detroit Counterfeiters Is Complete—Women to Go Free.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20.—The United States officers and local detectives have given up further search for additional evidence against the Johnson counterfeiting gang. It is claimed that enough has been secured to establish a good case against them. There is no specific case against Mrs. Georgiana Baylis, sister of the Johnson brothers, who was arrested on Wednesday, and it is believed she, as well as Mrs. Johnson, will soon be released from custody.

Mrs. Agnes Johnson, the mother who is a helpless paralytic, will not be arrested. Mr. Webb says so emphatically. Although she is as guilty as her daughter, as some of the counterfeit money was found in the bureau drawers in her bedroom, the Government will not prosecute an invalid of her age. The Government detectives appear to believe that the mother is now in Port Huron. Mr. Webb says she is there. The fact of the matter is that she is now living with a relative—highly respectable—on Ash street, in this city. Capt. McDonnell knows where to find her, so do some of his men.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

Canadian Commissioners Arrive in the Historic City.

ARE ALREADY HARD AT WORK.

Where the Commissioners Will Meet—A City That Will Impress the Strangers From a Historic and From a Commercial Point of View — Experts on Technical Matters.

Quebec, Aug. 20.—The Canadian commissioners to the Quebec conference arrived yesterday, and are already hard at work preparing the case of the Dominion in regard to the various matters to come before the gathering. They are meeting at the Chateau, but the conference will be held in the chamber of the Legislative Council in the Parliament buildings, which have been thrown open for the use of the joint commissioners. Sir Wilfrid Laurier paid a visit to the building yesterday in company with Sir Louis Davies and Mr. Charlton, and examined the arrangements for the convenience of the distinguished visitors, who will be in Quebec on Monday.

The Premier is very proud of this fine old City of Quebec that has been so intimately associated with his Parliamentary career, and it is no secret that the meeting of the conference will take place in Quebec as a delicate compliment to the good people of Sir Wilfrid's electoral district.

The place of meeting is happily chosen for another reason.

Will Impress the Strangers.

Nowhere else in the Dominion could a stranger to Canadian history, or one with Canadian national aspirations, be so thoroughly impressed with the Canadian scenery. From Dufferin Terrace the American commissioners, in their moments of leisure, will be able to look up at the flag flying from the citadel, the Union Jack of Imperial England, as it has flown there since that history-making day a hundred and forty years ago on the plains of Abraham. They will be able also to hear men around them speaking in the French tongue, but yielding a loving allegiance to the British flag, a feature proved on another bloody day in the history of Quebec, when Montgomery sought to wrest the citadel from its defenders and make Canada a part of the newly-organized union.

Canada's Commerce in Evidence.

On the St. Lawrence the commissioners will see the great ships of a growing commerce, and will realize that Canada means something, that it has its own founders to commemorate, its own heroes to honor, its own avenues of development to follow, and its own history to work out, and, understanding these things, they will understand also better than before the futility of treating the Dominion as a petty colony incapable either of resenting injury or of returning friendliness in a kindred spirit. The choice of Quebec as the place of meeting is indeed a happy one. It is said that quite a number of deputations and delegations representing interests that may be affected by the deliberations of the conference will come to Quebec to interview the commissioners, probably under the mistaken idea that its sessions will be opened to the public, and that it is a commission of inquiry rather than a treaty-making body.

Experts in Plenty.

There will be experts in plenty to advise the commissioners on technical matters. Lord Herschell will have Mr. Charles Russell, son of the Chief Justice of England, as his secretary. Mr. Russell has been through the Behring Sea affair. From Ottawa comes Mr. Parmalee, Sir Richard Cartwright's deputy minister in the Department of Trade and Commerce, and with him many volumes of references for Sir Richard's use in the discussion of trade questions. Mr. F. C. O'Hare, Sir Richard's secretary, is also present. Sir Louis Davies has Mr. R. N. Venning and Mr. W. F. King, experts for the Marine Department, on the Alaska questions, and Mr. E. B. Williams, his secretary. Sir Wilfrid is accompanied by Mr. Pope, Assistant Secretary of State, and Mr. Boudreau, his Secretary. As occasion requires other officers will be called from Ottawa for consultation.

Powderly Present.

The most prominent American official in attendance, apart from Mr. Anderson, the American joint secretary, will be Mr. T. V. Powderly, Commissioner-General of Immigration of the United States, who will advise the American commissioners on the alien labor law. If his advice is on the line of a published interview of recent date, there will be no alien labor law on either side of the border before many months pass. Mr. Powderly is quoted as saying that the law never was intended to apply to Canadians and that not a single Canadian has been deported from the United States since he became Commissioner-General.

AS TO PONTON'S BAIL.

The Reason for Magistrate Daly Taking the Action He Did.

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 20.—Ponton was committed to ball under section 601 of the Criminal Code, which reads:

"When any person appears before any justice charged with an indictable offence punishable by imprisonment for more than five years, and the evidence adduced is in the opinion of such justice sufficient to put the accused on his trial, but does not furnish such a strong presumption of guilt as to warrant his committal for trial, the justice may admit the accused to bail upon his procuring such sureties as will, in the opinion of the justice, be sufficient to ensure his appearance at the time and place when and where he ought to be tried for the offence."

Mr Wilson will make application to the county judge to grant bail to his client Mackie on Wednesday next.

Messrs. McGinnis and Cummings again repeated their offer of bail for Ponton.

Fraud Unmasked and Exposed.

For some years the ladies of Canada have suffered much loss and inconvenience from use of deceptive home dyes put up to look like the popular Diamond Dyes. These imitation package dyes were sold at very low prices to retail merchants, who in turn made immense profits on them when sold to women who were unfortunately influenced to buy them.

These imitations of Diamond Dyes were never sold more than once to any woman. They possessed no foundation qualities or good points to make them valuable or popular. They were made of the cheapest ingredients, the colors were dead, muddy and unsightly, and they ruined all materials they came in contact with. These common dyes are now so despised and shunned that storekeepers are glad to sell them at half price to be rid of them.

The Diamond Dyes are still marching on to new victories, and have always maintained their position by true merit alone. Beware of the imitation and cheap dyes that are still pushed on the unsuspecting by some dealers. If a storekeeper values your trade he will recommend you to use the Diamond Dyes.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Archbishop Ireland on Its Status in Cuba and Porto Rico.

New York, Aug. 20.—Archbishop Ireland was asked by a correspondent about the status of the Catholic Church in Cuba and Porto Rico, now that they were under the control of the United States Government, and made the following statement:

"The moment the Stars and Stripes were raised over the conquered islands the Catholic dioceses became subject to the laws of the United States, as did the dioceses of every other religious denomination in the island.

"I have no fear that the priesthood of the islands, whether Spanish or Cuban, will not be loyal to the new sovereignty established in their country. It is the policy of the Catholic Church—a policy almost as old as the church itself—to support the existing Government. This being true, it follows that the priesthood in Cuba and Porto Rico, no matter how strong their love may be for Spain, will obey with unflinching firmness the law of the church."

The annual Harvest Festival of the Salvation Army will be held Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 27, 28, 29 and 30, in the Salvation Army barracks, Peterborough. The amount hoped to be raised at this effort is $160. Friends need not necessarily contribute in cash, as a sale of work is arranged for the Monday and Tuesday nights. Contributions of cash or anything saleable will be thankfully received.

Kinmount Prohibitionists.

On Monday night, a Plebiscite meeting was held in the Kinmount Presbyterian church, to make arrangements for the coming vote. Mr. John Kingsboro, was chosen president and a committee of nine was selected to watch over the Prohibition interests. Spirited addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Barnes and Mr. Jones, on the evils of intemperance. The proceedings were interspersed with fine music from the Union choir.

Election Protests in Court.

The protest against the election of Mr. John Brown, Liberal member for North Perth, came before Mr. Justice Osler yesterday and was postponed. Mr. R. F. Gagen, solicitor for the petitioner, in his application for a postponement, based one of his points upon the unsettled condition of the constable question. The protest against Mr. W. J. Allan, Conservative member for North Hastings, was also postponed because the House is in session.

Down the River.

Say, the summer is passing and you have not been down the river for the prettiest sail in this province. Or, perhaps, you have been down and promised yourself the sail again. Well remember that Captain Martin is again in charge of the North Star, and that this popular steamer will run daily trips to Rice Lake points. The steamer will leave the wharf at 9.15 a.m. each day except Saturday. On Saturday she leaves at two o'clock in the afternoon. The best of attention is received on the North Star.

Opening of the Theatrical Season.

Among the specialties with the Kelly & Mason Company in "Who is Who," which comes to the Opera House next Wednesday evening, Aug. 24th, is one by eight pretty girls entitled "We flirt with the man in the moon." During the rendering of this poetic song and dance the stage is darkened and the man in the moon appears winking and blinking at his fair serenaders. The costuming and the general light effect form a most pleasing and attractive number, which seldom fails to receive numerous encores. Seats are now on sale.

Idyl Wyld Hotel.

The above popular summer resort, which has been thoroughly refitted and newly furnished throughout, is now ready for guests. It is placed under the management of Mr. Sid Beckett. The choicest brands of liquors and cigars always on hand. First-class tables. Board for single or family parties by the day or week. Daily communication by the steamers of the Peterborough Navigation Company. Daily mail at the hotel. Telephone at Harwood. House Boat Party.

A very jolly party were out for a trip during the week in Mr. R. B. Roger's House Boat, the Lotus, conveyed by steam yacht Lenora. The party consisted of Mr. Barton H Grundy, of Richmond, Va., F M Keene and L D Borland, of Butler, Pa., and Messrs D D Mallory, J P Frazier, C W Cone, Geo C Miller, A F Miller, J B Morehead and Thos Brown, of Franklin, Pa. Chas Gunsolus, of Peterborough, and Alf Edgar, of Bobcaygeon, had charge of the party and the boat was taken at Lakefield. Stoppages of a day or so were made at all points along the route, and the last few days were spent at Ball Lake. The merry party left for home from Bobcaygeon enthusiastic in their expressions of delight with the outing and the comfort of the elegantly fitted boat.

A Big Storm.

The worst storm of the season, says the Lakefield News, broke over the village and surrounding country on Friday afternoon last, the lightning being very bad, while the rain, accompanied by hail, fell in torrents. The wind was also very high, a number of shade trees being badly damaged. In the country the storm did considerable damage. Mr. S. McKibbin, 9th line Smith, had 26 panes of glass broken in his house, and four or five acres of peas completely threshed out. Mr. A. Young also had a number of panes of glass broken and his peas badly threshed. Mr. Geo. Curtin, of Smith, had a small field of peas threshed and the tops cut off his turnips. Mr. Hugh Mellmoyl had sixteen panes of glass broken and a field of oats destroyed. Other farmers suffered in similar conditions.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

"SCOTTY" DUNCAN ARRESTED.

He is Charged With Passing Bogus Money in Toronto.

The appended telegram, which speaks for itself, was received at the police headquarters this morning:

TORONTO, AUG. 20, 1898.

Chief Constable, Peterborough:

Warrant out for William alias "Scotty" Duncan for passing bogus money in the city yesterday. Age 26, height 5 ft. 11 in., fair, prominent teeth filled with gold. Serge suit and brown christy hat. Was formerly a street car conductor in Peterborough where his father resides. Has brother John in Lindsay. Left here this morning and will be either at Lindsay or Peterborough. If found, arrest and search for bogus money.

H. J. GRASETT,
Chief Constable.

Constable McGinty arrested Duncan shortly after dinner on Fairweather's corner and on searching him found $24 in bills on his person. It is not known as yet whether the money is "queer" or not. Constable Adams has telegraphed to Toronto notifying Chief Grasett of the arrest.

A NEW FEATURE OF THE TORONTO INDUSTRIAL.

Sept 2nd Under the Auspices of the Historical Society.

The programme of the Toronto Industrial Fair will this year receive new interest from the fact that the second of September is placed by the board of managers under the auspices of the Ontario Historical, the Peterborough Historical Society and other affiliated societies.

It will be of moment to persons in Peterborough interested in Historical Society matters to note that a a special hut will be provided for the use of Society members; that an interesting meeting will be held, that the delegates of the various societies may have an opportunity of discussing the work and views of each, comparing notes and obtaining mutual support and encouragement. Some interesting papers will be read and good speeches are being prepared. It is obvious that all members of the Peterborough Historical Society who intend paying the exhibition a visit should make it a point to include that day in their stay in Toronto. A committee has been appointed to secure attention being paid all members or those interested in historical work—or to reply to enquiries. We shall be happy to afford our readers further details before the opening of the Exhibition and we cannot refrain from urging the members of the Peterborough Society to take advantage of this opportunity of promoting the special interests for which the society exists.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING.

The Salvation Army has Chosen Aug. 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th.

The Salvation Army has appointed the dates of this year's harvest thanksgiving celebration to be Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 27th to 30th.

The success which indisputably the Salvation Army has had in reaching the masses, otherwise untouched by other organizations, will invite and doubtless secure assistance from every friend of moral progress.

In connection with the Harvest Thanksgiving Festival, the local corps is making determined efforts to assist in raising the sum of $14,000 towards the support of their social work among the poorest as well as the payment of certain indebtedness.

Friends and sympathisers, who are desirous of assisting, need not necessarily contribute in cash, but may give their donation in any article of merchandise, home made goods or produce of the field or garden; live stock, from a chicken to a cow not being excluded.

Considering the acknowledged amount of good they have done to the community and country, there should be not difficulty for these devoted workers to raise the above amount.

FORMERLY OF ASHBURNHAM.

Rev. J. C. Wilson Presents the Medical Outfit of His Late Son to the Mission Rooms.

A few days ago a letter was received at the Mission Rooms, Toronto, written by Rev. J. C. Wilson, of Tweed, from which we extract the following, which will be read with pathetic interest by all acquainted with the sad circumstances of the death of a beloved son of a beloved father: "I send you to-day by express, charges paid, the medical outfit of my son, the late Dr. J. A. G. Wilson, of Keewatin. We give it to the Missionary Society to help in a little way some one of our medical missionaries. The doctor was very missionary in spirit, and we felt that if he could speak to us, this would be in keeping with his wish." The parcel has arrived. We appreciate much the motive that prompted the gift, and we pray that the bereaved father and family may find in their painful experiences that "Earth has no sorrow which heaven cannot heal."—Outlook.

Rev. Mr. Wilson was, a few years ago, pastor of the Mark street Methodist church and both he and his family are highly esteemed in this community.

STONY LAKE NOTES.

Notes From the Log of the Yacht "Arethuseranne."

STONY LAKE, Aug. 19, 1898.

The day being wet and stormy, we are sitting in the cabin of the Arethuseranne thinking over our iniquities and the changes that have taken place on Stony Lake within the last twenty-five years. They are many and great; that is, the changes, and other peoples' iniquities. For instance, show has taken the place of simplicity, and men, whose fathers were content to sleep in tents and paddle about in canoes, must have summer cottages and steam launches. "Yachts" they proudly call the latter, and such they fondly imagine them to be.

In order to keep abreast of the times, and not to be outdone by our neighbours, we decided to convert the Arethuseranne into a steamer. It was with extreme reluctance that we altered the dear old craft that, under an umbrella mainsail and a parasol jib, used to walk the waters (down wind) like a thing of life. The Arethuseranne is symmetrically flat at both ends and the bottom measures a full 192 inches from stem to taffrail, and has a trifle over half as much as that beam. It almost broke our hearts to convert her into a steamer, but in order to class her with other yachts on the lake it had to be done. After consulting the highest nautical authorities on the subject, we ended by fitting her up with a patent Fletcher's charcoal stove, and placing thereon the family tea kettle. Our boat was spoiled, but our self respect was preserved. We are now the possessors of a genuine yacht with a cow bell in the engine room (i.e., under the thwart) and a tin whistle alongside of the smokestack (i.e., the captain's pipe.) We could afford to pity the owners of the Irene, the Estelle, the Mollie, the Tramp and other old fashioned crafts of that class, as, with tin whistle tooting, and cow bell in the engine room jangling, we steamed down to the store, and dashing, in most approved and genteel style, in among the helpless fleet of row boats and canoes, drew up to the wharf and made fast, to the exclusion of all vessels great and small during our royal pleasure. There is something extremely fascinating after all in the pomps and vanities of this wicked world; and in that moment of our triumph we decided that we would steam up late for service on the following Sunday morning.

But being arrived at the dignity of a yacht and steam, it behooves us to keep a log, and we do so. Here is a brief extract:

August 9th, lat 45 degrees, something north, lon. same distance, or thereabouts south (N B, other yacht owners may find an error in observation here, but we doubt it). About four bells in the second cat watch, we were aroused from our preliminary slumbers by a stupendous crash, followed immediately by the wild tooting of a steam whistle. Under the impression that something was the matter, we hastily collected our crew, got up steam and put to sea. Steering a direct course sou-west-by-nor-and-a quarter east, we arrived at the scene of the disaster. A huge rock had risen suddenly and unexpectedly from the lake and stuck on the bottom of the Empire, heaving her almost completely out of the water. We lay to, under a close reefed steamer, and watched the crew of the unfortunate vessel departing hastily about their business in boats and things that had gathered alongside (and therefrom deduced a moral). As the last man was swimming out of the cabin window we hailed him. "Ship ahoy," said we, "what ship is that?" The answer came back indistinctly, "The Government stea—." All we could catch was the word 'government,' so thinking naturally enough, that they would be in need of information, we shouted back, "You are on a rock," we were going to add, "but you will soon be off again" had he given us a chance, but the swimmer grunted back at us between his gasps. "You blankety-blank blankety blanks, do you think we don't know that?" This was ungrateful, so we steamed back home to bed, and so to sleep to the rhythmic flow of those well known lines of dear old Virgil, "Eheu! rupee, governmentque steamboats adhæresnt quantum cockaioram"—snore! Next day the Empire floated triumphantly off, having learned a lesson and we felt that this was emblematical of something better to come.

Apropos of ingratitude, incivility is as bad or worse, and it is rampant around Juniper Island store, where the word is "shove" and the d——l take the hindmost." Of course, as proprietors of a steam yacht, we no longer consider it wrong to force away smaller craft—especially when they are trying to land ladies—from the wharf; but even in the flush of our new fledged arrogance, we draw the line at "scrouging" at the store. In former days when two men met on Stony Lake they were polite to one another. Each sampled the stuff that the other carried to adulterate the water with. They exchanged tobacco pouches or plugs, and told each other fairy tales about the fish they had caught until, their powers of invention becoming exhausted, each bid the other God speed and so went on his way. But now things occur here which cause us to take a pessimistic view of human nature. We are getting old fashioned and—prosy.

Asthma Permanently Cured.

Mr. R. N. Hume, the well-known C.P.R. engineer of the western division, writes: "I have been a great sufferer from asthma in its worst form for over 12 years, and never succeeded in getting anything to help me permanently until the C. P. R. doctor prescribed Clarke's Kola Compound for me in December, '95, when two bottles have entirely cured me; at least I have not had even a slight return of the asthma, and have no hesitation in recommending this wonderful remedy to asthmatic sufferers. I am personally acquainted with at least six cases in my own town who have been completely cured." Sold by Ormond & Walsh. NEWS OF INTEREST FROM THE KLONDYKE.

THE PETERBOROUGH PARTY ALL IN GOOD HEALTH.

They Have Gone Prospecting up Some of the Unexplored Creeks and Passed Through Dawson City.

Recent letters received in town by relatives of the Peterborough Klondyke party, reveal the fact that the local gold seekers have reached Dawson City and left it again on a prospecting tour. All are in the best of health.

The following letter was received this week by Mr. Melville Strickland, Lakefield, from his brother Cholmly, who left the village with a party last spring for the Klondike:

Dawson City, June 29th, 1898.
Yukon District, N.W.T.

MY DEAR MELVILLE,—We have just arrived at Dawson City and as we are about to start for the head waters of the Stewart River you will not likely hear from us for a few months as we shall be about two hundred miles away from the mail line. We left Tagish on Tuesday, June 7th, about two o'clock p.m., and proceeded down Six Mile River and from Six Mile River across Lake Marsh to Sixty Mile River, a distance of twenty-two miles. June 8th we went twenty miles down Sixty Mile River, reaching White Horse Rapids the following day. I forgot to tell you that we brought a raft and scow load of lumber containing 15 M. feet so you will not wonder why we were so slow. We ran the White Horse Rapids on Friday 10th, which is dangerous work, but we got through all O.K. Wet outfits are lying all along the shore, also large scows broken clean in half. Well, we left there Saturday morning and made Lake La Barge at 12 o'clock that night. Boats had been lying there all week waiting for a fair wind, and at two o'clock the wind changed favourable and in five minutes a fleet of about three hundred boats were sailing across Lake LaBarge, but unfortunately, the wind dropped before we got half way, and we had to tie up, but on the 15th we had a favourable wind and made the foot of LaBarge that night. Entering Thirty Mile River the following day we had the misfortune to run on a bar and for two hours we stood in ice cold water up to our waists with prys trying to pry it off, but could not succeed, so we put up a dutch windlass and pulled it off inside of an hour and all of us being tired and wet we slept till early next morning. We entered the Lewis River and passed the Hootalinqua and Big Salmon Rivers, going 72 miles that day, as the current was unusually swift. After tea we went prospecting up Lake Creek where we found good colors the size of a pin head. Next day June 17th we went as far as Eagle's Nest and from Eagles Nest the following day we ran Five Fingers and Rink Rapids and trying up within ten miles of Fort Selkirk or Pelly River, an old Hudson Bay Post. On Monday the 20th, we had an awful time keeping off the sand bars between the Pelly and White River. There is only one channel fit for navigation, and if you get in the wrong channel you will likely have to stay, because you are going at the rate of six miles an hour, which will run you high and dry on a bar. However, we reached Stuart river safe and sound, where we found Benson, who had been sent to watch our outfit, which was sent down on another scow. We left Stuart River June 22nd and arrived at Dawson on the 24th, where we met Fred Beatty. He seemed very glad to see us and said he was going out this fall and he asked to be remembered to the Richardson's. Dawson City is quite a lively place, but it is overdone. At present people are turning around and selling their outfits for enough money to take them out of the country, which is a great deal harder proposition than getting in. We have to carry our cabin logs nearly half a mile, also our wood, so it is no easy work. I suppose you know Giles Stone is with us. Polle, W. Baptie and John are camped beside us. Some men are letting contracts for the building of log cabins 15x20 for $8,000. A person who has a team of horses earn $100 a day. Lumber is $225 per M. This will give you some idea of prices. I suppose Stony Lake is crowded by this time and you are pretty busy. I must say good bye. C. E. STRICKLAND.

FIRE IN KINMOUNT.

Mr. Fred. Dettman, Sr., Burned out During the Week.

On Monday night, about twelve o'clock, the barns and stables of Mr. Fred Dettman, sr., about half a mile south of Kinmount were discovered to be in flames. The bleating of the sheep wakened the family. Charley, their boy, rushed to the stable in his night dress and barely in time to get out the horses. Had the wind not changed the dwelling house might have gone also. All the grain and hay on the place, except a couple of loads of oats in the field, were consumed. All the poultry, hens and turkeys in their comfortable house were burned up. Some of the pigs got scorched, one will hardly live. The origin of the fire is unknown. It is a hard sight to the old people to see the crops and buildings all consumed. A good many neighbours were there, but not in time to save buildings. There is some insurance on the buildings in the London Mutual.

For eight or nine years past he suffered terribly from Inflammatory Rheumatism, for which there seemed to be no remedy.

The best doctors failed to relieve him. So did the medicines he used.

But to-day he is sound and well.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

Mr. Cragg says: "I have used only six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, but they have cured me completely. I'll never be without them."

Reader, if you have rheumatism—go and do likewise. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure you too.

OBITUARY.

The Late Robert Scott.

During the last few years the great reaper, Death, has been cutting a wide swath in the rapidly thinning ranks of the early settlers of this community. But few of them are now left to tell the adventurous tale of heroic toil and self-sacrifice. We, who follow after, reap the rich reward of their unremitting labour, and too frequently claim the credit which so richly belongs to them. The late Robert Scott, who joined the great majority on Wednesday of last week, has been a resident of Norwood for the long period of fifty years. He was born in the County of Donegal Ireland, about the year 1825, and while yet a small boy, came with his parents to this county, settling in the township of Otonabee. Several members of the family, a little later on, removed to the township of Asphodel, where the only remaining brother of the deceased, Mr. Abraham Scott, and his only remaining sister, Mrs. Jas. Patterson, still reside. After learning his trade, he settled in Norwood, living for some time with his sister in the old frame house on Peterborough street, formerly occupied by the late Jas. A. Buck, and which was removed several years ago to make way for the residence of P. W. Reynolds, Esq.

When about twenty-four years of age he married Miss Rebecca Hartley, daughter of the late Thomas Hartley, of Otonabee, and went to reside in Peterborough. After a residence there of a few months he returned to Norwood, erected a shop and dwelling house on Queen street, where he resided until his death. His wife died twenty-three years ago. He was a man of strong convictions and very outspoken. Every one knew where he stood on every debated question, and on all great moral questions he was invariably on the side of right and justice. He was an omnivorous reader, and in this way, though his school advantages had been very limited, he acquired a broad, liberal education. He took a great interest in local educational matters, and was for many years an active member of the Board of Education. The fact that two of his daughters were very efficient teachers, and three of his sons are successful medical practitioners, reveals the interest that he took in these matters. He was a prominent member of the Methodist Church, and for many years had occupied a position on the Official Board. In looking after the temporal affairs of the church no man has given more faithful service than he. In politics he was a Liberal-Conservative, and it was while attending the funeral of his leader, the late Sir John A. Macdonald, at Kingston, in 1891, that he had a sunstroke, followed by partial paralysis of one side, that rendered him an invalid for the rest of his life.

His death came very quietly at last, so much so that few in the village knew he was gone until they saw the funeral announcement. His remains were followed to the Norwood cemetery, of which he had been for many years a trustee, on Friday, 12th inst., and the very large number of citizens, both from village and country, in attendance, showed the esteem in which he was held.—Norwood Register.

UNABLE TO WALK.

A Distressing Malady Cured by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

From the Hartland, N.B., Advertiser.

Right in our own village is reported another of the remarkable cures that make Dr. Williams' Pink Pills so popular throughout the land. The case is that of Mrs. E. W. Millar. The Advertiser interviewed her husband, who was glad to relate the circumstances for publication, that others might read and have a remedy put into their hands, as it were. "For five years," said Mr. Millar, my wife was unable to walk without aid. One physician diagnosed her case as coming from a spinal affection. Other doctors called the malady nervous prostration. Whatever the trouble was, she was weak and nervous. Her limbs had no strength and could not support her body. There also was a terrible weakness in her back. Three months ago she could not walk, but as a last resort, after trying many medicines, she began to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Improvement was noted in a few days, and a few weeks has done wonders in restoring her health. To-day she can walk without assistance. You can imagine her delight as well as my own. We owe her recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I recommend them for any case of nervous weakness or general debility."

Mr. Millar is part owner and manager of one of our lumber mills and is well known throughout the country.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

THE A. C. A. CAMP.

Has Just Concluded at Stave Island in the St. Lawrence.

At Stave Island, in the St. Lawrence, the nineteenth annual meet of the American Canoe Association has just concluded, with something over 100 of its members encamped along the shores of the most picturesque of all of the beautiful islands that dot the St. Lawrence River. The Thousand Islands have always been a favourite camping place of canoeists. Their accessibility from all of the four divisions of the association, together with their ideal shores and spots for camps, has more than once brought the association to the vicinity. In fact, this same island has been the home of and spots for camps. Due south, some two miles across the blue water, lies Grindstone Island, the sites of the camps of '84, '85, '86, '96 and of last year, while behind it, some four miles away and hidden from view by tall trees, nestles Clayton. Off to the west the tall church spires of Gananoque, known to campers as "Ganinquity," rise skyward. The camp itself is divided into two parts, the ladies' camp, or Squaw Point, as it is called, to the north, while the main camp, or the men's portion, is to the south of headquarters. Headquarters is, as its name signifies, the hub of the camp. It is there that the big camp fires, the steamer landing, the camp postoffice, the signal officers' tent and the mess tent, as well as the big camp and officers' tents, are pitched. The large club delegations makes a very attractive display of their camps. Both New York and Brooklyn have large representations; so has Buffalo and Toronto, and Rome, which has been located in the little clearing near headquarters. Peterborough also is always found to be represented. The association is composed of four geographical divisions, the northern, which comprises Canada; the eastern, for the Eastern States; the Atlantic, for the territory south of Newburg, and the central, which comprises the rest of the United States. Each of the four divisions in turn selects the location of the meet and also the commodore and secretary-treasurer. This year is the meet of the Atlantic division, and yet in Canadian territory, all due to the fondness of the canoeists for these beautiful islands.

Mr. Walter English, of Peterborough, was elected to a position in the Executive.
